Nor walked in the ways of his commandments,
Nor trod in the paths [l]of discipline in his righteousness.
Let them [d]that dwell about Sion come,
And [d]remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters,
Which [c]the Everlasting hath brought upon them.
For [f]he hath brought a nation upon them from far,
A shameless nation, and of a strange language,
[f]Who neither reverenced old man, nor pitied child.
These have carried away the dear beloved children of the widow,
And left her that was alone desolate without daughters.
But what can I help you?
For he that brought these plagues upon you
Will deliver you from the hands of your enemies.

Go your way, O my children, go your way:
For I am left desolate.
[g]I have put off the clothing of [l]peace,
And put upon me the sackcloth of my prayer:
I will cry unto [c]the Everlasting [l][h]in my days.
Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto the Lord,
And he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies.
For my hope is in the Everlasting, that he will save you;
And joy is come unto me from the Holy One,

Because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from [o]the Everlasting our Saviour.
For [i]I sent you out with mourning 23
and weeping:
But God will give you to me again
with [j]joy and gladness for ever.
Like as now [d]the neighbours of Sion 24
have seen your captivity:
So shall they see shortly your salvation from our God,
Which shall come upon you with great glory,
And [a]brightness of [o]the Everlasting.
My children, suffer patiently the wrath 25
that is come upon you from God:
For thine enemy hath persecuted thee;
But shortly thou shalt see his destruction,
And shalt tread upon his neck.
[l]My delicate ones have gone rough 26 ways,
And were taken away as a flock caught of the enemies.
Be of good comfort, O my children, 27
and cry unto God:
For you shall be remembered of him
[k]that brought these things upon you.
For as it was your mind [kk]to go astray 28
from God:
So, being returned, seek him [l]ten times more.
For he [k]that hath brought these plagues 29 upon you Shall bring you everlasting joy again
with your salvation.

Take a good heart, O Jerusalem: 30
For [m]he that gave thee that name will comfort thee.
Miserable are they that afflicted thee, 31
And rejoiced at thy fall.
Miserable are the cities which thy 32
children served:
Miserable is she that received thy sons.
For as she rejoiced at thy ruin, 33
And was glad of thy fall:
[n]So shall she be grieved for her own desolation.
[n]For I will take away the rejoicing of 34
her great multitude,
And her pride shall be turned into mourning.
For fire shall come upon her from 35
[o]the Everlasting, long to endure;
And [n]she shall be inhabited of devils
for a great time.

[p]O Jerusalem, look about thee toward 36
the east,
And behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God.
Lo, [pq]thy sons come, [i]whom thou sent- 37
est away,
They come gathered together from the east to the west

Rejoicing in the glory of God.

[a]Put off, O Jerusalem, the garment of thy mourning and affliction,
And put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever.
Cast about thee [b]a double garment of 2
the righteousness which cometh from God;
And set a diadem on thine head of the glory of [c]the Everlasting.
For God will shew [d]thy brightness 3 unto every country under heaven.
For thy name shall be called of God 4
for ever,
The peace of righteousness, and The glory of [e]God's worship.
Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand on high, 5
And [f]look about toward the east,
And behold thy children gathered from the west unto the east [f]By the word of the Holy One, Rejoicing in the remembrance of God.
For they departed from thee on foot, 6
and were led away of their enemies:
But [g]God bringeth them unto thee exalted with glory,
As [h]children of the kingdom.
For God hath appointed that [i]every 7 high hill, and banks of long continuance, should be cast down, And valleys filled up, to make even
the ground,
That Israel may go safely in the glory
of God.
Moreover even the woods and [k]every 8 sweetsmelling tree shall overshadow Israel
By the commandment of God.
For God shall lead Israel with joy 9 [d]in the light of his glory
With the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMIE. VI.

A copy of an epistle, which Jeremie sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God.

Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, [a]ye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians. So when ye be come unto Babylon, ye 3 shall remain there many years, and for a long season, namely, [b]seven generations: and after that I will bring you away peaceably from thence. Now

4 shall ye see in Babylon [c]gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, [d]borne upon shoulders, [e]which cause the nations to fear. Beware therefore that ye in no
5 wise be like to strangers, [e]neither be ye afraid of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them. But say ye in your 6 hearts, O [e]Lord, we must worship thee.
7 For [f]mine angel is with you, and I myself caring for your souls. As for their 8 tongue, it is polished by the workman, and they themselves are [g]gilded and laid over with silver; yet are they but false, and [h]cannot speak. And taking
9 gold, as it were for a virgin that loves to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods. Sometimes also 10 the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves. Yea, they will give thereof to 11 the [i]common harlots, and [i]deck them as men with garments, being [c]gods of silver, and gods of gold, and wood. Yet 12 cannot these gods save themselves from [j]rust and moths, though they be covered 13 with [ik]purple raiment. They wipe their faces [l]because of the dust of the temple, when there is much upon them. And 14 he that cannot put to death one that offendeth him holdeth a sceptre, as though he were a judge of the country. He 15 hath also in his right hand a dagger and an axe: but cannot deliver himself
16 from war and [m]thieves. [n]Whereby they are known not to be gods: [no]therefore fear them not.
17 For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they be 18 set up in the temple, their eyes be [l]full of dust through the feet of them that come in. And as [p]the [l]doors are made 19 sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being [q]committed to suffer death: even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest their gods be spoiled with 20 [m]robbers. They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof they 21 cannot see one. They are [qq]as one of the beams of the temple, yet they say their hearts are [t]gnawed upon by things creeping out of the earth; and when they eat them and their clothes, they feel it not.
22 Their faces are blacked through the smoke that comes out of the temple.
23 Upon their bodies and heads sit bats, swallows, and birds, and the cats also. [u]By this you may know that they are no gods: [no]therefore fear them not.
24 Notwithstanding the gold that is about them to make them beautiful, except they [r]wipe off the [j]rust, they will not shine: for neither when they were
25 molten did they feel it. The things wherein there is no breath are bought 26 for [j]a most high price. [ds]They are borne upon shoulders, having no feet, whereby they declare unto men that they be no-
27 thing worth. They also that serve them are ashamed: [st]for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, [u]if they be bowed down, can they make themselves straight: but they [v]set [l]gifts before them, [w]as unto 28 dead men. As for the things that are sacrificed unto them, [x]their priests sell and [ly]abuse; [z]in like manner their wives lay up part thereof in salt; but unto the poor and impotent they give nothing of 29 it. Menstruous women and [a]women in childbed eat their sacrifices: [aa]by these things ye may know that they are no gods: [aa]fear them not.
30 For how can they be called gods? because women [b]set meat before [c]the gods 31 of silver, gold, and wood. And the priests sit in their temples, [d]having their clothes rent, and [e]their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads.
32 [f]They roar and cry before their gods, as men do [g]at the feast when one is 33 dead. The priests also [h]take off their garments, and clothe their wives and 34 children. Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither 35 [hh]set up a king, nor put him down. In like manner, they can neither give riches nor [i]money: [j]though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will 36 not require it. They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak 37 from the mighty. They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor help any 38 man in his distress. They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless. [c] Their gods of wood, and 39 which are [k] overlaid with gold and silver, are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain: [l] they that worship them shall be confounded. [m] How should a 40 man then think and say that they are gods?

When even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them. [n] Who if they shall 41 see one dumb that cannot speak, they ‖ bring him, and intreat [o] Bel that he may speak, as though he were able to understand. Yet they cannot understand this 42 themselves, and leave them: for they have no ‖ knowledge. [p] The women also 43 with cords about them, sitting in the ways, burn [q] bran for perfume: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken. What- 44 soever is done among them is false:
[m] how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?

[r] They are made of carpenters and 45 goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be.
And they themselves that made them 46 can never continue long; how should then the things that are made of them be gods? For they left lies and re- 47 proaches to them that come after. For 48 when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them. [m] How then cannot men 49 perceive that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war, nor from plague? For seeing they be 50 but [s] of wood, and [t] overlaid with silver and gold, it shall be known hereafter that they are false: and it shall mani- 51 festly appear to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but [u] the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them. [m] Who then may not 52 know that they are no gods?

For neither can they [v] set up a king 53
in the land, nor [w] give rain unto men.
Neither [x] can they judge their own cause, 54 nor [y] redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth. Whereupon when fire falleth upon 55 the house of [s] gods of wood, or [t] laid over with gold or silver, their priests will flee away, and escape; but they themselves shall be burnt asunder [z] like beams.
Moreover [a] they cannot withstand any 56 king or enemies: [b] how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?

Neither are those [c] gods of wood, and 57 [d] laid over with silver or gold, able to escape either from thieves or [e] robbers.
Whose gold, and silver, and garments 58 wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong do take, and go away withal:
[a] neither are they able to help themselves.
Therefore it is better to be a king that 59
sheweth his power, or else [f] a profitable vessel in a house, which the owner shall have use of, than such false gods; or to be a door in a house, to keep such things safe as be therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods. For [m] sun, moon, 60 and stars, being bright, and sent to do their offices, are obedient. In like man- 61 ner the lightning when it breaketh forth is easy to be seen; and ‖ [g] after the same manner the wind bloweth in every country. And when God commandeth 62
the clouds to go over the whole [h] world, they do as they are bidden. And [g] the 63 fire sent from above to consume hills and woods doeth as it is commanded:
but these are like unto them neither in shew nor power. Wherefore [i] it is nei- 64 ther to be supposed nor said that they are gods, seeing they are able neither [j] to judge causes, nor [k] to do good unto men.
[l] Knowing therefore that they are no 65 gods, [l] fear them not.

For they can neither curse nor bless 66 kings: neither can they shew signs in 67 the heavens among the heathen, [m] nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon. The beasts are better than they: 68 for they can get under a covert, and help themselves. [l] It is then by no 69 means manifest unto us that they are gods: [l] therefore fear them not. For as 70 a scarecrow in [n] a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing: so are their [c] gods of wood, and [d] laid over with silver and gold. And likewise their [c] gods of wood, 71 and [d] laid over with silver and gold, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to [o] a dead body, that is cast into the dark.
And [l] you shall know them to be no gods 72
by the ‖ bright purple that rotteth upon them: and [q] they themselves afterward shall be eaten, and shall be a reproach in the country. Better therefore is the 73 just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

THE SONG OF THE

THREE HOLY CHILDREN,

which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place,—fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace—verse 23. That which followeth is not in the Chaldee, to wit, And they walked—unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar—verse 24.

AND they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord. Then [a]Azarias stood up, and 2 prayed on this manner; and [b]opening his mouth in the midst of the fire, said, [bb]Blessed art thou, O Lord God of 3 our fathers: thy name is worthy to be praised and glorified for evermore: for 4 [c]thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done to us: yea, true are all thy works, [d]thy ways are right, and [d]all thy judgments are truth. In all the things 5 that thou hast brought upon us, and upon [e]the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgment: for according to truth and judgment didst thou bring all these things upon us because of our sins. For [f]we 6 have sinned and committed iniquity, departing from thee. In all things have 7 we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, [g]that it might go well with us. Wherefore all 8 that thou hast brought upon us, and
every thing that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgment. And 9 thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, most hateful [gg]forsakers of God, and to [h]an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world. And now 10 we cannot open our mouths, [i]we are become a shame and reproach to thy servants, and to them that worship thee.
Yet deliver us not up [j]wholly, for thy 11 name's sake, neither [k]disannul thou thy covenant: and cause not thy mercy to 12 depart from us, for [l]thy beloved Abraham's sake, for thy servant Isaac's sake, 13 and for thy holy Israel's sake; to whom thou hast spoken and promised, [m]that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and [m]as the sand that 14 lieth upon the sea shore. For [n]we, O [o]Lord, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the 15 world because of our sins. Neither is there at this time prince, [p]or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice,
or oblation, or incense, or [q]place to sacrifice before thee, and to find mercy.
16 Nevertheless in [r]a contrite heart and an 17 humble spirit let us be accepted. [s]Like as in the burnt offering of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs: so [s]let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may [t]wholly go after thee: for [u]they shall not be confounded that put their trust in 18 thee. And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy 19 face. [u]Put us not to shame: but [x]deal with us after thy [y]lovingkindness, and according to the multitude of thy mer-20 cies. Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and [z]give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do 21 thy servants hurt be ashamed; and let them be confounded [I]in all their power and might, and let their strength be 22 broken; and [a]let them know that thou art Lord, the only God, and glorious over [b]the whole world.
23 And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the oven hot with [I]rosin, pitch, [c]tow, and small 24 wood; so that [d]the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits.

THE HISTORY OF SUSANNA,

set apart from the beginning of Daniel, because it is not in Hebrew, as neither the narration of † Bel and the Dragon.

† Gr. Bel's Dragon. Bel and Drag., title.

THERE dwelt a man in Babylon, called [a]Joacim: and he took a wife, 2 whose name was [b]Susanna, the daughter of [a]Chelcias, a very [x]fair woman, and one that feared the Lord. Her parents 3 also were [c]righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses.
Now Joacim was [d]a great rich man, and 4 had a [e]fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honourable than all others. [f]The same year were ap- 5 pointed two of the [g]ancients of the people to be judges, such as the [h]Lord spake of, [i]that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who [j]seemed to govern the people. These [k]kept much 6 at Joacim's house: and all that had any suits in law came unto them. Now 7 when the people departed away [l]at noon, Susanna went into her husband's [e]garden to walk. And the two elders 8 saw her going in every day, and walking; so that their lust was inflamed toward her. And [m]they perverted their 9 own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgments. And 10 albeit they both were [n]wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief. For they were ashamed to 11 declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. Yet they watched 12 diligently from day to day to see her. And the one said to the other, Let us 13 now go home: [l]for it is dinner time. So when they were gone out, they part- 14
ed the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone.
And it fell out, as they watched a [o]fit 15 time, she went in [t]as before with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in the [e]garden: for it was 16 hot. And there was no body there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, 17 and watched her. Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the [e]garden doors, that I may 18 wash me. And they did as she bade them, and shut the [e]garden doors, and went out themselves at [u]privy doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: but they saw not the elders, 19 because they were hid. Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders 20 rose up, and ran unto her, saying, Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, and lie 21 with us. If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst 22 send away thy maids from thee. Then Susanna [p]sighed, and said, I am straited 23 on every side: for if I do this thing, [q]it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands. It is 24 better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than to sin in the sight of 25 the Lord. With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried 26 out against her. Then ran the one, and opened the garden door. So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at a [r]privy 27 door, to see what was done unto her.
But when the elders had declared their 28 matter, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of Susanna.
And it came to pass the next day, 29
[s]when the people were assembled to her husband Joacim, the two elders came also full of mischievous [t]imagination sent the maids away. Then a young 37 man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her. Then we that stood 38 in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickedness, ran unto them. And when 39 we saw them together, the man we

than we, and opened the door, and leaped out. But having taken this wo- 40

do we testify. Then the assembly be- 41

THE HISTORY OF THE DESTRUCTION

†BEL AND THE DRAGON,

CUT OFF FROM THE END OF DANIEL.

† Gr. It is Daniel's. Susanna, title.

AND king [a]Astyages [b]was gathered to his fathers, and [a]Cyrus of Persia received his kingdom. And Daniel ‖conversed with the king, and was honoured above all his friends. Now the Babylonians had an idol, called [c]Bel, and [d]there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six [e]vessels of wine. And the king worshipped it, and went daily to adore it: but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost not thou worship Bel? Who answered and said, Because I may not worship idols made with hands, but [f]the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh. Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day? Then Daniel [l]smiled, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and [g]did never eat or drink any thing. So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth [h]these expences, ye shall die. But if ye can certify me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath [i]spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it be according to thy word.

Now the priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wives and children: and the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel. So Bel's priests said, Lo, we go out: but thou, O king, set on the meat, and make ready the wine, and shut the door fast, and [j]seal it with thine own signet; and to morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death; or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against us. And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and [k]consumed those things. So when they were gone forth, the king set meats before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and those they strewed throughout all the temple in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and [j]sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed. Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, (as they were wont to do,) and [k]did eat and drink up all. In the morning betime the king arose, and Daniel with him. And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole. And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all. Then [l]laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these. And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the king was angry, and took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him [m]the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table. Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who destroyed him and his temple.

‖ And in that same place there was a great dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped. And the king said unto

Daniel, Wilt thou also say [n]that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, he eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him.
Then said Daniel unto the king, [o]I will worship the Lord my God: for he is [f]the living God. But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave. Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder: and Daniel said, [g]Lo, these are [p]the gods you worship.
When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and [q]he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slain the dragon, and [q]put the priests to death. So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house. Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, he delivered Daniel unto them: [r]who cast him into the lions' den: where he was six days. And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day [t]two carcases, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.

Now there was in Jewry a prophet, called [s]Habacuc, who had [t]made pottage, and had broken bread in a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers. But the angel of the Lord said unto Habacuc, Go, carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, who is in the lions' den. And Habacuc said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is.
Then the angel of the Lord [t]took him by the crown, and [u]bare him by the hair of his head, and through the vehemency of his spirit set him in Babylon over the den. And Habacuc cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, [v]take the dinner which God hath sent thee. And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that seek thee and love thee. So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of the Lord set Habacuc in his own place again immediately.
Upon the seventh day [w]the king went to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel was sitting. Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord [x]God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee. And [y]he drew him out, and [z]cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

PRAYER OF MANASSES

KING OF JUDA,

WHEN HE WAS HOLDEN CAPTIVE IN BABYLON.

Before CHRIST about 676.

O LORD, [a] Almighty God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their [g] righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof; [b] who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all men fear, and tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatening towards sinners is importable; but thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and [c] unsearchable; for thou art the most high Lord, of [d e] great compassion, longsuffering, very merciful, [e] and repentest of the evils of men: Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed [f] repentance unto sinners, [f] that they may be saved.

Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the [g] just, hast not appointed repentance to the [g] just, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, [h] which have not sinned against thee; but thou hast appointed repentance unto [i] me that am a sinner: for [k] I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, [l] are multiplied: my transgressions are multiplied, and [k] I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down [m] with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head, [‖] neither have any release: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done evil before thee: I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: [n] I have set up abominations, and [l] have multiplied offences.

Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: wherefore, I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. [o] Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me [p] into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent; and [q] in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. Therefore I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: for [r] all the powers of the heavens do praise thee, and [s] thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

THE FIRST BOOK

OF THE

MACCABEES.

I.
[a] AND it happened, after that Alexander son of Philip, the Macedonian, who came out of the land of ‖ [b] Chettiim, had smitten Darius king of the Persians and [c] Medes, that he reigned in his stead, the first over Greece, and made many wars, and wan many 2 [d] strong holds, and slew the kings of the earth, and went through to the ends 3 of the earth, and took spoils of many nations, insomuch that the earth was quiet before him; whereupon ‖ he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up.
And he gathered a mighty strong host, 4
and ruled over countries, and nations, and ‖ kings, who became tributaries unto him. And after these things he [e] fell 5 sick, and perceived † that he should die.
Wherefore he called his servants, such 6 as were honourable, and † had been brought up with him from his youth,
and parted his kingdom among them, while he was yet alive. So Alexander 7 reigned twelve years, and then * died.
And his servants bare rule every one 8 in his place. And after his death they 9 all put [ff] crowns upon themselves; so did their sons after them many years:
and evils were multiplied in the earth.
And there came out of them [g] a wick- 10
ed root, [h] Antiochus surnamed Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, † who had been [i] a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in * the hundred and thirty and seventh year † of the kingdom of the Greeks. * In those days went there 11 out of Israel ‖ wicked men, who persuaded many, saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the heathen that are round about us: for since we departed from them † we have had much sorrow. So this device pleased them 12 13 well. Then ‖ certain of the people were so forward herein, that they went to the king, who gave them licence to do after 14 the ordinances of the heathen: whereupon [j] they ‖ built a place of exercise at Jerusalem according to the customs of 15 the heathen: and [k] made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and [l] joined themselves to the heathen, and [m] were sold to do mischief.
16 Now when the kingdom was established before Antiochus, he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might have 17 the dominion of two realms. Wherefore [n] he entered into Egypt, [o] with a great multitude, with chariots, and [p] elephants, and horsemen, and a great 18 navy, and made war against [q] Ptolemee king of Egypt: but Ptolemee was afraid of him, and fled; and [r] many were 19 wounded to death. Thus they got the strong cities in the land of Egypt, and he took the spoils thereof.
20 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he returned again in * the hundred forty and third year, and [s] went up against Israel and Jerusalem [o] with 21 a great multitude, and [t] entered proudly into the sanctuary, and took away [u] the golden altar, and [w] the candlestick of 22 light, and [w] all the vessels thereof, and [x] the table of the shewbread, and [y] the pouring vessels, and [y] the vials, and [y] the censers of gold, and [z] the vail, and [a] the crowns, and the golden ornaments that were before the temple, ‖ all 23 which he pulled off. He took also the silver and the gold, and the † precious vessels: also he took the hidden trea-24 sures which he found. And when he had taken all away, he went into his own land, [c]having made a great massacre, and [d]spoken very proudly. There- 25 fore there was great mourning in Israel, in every place where they were; so that 26

the princes and elders mourned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of women was changed. [e]Every bridegroom took up 27 lamentation, and she that sat in the marriage chamber was in heaviness.
The land also was moved for the in- 28 habitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was covered with confusion.
And after [f]two years fully expired 29 [ff]the king sent his chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Juda, who came unto Jerusalem [g]with a great multitude, and spake peaceable words 30 unto them, but all was deceit: for when they had given him credence, he fell suddenly upon the city, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people of Israel. And when he had taken the 31 spoils of the city, he set it on fire, and pulled down the houses and walls thereof on every side. But the women and 32 children took they captive, and possessed the cattle. Then builded they 33 the city of David with a great and strong wall, and with mighty towers, and made it [gg]a strong hold for them.
And they put therein a [h]sinful nation, 34
[i]wicked men, and fortified themselves therein. They stored it also with ar- 35 mour and victuals, and when they had gathered together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and so they became a sore snare: for it was 36 [j]a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel.
Thus [k]they shed innocent blood on 37 every side of the sanctuary, and defiled
it: insomuch [l]that the inhabitants of 38 Jerusalem fled because of them: whereupon‖ the city was made a habitation of strangers, and became strange to those that were born in her; and her own children left her. [l]Her sanctuary was 39 laid waste like a wilderness, [m n]her feasts were turned into mourning, [n]her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt. As had been her glory, so 40 was her dishonour increased, and her excellency was turned into mourning.
Moreover king Antiochus wrote to 41 his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, and [o]every one should 42 leave his laws: so all the heathen agreed according to the commandment 43 of the king. Yea, many also of the Israelites consented to his [p]religion, and sacrificed unto idols, and profaned the 44 sabbath. For the king had sent letters by messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Juda, that they should follow 45 ‖the strange laws of the land, and [q]forbid burnt offerings, and sacrifice, and drink offerings, in the temple; and that they should [n]profane the sabbaths 46 and festival days: and [q]pollute the 47 sanctuary and holy people: [r]set up altars, and [s]groves, and [t]chapels of idols, and [u]sacrifice swine's flesh, and [x]un-48 clean beasts: that they should also leave their children uncircumcised, and make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation:

49 to the end they might forget the law, 50 and change all the ordinances. And [y]whosoever would not do according to the commandment of the king, [z]he said, 51 he should die. [a]In the selfsame manner wrote he to his whole kingdom, and appointed [b]overseers over all the people, commanding the cities of Juda to 52 sacrifice, city by city. Then many of the people were gathered unto them, to wit, every one that forsook the law;
and so they committed evils in the 53 land; ‖and drove the Israelites into [c]secret places, even wheresoever they could flee for succour.
54 Now the fifteenth day of the month [d]Casleu, in *the hundred forty and fifth year, they set up [d]the abomination of desolation upon the altar, and [e]builded idol altars throughout the cities 55 of Juda on every side; and burnt incense at the doors of their houses, and 56 in the streets. And when they had rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, they burnt them 57 with fire. And wheresoever was found with any the book of the testament, or if any [f]consented to the law, †the king's commandment was, that they should 58 put him to death. Thus did they by their authority unto the Israelites every month, to as many as were found in the 59 cities. Now [g]the five and twentieth day of the month they did sacrifice upon the idol altar, [g]which was upon 60 the altar of God. At which time, according to the commandment, [h]they put to death certain women, †that had caused their children to be circum-61 cised. And [h]they hanged the infants

And when he saw the blasphemies 6 that were committed in Juda and Jerusalem, he said, Woe is me, where- 7 fore was I born to see this [g]misery of my people, and of [h]the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was delivered into the hand of the enemy, and the sanctuary into the hand of strangers? Her temple is become as a man 8 fore shall we live any longer? Then 14

Mattathias and his sons [r]rent their clothes, and [rs]put on sackcloth, and mourned very sore.

In the mean while [t]the king's officers, 15 such as compelled the people to [u]revolt, came into the city [c]Modin, to make them sacrifice. And when many of 16 Israel came unto them, Mattathias also and his sons came together. Then 17 answered [t]the king's officers, and said to Mattathias on this wise, Thou art a ruler, and an honourable and great man in this city, and [v]strengthened with sons and brethren: now therefore 18

Now when he had left speaking these 23 words, there came one of the Jews in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at [f]Modin, according to 24 the king's commandment. Which thing when Mattathias saw, he was inflamed with zeal, and [g]his reins trembled, neither could he forbear to shew his anger [h]according to judgment: wherefore he ran, and slew him upon the 25 altar. Also the king's commissioner, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and the altar he 26 pulled down. Thus dealt he zealously for the law of God, like as [i]Phinees did unto Zambri the son of Salom. 27 And Mattathias cried throughout the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous of the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him follow 28 me. So [j]he and his sons fled into the mountains, and left all that ever they 29 had in the city. Then many that [k]sought after justice and [h]judgment [j]went down into the wilderness, to 30 [l]dwell there: both they, [l]and their children, and their wives, and their cattle; because [t]afflictions increased sore upon them.

Now when it was told the king's 31 servants, and [m]the host that was at Jerusalem, in the city of David, that certain men, who had [n]broken the king's commandment, were gone down into [o]the secret places in the wilder- 32 ness, they pursued after them a great number, and having overtaken them, they camped against them, and made war against them on the sabbath day.

[n] ch. 6. 59 (Gk.).
[o] ver. 29 (Gk.), 42. ch. 1. 53.

And they said unto them, Let that 33 which you have done hitherto suffice;
come forth, and do according to the commandment of the king, and you shall live. But they said, We will not come 34 forth, neither will we do the king's commandment, [p] to profane the sabbath day. So then they gave [l] them the 35 battle with all speed. Howbeit they 36 answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped [o] the places where they lay hid; but said, Let 37 us die all in our [l] innocency: heaven and earth shall testify for us, that you put us to death wrongfully. [q] So they 38 rose up against them in battle on the sabbath, and they slew them, [r] with their wives and children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand people.

Now when Mattathias and his friends 39 understood hereof, they mourned for them right sore. And one of them 40 said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not for our lives and laws against the heathen, they will now quickly root us out of the earth. At that time therefore they 41 decreed, saying, [s] Whosoever shall come to make battle with us on the sabbath day, we will fight against him; neither will we die all, [t] as our brethren that were murdered in [o] the secret places.
Then came there unto him a company 42 of [u] Asideans, who were mighty men of Israel, even all such as were voluntarily devoted unto the law. Also all 43 they that fled for persecution joined themselves unto them, and were [v] a stay unto them. So they joined their 44 forces, and smote [w] sinful men in their anger, and [x] wicked men in their wrath:
but the rest fled to the heathen for succour. Then Mattathias and his friends 45 went round about, and pulled down the altars: and what children soever they 46 found within the coast of Israel uncircumcised, those they circumcised [l] [y] valiantly. They pursued also after the proud 47 men, and the work prospered in their hand. So they recovered the law out 48 of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of kings, neither [t] suffered they [w] the sinner to triumph.

Now when the time drew near that 49 Mattathias should die, he said unto his sons, Now hath pride and rebuke gotten strength, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation:

now therefore, my sons, be ye zealous 50 for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers. Call to re- 51 membrance what acts our fathers did in their [t] time; so shall ye receive great 52 honour and an everlasting name. [z] Was not Abraham found faithful in temptation, [a] and it was imputed unto him for righteousness? [b] Joseph in the time 53 of his [c] distress kept the commandment, [d] and was made lord of Egypt. Phinees 54 [e] our father [fn] in being zealous and fervent obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood. [g] Jesus for fulfilling 55
the word was made a judge in Israel.
[h] Caleb for bearing witness before [i] the 56 congregation received the heritage of the land. David for being [k] merciful 57 [l] possessed the throne of an everlasting kingdom. [m] Elias [n] for being zealous 58 and fervent for the law was taken up into heaven. [o] Ananias, Azarias, and 59 Misael, by believing were saved out of the flame. [p] Daniel for his [q] innocency 60 was delivered from the mouth of lions.
And thus consider ye throughout all 61 ages, that none that put their trust in him shall be overcome. [r] Fear not then 62 the words of a sinful man: [s] for his glory shall be [t] dung and worms. [s] To 63 day he shall be lifted up, and to morrow he shall not be found, because [u x] he is returned into his dust, [x] and his thought is come to nothing. Where- 64 fore, you my sons, be valiant, and [y] shew yourselves men in the behalf of the law; for by it shall you obtain glory.
And behold, I know that your brother 65 [z] Simon is a man of counsel, give ear unto him alway: he shall be a father unto you. As for [a] Judas Maccabeus, 66 he hath been mighty and strong, even [b] from his youth up: let him be your captain, and [l] fight the battle of the people. Take also unto you all [c] those 67 fought with cheerfulness the battle of Israel. So he gat his people great 3 honour, and put on a [b] breastplate as a giant, and girt his warlike [c] harness about him, and he made battles, protecting [d] the host with his sword. In 4 his acts he was like a lion, and like a lion's whelp roaring for his prey. For 5 he pursued [e] the wicked, and sought them out, and [ee] burnt up those that vexed his people. Wherefore [e] the wicked 6 [f] shrunk for fear of him, and [ff] all the workers of iniquity were troubled, because [g] salvation prospered in his hand. He grieved also many kings, and made 7 Jacob glad with his acts, and [gg] his memorial is blessed for ever. Moreover he went through the cities of Juda, 8 destroying [e] the ungodly out of them, and [h] turning away wrath from Israel: so that he was renowned unto the 9 utmost part of the earth, and he [i] received unto him such as were [i] ready to perish.

Then [k] Apollonius gathered the Gen- 10 tiles together, and a great host out of [l] Samaria, to fight against Israel. Which 11 thing when Judas perceived, he went forth to meet him, and so he smote him, and slew him: many also [m] fell down slain, but the rest fled. Where- 12 fore Judas took their spoils, and [k] Apollonius' sword also, and therewith he fought all his life long.

Now when Seron, a prince of the 13 army of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered unto him a multitude and company of the faithful to go out with him to war; he said, I will get me a 14 name and honour in the kingdom; for I will go fight with Judas and them that are with him, who despise the king's commandment. So he [n] made 15 him ready to go up, and there went with him a mighty [d] host of [e] the ungodly to help him, and to be avenged of the children of Israel. And when 16 he came near to the going up of [o] Bethoron, Judas went forth to meet him [p] with a small company: who, when 17 they saw [d] the host coming to meet them, said unto Judas, How shall we be able, being so [p] few, to fight against so great a multitude and so strong, seeing [q] we are ready to faint with fasting all this day? Unto whom Judas an- 18 swered, [r] It is no hard matter for many to be [s] shut up in the hands of a few; and with [t] the God of heaven it is all one, [r] to deliver with a great 19 multitude, or a small company: for the victory of battle standeth not in the multitude of a host; but strength cometh from heaven. They come [‖] against us 20 [t] in much pride and iniquity to destroy us, and our wives and children, and to spoil us: but we fight for our lives and 21 our laws. Wherefore the Lord himself will overthrow them before our face: and as for you, be ye not afraid of them. Now as soon as he had left 22 off speaking, he leapt suddenly upon them, and so Seron and his [d] host was overthrown before him. And they pur- 23 sued them [t] from [u] the going down of Bethoron unto the plain, where were slain about eight hundred men of them; and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines. Then began the fear 24 of Judas and his brethren, and [w] an exceeding great dread, to fall upon the nations round about them: insomuch as his fame came unto the king, and all nations talked of the [x] battles of Judas.

Now when [y] king Antiochus heard 25 these things, he was full of indignation: wherefore he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, even a very strong [d] army. He opened also 26 his treasure, and gave his soldiers [z] pay for a year, commanding them to be ready [t] whensoever he should need them. Nevertheless, when he saw that the 27 money of his treasures failed, and [t] that the tributes in the country were small, because of the dissension and plague, which he had brought upon the land [‖] in taking away the laws which had been of old time; he feared [t] that he 28 should not be able to bear the charges [a] any longer, nor to have such gifts to give so liberally as he did before: for [b] he had abounded above the kings that were before him. Wherefore, being 29 greatly [c] perplexed in his mind, he determined to go into [d] Persia, there to take the tributes of the countries, and [e] to gather much money. So he left 30 [f] Lysias, a nobleman, and one [f] of the blood royal, to oversee the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt: and to bring up 31 [g] his son Antiochus, until he came again. Moreover he delivered unto him the 32 half of his forces, and [g] the elephants, and gave him charge of all things that he would have done, as also concerning them that dwelt in Juda and Jerusalem: to wit, that he should send an army against them, to destroy and root out the strength of Israel, and [h] the remnant of Jerusalem, and [i] to take away their memorial from that place; and that he should place strangers in all their quarters, and divide their land by lot. So the king took the half of the forces that remained, and departed from [j] Antioch, [†] his royal city, [*] the hundred forty and seventh year; and having passed the river Euphrates, [d] he went through [k] the high countries.

Then Lysias chose [l] Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes, and [m] Nicanor, and [n] Gorgias, mighty men of [nn] the king's friends: and with them he sent forty thousand *foot*men, and seven thousand horsemen, to go into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded. So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by [o] Emmaus in the plain country. And [oo] the merchants of the country, hearing the fame of them, took silver and gold very much, with [‖] servants, and came into [p] the camp to buy the children of Israel for slaves: a power also of Syria and of the land [‖] of the Philistines joined themselves unto them. [q] Now when Judas and his brethren saw that miseries were multiplied, and that the forces did encamp themselves in their borders; (for they knew how the king had given commandment to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them;) they said one to another, Let us restore the [r] decayed estate of our people, and let us fight for our people and the sanctuary. Then was the congregation gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask mercy and compassion. Now [hs] Jerusalem lay void as a wilderness, there was none of her children that [t] went in or out: [s] the sanctuary also was trodden down, and aliens kept [u] the strong hold; the heathen had their habitation in that place; and joy was taken from Jacob, and the pipe with [w] the harp ceased. Wherefore the Israelites assembled themselves together, and came to [‖] Maspha, over against Jerusalem; for in [x] Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel. Then [y] they fasted that day, and [z] put on sackcloth, and cast [ya] ashes upon their heads, and [za] rent their clothes, and laid open the book of the law, [‖] wherein the heathen had sought to paint [b] the likeness of their images. They brought also [c] the priests' garments, and [d] the firstfruits, and [e] the tithes: and [f] the Nazarites they stirred up, [g] who had accomplished their days. Then cried they with a loud voice toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these, and whither shall we carry them away? For thy [h] sanctuary is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness, and brought low. And lo, the heathen are assembled together against us to destroy us: what things they imagine against us, thou knowest. How shall we be able to stand against them, except thou, O God, be our help? Then sounded they with [i] trumpets, and cried with a loud voice. And [k] after this Judas ordained captains over the people, even [l] captains over thousands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens. But as for [m] such as were building houses, or had betrothed wives, or were planting vineyards, or [n] were [o] fearful, those he commanded that they should return, every man to his own house, [m] according to the law. So [p] the camp removed, and pitched upon the south side of [q] Emmaus. And Judas said, [r] Arm yourselves, and be valiant men, and see that ye be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these nations, that are assembled together against us to destroy us and our [h] sanctuary: for it is better for us to die in battle, than to behold the calamities of our people and our [h] sanctuary. Nevertheless, [r] as the will [s] of God is in heaven, so let him do.

Then took [a] Gorgias [b] five thousand *foot*men, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and removed out of [c] the camp by night; to the end he might rush in upon [c] the camp of the Jews, and smite them suddenly. And the men of [d] the fortress were his guides. Now when Judas heard thereof, he himself removed, and the valiant men with him, that he might smite [e] the king's army which was at Emmaus, while as yet the forces were dispersed from [c] the camp. In the mean season came [a] Gorgias by night into [c] the camp of Judas: and when he found no man there, he sought them in the mountains: for said he, These fellows flee from us.

38 up into mount Sion. [d] And when they [f] ch. 1. 59. [g] ver. 48. 2 Chr. 4. 9. [h] ver. 57. Jer. 35. 4 in the Gk. So 1 Kin. 6. 5, 6.
saw [e] the sanctuary desolate, and [f] the altar profaned, and [g] the gates burnt up, and shrubs growing in [g] the courts as in a forest, or in one of the mountains, yea, and the priests' [h] chambers and [k]made great lamentation, and [i]cast ashes upon their heads, and fell down flat to the ground upon their faces, and blew an alarm [l]with the trumpets, and [m]cried towards heaven. Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against [n]those that were in the fortress, until he had cleansed the sanctuary.

So he chose priests of blameless conversation, such as had pleasure in the law: who cleansed the sanctuary, and bare out the defiled stones into an unclean place. And when as they consulted what to do with the altar of burnt offerings, [f]which was profaned; they thought it best to pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because [f]the heathen had defiled it: wherefore they pulled it down, and laid up the stones in the mountain of the temple in a convenient place, [o]until there should come a prophet to shew what should be done with them. Then they took [p]whole stones according to the law, and [q]built a new altar according to the former; and made up the sanctuary, and the things that were within the temple, and hallowed [g]the courts. They made also new holy vessels, and into the temple they brought [r]the candlestick, and the altar [s]of burnt offerings, and [t]of incense, and [u]the table. And [w]upon the altar [x]they burnt incense, and [w]the lamps that were upon the candlestick they lighted, that they might give light in the temple. Furthermore [y]they set the loaves upon the table, and ‖spread out [z]the vails, and finished all the works which they had begun to make.

Now [a]on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is called the month [b]Casleu, in *the hundred forty and eighth year, they rose up betimes in the morning, and offered sacrifice [c]according to the law upon the new altar of burnt offerings, [d]which they had made. Look, at what time and [a]what day the heathen had profaned it, even in that was it dedicated with songs, and citherns, and [e]harps, and [f]cymbals. Then all the people fell upon their faces, worshipping and praising [g]the God of heaven, who had given them good success. And so they kept the dedication of the altar [h]eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed the sacrafice of ‖deliverance and [i]praise. They deckt also the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold, and with shields; and [j]the gates and [j]the chambers they ‖renewed, and ‖hanged doors upon them. Thus was there very great gladness among the people, for that the reproach of the heathen was put away. Moreover Judas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of [k]the dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from year to year by the space of eight days, [l]from the five and twentieth day of the month [b]Casleu, with mirth and gladness.

At that time also they builded up the mount Sion [m]with high walls and strong towers round about, lest the Gentiles should come and tread it down, [n]as they had done before. And they set there a garrison to keep it, and fortified [o]Bethsura to preserve it; that the people might have a defence against [p]Idumea.

Now when the nations round about heard that [a]the altar was built, and [b]the sanctuary renewed as before, it displeased them very much. Wherefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was among them, and thereupon they began to slay and destroy the people. Then Judas fought against [c]the children of Esau in [d]Idumea at ‖Arabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he gave them a great overthrow, and abated their courage, and took their spoils. Also he remembered the ‖injury of the children of ‖Bean, who had been [e]a snare and [e]an offence unto the people, in that they lay in wait for them in the ways. He shut them up therefore in the towers, and encamped against them, and [f]destroyed them utterly, and burnt the towers of that place with fire, and all that were therein. Afterward he passed over to [g]the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and much people, with [gg]Timotheus their captain. So he fought many battles with them, till at length they were discomfited before him; and he smote them. And when he had taken [h]Jazar, with [i]the towns belonging thereto, he returned into Judea.

Then the heathen that were at [j]Galaad assembled themselves together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to destroy them; but they fled to the fortress of Dathema, and sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, The heathen that are round about us are assembled together against us to destroy us: and they are preparing to 11

come and take the fortress whereunto we are fled, [gg] Timotheus being captain of their [k] host. Come now therefore, and 12 deliver us from their hands, for many of us are slain: yea, all [kk] our brethren that 13 were in the places of [l] Tobie are put to also they have carried away captives,

They of [o] Ptolemais, and of [p] Tyrus, and Sidon, and all [q] Galilee of the Gentiles, are assembled together against us to consume us. Now when Judas and 16 the people heard these words, there assembled a great congregation together, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in trouble, and assaulted of them. Then said Judas unto 17 [r] Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in [q] Galilee, for I and [s] Jonathan of Galaad. So he left [t] Joseph the son 18 host in Judea to keep it. Unto whom 19 he gave commandment, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and [u] see that you make not war against the heathen until the time that we come again. Now 20 unto Simon were given three thousand men to go into [y] Galilee, and unto Judas eight thousand men for [j] the country of Galaad. Then went Simon into Galilee, 21 where he fought many battles with the heathen, so that the heathen were discomfited by him. And he pursued them 22 unto the gate of [o] Ptolemais; and there were slain of the heathen about three thousand men, whose spoils he took.

And [l] those that were in Galilee, and in 23

but if he be afraid, and camp beyond 41 and prevail against him. Now when 42 Judas came near the brook, he caused [m] the scribes of the people to remain by the brook: unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Suffer no man to remain in the camp, but let all come to the battle. So he went first over unto them, 43 and all the people after him: [n] then all the heathen, being discomfited before him, cast away their weapons, and fled unto the temple that was at [a] Carnaim.

But ‖ they took the city, and [o] burnt 44
the temple with all that were therein.
Thus was [a] Carnaim subdued, neither could they stand any longer before Judas.

Then Judas gathered together all the 45 Israelites that were in the country of Galaad, [p] from the least unto the greatest,
even their wives, and their children, and their [q] stuff, a very great [r] host, to the end they might come into the land of

they could not turn from it, [u] either on

they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones.
Whereupon Judas sent unto them in 48 peaceable manner, saying, [u] Let us pass through your land to go into our own country, and none shall do you any hurt; we will only pass through on foot:
howbeit they would not open unto him.
Wherefore Judas commanded a procla- 49 mation to be made throughout [r] the host, that every man should pitch his tent in the place where he was. So the soldiers 50 pitched, and assaulted the city all that day and all that night, till at the length [x] the city was delivered into his hands:
[h] who then slew all the males [c] with the 51 edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain. After this [y] went they over Jordan 52 [z] into the great plain before [a] Bethsan.
And Judas gathered together those that 53

left there. Wherefore [d]he came and sought to take the city, and to spoil it; but he was not able, because they of the city, having had warning thereof, rose up against him in battle: so he fled, and departed thence with great heaviness, and returned to [w]Babylon. Moreover there came one who brought him tidings [dd]into Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Judea, were put to flight: and that [e]Lysias, who went forth first with a great power, was driven away of the Jews; and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and [f]store of spoils, which they had gotten of the armies, whom they had destroyed: also that [g]they had pulled down [h]the abomination, which he had set up upon the altar in Jerusalem, and that [i]they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and his city [k]Bethsura. Now when the king heard these words, he was astonished and sore moved: [l]whereupon he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, [m]because it had not befallen him as he looked for. And there he continued many days: [n]for his grief was ever more and more, and he made account that he should die. Wherefore he called for all his friends, and said unto them, The sleep is gone from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for very care. And I thought with myself, Into what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood of misery is it, wherein now I am! for I was [o]bountiful and beloved in my power. But now I remember the evils that I did at Jerusalem, and that [p]I took all the vessels of gold and silver that were therein, and [q]sent to destroy the inhabitants of Judea without a cause. I perceive therefore that for this cause these [r]troubles are come upon me, and behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land. [v]So king Antiochus died [w]there in [*]the hundred forty and ninth year. Now when [x]Lysias knew that the king was dead, he set up Antiochus his son ([x]whom he had brought up, being young) to reign in his stead, and his name he called [y]Eupator.

About this time they that were in [z]the tower shut up the Israelites round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the heathen. Wherefore Judas, purposing to destroy them, called all the people together to besiege them. So they came together, and besieged them in [*]the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made [a]mounts for shot against them, and other engines. Howbeit certain of the men that were besieged got forth, unto whom some [b]ungodly men of Israel joined themselves: and they went unto [c]the king, and said, How long will it be ere thou execute judgment, and avenge our brethren? We have been willing to serve thy father, and to do as he would have us, and to obey his commandments; for which cause [b]they of our nation besiege [d]the tower, and are alienated from us: moreover [e]as many of us as they could light on they slew, and spoiled our inheritance. Neither have they stretched out their hand against us only, but also against all their borders. And behold, this day are they besieging [d]the tower at Jerusalem, to take it: [f]the sanctuary also and Bethsura have they fortified. Wherefore if thou dost not prevent them quickly, they will do greater things than these, neither shalt thou be able to rule them.

Now [g]when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his friends, and the captains of his army, and those that had charge of the horse. There came also unto him from other kingdoms, and from [h]isles of the sea, bands of hired soldiers. [i]So that the number of his army was an hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty [k]elephants exercised in battle. These went through [l]Idumea, and [m]pitched against Bethsura, which they assaulted many days, making engines of war; but they of Bethsura came out, and burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly. Upon this Judas removed from [d]the tower, and pitched in Bathzacharias, over against the king's camp. Then the king rising very early marched [t]fiercely with his host toward Bathzacharias, where his armies made them ready to battle, and sounded the trumpets. And to the end they might provoke [k]the elephants to fight, they shewed them [n]the blood of grapes and mulberries. Moreover they divided the beasts among the armies, and for every [k] elephant they appointed a thousand men, armed with coats of mail, and with helmets of brass on their heads; and besides this, for every beast were ordained five hundred horsemen of the best. These were ready at every oc- 36 casion, wheresoever the beast was: and whithersoever the beast went, they went also, neither departed they from him. And upon the beasts were there strong 37 towers of wood, which covered every one of them, and were girt fast unto them with devices: there were also upon every one two and thirty strong men, that fought upon them, besides the Indian that ruled him. As for the rem- 38 nant of the horsemen, they set them on this side and that side at the two parts of the host, [l] giving them signs what to do, and being [o] harnessed all over amidst the ranks. Now when the 39 sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains glistered therewith, and shined like lamps of fire. So 40 part of the king's army being spread upon the high mountains, and part on the valleys below, they marched on safely and in order. Wherefore all that 41 heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the [p] harness, were moved: for the army was very great and mighty.

Then Judas and his host drew near, 42 and entered into battle, and there were slain of the king's army six hundred men. Eleazar also, surnamed [q] Savaran, 43 perceiving that one of the beasts, armed with royal [p] harness, was higher than all the rest, and supposing that the king was upon him, [r] put himself in 44 [r] jeopardy, to the end he might deliver his people, and [s] get him a perpetual name: wherefore he ran upon him cou- 45 rageously through the midst of the battle, slaying on the right hand and on the left, [l] so that they were divided from him on both sides. Which done, 46 he crept under the [k] elephant, and thrust him under, and slew him: whereupon the elephant fell down upon him, and there he died. Howbeit the rest of the 47
Jews seeing the strength of the king, and [t] the violence of his forces, turned away from them.

Then the king's army went up to 48
Jerusalem to meet them, and the king pitched his tents [ll] against Judea, and against mount Sion. But [u] with them 49 that were in Bethsura he made peace: for they came out of the city [l], because they had no victuals there to endure the siege, it being [w] a year of rest to 50 the land. So the king took Bethsura,
51 and set a garrison there to keep it. As for the sanctuary, he besieged it many days: and [l] set there artillery with engines and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, 52 and slings. Whereupon [l] they also made engines against their engines, and held 53 them battle a long season. Yet at the last, their vessels being without victuals, (for that it was [w] the seventh year, and they in Judea, that were delivered from the Gentiles, had eaten up the residue 54 of the [x] store;) there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine did so prevail against them, that they were fain to disperse themselves, every man to his own place.

55 At that time [y] Lysias heard say, that [z] Philip (whom Antiochus the king whiles he lived had appointed to bring up his son Antiochus, that he might be king)
56 was returned out of [a] Persia and Media, and the king's host also that went with him, and that he sought to take unto 57 him the ruling of the affairs. Wherefore he went in all haste, and said to the king and the captains of the host and the company, We decay daily, and our victuals are but small, and the place we lay siege unto is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us:
58 now therefore let us [t] be friends with these men, and make peace with them,
59 and with all their nation; and covenant with them, that they shall live after their laws, as they did before: for they are therefore displeased, and have done all these things, because we [b] abolished
60 their laws. [c] So the king and the princes [d] were content: wherefore he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted 61 thereof. Also the king and the princes made an oath unto them: whereupon 62 they went out of the strong hold. Then the king entered into mount Sion; but when he saw the strength of the place, he [e] brake his oath that he had made, and gave commandment to pull down
63 [f] the wall round about. Afterward departed he in all haste, [g] and returned unto [h] Antiochia, where he found [z] Philip to be master of the city: so [i] he fought against him, and took the city by force.

In * the hundred and one and fiftieth year [a] Demetrius the son of [a] Seleucus departed from [aa] Rome, and came up with a few men unto ‖ a city of the sea coast, and reigned there. And as he entered into the † palace of his ancestors, so it was, that [b] his forces had taken Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him. Wherefore, when he knew it, he said, Let me not see their faces. So his host slew them. Now when Demetrius was set upon the throne of his kingdom, there came unto him all [c] the wicked and [c] ungodly men of Israel, having [d] Alcimus (who was desirous to be high priest) for their captain: and they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren [e] have slain all thy friends, and driven us out of our own land. Now therefore send some man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see what havock he hath made amongst us, and in the king's land, and let him punish them with all them that aid them.

Then the king chose [f] Bacchides, [g] a friend of the king, who ruled [h] beyond the flood, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king. And him he sent with that wicked Alcimus, whom he made high priest, and commanded that he should take vengeance of the children of Israel. So they departed, and came with a great power into the land of Judea, where they sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with peaceable words deceitfully. But they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great power. Then did there assemble unto Alcimus and [f] Bacchides a company of ‖ scribes, to require justice. Now the [i] Asideans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them: for said they, [ii] One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with this army, and he will do us no wrong. So he spake unto them peaceably, and sware unto them, saying, We will procure the harm neither of you nor your friends. Whereupon they believed him: howbeit he took of them threescore men, and slew them in one day, according to the words which [j] he wrote, [k] The flesh of thy saints have they cast out, and their blood have they shed round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them. Wherefore the fear and dread of them fell upon all the people, who said, There is neither truth nor † righteousness in them; for they have broken the covenant and oath that they made. After this removed [f] Bacchides from Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Bezeth, where he sent and took many of the men that had [l] forsaken him, and certain of the people also, and when he had slain them, [m] he cast them into the great pit. Then committed he the country to Alcimus, and left with him a power to aid him: so [f] Bacchides went unto the king.

But Alcimus ‖ contended for the high priesthood. And unto him resorted all such as troubled the people, who, after they had gotten the land of Juda into their power, did much hurt in Israel. Now when Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the Israelites, even above the heathen, he went out into all the coasts of Judea round about, and took vengeance of them that had ‖ revolted from him, so that they durst no more ‖ go forth into the country. On the other side, when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company ‖ had gotten the upper hand, and knew that he was not able † to abide their force, [n] he went again to the king, and said all the worst of them that he could. Then [o] the king sent [p] Nicanor, one of his honourable princes, a man that bare deadly hate unto Israel, with commandment to destroy the people. [q] So Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great force; and sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with † friendly words, saying, Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may † see you in peace. He came therefore to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. Howbeit the enemies were prepared to take away Judas by violence. Which thing after it was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more. [p] Nicanor also, when he saw that his counsel was discovered, went out to † fight against Judas besides ‖ Capharsalama: where there were slain of [p] Nicanor's side about five thousand men, and the rest fled into the city of David.

After this went [p] Nicanor up [r] to mount Sion, and [s] there came out of the sanctuary certain of the priests and certain of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt sacrifice that was offered [t] for the king. But he mocked them, and laughed at them, and [†] abused them shamefully, and spake proudly, and swore in his wrath, saying, Unless Judas and his host be now delivered into my hands, if ever I come again [†] in safety, I will burn up this house. And with that he went out in a great rage. Then the priests [s] entered in, and stood [u] before the altar and the temple, weeping, and saying, Thou, O Lord, [x] didst choose this house to be called by thy name, and to be [y] a house of prayer and petition for thy people: be avenged of this man and his host, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue any longer.

So [z] Nicanor went out of Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in [a] Bethoron, where a host out of Syria met him. But Judas pitched in [g] Adasa with three thousand men, and there [b] he prayed, saying, O Lord, when they that were sent from the king of the Assyrians blasphemed, [c] thine angel went out, and smote an hundred fourscore and five thousand of them. Even so destroy thou this host before us this day, that the rest may know that [d] he hath spoken blasphemously against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness. So the thirteenth day of the month [e] Adar the hosts joined battle: but Nicanor's host was discomfited, and [f] he himself was first slain in the battle. Now when Nicanor's host saw that he was slain, they cast away their weapons, and fled. Then [‖] they pursued after them a day's journey, from [g] Adasa unto [h] Gazera, sounding an alarm after them [i] with their trumpets. Whereupon they came forth out of all the towns of Judea round about, and closed them in; so that they, turning back upon them that pursued them, were all slain with the sword, and not one of them was left. Afterwards they took the spoils, and the prey, and smote off Nicanor's head, and his right hand, [k] which he stretched out so [d] proudly, and brought them away, and hanged them up [l] towards Jerusalem. For this cause the people rejoiced greatly, and they kept that day a day of great gladness. Moreover [m] they ordained to keep yearly this day, being the thirteenth of [e] Adar. Thus [n] the land of Juda was in rest a little while.

Now Judas had heard of the fame of [a] the Romans, that they were mighty and valiant men, and such as would lovingly accept all that joined themselves unto them, and make a league of amity with all that came unto them; and that they were men of great valour. It was told him also of their wars and noble acts which they had done amongst the [‖ b] Galatians, and how they had conquered them, and brought them under tribute; and what they had done in the country of Spain, for the winning of the mines of the silver and gold which is there; and that by their policy and patience they had conquered [‖] all the place, though it were very far from them; and the kings also that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, till they had discomfited them, and given them a great overthrow, so that the rest did give them tribute every year: besides this, how they had discomfited in battle Philip, and Perseus, king of the [‖] Citims, with others that lift up themselves against them, and had overcome them: how also Antiochus the great king of [c] Asia, that came against them in battle, having an hundred and twenty [d] elephants, with horsemen, and chariots, and a very great army, was discomfited by them; and how they took him alive, and covenanted that he and such as reigned after him should pay a great tribute, and give [e] hostages, and that which was agreed upon, and the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest countries, which they took of him, and gave to king Eumenes: moreover how the Grecians had determined to come and destroy them; and that they, having knowledge thereof, sent against them a certain captain, and fighting with them [ee] slew many of them, and carried away captives their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and took possession of their lands, and pulled down their strong holds, and brought them to be their servants unto this day: it was told him besides, how they destroyed and brought under their dominion all other kingdoms and isles that at any time resisted them; but with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity: and that they had conquered kingdoms both far and nigh, insomuch as all that heard of their name were afraid of them: also 13 that, whom they would help to a kingdom, those reign: and whom again they would, they displace: finally, that they were greatly exalted: yet for all this 14 none of them [f]wore a crown, or was clothed in purple, to be magnified thereby: moreover how they had made 15 for themselves a [i]senate house, wherein three hundred and twenty men sat in council daily, consulting alway for the people, to the end they might be well ordered: and that they committed their 16 government to [ff]one man every year, who ruled over all their country, and that all were obedient to that one, and that there was neither envy nor emulation among them.

In consideration of these things, Ju- 17 das chose [g]Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to [a]Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them, and to intreat them that 18 they would take [p]the yoke from them; for they saw that the kingdom of [h]the Grecians did oppress Israel with servitude. They went therefore to Rome, 19 which was a very great journey, and came into the [i]senate, where they [j]spake and said, Judas [k]Maccabeus with his 20 brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends. So [l]that matter pleased the Romans well. And this is the 21 22 copy of the epistle which the senate wrote back again [ll]in tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that there they might have by them a memorial of peace and confederacy:

[m]Good success be to the Romans, 23 and to the people of the Jews, [n]by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and enemy be far from them. If there 24 come first any war upon the Romans or any of their confederates throughout all their dominion, the people of the 25 Jews shall help them, as the time shall be appointed, with all their heart: neither shall they give any thing unto 26 them that make war upon them, or aid them with victuals, weapons, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto the Romans; but they shall keep their covenants without taking any thing therefore.

27 In the same manner also, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them with all their heart, according as the time shall be 28 appointed them: neither shall victuals be given to them that take part against them, or weapons, or money, or ships, as it hath seemed good to the Romans; but they shall keep their covenants, and 29 that without deceit. According to these articles did the Romans make a cove- 30 nant with the people of the Jews. Howbeit if hereafter the one party or the other shall think meet to add or diminish any thing, they may do it at their pleasures, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be ratified.

31 And as touching the evils that [o]Demetrius doeth to the Jews, we have written unto him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made [p]thy yoke heavy upon [q]our 32 friends and confederates the Jews? If therefore they [r]complain any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee [n]by sea and by land.

IX. Furthermore [a]when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his host were slain in battle, [t]he sent [aa]Bacchides and Alcimus into the land of Judea [b]the second time, and with them [ll]the chief strength 2 of his host: who went forth by the way that leadeth to [ll]Galgala, and pitched their tents before Masaloth, which is in [c]Arbela, and after they had won it, they 3 slew much [d]people. Also the first month of [*]the hundred fifty and second year 4 they encamped before Jerusalem: from whence they removed, and went to [ll]Berea, with twenty thousand *foot*men and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Judas had pitched his tents at [e]Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men 6 with him: who seeing the multitude of the other army to be so great were sore afraid; whereupon many conveyed themselves out of the host, insomuch as there abode of them no moe but eight hun- 7 dred men. When Judas therefore saw that his host slipt away, and that the battle pressed upon him, he was sore troubled in mind, and much distressed, for that he had no time to gather them 8 together. Nevertheless unto them that remained he said, Let us arise and go up against our enemies, if peradventure 9 we may be able to fight with them. But they dehorted him, saying, We shall never be able: [ll]let us now rather save our

Now when Bacchides heard hereof, 43 [l] he came on the sabbath day unto the banks of Jordan with a great power.
Then Jonathan said to his company, 44 [ll] Let us go up now and fight for our lives, for it standeth not with us to day, as [m] in time past: for behold, the battle is 45 before us and behind us, and the water of Jordan on this side and that side, [k] the marish likewise and wood, neither is there place for us to turn aside. Where- 46 fore [n] cry ye now unto heaven, that ye may be delivered from the hand of your enemies. With that they joined battle, 47 and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, but he turned back from him. Then Jonathan and they 48 that were with him leapt into Jordan,
and swam over unto the farther bank:
howbeit the other passed not over Jordan unto them. So there were slain of Bac- 49 chides' side that day about [t] a thousand men.

Afterward returned Bacchides to Je- 50
rusalem, and [l] repaired the strong cities in Judea; the fort in [o] Jericho, and [p] Emmaus, and [q] Bethoron, and [r] Bethel, and [s] Thamnatha, [t] Pharathoni, and [lu] Taphon, these did he strengthen [v] with high walls, with gates, and with bars. And in 51 them he set a garrison, that they might work malice upon Israel. He fortified 52 also [f] the city [w] Bethsura, and [x] Gazara, and [y] the tower, and put forces in them,
and [z] provision of victuals. Besides, he 53 took the chief men's sons in the country for [a] hostages, and put them into [y] the tower at Jerusalem to be kept. More- 54 over in [*] the hundred fifty and third year, in the second month, [b] Alcimus commanded that [c] the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary should be pulled down; he pulled down also [d] the works of the prophets. And as he 55 began to pull down, even at that time was Alcimus plagued, and his enterprises hindered: for his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, so that he could no more speak any thing, nor [e] give order concerning his house. So 56 Alcimus died at that time with great torment. Now when [f] Bacchides saw that 57 Alcimus was dead, he returned to the king: whereupon [g] the land of Judea was in rest two year.

Then all [h] the ungodly men held a 58 council, saying, Behold, Jonathan and his company are at ease, and dwell without care: now therefore we will bring Bacchides hither, who shall take 59 them all in one night. So they went 60 and consulted with him. Then removed he, and came with a great host,
and sent letters privily to his adherents in Judea, that they should take Jonathan and those that were with him:
howbeit they could not, because their 61 counsel was known unto them. Wherefore they took of the men of the country, that were authors of that mischief, about fifty persons, and slew them.
62 Afterward [i] Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, got them away to [l] Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and they [k] repaired the decays 63 thereof, and made it strong. Which thing when Bacchides knew, he gathered together all his host, and sent word 64 [ll] to them that were of Judea. Then went he and laid siege against Beth-basi; and they fought against it a long season, and made engines of war.
65 But Jonathan left his brother Simon in [l] the city, and went forth himself into the country, and with a certain number 66 went he forth. And he smote [lu] Odonarkes and his brethren, and the chil-67 dren of Phasiron in their tent. And when he began to smite them, and came up with his forces, Simon and his company went out of [l] the city, and burnt 68 up [m] the engines of war; and fought against Bacchides, who was discomfited
by them, and they afflicted him sore:
for his counsel and travel was in vain.
69 Wherefore he was very wroth at [h] the wicked men that gave him counsel [n] to come into the country, insomuch as he slew many of them, and purposed to 70 return into his own country. Whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadors unto him, [o] to the end he should make peace with him, and de-71 liver them the prisoners. Which thing he accepted, and did according to his demands, and sware unto him that he would never do him harm all the days 72 of his life. When therefore he had restored unto him [p] the prisoners that he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judea, he returned and went his way into his own land, neither [t] came 73 he any more into their borders. Thus the sword ceased from Israel: but Jonathan dwelt at [q] Machmas, and began to [t] govern the people; and he destroyed [h] the ungodly men out of Israel.

Alexander, ‖ the son of Antiochus, surnamed Epiphanes, went up and took [a] Ptolemais: for the people had received him, by means whereof he reigned there. Now when [b] king Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered together an exceeding great host, and went forth against him to fight. Moreover Demetrius sent letters unto [c] Jonathan with loving words, so as he magnified him. For said he, [u] Let us first [d] make peace with him, before he join with Alexander against us: else [e] he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and against his brethren and his people. Wherefore he gave him authority to gather together a host, and to provide weapons, that he might aid him in battle: he commanded also that [f] the [g] hostages that were in [h] the tower should be delivered him.

Then came [c] Jonathan to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in [h] the tower: who [i] were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host. Whereupon they of [h] the tower delivered their [g] hostages unto Jonathan, and he delivered them unto their parents. This done, Jonathan settled himself in Jerusalem, and began to build and repair the city. And he commanded the workmen [k] to build the walls and the mount Sion round about with square stones for fortification; and they did so. Then the strangers that were in the fortresses [l] which Bacchides had built, fled away; insomuch as every man left his place, and went into his own country. Only at [m] Bethsura certain of [n] those that had forsaken the law and the commandments remained still: for it was their place of refuge.

Now when king Alexander had heard [o] what promises Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: when also it was told him of the battles and noble acts which he and his brethren had done, and of the pains that they had endured, he said, Shall we find such another man? now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate. Upon this he wrote a letter, and sent it unto him, according to these words, saying, King [oo] Alexander to his brother Jonathan sendeth greeting: we have heard of thee, that thou art a man of great power, and meet to be our friend. Wherefore now this day we ordain thee to be the high priest of thy nation, and to be called [p] the king's friend; (and therewithal he sent him [pp] a purple robe and [q] a crown of gold:) and require thee [r] to take our part, and keep friendship with us. So in [s] the seventh month of * the hundred and sixtieth year, [s] at the feast of the tabernacles, Jonathan put on [t] the holy robe, and gathered together forces, and provided much armour.

Whereof when Demetrius heard, he was very sorry, and said, What have we done, [u] that Alexander hath [x] prevented us in making amity with the Jews to strengthen himself? I also will write unto them words of encouragement, and promise them dignities and gifts, that I may have their aid. He sent unto them therefore to this effect:

King Demetrius unto the people of the Jews sendeth greeting: whereas you have kept covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, not joining yourselves with our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad. Wherefore now continue ye still to be faithful unto us, and we will well recompense you for the things you do in our behalf, and will grant you many [y] immunities, and give you rewards. And now I do free you, and for your sake I release all the Jews, from [z] tributes, and from [z] the customs of salt, and from [z a] crown taxes, and from [b] that which appertaineth unto me to receive for the third part of the seed, and the half of the fruit of the trees, I release it from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the land of Judea, nor of [c] the three governments which are added thereunto out of the country of [d] Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth for evermore. Let Jerusalem also be [e] holy and free, with the [q] borders thereof, both from [f] tenths and [f g] tributes. And as far [h] the tower which is at Jerusalem, I yield up my authority over it, and give it to [i] the high priest, that he may set in it such men as he shall choose to keep it. Moreover I freely set at liberty every one of the Jews, [j] that were carried captives out of the land of Judea into any part of my kingdom, and I will that all my officers remit the tributes even of their cattle. Furthermore I will that all the feasts,

Now when Jonathan and the people 46 heard these words, they gave no credit unto them, nor received them, because t they remembered the great evil that t See ver. 5. he had done in Israel; for he had af- 47 flicted them very sore. But with Alexander they were well pleased, because he was the first that entreated of true peace with them, and they were con- 48 federate with him always. Then ga- About B.C. 150. thered king Alexander great forces, and 49 camped over against Demetrius. And after the two kings had joined battle, Demetrius' host fled: but Alexander followed after him, and prevailed a- 50 gainst them. And he continued the battle very sore until the sun went down: and that day was Demetrius slain.

51 Afterward Alexander sent ambassadors to u Ptolemee king of Egypt with a 1 ch. 1. 18. See Esther 11. 1. 52 message to this effect: Forsomuch as I am come again to my realm, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, and have gotten the dominion, and overthrown Demetrius, and recovered our 53 country; (for after I had joined battle with him, both he and his host was discomfited by us, so that we sit in 54 the throne of his kingdom:) now therefore let us make a league of amity together, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will be thy son in law, and will give both thee and her gifts 55 according to thy dignity. Then Ptolemee the king gave answer, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and satest in the throne of their kingdom. 56 And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: meet me therefore at x Ptole- x See ver. 1. mais, that we may see one another; for I will marry my daughter to thee 57 according to thy desire. So Ptolemee went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and they came unto x Ptolemais in * the hundred threescore and * [B.C. 151— 58 second year: where king Alexander meeting him, he gave unto him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at x Ptolemais with great glory, as the manner of kings is.

59 Now king Alexander had written unto Jonathan, that he should come and 60 meet him. Who thereupon went honourably to x Ptolemais, where he met the two kings, and gave them and their y ch. 11. 24. of Israel, [a] men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him, to [b] accuse him: but the king would not hear them. Yea more than that, the king commanded to take off his garments, and [c] clothe him in purple: and they did so. Also he made him sit by himself, and said unto his princes, [d] Go with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man [b] complain against him of any matter, and that no man [e] trouble him for any manner of cause. Now when his [b] accusers saw that he was honoured according to the proclamation, and clothed in purple, they fled all away. So the king honoured him, and [f] wrote him amongst his chief friends, and made him a [g] duke, and [h] partaker of his dominion. Afterward Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

Furthermore in [*] the hundred threescore and fifth year came Demetrius son of [g] Demetrius out of [h] Crete into the land of his fathers: whereof when king Alexander heard tell, he was right sorry, and returned into [i] Antioch. Then Demetrius made [j] Apollonius the governor of [k] Coelosyria his general, who gathered together a great host, and camped in [l] Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying,

Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, and I am laughed to scorn for thy sake, and reproached: and why dost thou vaunt thy power against us [m] in the mountains? Now therefore, if thou trustest in thine own strength, [m] come down to us into the plain field, and there let us try the matter together: for with me is the power of the cities. Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that take our part, and they shall tell thee that thy foot is not able to stand before our face; for thy fathers have been [n] twice put to flight in their own land. Wherefore now thou shalt not be able to abide the horsemen and so great a power in the plain, [nn] where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

So when Jonathan heard these words of [j] Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and choosing ten thousand men he went out of Jerusalem, where [o] Simon his brother met him for to help him. And he pitched his tents against [p] Joppe: but they of Joppe shut him out of the city, because Apollonius had a garrison there. Then Jonathan laid siege unto it: whereupon they of the city let him in for fear: and so Jonathan won Joppe. Whereof when Apollonius heard, he took three thousand horsemen, with a great host of footmen, and went to [q] Azotus [‖] as one that journeyed, and therewithal [‖] drew him forth into [t] the plain, because he had a great number of horsemen, in whom he put his trust. Then Jonathan followed after him to [q] Azotus, where the armies joined battle. Now Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen in ambush. And Jonathan knew that there was an [r] ambushment behind him; for they had compassed in his host, and cast darts at the people, from morning till evening. But the people stood still, as Jonathan had commanded them: and so the [‖ s] enemies' horses were tired. Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the footmen, (for the horsemen were spent,) who were discomfited by him, and fled. The horsemen also, being scattered in [t] the field, fled to [q] Azotus, and went into [u] Beth-dagon, their [v] idol's temple, for safety. But Jonathan set fire on Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and [u] the temple of Dagon, with them that were fled into it, he burnt with fire. Thus there were burnt and slain with the sword well nigh eight thousand men. And from thence Jonathan removed his host, and camped against [w] Ascalon, where the men of the city came forth, and met him with great pomp. After this returned Jonathan and his host unto Jerusalem, having many spoils. Now when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan [x] yet more, and sent him [y] a buckle of gold, as the use is to be given to such as are of the kings' blood: he gave him also [z] Accaron with the borders thereof in possession.

And [a] the king of Egypt gathered together a great host, [b] like the sand that lieth upon the sea shore, and many ships, and went about through deceit to get Alexander's kingdom, and join it to his own. Whereupon he took his journey into Syria [c] in peaceable manner, so as they of the cities opened unto him, and met him: for king Alexander had commanded them so to do, because he was his father in law. Now as [a] Pto-

Now therefore see that 37 thou make a copy of these things, and let it be delivered unto Jonathan, and set upon the holy mount in a conspicuous place.

After this, when king Demetrius saw 38 that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his forces, every one to his own place, except certain bands of strangers, whom [o]he had gathered from [p]the isles of the heathen: wherefore all the forces of his fathers hated him. Moreover there was one Tryphon, that 39 had been of Alexander's part afore, who, seeing that all the host murmured against Demetrius, went to Simalcue the [q]Arabian, that brought up Antiochus the young son of Alexander, and lay sore 40 upon him to deliver him this young Antiochus, that he might reign in his father's stead: he told him therefore all that Demetrius had done, and how his men of war were at enmity with him, and [r]there he remained a long season.

In the mean time Jonathan sent unto 41 king Demetrius, that he would cast those of [s]the tower out of Jerusalem, and [t]those also in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel. So Demetrius 42 sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy people, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if opportunity serve. Now therefore 43 thou shalt do well, if thou send me men to help me; for [u]all my forces are gone from me. Upon this Jonathan sent him 44 three thousand strong men unto [w]Antioch: and when they came to the king, the king was very glad of their coming. Howbeit they that were of the city 45 gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of an hundred and twenty thousand men, and would have slain the king. Wherefore 46 the king fled into the court, but they of the city kept the passages of the city, and began to fight. Then the king 47 called to the Jews for help, who came unto him all at once, and dispersing themselves through the city slew that day in the city to the number of an hundred thousand. Also they set fire 48 on the city, and gat many spoils that day, and delivered the king. So when they 49 of the city saw that the Jews had got the city as they would, their courage was abated: wherefore they made supplication to the king, and cried, saying, 50 [x]Grant us peace, and let the Jews cease 51 from assaulting us and the city. With that they cast away their weapons, and made peace; and the Jews were honoured in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realm; and they returned to Jerusalem, having great 52 spoils. So king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and [x]the land 53 was quiet before him. Nevertheless he dissembled in all that ever he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, neither rewarded he him according to the benefits which he had received of him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After [y]this returned Tryphon, and with him [z]the young child Antiochus, 55 who reigned, and was crowned. Then there gathered unto him all the men of war, whom Demetrius had put away, and they fought against Demetrius, who 56 turned his back and fled. Moreover Tryphon took the [†]elephants, and won 57 [w]Antioch. At that time young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, [a]I confirm thee in the high priesthood, and appoint thee ruler over [b]the four governments, and to be one of [c]the king's 58 friends. Upon this he sent him golden vessels [†]to be served in, and gave him leave to drink in gold, and [cc]to be clothed in purple, and to wear [d]a golden 59 buckle. His brother [e]Simon also he made captain from the place called The ladder of [ee]Tyrus unto the borders of 60 Egypt. Then Jonathan [‖]went forth, and passed through the cities beyond the water, and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to help him: and when he came to [f]Ascalon, they of the city met him honourably. 61 From whence he went to [g]Gaza, but they of Gaza shut him out; wherefore he laid siege unto it, and burned [‖]the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled 62 them. Afterward, when they of Gaza made supplication unto Jonathan, [†]he made peace with them, and took the sons of their chief men for [h]hostages, and sent them to Jerusalem, and passed through the country unto [i]Damascus. 63 Now [j]when Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to [k]Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great power, purposing [l]to remove him out of the nians to Onias the high priest, greeting: 21 It is found in writing, that [ll] the Lace-

that they are of the stock of Abraham: 22 now therefore, since this is come to our knowledge, you shall do well to 23 write unto us of your [†] prosperity. We [†] Gr. peace. Tobit 13. 14.

our ambassadors to make report unto you on this wise.
24 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to fight against him [m] with a greater host than afore, he removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the land of [n] Amathis: for he gave them no respite [l] to enter his country. He sent spies also unto their tents, who came again, and told him that they were appointed to come upon them in the night season. Wherefore so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready to fight: also he [o] sent forth sentinels round about the host. But when the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and [l] they kindled fires in their camp. Howbeit Jonathan and his company knew it not till the morning: for they saw the lights burning. Then Jonathan pursued after them, but overtook them not: for they were gone over the river [p] Eleutherus. Wherefore Jonathan turned to the [q] Arabians, who were called [r] Zabadeans, and smote them, and took their spoils. And removing thence, he came to [r] Damascus, and so passed through all the country. [s] Simon also went forth, and passed through the country unto [t] Ascalon, and the holds there adjoining, from whence he turned aside to [u] Joppe, and won it. For he had heard that they would deliver the hold unto [v] them that took Demetrius' part; wherefore he set a garrison there to keep it.

After this came Jonathan home again, and calling the elders of the people together, he consulted with them about [vv] building strong holds in Judea, and [w] making the walls of Jerusalem higher, and raising a great mount between [x] the tower and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be alone, [y] that men might neither sell nor buy in it. Upon this they came together to build up the city, [l] forasmuch as part of the wall toward the brook on the east side was fallen down, and they repaired that which was called Caphenatha. Simon also set up [z] Adida in [z] Sephela, and made it strong [a] with gates and bars.

Now [b] Tryphon went about to get the kingdom of [c] Asia, and [d] to kill Antiochus the king, that he might set the crown upon his own [e] head. Howbeit he was afraid that Jonathan would not suffer him, and that he would fight against him; wherefore he sought a way how to take Jonathan, that he might kill him. So he removed, and came to [f] Bethsan. Then Jonathan went out to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for the [g] battle, and came to [f] Bethsan. Now when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great a force, he durst not stretch his hand against him; but received him honourably, and commended him unto all his friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his men of war to be as obedient unto him, as to himself. Unto Jonathan also he said, Why hast thou put all this people to so great trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us? Therefore send them now home again, and choose a few men to wait on thee, and come thou with me to [h] Ptolemais, for [i] I will give it thee, and the rest of the strong holds and forces, and all that have any [j] charge: as for me, I will return and depart: for this is the cause of my coming. So Jonathan believing him did as he bade him, and sent away his host, who went into the land of Judea. And with himself he retained but three thousand men, of whom he [t] sent [m] two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him.

Now as soon as Jonathan entered into [h] Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and took him, and all them that came with him they slew with the sword. Then sent Tryphon a host of footmen and horsemen into Galilee, and into [l] the great plain, to destroy [m] all Jonathan's company. But when they knew that Jonathan and they that were with him were taken and [n] slain, they encouraged one another, and went close together, prepared to fight. They therefore that followed upon them, perceiving that they were ready to fight for their lives, turned back again. Whereupon they all came into the land of Judea peaceably, and there they bewailed Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; wherefore all Israel made great lamentation. Then all the heathen that were round about them sought to destroy them: for said they, They have no captain, nor any to help them: now therefore let us make war upon them, and [o] take away their memorial from amongst men.

phon had gathered together a great host to invade the land of Judea, and destroy it, and saw that the people was 2
[c] So Heb. 12. 21 (Gk.). [c] in great trembling and fear, he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together, and gave them exhortation, 3 saying, Ye yourselves know what great things I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, the battles also and troubles which we have seen, by 4

Fight thou our battles, 9 and whatsoever thou commandest us, that will we do. So then he gathered 10 together all the men of war, and made

[k] See ch. 11. 70. he sent Jonathan the son of [k] Absalom, and with him a great power, to [l] Joppe: who [m] casting out them that were therein remained there in it.

[l] ch. 12. 33. & 14. 5, 34. & 15. 28, 35. See Josh. 19. 46. [m] Comp. ch. 12. 34. So Tryphon removed from [n] Ptolemais 12 with a great power to invade the land of Judea, and [o] Jonathan was with him in ward. But Simon pitched his tents 13 at [p] Adida, over against [p] the plain. Now 14
[n] See ch. 5. 15. [o] Comp. ch. 12. 50. ver. 4. [p] ch. 12. 38. [q] ch. 3. 1. when Tryphon knew that Simon [q] was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, he sent messengers unto him, saying, Whereas we have Jonathan thy 15 brother in hold, it is for money that he is owing unto the king's treasure,
[†] Or, for the affairs, or, cures that he had, [or], for the necessary uses which he had. See ch. 10. 37. [‖] concerning the business that was committed unto him. Wherefore now send 16 an hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for [r] hostages, that when he is at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will let him go. Hereupon 17 Simon, albeit he perceived that they spake deceitfully unto him, yet sent he the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred of the people: who might 18 have said, Because I sent him not the money and the children, therefore is 19 Jonathan dead. So he sent them the children and the hundred talents: howbeit Tryphon dissembled, neither would 20 he let Jonathan go. And after this came Tryphon to invade the land, and destroy it, going round about by the way that leadeth unto [s] Adora: but [s] 2 Chr 11. 9? Simon and his host marched against him in every place, wheresoever he 21 went. Now they that were in [t] the [t] See ch. 1. 33. tower sent messengers unto Tryphon, to the end that he should hasten his coming unto them by the wilderness, 22 and [u] send them victuals. Wherefore [u] So ver. 49. Comp. ch. 12. 36. Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come that night: but there fell a very great snow, by reason whereof he came not. So he departed, and came 23 into the country of [w] Galaad. And [w] See ch. 5. 9. when he came near to [x] Bascama, he [x] 1 Sam. 11. 8? slew Jonathan, who was buried there. 24 Afterward Tryphon returned and went into his own land.

25 Then sent Simon, and took the About B.C. 143. bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in [y] Modin, the city of [y] ver. 30. See ch. 2. 1. 26 his fathers. And [z] all Israel made great [z] ch. 9. 20. lamentation for him, and bewailed him 27 many days. Simon also built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with hewn stone behind and 28 before. Moreover he set up seven pyramids, one against another, for his father, and his mother, and his four 29 brethren. And in these he made cunning devices, about the which he set great pillars, and upon the pillars he made [a] all their armour for a perpetual [a] Comp. 31 Now [e] Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew 32 him. And he reigned in his stead, and crowned himself king of [f] Asia, and [f] See ch. 8. brought a great calamity upon the land. 33 Then Simon [g] built up the strong holds [g] ver. 38. ch. 12. 35. in Judea, and fenced them about with So ch. 14. 37 & 15. 7. high towers, and [h] great walls, and [h] See ch. 9. 50. gates, and bars, and laid up victuals [†] Gr. in the strong holds. 34 [†] therein. Moreover Simon chose men, [i] ch. 11. 55. and sent to [i] king Demetrius, to the end he should give the land an immunity, because [†] all that Tryphon did [†] Gr. all Tryphon's doings were robberies. 35 was to spoil. Unto whom king Demetrius answered and wrote after this manner:

36 King Demetrius unto Simon [j][k] the high priest, and [k] friend of kings, as also unto the elders and nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting:

37 [l] The golden crown, and [m] the scarlet robe, which ye sent unto us, we have received: and we are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our [n] officers, to confirm the [o] immunities which we have granted.

38 And whatsoever covenants we have made with you shall stand; and [g] the strong holds, which ye have builded, shall be your own.

39 As for any oversight or fault committed unto this day, we forgive it, and the [p] crown tax also, which ye owe us: and [pp] if there were any other tribute paid in Jerusalem, it shall no more be paid.

40 And look who are meet among you to be in our court, [q] let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken away from Israel in * the hundred and seventieth year.

42 Then the people of Israel [r] began to write in their instruments and contracts, In the first year of Simon the high priest, the governor and leader of the Jews.

43 In those days Simon camped against [s] Gaza, and besieged it round about; he made also an engine of war, and set it by the city, and battered a certain tower, and took it.

41 And they that were in the engine leapt into the city; whereupon there was a great uproar in the city: insomuch as the people of the 45 city [t] rent their clothes, and climbed upon the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, beseeching Simon [l] to grant them peace.

46 And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickedness, but according to thy mercy.

47 So Simon was appeased towards them, and fought no more against them, but put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered

51 into it [u] with songs and thanksgiving. Yea, he put all uncleanness out of it,

48 and placed such men there as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein [w] a dwelling place for himself.

49 They also of [x] the tower in Jerusalem were kept so strait, that they could neither [y] come forth, nor go into the country, [z] nor buy, nor sell: wherefore

50 [a] they were in great distress for want of victuals, and a great number of them perished through famine. Then cried they to Simon, beseeching him [ll] to be at one with them: which thing he granted them; and when he had put them out from thence,

51 [aa] he cleansed [x] the tower from pollutions: and entered into it the three and twentieth day of the second month, in * the hundred seventy and one year, with [b] thanksgiving, and [c] branches of palm trees, and with [d][f] harps, and [e] cymbals, and with [f] viols, and [b] hymns, and songs: because there was

52 destroyed [g] a great enemy out of Israel. He ordained also that that day should be kept every year with gladness. Moreover [h] the hill of the temple that was by [x] the tower he made stronger than it was, and there he dwelt himself with 53 his company. And when Simon saw that [i] John his son was a valiant man, he made him captain of all the hosts; and [j] dwelt in [k] Gazara.

XIV.

Now in * the hundred threescore and twelfth year king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into [a] Media, [b] to get him help to fight against

2 Tryphon. But when [c] Arsaces, the king of [cc] Persia and [a] Media, heard that Demetrius was entered within his borders,

3 he sent one of his princes to take him alive: who went and smote the host of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Arsaces, by whom he was put in ward.

4 As for the land of Judea, [d] that was quiet all the days of Simon; for he sought the good of his nation in such wise, as that evermore his authority and

5 honour pleased them well. And as he was honourable in all his acts, so in this, that he took [e] Joppe for a haven, and made an entrance to the [f] isles of

6 the sea, and enlarged the bounds of his

7 nation, and recovered the country, and gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of [g] Gazara, and [h] Bethsura, and [i] the tower, [k] out of the which he took all uncleanness, neither was there any that resisted him.

8 Then did they till their ground in peace, and [l] the earth gave her increase, and the trees of the field them all manner of munition, so that his honourable name was renowned unto the end of the world. He made 11 peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy: for [n] every man sat 12 under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to [o] fray them: neither 13 was there any left in the land to fight against them: yea, the kings themselves were overthrown in those days. Moreover he strengthened all those of 14 his people that were brought low: the law he searched out; and every contemner of the law and wicked person he took away. He beautified the sanc- 15 tuary, and multiplied the vessels of the temple.

Now when it was heard at [p] Rome, 16 and as far as [q] Sparta, that Jonathan was dead, [r] they were very sorry. But 17 as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein: they wrote unto him [s] in 18 tables of brass, to renew the friendship and league which they had made with [t] Judas and [u] Jonathan his brethren: which writings were read before 19 the congregation at Jerusalem. And 20 this is the copy of the letters that the [q] Lacedemonians sent; The rulers of the [q] Lacedemonians, with the city, unto Simon [v] the high priest, and the elders, and priests, and residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, [w] send greeting: [x] the ambassadors that 21 were sent unto our people certified us of your glory and honour: wherefore we were glad of their coming, and 22 did register the things that they spake in the [l] council of the people in this manner; [x] Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us. And 23 it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their [y] ambassage in publick records, to the end the people of the [q] Lacedemonians might have a memorial thereof: furthermore we have written a copy thereof unto Simon the high priest.

After this Simon sent [x] Numenius to 24 [p] Rome with a great shield of gold of a thousand [z] pound weight, to confirm the league with them. Whereof when the 25 people heard, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and [a] his sons? For [aa] he and his brethren and the house 26 of his father have established Israel, and chased away in fight their enemies from 27 them, and confirmed their liberty. So then they wrote it [b] in tables of brass, which they set upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing:

The eighteenth day of the month [bb] Elul, in [*] the hundred threescore and twelfth year, being [c] the third year of 28 Simon the high priest, at [l] Saramel in the great congregation of the priests, and people, and rulers of the nation, and elders of the country, were these things 29 notified unto us. Forsomuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, wherein for the maintenance of their sanctuary, and the law, [d] Simon the son of Mattathias, of the posterity of [e] Jarib, together with his brethren, [f] put themselves in jeopardy, and resisting the enemies of their nation did their 30 nation great honour: (for after that Jonathan, having gathered his nation together, and [g] been their high priest, 31 [h] was added to his people, [i] their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy it, and lay hands 32 on the sanctuary: at which time Simon rose up, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed [l] the valiant men of his nation, 33 and gave them [j] wages, and [k] fortified the cities of Judea, together with [l] Bethsura, that lieth upon the borders of Judea, where the [ll] armour of the enemies had been before; but he set a 34 garrison of Jews there: moreover he fortified [m] Joppe, which lieth upon the sea, and [l] [n] Gazara, that bordereth upon [n] Azotus, where the enemies had dwelt before: but he placed Jews there, and furnished them with all things convenient for the 35 reparation thereof.) The people therefore, seeing the acts of Simon, and unto what glory he thought to bring his nation, made him their governor and [o] chief priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exalt his people. 36 For in his time [oo] things prospered in his hands, so that [p] the heathen were taken out of their country, and [q] they also that were in the city of David in Jerusalem, who had made themselves [r] a tower, out of which they issued, and polluted all about the sanctuary, and did 37 much hurt [l] in the holy place: but he placed Jews therein, and [s]fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and [t]raised up the walls of Jerusalem.

38 King Demetrius also [u]confirmed him in the high priesthood according to those 39 things, and made him one [w]of his friends, and honoured him with great honour. For he had heard say, that 40 [x]the Romans had called the Jews their friends and confederates and brethren; and that [y]they had entertained the ambassadors of Simon honourably; also 41 that the Jews and priests were well pleased that Simon should be their governor and [o]high priest [z]for ever, [a]until there should arise [b]a faithful prophet; moreover that he should be their 42 captain, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the armour, and over the fortresses, that, I say, he should take charge of the sanctuary; besides this, that he should be
43 obeyed of every man, and that [c]all the writings in the country should be made in his name, and that [d]he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold: also 44 that it should be lawful for none of the people or priests to [e]break any of these things, or to gainsay his words, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear [f]a buckle of gold: and whosoever 45 should do otherwise, or [e]break any of these things, [g]he should be punished.

Thus it liked all the people to deal 46 with Simon, and to do as hath been said. Then Simon accepted hereof, and was 47 well pleased [h]to be high priest, and captain and [i]governor of the Jews and priests, and to defend them all. So they 48 commanded that this writing should be put [k]in tables of brass, and that they should be set up within the compass of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place;
49 also that the copies thereof should be laid up in [l]the treasury, to the end that Simon and [m]his sons might have them.

XV. Moreover Antiochus son of [a]Demetrius the king sent letters from [b]the isles of the sea unto Simon the priest and 2 [c]prince of the Jews, and to all the people; [d]the contents whereof were these: King Antiochus to Simon the high priest and [c]prince of his nation, and to the people of the Jews, greeting:
3 Forasmuch as [e]certain pestilent men [f]have usurped the kingdom of our fathers, and my purpose is to challenge it again, that I may restore it to the old estate, and to that end have gathered a multitude of foreign soldiers together, and
4 prepared ships of war; my meaning also being to go through the country, that I may be avenged of [g]them that have destroyed it, and made many cities in the
5 kingdom desolate: now therefore [h]I confirm unto thee all the oblations which the kings before me granted thee, and
6 whatsoever gifts besides they granted. I give thee leave also to coin money for 7 thy country with thine own stamp. And as concerning Jerusalem and the sanctuary, let them [i]be free; and all the armour
8 that thou hast made, and [k]fortresses that thou hast built, and keepest in thy hands, let them remain unto thee. And 9 if any thing be, or shall be, owing to the king, [l]let it be forgiven thee from this time forth for evermore. Furthermore, when we have obtained our kingdom, we will honour thee, and thy nation, and thy temple, with great honour, so that your honour shall be known throughout the world.

10 In *the hundred threescore and fourteenth year went Antiochus into the land of his fathers: at which time all the forces came together unto him, so that 11 few were left with [g]Tryphon. Wherefore being pursued by king Antiochus, he fled unto [m]Dora, which lieth by the 12 sea side: for he saw that troubles came upon him all at once, and that his forces 13 had forsaken him. Then camped Antiochus against [m]Dora, having with him an hundred and twenty thousand men of 14 war, and eight thousand horsemen. And when he had compassed the city round about, and joined ships close to the town on the sea side, he vexed the city by land and by sea, neither suffered he any [n]to go out or in.

15 In the mean season came [o]Numenius and his company from [p]Rome, having 16 letters [q]to the kings and countries; wherein were written these things: [r]Lucius, consul of the Romans unto king [rr]Ptole-
17 mee, greeting: The Jews' ambassadors, [s]our friends and confederates, came unto us to renew [t]the old friendship and league, [o]being sent from Simon the high 18 priest, and from the people of the Jews:
19 and [o]they brought a shield of gold of a thousand pound. We thought it good therefore to write [q]unto the kings and countries, that they should do them no harm, nor fight against them, their cities, or countries, nor yet aid their enemies against them. It seemed also good to 20 us to receive the shield of them. If 21 therefore there be [e]any pestilent fellows, that have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their own law. The same 22 things wrote he likewise unto [u]Demetrius the king, and Attalus, to [l]Ariarathes, and [w]Arsaces, and to all the 23 countries, and to [l]Sampsames, and the [x]Lacedemonians, and to Delus, and Myndus, and Sicyon, and Caria, and [y]Samos, and [z]Pamphylia, and [a]Lycia, and Halicarnassus, and [b]Rhodus, and [l]Phaselis, and [b]Cos, and Side, and Aradus, and Gortyna, and [c]Cnidus, and [d]Cyprus, and [e]Cyrene. And the copy hereof 24 they wrote to Simon the high priest.

[f]So Antiochus the king camped against 25 Dora the second day, [†]assaulting it continually, and making engines, by which means he shut up Tryphon, that he could neither [f]go out nor in. At that time 26 Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to aid him; silver also, and gold, and much armour. Nevertheless he 27 would not receive them, but [g]brake [h]all the covenants which he had made with him afore, and became strange unto him. Furthermore he sent unto him Athe- 28 nobius, one of his friends, to commune with him, and say, You withhold [i]Joppe and [k]Gazara, with [l]the tower that is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my realm. The borders thereof ye have wasted, 29 and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of [m]many places within my kingdom. Now therefore deliver 30 the cities which ye have taken, and [m]the tributes of the places, whereof ye have gotten dominion [l]without the borders of Judea: or else give me for them five 31 hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that you have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: if not, we will come and [l]fight against you. So Athenobius [n]the king's 32 friend came to Jerusalem: and when he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver plate, and his great [o]attendance, he was astonished, and told him the king's message. Then 33 answered Simon, and said unto him, We have neither taken other men's land, nor holden that which appertaineth to others, but the inheritance of our fathers, which our enemies had wrongfully in 34 possession a certain time. Wherefore we, having opportunity, hold the inherit- 35 ance of our fathers. And whereas thou demandest [i]Joppe and [k]Gazara, albeit they did great harm unto the people in our country, yet will we give [p]an hundred talents for them. Hereunto Athenobius 36 answered him not a word; but returned in a rage to the king, and made report unto him of these speeches, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that he had seen: whereupon the king was exceeding 37 wroth. In the mean time fled [q]Tryphon by ship unto Orthosias.

38 Then the king made [r]Cendebeus captain of the sea coast, and gave him a 39 host of footmen and horsemen, and commanded him to remove his host toward Judea: also he commanded him to build up [l]Cedron, and to fortify the gates, and to war against the people; but as for the 40 king himself, he pursued [q]Tryphon. So [r]Cendebeus came to [s]Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judea, and to take the people prisoners, 41 and slay them. And when he had built up Cedron, he set horsemen there, and a host of footmen, to the end that issuing out they might make outroads upon the ways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

Then came up [a]John from [ab]Gazara, XVI.
and told Simon his father [c]what Cende- 2 beus had done. Wherefore Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and [a]John, and said unto them, [d]I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have ever from our youth unto this day fought against the enemies of Israel; and [e]things have prospered so well in our hands, that we have delivered Israel oftentimes. 3 But now I am old, and ye, by God's mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and [f]my brother, and go and fight for our nation, and the help 4 from heaven be with you. So he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war with horsemen, who went out against Cendebeus, and [g]rested that 5 night at [h]Modin. And when as they rose in the morning, and went into the plain, behold, a mighty great host both of footmen and horsemen came against them: howbeit there was a water brook 6 betwixt them. So he and his people pitched over against them: and when he saw that the people were afraid to go over the water brook, he went first over himself, and then the men seeing him

Moreover in [o]the plain of Jericho was 11 Ptolemeus the son of Abubus made captain, and he had abundance of silver and gold: for he was the high priest's 12 son in law. Wherefore his heart being 13 lifted up, he thought to get the country to himself, and thereupon consulted de-ceitfully against Simon and his sons to destroy them. Now Simon was visiting 14 the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; at which time he came down [p] See ch. 9. 52. himself to [p]Jericho with his sons, Matta-thias and Judas, in *the hundred three-score and seventeenth year, in the [q] Zech. 1. 7 (Gk.). eleventh month, called [q]Sabat: where 15
the son of Abubus receiving them deceitfully into a little hold, called Docus, which he had built, made them a great banquet: howbeit he had hid men there.
16 So when Simon and his sons [r]had drunk [r] Gen. 43. 34. John 2. 10 in the Gk. largely, Ptolemee and his men rose up,
and took their weapons, and came upon Simon into the banqueting place, and slew him, and his two sons, and certain 17 of his servants. In which doing he committed a great treachery, and recompensed evil for good.
18 Then Ptolemee wrote these things, and sent to [s]the king, that he should [s] ch. 15. 25, 38.
send him a host to aid him, and he would deliver him the country and cities.
19 He sent others also to [b]Gazara, to kill
John: and unto the [t]tribunes he sent [t] Gr. captains of thousands. Judith 14. 12. Mark 6. 21. Acts 25. 23. Rev. 6. 15. & 19. 18 in the Gk.

THE SECOND BOOK

OF THE

MACCABEES.

I. THE brethren, the Jews that be at Jerusalem and in the land of Judea, wish unto the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, health and peace:
God be gracious unto you, and [a] re- 2 member his covenant that he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants; and give you all a heart to 3 serve him, and to do his will, with a good courage and a willing mind; and 4 [b] open your hearts in his law and commandments, and send you peace, and 5 hear your prayers, and [c] be at one with you, and never forsake you in time of trouble. And now we be here praying 6 for you. What time as [d] Demetrius 7 reigned, in * the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews wrote unto you in the extremity of trouble that came upon us in those years, from the time that [e] Jason and his company revolted from the [f] holy land and kingdom, and burnt [g] the porch, and shed 8 innocent blood: then we prayed unto the Lord, and were heard; [h] we offered also sacrifices and fine flour, and lighted the lamps, and [i] set forth the loaves.
And now see that ye [u] keep [j] the feast 9
of tabernacles in the month [k] Casleu.

In * the hundred fourscore and eight 10 year, the people that were at Jerusalem and in Judea, and [l] the council, and Judas, sent greeting and health unto Aristobulus, king [m] Ptolemeus' [n] master, who was of the stock of the [o] anointed priests, and to the Jews that were in Egypt: Insomuch as God hath deliver- 11
ed us from great perils, we thank him highly, as having been in battle against [s] a king. For he [p] cast them out that 12 fought within [q] the holy city. For when 13 the leader was come into [r] Persia, and the army with him that seemed invincible, they were slain in the temple of Nanea by the deceit of Nanea's priests.
14 For [s] Antiochus, as though he would marry her, came into the place, and his friends that were with him, to receive 15 money in name of a dowry. Which when the priests of Nanea had [i] set forth, and he was entered with a small company into the compass of the temple, they shut the temple as soon as 16 Antiochus was come in: and opening a privy door of the roof, they threw [t] stones like thunderbolts, and stroke down the captain, hewed them in pieces, smote off their heads, and cast them to 17 those that were without. Blessed be our God in all things, who hath delivered up the ungodly.
18 Therefore whereas we are now pur-posed to [u] keep [v] the purification of the temple upon the five and twentieth day of the month [k] Casleu, we thought it necessary to [w] certify you thereof, that ye also might [u] keep it, as the feast [x] of the tabernacles, and of the fire, which was given us when [y] Neemias offered sacrifice, after that he had builded the 19 temple and the altar. For when our fathers were led into [r] Persia, [yy] the priests that were then devout took the fire of the altar privily, and hid it in a hollow place of a pit without water, where they kept it sure, so that the place was un-20 known to all men. Now after many years, when it pleased God, Neemias, [z] being sent from the king of [r] Persia,
did send of the posterity of those priests that had hid it to the fire: but when they [w] told us they found no fire, but 21 thick water; then commanded he them to draw it up, and to bring it; and when the sacrifices were laid on, Neemias commanded the priests [a] to sprinkle the wood and the things laid there- upon with the water. When this was 22 done, and the time came that the sun shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that every man marvelled. And the 23 priests made a prayer whilst the sacrifice was consuming, I say, both the priests, and all the rest, [b] Jonathan beginning, and the rest answering there- unto, as Neemias did. And the prayer 24 was after this manner;

O Lord, Lord God, [bb] Creator of all things, who art fearful and strong, and righteous, and merciful, and the only and gracious King, the only giver of all 25 things, the only just, [c] Almighty, and everlasting, thou that deliverest Israel from all trouble, and didst choose the fathers, and sanctify them: receive the 26 sacrifice for thy whole people Israel, and preserve [d] thine own portion, and sanctify it. Gather [e] those together that 27 are scattered from us, [f] deliver them that serve among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and [g] let the heathen know that thou art our God. Punish them that oppress 28 us, and with pride do us wrong. Plant 29 thy people again in thy [h] holy place [i] as Moses hath spoken.

And the priests sung psalms of thanks- 30 giving. Now when the sacrifice was 31 consumed, Neemias commanded the water that was left to be poured on the great stones. When this was done, 32 there was kindled a flame: but it was consumed by the light that shined from the altar. So when this matter was 33 known, it was told the king of [k] Persia, that in the place, where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared water, and that ‖ Neemias had purified the sacrifices therewith. Then 34 the king, inclosing the place, made it
holy, after he had tried the matter.
And the king took many [l] gifts, and 35 bestowed thereof on those whom he would gratify. And Neemias called this thing 36 Naphthar, which is as much as to say,
a cleansing: but many men call it Nephi.

It is also found in the [a] records, that Jeremie the prophet commanded them that were carried away to take of the fire, [b] as it hath been signified: and 2 how that the prophet, having given them
the law, charged them not to forget the commandments of the Lord, and that they should not err in their minds, [c] when they see images of silver and 3 gold, with their ornaments. And with other such speeches exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from 4 their hearts. It was also contained in [d] the same writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded the tabernacle and the ark to go with him, as he went forth into [e] the mountain, where Moses climbed up, and saw the heritage 5 of God. And when [f] Jeremie came thi- ther, he found a hollow cave, wherein he laid the tabernacle, and [g] the ark, and the altar of incense, and so stopped 6 the door. And some of those that followed him came to mark the way, but 7 they could not find it. Which when Jeremie perceived, he blamed them, saying, As for that place, it shall be unknown until the time that God gather his people again together, and receive 8 them unto mercy. Then shall the Lord shew them these things, and the glory of the Lord shall appear, and the cloud also, [h] as it was shewed under Moses, and [i] as when Solomon desired that the place might be honourably sanctified.
9 It was also [k] declared, that he being wise [l] offered the sacrifice of dedication, 10 and of the finishing of the temple. And [m] as when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the sacrifices: even so [n] prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt 11 offerings. And [o] Moses said, Because the sin offering was not to be eaten, it 12 was consumed. So Solomon kept those [p] eight days.

13 The same things also were reported in [d] the writings and commentaries of Neemias; and how he founding a library gathered together the acts of the kings, and the prophets, and of David, and the epistles [q] of the kings con-14 cerning the [r] holy gifts. In like manner also [s] Judas gathered together all those things that ‖ were lost by reason of the war we had, and they remain 15 with us. Wherefore if ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto 16 you. Whereas we then [t] are about to celebrate the purification, we have written unto you, and ye shall do well, if 17 ye keep the same days. † We hope also, that the God, that delivered all his people, and gave them all an heritage,

[a] Now as concerning Judas Maccabeus, and his brethren, and [b] the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar, and the wars 20 against [c] Antiochus Epiphanes, and [d] Eupator his son, and [e] the manifest signs 21 that came from heaven unto those that behaved themselves manfully to their honour for Judaism: so that, being but a few, they overcame the whole country, and chased barbarous multitudes, and 22

for the variety of the matter, we have 25 been careful, that they that will read may have delight, and that they that are desirous to commit to memory might have ease, and that all into whose hands it comes might have profit. Therefore to us, that have taken upon 26 us this [j] painful labour of abridging, it was not easy, but a matter of sweat and watching; even as it is no ease 27 unto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others: yet [ll] for the pleasuring of many we will undertake gladly this [j] great pains; leaving 28 to [k] the author the exact handling of every particular, and labouring to follow the [l] rules of an abridgment. For 29 as the master builder of a new house must care for the whole building; [ll] but he that undertaketh to set it out, and paint it, must seek out fit things for the adorning thereof: even so I think it is with us. To stand upon every point, 30 and go over things at large, and to be curious in particulars, belongeth to [k] the first author of the story: but to use 31
[m] brevity, and avoid much labouring of the work, is to be granted to him that

III. Now when [a] the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of [b] Onias the high priest, and his 2 hatred of wickedness, it came to pass that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and magnify the 3 temple with their best [c] gifts; insomuch that [d] Seleucus king of [e] Asia of his own revenues bare all the costs belonging to the service of the sacri- 4 fices. But one [ee] Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, who was made governor of the temple, [f] fell out with the high 5 priest about disorder in the city. And when he could not overcome Onias, he gat him to [g] Apollonius the son of Thraseas, who then was governor of 6 [h] Coelosyria and Phenice, and told him that [i] the treasury in Jerusalem was full of infinite sums of money, so that the multitude of their [j] riches, [k] which did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, was innumerable, and that it was possible to bring all into the king's 7 hand. Now when Apollonius came to the king, and had shewed him of the money whereof he was told, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and [l] sent him with a commandment to bring 8 him the foresaid money. So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, [m] under a colour of visiting the cities of [h] Coelosyria and Phenice, but indeed to fulfil 9 the king's [n] purpose. And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been [o] courteously received of the high priest of the city, he [p] told him what intelligence was given of the money, and [q] declared wherefore he came, and asked if 10 these things were so indeed. Then the high priest told him that there was such [r] money laid up for the relief of [s] widows 11 and fatherless children: and that some of it belonged to Hircanus son of Tobias, a man of great dignity, and not as that wicked Simon had misinformed: the sum whereof in all was four hundred [t] talents of silver, and two hun- 12 dred of gold: and that it was altogether impossible that such wrong should be done unto them, [u] that had committed

it to the holiness of the place, and to the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honoured over all the world.
13 But Heliodorus, [v] because of the king's commandment given him, said, That in any wise it must be brought into the king's treasury.

14 So at the day which he appointed he entered in to order this matter: wherefore there was no small [w] agony throughout the whole city. 15 But the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar [x] in their priests' vestments, called unto heaven upon him that [y] made a law concerning [r] things given to be kept, that they should safely be preserved for [u] such as had committed them to be kept. 16 Then whoso had looked the high priest in the face, it would have wounded his heart: for his countenance and the changing of his colour declared the inward [w] agony of his mind. 17 For the man was so compassed with fear and horror of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked upon him, what sorrow he had now in his heart. 18 Others ran flocking out of their houses [z] to the general supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt. 19 And the women, [a] girt with sackcloth under their breasts, abounded in the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ran, some to the [b] gates, and some to the walls, and others looked out of the [c] windows. 20 And all, holding their hands towards heaven, made supplication. 21 Then it would have pitied a man to see the falling down of the multitude of all sorts, and the [t] fear of the high priest, being in such an [w] agony. 22 They then called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things committed of trust safe and sure for [u] those that had committed them. 23 Nevertheless Heliodorus executed that which was decreed.

24 Now as he was there present himself with his guard about [d] the treasury, the [‖] Lord of spirits, and the [e] Prince of all power, caused a great [ee] apparition, so that all that presumed to come in with him were astonished at the power of God, and fainted, and were sore 25 afraid. For there appeared unto them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with a very fair covering, and he ran fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had complete [f] harness of gold. 26 Moreover two other young men appeared before him, notable in strength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparel, who stood by him on either side, and [ff] scourged him [g] continually, and gave 27 him many sore stripes. And Heliodorus fell suddenly unto the ground, and was compassed with great darkness: but they that were with him took him up, 28 and put him into [gg] a litter. Thus him, that lately came with a great train and with all his guard into the said [d] treasury, they carried out, being unable to help himself with his weapons: and manifestly they acknowledged the power 29 of God: for he by the hand of God was cast down, and lay speechless without 30 all hope of life. But they praised the Lord, that had miraculously honoured his own place: for the temple, which a little afore was full of fear and trouble, when the [h] Almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladness.

31 Then straightways certain of Heliodorus' friends prayed Onias, [i] that he would call upon the most High to grant him his life, who lay ready to 32 give up the ghost. So the high priest, [j] suspecting lest the king should misconceive that some treachery had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a sacrifice for the health of the man. 33 Now as the high priest was making an atonement, [k] the same young men in the same clothing appeared and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, insomuch as [i] for his sake the Lord hath granted 34 thee life: and seeing that thou hast been scourged from heaven, declare unto all men the mighty power of God. And when they had spoken these words, 35 they appeared no more. So Heliodorus, after he had offered sacrifice unto the Lord, and made great vows unto him that had saved his life, and [l] saluted Onias, returned with his host to 36 the king. Then testified he to all men the works of the great God, which he 37 had seen with his eyes. And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be sent yet once again 38 to Jerusalem, he said, If thou hast any enemy or [m] traitor, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is 39 an especial power of God. For [n] he that dwelleth in heaven hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it; and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it. And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of [d] the treasury, fell out on this sort.

IV. This Simon now, [a] of whom we spake afore, having been a [b] bewrayer of the money, and of his country, slandered Onias, [c] as if he had terrified Heliodorus, and been the worker of these evils. Thus was he bold to call him a [d] traitor, [e] that had deserved well of the city, and tendred his own nation, and was so [f] zealous of the laws. But when their hatred went so far, that by one of Simon's faction murders were committed,, Onias seeing the danger of this contention, and that [g] Apollonius, as being the governor of [h] Coelosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increase Simon's malice, he went to the king, [i] not to be an accuser of his countrymen, but seeking the good of all, both publick and private: for he saw that it was impossible that the state should continue quiet, and Simon leave his folly, unless the king [j] did look thereunto.

But after the death of [k] Seleucus, when [l] Antiochus, called Epiphanes, took the kingdom, [m] Jason the brother of Onias [mm] laboured underhand to be high priest, promising unto the king by [n] intercession three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and of another revenue eighty talents: besides this, he promised to assign an hundred and fifty more, if he might have licence to set him up [o] a place for exercise, and for the training up of youth in the fashions of the heathen, and to write them of Jerusalem by the name of [p] Antiochians. Which when the king had granted, and he had gotten into his hand the rule, he forthwith [q] brought his own nation to the [t] Greekish fashion. And the royal privileges granted of special favour to the Jews by the means of John the father of [qq] Eupolemus, who went ambassador to [r] Rome for amity and aid, he took away; and putting down the governments which were according to the law, he brought up new customs against the law: for he built gladly [o] a place of exercise under [s] the tower itself, and brought the chief young men under his subjection, and made them wear a hat.

13 Now such was the height of [t] Greek fashions, and increase of [u] heathenish manners, through the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly wretch, 14 and [v] not high priest; that the priests had no courage to serve any more at the altar, but despising the temple, and neglecting the sacrifices, hastened to be partakers of the unlawful allowance in the place of exercise, after [ll] the game 15 of Discus called them forth; not setting by the honours of their fathers, but liking the glory of the Grecians best 16 of all. By reason whereof sore calamity came upon them: for they had them to be their enemies and avengers, whose [w] custom they followed so earnestly, and unto whom they desired to be 17 like in all things. For it is not a light thing to do wickedly against the laws of God: but the time following shall declare these things.

18 Now when the game that was used every fifth year was kept at [x] Tyrus, the 19 king being present, this [y] ungracious Jason sent [z] special messengers from Jerusalem, [p] who were Antiochians, to carry three hundred [z] drachms of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought fit not to bestow upon the sacrifice, because it was not [a] convenient, but to be re- 20 served for other charges. This money then, in regard of the sender, was appointed to Hercules' sacrifice; but because of the bearers thereof, it was employed to the making of gallies.

21 Now when [b] Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the [ll] coronation of king [c] Ptolemeus Philometor, Antiochus, understanding him not to be well affected to his affairs, provided for his own safety: whereupon he came to [d] Joppe, and from 22 thence to Jerusalem: where he was honourably received of Jason, and of the city, and was brought in with torch-light, and with great shoutings: and so afterward went with his host unto [e] Phenice.

23 Three year afterward Jason sent [f] Menelaus, [g] the foresaid Simon's brother, to bear [h] the money unto the king, and to put him in mind of certain necessary 24 matters. But he being brought to the presence of the king, when he had magnified him for the glorious appearance of his power, got the priesthood to himself, offering [h] more than Jason by three hundred talents of silver. So 25 he came with the king's mandate, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the fury of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast. Then 26 Jason, who had [i] undermined his own brother, being [i] undermined by another, was compelled to flee into the country of the [k] Ammonites. So Menelaus got 27 the principality: but as for the money that he had promised unto the king, he took no good order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of [l] the castle required it: for unto him appertained the 28 gathering of the [m] customs. Wherefore they were both called before the king. Now Menelaus left his brother Lysimachus in his stead in the priesthood; 29 and Sostratus left Crates, who was governor of the [n] Cyprians. While those 30 things were in doing, they of [o] Tarsus and Mallos made insurrection, because they were given to the king's concubine, called Antiochis. Then came the king 31 in all haste to [p] appease matters, leaving [q] Andronicus, a man in authority, for his deputy.

Now Menelaus, supposing that he had 32 gotten a convenient time, [r] stole certain vessels of gold out of the temple, and gave some of them to Andronicus, and some he sold into [s] Tyrus and the cities round about. Which when Onias knew 33 of a surety, he reproved him, and withdrew himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by [t] Antiochia. Wherefore Me- 34 nelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to get Onias into his hands; who being persuaded thereunto, and coming to Onias in deceit, gave him his right hand with oaths; and though he were suspected by him, yet persuaded he him to come forth of the sanctuary: whom forthwith he shut up without regard of justice. For the which cause not only 35 the Jews, but many also of other nations, took great indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of the man. And when the king was 36 come again from [u] the places about [v] Cilicia, the Jews that were in the city, and certain of the Greeks [w] that abhorred the fact also, [x] complained because Onias was slain without cause. There- 37 fore Antiochus was [y] heartily sorry, and moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and modest behaviour of him

About B. C. 171.

39 Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by [z] Lysimachus with the [a] consent of Menelaus, and the [b] bruit thereof was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, many vessels of 40 gold being already carried away. Whereupon the common people rising, and being filled with rage, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began first to offer violence; one [‖ c] Auranus being the leader, a man far gone in years, 41 and no less in folly. They then seeing the [cc] attempt of Lysimachus, some of them caught stones, some clubs, others taking handfuls of dust, that was next at hand, cast them all together upon [d] Lysimachus, and those that set upon 42 them. Thus many of them they wounded, and some they stroke to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee: but as for the [e] church robber himself, him 43 they killed besides the [f] treasury. Of these matters therefore there was an accusation laid against Menelaus.

About B. C. 170.

44 Now when the king came to [g] Tyrus, three men that were sent from the [h] senate pleaded the cause before him: 45 but Menelaus, being now convicted, promised [i] Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes to give him much money, if he would [j] pacify the king towards him. 46 Whereupon Ptolemee taking the king aside into a certain gallery, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of 47 another mind: insomuch that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, who notwithstanding was cause of all the mischief: and [k] those poor men, who, if they had told their cause, yea, before the [l] Scythians, should have been judged innocent, them he [m] condemned to death. 48 Thus they that followed the matter for the city, and for the people, and for the holy vessels, did soon suffer unjust 49 punishment. Wherefore even they of [g] Tyrus, [n] moved with hatred of that wicked deed, caused them to be ho- 50 nourably [o] buried. And so [p] through the covetousness of them that were in power

V. About B. C. 170. [a] About the same time Antiochus prepared his second [b] voyage into Egypt: and then it happened, that through all the city, for the space almost of forty days, [c] there were seen horsemen running in the air, in cloth of gold, and armed with lances, like a band of soldiers, and troops of horsemen in array, encountering and running one against another, with shaking of shields, and multitude of [d] pikes, and drawing of swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden ornaments, and harness of all sorts. Wherefore every man prayed that that [e] apparition might turn to good.

Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had been dead, [f] Jason took at the least a thousand men, and suddenly made an [g] assault upon the city; and they that were upon the walls being put back, and the city at length taken, [h] Menelaus fled into [i] the castle: but Jason slew his own citizens without mercy, not considering that to get the day of them of his own nation would be a most unhappy day for him; but thinking they had been his enemies, and not his countrymen, whom he conquered. Howbeit, for all this he obtained not the principality, but at the last received shame for the reward of his treason, and [j] fled again into the country of the Ammonites. In the end therefore he had an unhappy return, being accused before [k] Aretas the king of the [l] Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as [m] a forsaker of the laws, and being had in abomination as an [n] open enemy of his country and countrymen, he was [o] cast out into Egypt. Thus he that had driven many out of their country perished in a strange land, retiring to the [p] Lacedemonians, and thinking there to find succour [q] by reason of his kindred: and he that had cast out many unburied had none to mourn for him, nor any [r] solemn funerals at all, nor sepulchre with his fathers.

Now when [s] this that was done came to the king's ear, he thought that Judea had revolted: whereupon [t] removing out of Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, and [u] commanded his men of war not to spare such as they met, and to slay such as went up upon the houses. [v] Thus there was killing of young and old, [w] making away of men, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. And there were destroyed within the space of three whole days fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in the conflict; and no fewer sold than slain. Yet was he not content with this, but [x] presumed to go into the most holy temple of all the world; [h] Menelaus, that traitor to the laws, and to his own country, being his guide: and [x] taking the holy vessels with polluted hands, and with profane hands pulling down [y] the things that were dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honour of the place, he gave them away. And [z] so haughty was Antiochus in mind, that he considered not that [a] the Lord was angry for a while for the sins of them that dwelt in the city, and therefore [b] his eye was not upon the place. For had they not been formerly wrapped in many sins, this man, as soon as he had come, had forthwith been scourged, and put back from his presumption, [c] as Heliodorus was, whom [d] Seleucus the king sent to view [e] the treasury. Nevertheless God did not choose the people for [f] the place's sake, [g] but the place for the people's sake. And therefore [f] the place itself, that was partaker with them of the adversities that happened to the nation, did afterward communicate in the benefits sent from the Lord: and as it was forsaken in the wrath of the [h] Almighty, so again, the great [a] Lord being reconciled, it was set up with all glory.

So when Antiochus [i] had carried out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste into [j] Antiochia, weening [k] in his pride to make the land navigable, and the sea passable by foot: such was [z] the haughtiness of his mind. And [l] he left governors to vex the nation: at Jerusalem, [ll] Philip, for his country a [m] Phrygian, and for manners more barbarous than he that set him there; and at [n] Garizim, Andronicus; and besides, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest bare a heavy hand over the citizens, having a malicious mind against his countrymen the Jews. [o] He sent also that detestable [p] ringleader [q] Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were in their best age, and to sell the women and the younger sort: who coming to 25 Jerusalem, and [r]pretending peace, did forbear till the holy day of the sabbath, when taking the Jews keeping holy day,

he commanded his men to arm themselves. And so he slew all them that 26 were gone to the [s]celebrating of the sabbath, and running through the city with weapons [t]slew great multitudes.
But [u]Judas Maccabeus [†]with nine others, 27 or thereabout, [w]withdrew himself into the wilderness, and [w]lived in the mountains after the manner of beasts, with his company, who fed on herbs continually, lest they should be partakers of the pollution.

VI.

Not long after this the king sent an old man of [‖]Athens to compel the Jews [a]to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to [b]live after the laws of God:
and [c]to pollute also the temple in Jeru- 2
salem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius; and that in [d]Garizim, of Jupiter the Defender of strangers, [‖]as they did desire that dwelt in the place. The 3 coming in of this mischief was sore and grievous to the people: for the temple 4 was filled with [e]riot and [f]revelling by the Gentiles, who dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the circuit of the holy places, and besides that, brought in things that were not [g]lawful. [h]The altar also was filled with 5 profane things, which the law [i]forbiddeth.
Neither was it lawful for a man [j]to keep 6 sabbath days or ancient feasts, or to profess himself at all to be a Jew. And 7 in the day of the king's birth every month they were brought by bitter constraint to [k]eat of the sacrifices; and when the feast of Bacchus was kept,
the Jews were compelled to go in procession to [kk]Bacchus, carrying ivy.
Moreover [l]there went out a decree to 8
the neighbour cities of the [†]heathen, by the suggestion of [m]Ptolemee, against the Jews, that they should observe the same [n]fashions, and [k]be partakers of their sacrifices: and [o]whoso would not 9 conform themselves to the manners of the Gentiles should be put to death.
Then might a man have seen the present misery. For [p]there were two wo- 10 men brought, [p]who had circumcised their children; whom when they had openly led round about the city, the babes hanging at their breasts, they cast them [q]down headlong [q]from the wall.
11 And others, that had run together into [r]caves near by, to keep the sabbath day secretly, being discovered to [s]Philip, were all burnt together, because [t]they made a conscience to help themselves for the honour of the most sacred day.
12 Now I beseech those that read this book, that they be not [u]discouraged for these calamities, [v]but that they judge those punishments not to be for destruction, 13 but for a chastening of our nation. For it is a token of his great goodness, when wicked doers are not suffered any long 14 time, but forthwith punished. For not as with other nations, whom [w]the Lord patiently forbeareth to punish, [x]till they be come to the fulness of their sins, so 15 dealeth he with us, lest that, being come to the height of sin, afterwards he 16 should take vengeance of us. And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us: and [y]though he punish with adversity, yet doth he never forsake his 17 people. But let this that we have spoken be for a [z]warning unto us. And now will we come to the [a]declaring of the matter in few words.
18 Eleazar, one of the principal [b]scribes, [bb]an aged man, and of a well favoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and [c]to eat swine's flesh.
19 But he, [d]choosing rather to die gloriously, than to live stained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of 20 his own accord to [e]the torment, as it behoved them to come, that are resolute to stand out against such things, as are not lawful for love of life to be tasted.
21 But they that had the charge of that wicked [f]feast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his own provision, such as was [g]lawful for him to use, and [h]make as if he did eat of the flesh taken from the sacrifice com-22 manded by the king; that in so doing he might be delivered from death, and for the old friendship with them find 23 favour. But he began to consider [i]discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient years, and the honour of his gray head, whereunto he was come, and his most honest [k]education from a child, or rather the holy law made and given by God: therefore he answered accordingly, and willed them straightways to send him 24 to the grave. For it becometh not our age, [l]said he, in any wise to [h]dissemble, whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar, being [m]fourscore years old and ten, were now gone to [n]a strange religion; and so they 25 through mine [h]hypocrisy, and desire to live a little time and a moment longer, should be deceived by me, and I get a stain to mine old age, and make it abominable. For though for the pre- 26 sent time I should be delivered from the punishment of men: yet should I not escape the hand of the [nn]Almighty, neither alive, nor dead. Wherefore now, 27 manfully changing this life, I will shew myself such a one as mine age requireth, and leave a [o]notable example 28 to such as be young to die willingly and courageously for the honourable and holy laws. And when he had said these words, immediately he went to [e]the torment: they that led him chang- 29 ing [p]the good will they bare him a little before into hatred, because the foresaid speeches proceeded, as they thought, from [l]a desperate mind. But 30 when he was ready to die with stripes, he [r]groaned, and said, It is manifest unto the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, that whereas I might have been delivered from death, I now endure sore pains in body by being beaten: but in soul am well content to suffer these things, because I fear him. And thus this man died, leav- 31 ing his death for an [o]example of a noble courage, and a memorial of virtue, not only unto young men, but unto all his nation.

VII. It came to pass also, that seven brethren with their mother were taken, and compelled by the king [a]against the law [b]to taste swine's flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.
But one of them that spake first said 2
thus, What wouldest thou ask or learn of us? we are ready to die, rather than to transgress the laws of our fathers.
[bb]Then the king, being in a rage, com- 3 manded [c]pans and caldrons to be made hot: which forthwith being heated, he 4 commanded [k]to cut out the tongue of him that spake first, and [k]to cut off the utmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. Now when he was thus maimed 5 in all his members, he commanded him being yet alive to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the pan: and as the vapour of the pan was for a good space dispersed, they exhorted one another with the mother to die man-6 fully, saying thus, The Lord God looketh upon us, and in truth hath comfort in us, as [d]Moses in his song, which witnessed to their faces, [e]declared, saying, [d]And he shall be comforted 7 in his servants. So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the second to make him [f]a mocking stock: and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thou be punished throughout every member 8 of thy body? But he answered [p]in his own language, and said, No. Wherefore he also received [g]the next torment 9 in order, as the former did. And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou like a fury [h]takest us out of this present life, but [i]the King of the world shall raise us up, who have died for his laws, 10 [j]unto everlasting life. After him was the third [f]made a mocking stock: and when he was required, [k]he put out his tongue, and that right soon, [k]holding 11 forth his hands manfully, and said cou-rageously, These I had from [l]heaven;

and for [l]his laws I [s]despise them; and [j][ll]from him I hope to receive them 12 again. Insomuch that the king, and they that were with him, marvelled at the young man's courage, for that he 13 nothing regarded the pains. Now when this man was dead also, they tormented and mangled the fourth in like manner.
14 So when he was ready to die he said thus, It is good, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God [j]to be raised up again by him: as for thee, [j]thou shalt have no resurrection to life.
15 Afterward they brought the fifth also, 16 and mangled him. Then looked he unto the king, and said, Thou hast power over men, thou art corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt; yet think not that our nation is forsaken of God; 17 but abide a while, and behold [m]his great power, how he will torment thee 18 and thy seed. After him also they brought the sixth, who being ready to die said, Be not deceived without cause: [n]for we suffer these things for ourselves, having sinned against our God: therefore marvellous things are done unto us.
19 But think not thou, that takest in hand [o]to strive against God, that thou shalt escape unpunished.

But the mother was marvellous above 20
all, and worthy of honourable memory:
for when she saw her seven sons slain within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in the Lord. Yea, 21 she exhorted every one of them [p] in her own language, filled with courageous spirits; and stirring up her womanish thoughts with a manly stomach, she said unto them, [q] I cannot tell how you 22 came into my womb; for I neither gave you breath nor life, neither was it I that formed the members of every one of you; but doubtless [r] the Creator of 23
the world, who formed the generation of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his own mercy [j] give you breath and life again, as you now [s] regard not your own selves for his laws' sake.

Now Antiochus, thinking himself de- 24
spised, and [p] suspecting it to be a re-proachful speech, whiles the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with oaths, that he would make him both a rich and a happy man, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers; and that also he would take him for his friend, and trust him with [t] affairs. But when 25
the young man would in no case hearken unto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the young man to save his life. And 26 when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that she would counsel her son. But she bowing her- 27 self towards him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, spake [p] in her country language on this manner; O my son, have pity upon me that bare thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age, and [u] endured the troubles of educa- 28 tion. I beseech thee, my son, look upon the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that [x] God made them of things that were not; and [y] so was mankind made likewise. Fear not 29 this [z] tormentor, but, being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that [j] I may receive thee again in mercy with thy brethren. Whiles she was yet speak- 30 ing these words, the young man said,

Whom wait ye for? I will not obey the king's [a] commandment: but I will obey the commandment of the law that was given unto our fathers by Moses.
31 And thou, that hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, [b] shalt 32 not escape the hands of God. [c] For we 33 suffer because of our sins. And though [d] the living Lord be angry with us a little while for our chastening and correction, yet shall he [e] be at one again 34 with his servants. But thou, O godless man, and of all other most wicked, [f] be not lifted up without a cause, nor puffed up with uncertain hopes, lifting up thy 35 hand against the servants [g] of God: for [h] thou hast not yet escaped the judgment of [i] Almighty God, who seeth all 36 things. For our brethren, who now have suffered a short pain, are dead under [j] God's covenant of everlasting life:
but thou, through the judgment of God, shalt receive just punishment for thy 37 pride. But I, as my brethren, offer up my body and life for the laws of our fathers, beseeching God that he would speedily be merciful unto our nation;
and [k] that thou by [l] torments and plagues mayest confess, that [m] he alone is God; 38 and that in me and my brethren the wrath of the [i] Almighty, [c] which is justly brought upon all our nation, may cease.
39 [n] Then the king, being in a rage, handled him worse than all the rest,
and took it grievously that he was 40 mocked. So this man died undefiled, and put his whole trust in the Lord.
41 [o] Last of all after the sons the mother 42 died. Let this be enough now to have spoken concerning [p] the idolatrous feasts,
and the extreme [q] tortures.

company about him, he could not be withstood by the heathen: for [g] the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy. Therefore he came at unawares, 6 and burnt up towns and cities, and got into his hands [gg] the most commodious places, and overcame and put to flight no small number of his enemies. But 7 specially took he advantage of the night for such privy attempts, insomuch that the [h] bruit of his manliness was spread every where.
So when [hh] Philip saw that this man 8 increased by little and little, and that things prospered with him still [i] more and more, he wrote unto [j] Ptolemeus, [k] the governor of [l] Coelosyria and Phenice, to yield more aid to the king's affairs. Then forthwith choosing [m] Ni- 9 canor the son of Patroclus, one of his special friends, he sent him with no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations under him, to root out the whole generation of the Jews; and with him he joined also [m] Gorgias a captain, who
in matters of war had great experience.
So Nicanor undertook [n] to make so 10 much money of the captive Jews, as should [o] defray the tribute of two thousand talents, which the king was to pay to [p] the Romans. Wherefore immedi- 11
ately he sent to the cities upon the sea coast, [n] proclaiming a sale of the [q] captive Jews, and promising that they should have fourscore and ten [q] bodies for one talent, not expecting the vengeance that was to [r] follow upon him from the [s] Almighty God. [t] Now when 12 word was brought unto Judas of Nicanor's coming, and he had imparted unto those that were with him that the army was at hand, [u] they that were 13 fearful, and distrusted the justice of God, fled, and conveyed themselves away.
Others sold all that they had left, and 14 withal besought the Lord to deliver them, being [w] sold by the wicked Nicanor before they met together: and 15 if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants he had made with their fathers, and [x] for his holy and glorious name's sake, [y] by which they were called.
So Maccabeus called his men toge- 16

and [z] exhorted them not to be stricken with terror of the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen, who came wrongfully against them; but to 17 fight manfully, and to set before their eyes [a] the injury that they had unjustly done to [b] the holy place, and [a] the [c] cruel handling of the city, whereof they made a mockery, and also the taking away of the government of their 18 forefathers: for they, said he, trust in their weapons and boldness; but [d] our confidence is in the [e] Almighty God, who

at a beck can cast down both them that come against us, and also all the 19 world. Moreover he recounted unto them what [f] helps their forefathers had found, and [g] how they were delivered, when under Sennacherib an hundred fourscore and five thousand perished.
20 And he told them of the [h] battle that they had in Babylon with the [i] Galatians, how they came but eight thousand in all to [ii] the business, with four thousand Macedonians, and that the Macedonians being perplexed, the eight thousand destroyed an hundred and twenty thousand because of the help that they had from heaven, and so 21 received a great booty. Thus when he had made them bold with these words, and ready to die for the laws and the country, he divided his army into four 22 parts; and joined with himself his own brethren, [j] leaders of each band, to wit, [k] Simon, and [k] Joseph, and Jonathan, giving each [l] one fifteen hundred men.
23 Also he appointed [m] Eleazar to read the holy book: and [mm] when he had given them this watchword, The help of God; himself leading the first [n] band, [o] he 24 joined battle with Nicanor. And by the help of the [e] Almighty they slew above nine thousand of their enemies, and wounded and [p] maimed the most part of Nicanor's host, and so put all 25 to flight; and took [q] their money that came to buy them, and pursued them far: but lacking time they [r] returned: 26 for it was the day before the sabbath,
and therefore they would no longer 27 pursue them. So when they had gathered [t] their armour together, and [s] spoiled their enemies, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, [s] yielding exceeding praise and thanks to the Lord, who had preserved them unto that day,
which was the beginning of mercy [t] dis-28 tilling upon them. And after the sabbath, when they had given part of the spoils to the [l] maimed, and [u] the widows, and orphans, the residue they divided among themselves and their servants.

When this was done, and they had made a common supplication, they besought [v] the merciful Lord [w] to be reconciled with his servants for ever.

Moreover of those that were with [x] Timotheus and [y] Bacchides, who fought against them, they slew above twenty thousand, and very easily got high and strong holds, and divided amongst themselves many spoils more, and made the [ll] maimed, [u] orphans, widows, yea, and the aged also, equal in spoils with themselves. And [z] when they had gathered their armour together, they laid them up all carefully in [gg] convenient places, and the remnant of the spoils they brought to Jerusalem. They slew also Philarches, that wicked person, who was with [x] Timotheus, and had annoyed the Jews many ways. Furthermore at such time as they kept the feast for the victory in their country, they burnt Callisthenes, that had set fire upon the holy [a] gates, who was fled into a little house; and so he received a reward meet for his wickedness. As for that [b] most ungracious Nicanor, who had brought a thousand merchants [c] to buy the Jews, he was [d] through the help of the Lord brought down by them, of whom he made least account; and putting off his glorious apparel, and discharging his company, he came like a fugitive servant through the midland unto [e] Antioch, having very great dishonour, for that his host was destroyed. Thus he, [f] that took upon him to make good to the Romans their tribute by means of the captives in Jerusalem, told abroad, that the Jews had God to fight for them, and therefore they could not be hurt, because they followed the laws that he gave them.

About B.C. 164.

About that time [a] came Antiochus [ff] with dishonour [b] out of the country of Persia. [c] For he had entered the city called Persepolis, and went about to rob the temple, and to hold the city; whereupon the multitude running to defend themselves with their weapons put them to flight; and so it happened, that Antiochus being put to flight of the inhabitants [cc] returned with shame. Now [d] when he came to [e] Ecbatana, news was brought him what had happened unto [f] Nicanor and [g] Timotheus. Then swelling with anger, he thought to avenge upon the Jews the disgrace done unto him by those that made him flee.

Therefore commanded he his [h] chariot man to drive [i] without ceasing, and to dispatch the journey, the judgment of [j] God now following him. For he had spoken proudly in this sort, That he would come to Jerusalem, and make it [k] a common burying place of the Jews. But the Lord [l] Almighty, the God of Israel, smote him with an incurable and invisible plague: for as soon as he had spoken these words, [m] a pain of the bowels that was remediless came upon him, and sore torments of the inner parts; [mm] and that most justly: for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange torments. Howbeit he nothing at all ceased from his bragging, but still was filled with pride, [n] breathing out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey: but it came to pass that he fell down from his chariot, carried violently; so that having a sore fall, all the members of his body were much pained. And thus he that a little afore thought [o] he might command the waves of the sea, (so proud was he beyond the condition of man) and [p] weigh the high mountains in a balance, was now cast on the ground, and carried in [q] a horse litter, shewing forth unto all the manifest power of God. So that [r] the worms rose up out of the body of this wicked man, and whiles he lived in sorrow and pain, his flesh fell away, and the filthiness of his smell was noisome to all his army. And the man, that thought a little afore [s] he could reach to the stars of heaven, no man could endure to carry for his intolerable stink.

[t] Here therefore, being plagued, he began to leave off his great pride, and to come to the knowledge of himself by the [u] scourge of God, his pain increasing every [w] moment. And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words, [x] It is meet to be subject unto God, and that a man that is mortal should not proudly think of himself, as if he were God. This wicked person vowed also unto the [y] Lord, [z] who now no more would have mercy upon him, saying thus, That [a] the holy city (to the which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying place,) he would set at liberty: and as touching the Jews, whom he had judged not worthy so much as to be buried, but to be cast

But when [b]Gorgias was governor of the holds, he hired soldiers, and [c]nourished war [x]continually with the Jews: and therewithal [cc]the Idumeans, having gotten into their hands [d]the most commodious holds, kept the Jews occupied, and receiving [dd]those that were banished from Jerusalem, they went about to [c]nourish war. Then [e]they that were with Maccabeus made supplication, and besought God that he would be their helper; and so they ran with violence upon the strong holds of [cc]the Idumeans, and assaulting them strongly, they wan the holds, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew all that fell into their hands, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand. And because certain, who were no less than nine thousand, were fled together into two very strong castles, having all manner of things convenient to sustain the siege, Maccabeus left [f]Simon and [f]Joseph, and Zaccheus also, and them that were with him, who were enough to besiege them, and departed himself unto those places which more needed his help. Now [l]they that were with Simon, being led with covetousness, were [g]persuaded for money, (through certain of those that were in the castle,) and took seventy thousand [h]drachms, and let some of them escape. But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, he called the governors of the people together, and accused those men, that they had sold their brethren for money, and set their enemies free to fight against them. So he slew those that were found traitors, and immediately took [i]the two castles. And having good success with his weapons in all things he took in hand, [k]he slew in the two holds more than twenty thousand.

Now [l]Timotheus, [l]whom the Jews had overcome before, [m]when he had gathered a great multitude of foreign forces, and horses out of [n]Asia not a few, came as though he would take Jewry by force of arms. But when he drew near, [l]they that were with Maccabeus turned themselves to pray unto God, and [o]sprinkled earth upon their heads, and [p]girded their loins with sackcloth, and fell down at the foot of the altar, and besought him to be merciful to them, and [q]to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, [q]as the law [r]declareth.

So after the prayer they took their weapons, and went on [m]further from the city: and when they drew near to their enemies, they kept by themselves. Now the sun being newly risen, they joined both together; the one part having together with their virtue their refuge also unto the Lord for a [l]pledge of their success and victory: the other side making their rage leader of their battle. But when the battle waxed strong, [s]there appeared unto the enemies from heaven five comely men upon horses with bridles of gold, and two of them [ss]led the Jews, and took Maccabeus betwixt them, and covered him on every side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot arrows and lightnings against the enemies: so that [t]being confounded with blindness, and full of trouble, they were killed. And there were slain of footmen twenty thousand and five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

As for [l]Timotheus himself, he fled into a very strong hold, called [u]Gazara, where [v]Chereas was governor. But [w]they that were with Maccabeus laid siege against the fortress courageously four days. And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and uttered [x]wicked words. Nevertheless upon the fifth day early twenty young men [w]of Maccabeus' company, inflamed with anger because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall manly, and with a fierce courage killed all that they met withal. Others likewise ascending after them, whiles they were busied with them that were within, [y]burnt the towers, and kindling fires burnt the blasphemers alive; and others broke open the gates, and, having received in the rest of the army, took the city, and killed [l][z]Timotheus, that was [a]hid in a certain pit, and [v]Chereas his brother, with Apollophanes. When this was done, they praised the Lord with [b]psalms and thanksgiving, who had done so great things for Israel, and [c]given them the victory.

Not long after this, [a]Lysias the king's [l]protector and [b]cousin, [c]who also managed the affairs, took sore displeasure for the things that were done. And when he had gathered about [d] fourscore thousand with all the horsemen, he came against the Jews, thinking [e] to make the city a habitation of the [f] Gentiles, and to make a gain of the temple, as of the other [f] chapels of the heathen, and [g] to set the high priesthood to sale every year: not at all considering the power of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore [h] elephants. So he came to Judea, and drew near to [i] Bethsura, which was a strong town, but distant from Jerusalem about five furlongs, and he laid sore siege unto it. Now when [l] they that were with Maccabeus heard that he besieged the holds, they and all the people with lamentation and tears besought the Lord that he would send [j] a good angel to deliver Israel. Then Maccabeus himself first of all took weapons, [k] exhorting the other that they would jeopard themselves together with him to help their brethren: so they went forth together with a willing mind. And as they were at Jerusalem, [l] there [m] appeared before them on horseback one [n] in white clothing, shaking his armour of gold. Then they praised [nn] the merciful God all together, and took heart, insomuch that they were ready not only to fight with men, but with most cruel beasts, and to pierce through walls of iron. Thus they marched forward in their armour, having a helper from heaven: for the Lord was merciful unto them. And giving a charge upon their enemies like lions, they slew eleven thousand footmen, and sixteen hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight. Many of them also being [o] wounded escaped naked; and Lysias himself fled away shamefully, and so escaped. Who, as he was a man of understanding, [p] casting with himself what loss he had had, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God helped them, he sent unto them, and persuaded them to agree to all reasonable conditions, and [q] promised [r] that he would persuade the king that he must needs be a friend unto them. Then Maccabeus consented to all that Lysias desired, being careful of the common good; and whatsoever Maccabeus wrote unto Lysias concerning the Jews, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written unto the Jews from Lysias [s] to this effect: Lysias unto the people
17 of the Jews sendeth greeting: John and [t] Absalon, who were sent from you, delivered me the petition subscribed, and made request for the performance 18 of the contents thereof. Therefore what things soever were meet [u] to be reported to the king, I have [v] declared them, and he hath granted [w] as much as might be.
19 If then you will keep yourselves loyal to the state, hereafter also will I endeavour to be a means of your good.
20 But of the particulars I have given order both to these, and the other that came from me, to commune with you.
21 [x] Fare ye well. *The hundred and eight and forty year, the four and twenty day of the month [l] Dioscorinthius.

22 Now the king's letter [s] contained these words: King Antiochus unto his [y] brother Lysias sendeth greeting: Since 23 our father is translated unto the gods, our will is, that they that are in our realm live quietly, that every one may 24 attend upon his own affairs. We understand also that the Jews would not consent to our father, for to be brought unto the custom of the Gentiles, but had rather keep their own [z] manner of living: for the which cause they require of us, that we should suffer them to live after their own laws.
25 Wherefore our mind is, that this nation shall be in rest, and we have determined [a] to restore them their temple, that they may [b] live according to the 26 customs of their forefathers. Thou shalt do well therefore to send unto them, and [l] grant them peace, that when they are certified of our mind, they may be of good comfort, and ever go cheerfully [c] about their own affairs.

27 And the letter of the king unto the nation of the Jews was after this manner: King Antiochus sendeth greeting unto [d] the council, and the rest of 28 the Jews: if [x] ye fare well, we have our desire: we are also in good health.

21 and five hundred horsemen. Now when

Timotheus had knowledge of Judas' coming, he sent the women and children and the other baggage unto a fortress called ‖ Carnion: for the town was hard to besiege, and uneasy to come unto, by reason of the straitness of all the places. But when Judas his 22 first [x] band came in sight, the enemies, being smitten with fear and terror through [z] the appearing of him that seeth all things, fled amain, one running this way, another that way, so as that they were often hurt of [a] their own men, and wounded with the points of their own swords. Judas also was very 23 earnest in pursuing them, killing those [b] wicked wretches, of whom he slew about thirty thousand men. Moreover 24 Timotheus himself fell into the hands of [c] Dositheus and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Jews' parents, and the brethren of some of them, who, if they put him to death, should not be regarded. So 25 when he had assured them with many words that he would restore them without hurt, according to the agreement, they let him go for the saving of their brethren.

[d] Then Maccabeus marched forth to 26 Carnion, and [e] to the temple of ‖ Atargatis, and there he slew five and twenty thousand [f] persons. And after he had 27 put to flight and destroyed them, Judas removed the host towards [g] Ephron, a strong city, wherein [h] Lysias abode, and a great multitude of divers nations, and the strong young men kept the walls, and defended them mightily: wherein also was great provision of engines and darts. But when Judas and his com- 28 pany had called upon [i] Almighty God, who with his power breaketh the strength of his enemies, [k] they wan the city, and slew twenty and five thousand of them that were within. From thence they 29 departed to [l] Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem. But when the Jews that dwelt there 30 had testified that the [l] Scythopolitans dealt lovingly with them, and entreated them kindly in the time of their adversity; they gave them thanks, desiring 31 them to be friendly still unto them: and so [m] they came to Jerusalem, [n] the feast of the weeks approaching. And after 32 the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against [o] Gorgias the governor of

33 ‖ [p] Idumea, [q] who came out with three thousand men of foot and four hundred 34 horsemen. And it happened that in their fighting together [r] a few of the 35 Jews were slain. At which time Dositheus, one of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback, and a strong man, was still upon [o] Gorgias, and taking hold of his coat drew him by force; and when he would have taken that cursed man alive, a horseman of Thracia coming upon him ‖ smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled unto 36 [s] Marisa. Now when [c] they that were with ‖ Gorgias had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord, that he would shew himself to be their helper and leader of the battle.
37 And with that he began [t] in his own language, and sung [tt] psalms with a loud voice, and rushing unawares upon [c] Gorgias' men, he put them to flight.
38 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the city of [u] Odollam. And when the seventh day came, they purified themselves, as the custom was, and kept the sabbath in the same place.

39 And upon [v] the day following, ‖ as the [vv] use had been, [c] Judas and his company came to take up [r] the bodies of them that were slain, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers' 40 graves. Now under the coats of [r] every one that was slain they found things consecrated to the idols of [w] the Jamnites, which is forbidden the Jews [x] by the law. Then every man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were 41 slain. All men therefore praising the Lord, [y] the righteous Judge, who had 42 opened the things that were hid, betook themselves unto prayer, and besought him that the sin committed might wholly be put out of remembrance. Besides, that noble Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sin, forsomuch as they saw before their eyes the things that came to pass for the 43 sin of those that were slain. And when he had made a gathering throughout the company to the sum of two thousand [z] drachms of silver, he sent it to Jerusalem [a] to offer a sin offering, doing therein very well and honestly, &c. [b] in that he was mindful of the resur-

he perceived that there was great favour laid up for those that [d] died godly. It was a holy and good thought: whereupon he made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be delivered from sin.

XIII. In * the hundred forty and ninth year it was told [a] Judas, that [b] Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Judea, and with him [c] Lysias his protector, and ruler of his affairs, having [d] either of them a Grecian power, of footmen an hundred and ten thousand, and horsemen five thousand and three hundred, and [e] elephants two and twenty, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks. [f] Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the country, but because he thought to have been made governor. But the [g] King of kings moved Antiochus' mind against this [h] wicked wretch, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the king commanded to bring him unto Berea, and to put him to death, as the manner is in that place. Now there was in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had a round instrument, which on every side hanged down into the ashes. And whosoever was condemned of [i] sacrilege, or had committed any other grievous crime, there did all men thrust him unto death. Such a death it happened that wicked man to die, not having so much as burial in the earth; [j] and that most justly: for inasmuch as he had committed many sins about the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

Now the king came with a barbarous and haughty mind to do far worse to the Jews, than had been done in his father's time. Which things when Judas perceived, he commanded the multitude to call upon the Lord night and day, that if ever at any other time, he would now also help them, being at the point to be put from their law, from their country, and from the holy temple: and that he would not suffer the people, that [l] had even now been but a little [k] refreshed, to be in subjection to the blasphemous nations. So when they had all done this together, and besought [l] the merciful Lord with weeping and fasting, and [m] lying flat upon the ground three days [n] long, Judas, having exhorted them, commanded they should be in a readiness. And Judas, being apart with the elders, determined, before the king's host should enter into Judea, and get the city, to go forth and try the matter in fight [o] by the help of the Lord. So when he had committed all to the [l] [p] Creator of the world, and exhorted his soldiers to fight manfully, even unto death, for the laws, the temple, the city, the country, and the commonwealth, he camped by [q] Modin: and [r] having given the watchword to them that were about him, Victory is of God; with the most valiant and choice young men he went in into the king's tent by night, and slew in the camp about four thousand men, and the chiefest of the [e] elephants, with all that were upon him. And at last they filled the camp with fear and tumult, and departed with good success. This was done in the break of the day, because [o] the protection of the Lord did help him.

Now when the king had taken a taste of the manliness of the Jews, he went about to take the [s] holds by policy, and marched towards [t] Bethsura, which was a strong hold of the Jews: but [u] he was put to flight, failed, and lost of his men: for Judas had conveyed unto them that were in it such things as were necessary. But Rhodocus, who was in the Jews' host, disclosed the secrets to the enemies; therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison. [v] The king treated with them in [t] Bethsura the second time, [v] gave his hand, took theirs, departed, fought with [a] Judas, was overcome; [w] heard that Philip, who was left over the affairs in [x] Antioch, [l] was desperately bent, [y] [was] confounded, [z] intreated the Jews, submitted himself, and [z] sware to all equal conditions, agreed with them, and offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and dealt kindly with the place, and [a] accepted well of Maccabeus, made him principal governor from [b] Ptolemais unto the [c] Gerrhenians; came to [b] Ptolemais: the people there were grieved for the covenants; for they stormed, because they would [d] make their covenants void: [e] Lysias went up to [f] the judgment seat, said [g] as much as could be

XIV.

[a] After three years was [b] Judas informed, that [c] Demetrius the son of [d] Seleucus, having entered by the haven of [e] Tripolis with a great power and [e] navy, [f] had taken the country, and killed [g] Antiochus, and [h] Lysias his [i] protector. Now one [j] Alcimus, [k] who had been high priest, and had defiled himself wilfully [kk] in the times of their mingling with the Gentiles, seeing that by no means he could save himself, nor have any more access to the holy altar, [kl] came to king Demetrius in * the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting unto him [m] a crown of gold, and [m] a palm, and also of the boughs which were [‖n] used solemnly in the temple: and so that day he held his peace. Howbeit, having gotten opportunity to further his foolish enterprise, and being called into counsel by Demetrius, and asked how the Jews stood affected, and what they intended, he answered thereunto: Those of the Jews that be called [o] Asideans, whose captain is Judas Maccabeus, [p] nourish war, and are seditious, and will not let the realm be in peace. Therefore I, being deprived of [q] mine ancestors' honour, I mean the high priesthood, am now come hither: first verily, for the unfeigned care I have of things pertaining to the king; and secondly, even for that I intend the good of mine own countrymen: for all our nation is in no small misery through the unadvised dealing of them aforesaid. Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, be careful for the country, and our nation, which is pressed on every side, according to the clemency that thou readily shewest unto all. For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet.

This was no sooner spoken of him, but others [r] of the king's friends, being maliciously set against Judas, did more incense Demetrius. And forthwith calling Nicanor, who had been master of [s] the elephants, and [t] making him governor over Judea, [u] he sent him forth, commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make [j] Alcimus high priest [uu] of the great temple. Then the heathen, that had fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harm and calamities of the Jews to be their welfare. Now when the Jews heard of Nicanor's coming, and that the heathen [‖] were up against them, [v] they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him that had stablished his people for ever, and who always helpeth [w] his portion with [x] manifestation of his presence. So at the commandment of the captain they removed straightways from thence, and came near unto them at the town of Dessau.

Now [y] Simon, Judas' brother, had joined battle with Nicanor, but was somewhat discomfited through the sudden silence of his enemies. Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of [b] them that were with Judas, and the courageousness that they had to fight for their country, durst not try the matter by the sword. Wherefore he sent Posidonius, and Theodotus, and Mattathias, to [z] make peace. So when they had taken long advisement thereupon, and the captain had made the multitude acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of one mind, they consented to the covenants, [a] and appointed a day to meet in together by themselves: and when the day came, and stools were set for either of them, Judas placed armed men ready in [aa] convenient places, lest some treachery should be suddenly practised by the enemies: so they made a peaceable conference.

Now Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and [b] did no hurt, but sent away the people that came flocking unto him. And he would not willingly have Judas out of his sight: for he loved the man [c] from his heart. He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he married, [cc] was quiet, and [‖] took part of this life. But [e] Alcimus, perceiving the love that was betwixt them, and considering [f] the covenants that were made, came to [g] Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor was not well affected towards the state; for that he had [h] ordained Judas, [i] a traitor to his realm, to be the king's successor. Then the king [k] being in a rage, and provoked with the accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was much displeased

[a] But Nicanor, hearing that [b] Judas and his company were in the [c] strong places about [d] Samaria, resolved [e] without any danger to set upon them on the sabbath day. Nevertheless the Jews 2 that were compelled to go with him said, O destroy not so cruelly and barbarously, but give honour to that day, which he, that seeth all things, hath honoured with holiness above other days. Then 3 [f] the most ungracious wretch demanded, if there were a [g] Mighty One in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath day to be kept. And when they said, There 4 is in heaven [h] a living Lord, and [g] mighty, who commanded the seventh day to be am mighty upon earth, and I command to take arms, and to do the king's [i] business. Yet he obtained not to have his wicked will done. So Nicanor in exceed- 6 ing pride and haughtiness determined to set up a publick monument of his victory over [a] Judas and them that were with him.

But Maccabeus had [k] ever sure confi- 7 which in former times they had received from heaven, and now to expect the victory and aid, which should come unto them from the [n]Almighty. And so comforting them out of [o]the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the battles that they won afore, he made them more cheerful. And when he had stirred up their minds, he gave them their charge, shewing them therewithal the falsehood of the heathen, and the breach of oaths. Thus he armed every one of them, not so much with defence of shields and spears, as with comfortable and good words: and besides that, he told them a dream worthy to be believed, as if it had been so indeed, which did not a little rejoice them. And [p]this was his vision: That [q]Onias, who had been high priest, a virtuous and a good man, reverend in conversation, gentle in condition, well spoken also, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, holding up his hands prayed for the whole body of the Jews. This done, in like manner there appeared a man with gray hairs, and [r]exceeding glorious, who was of a wonderful and excellent majesty. Then [q]Onias [s]answered, saying, This is a lover of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for [t]the holy city, to wit, [u]Jeremias the prophet of God. Whereupon Jeremias holding forth his right hand gave to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it spake thus, Take this holy sword, a gift from God, with the which thou shalt wound the adversaries.

Thus being well comforted by the words of Judas, which were very good, and able to stir them up to valour, and to encourage the hearts of the young men, they determined not to pitch camp, but courageously to set upon them, and manfully to try the matter by conflict, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. For the care that they took for their wives, and their children, their brethren, and kinsfolks, was in least account with them: but the greatest and principal fear was for the holy temple. Also they that were in the city took not the least care, being troubled for the conflict abroad. And now, [w]when as all looked what should be the trial, and the enemies were already come near, and the army was set in array, and [x]the beasts conveniently placed, and the horsemen set in wings, Maccabeus seeing the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of [x]the beasts, stretched out his hands towards heaven, and called upon the Lord [p]that worketh wonders, knowing that victory cometh not by arms, but even as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy: [y]therefore in his prayer he said after this manner; O [z]Lord, [a]thou didst send thine angel in the time of Ezekias king of Judea, and didst slay in the host of Sennacherib an hundred fourscore and five thousand: wherefore now also, O [b]Lord of heaven, send [c]a good angel before us for a fear and dread unto them; and through the might of thine arm let those be stricken with terror, that come against [d]thy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

Then [e]Nicanor and they that were with him came forward with trumpets and songs. But [e]Judas and his company encountered the enemies with invocation and prayer. So that [f]fighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men: for through [g]the appearance of God they were greatly cheered. Now when the [h]battle was done, returning again with joy, they knew that [i]Nicanor lay dead in his [k]harness. Then they made a great shout and a noise, praising the [l]Almighty [m]in their own language. And Judas, who was ever the chief defender of the citizens both in body and mind, and who continued his love towards his countrymen all his life, commanded to strike off [n]Nicanor's head, and his hand with his shoulder, and [n]bring them to Jerusalem. So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of [o]the tower, and shewed them vile Nicanor's head, and the hand of that blasphemer, [p]which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy temple of the [q]Almighty. And when he had cut out the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces [r]unto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple. So every man [s]praised towards the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled. [u]Now the birth of Jesus Christ was 18 on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child 19 [w]of the Holy Ghost. Then Joseph her husband, being a [x]just man, and not willing [y]to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.
20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him [z]in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is †conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.
21 [a]And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name ‖JESUS: for [b]he shall save his people [c]from their 22 sins. Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of 23 the Lord by the prophet, saying, [d]Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and nuel, which being interpreted is, God

from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him

had brought forth [f]her firstborn son:
and he [g]called his name JESUS.

lehem of Judea in the days of Herod
the king, behold, there came [b]wise men

Jews? for we have seen [e]his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

of the people together, [g]he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

A

prophet, [h]And thou Bethlehem, in 6
the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall ‖rule my people Israel.
Then Herod, when he had privily called 7
the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. And 8
he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also. When they 9 had heard the king, they departed; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. When 10 they saw the star, they [i]rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they 11 were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, [j]they ‖presented unto him gifts; [k]gold, and [k]frankincense, and [l]myrrh. And 12 being warned of God [m]in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

And when they were departed, be- 13 hold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph [m]in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him.
When he arose, he took the young child 14
and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt: and was there until the 15 death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, [n]Out of Egypt have I called my son. Then He- 16 rod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men.
Then was fulfilled that which was spok- 17 en by [o]Jeremie the prophet, saying, In 18 [p]Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

But when Herod was dead, behold, 19 an angel of the Lord appeareth [m]in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying, Arise, 20 and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life. And he arose, and took the 21 young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. But when he 22 heard that Archelaus did reign in Judea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God [m]in a dream, he turned aside [q]into the parts of Galilee:
and he came and dwelt in a city called 23 [r]Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [s]by the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene.

In those days came [a]John the Bap- III.
tist, preaching [b]in the wilderness of Ju- A. D. 26.
dea, and saying, Repent ye: for [c]the 2 kingdom of heaven is at hand. For 3 this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, [d]The voice of one crying in the wilderness, [e]Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. And the same 4 John had his raiment of [f]camel's hair,
and a leathern girdle about his loins;
and his meat was [g]locusts and [h]wild honey. Then went out to him [i]Jerusa- 5 lem, and all Judea, and all the region round about Jordan, [k]and were baptized 6 of him [l]in Jordan, confessing their sins.
But when he saw many of the Pharisees 7 and ‖[ll]Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, [m]O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from [n]the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore 8 fruits ‖meet for repentance: and [nn]think 9 not to say within yourselves, [o]We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. And 10 now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: [p]therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. I indeed 11 baptize you with water [q]unto repentance: [r]but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall [s]baptize you with [t]the Holy Ghost, and with [u]fire:
whose fan is in his hand, and he will 12 throughly purge [x]his floor, and [y]gather his wheat into the garner; but will [z]burn up the chaff with [zz]unquenchable fire.

Then was [a]Jesus led up of [b]the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. 2 And when he had fasted [c]forty days and forty nights, he was afterward a hungred. 3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be [cc]the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread. 4 But he answered and said, It is written, [d]Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. 5 [e]Then the devil taketh him up into [f]the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple, 6 and saith unto him, If thou be [cc]the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, [g]He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. 7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, [h]Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. 8 [i]Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; 9 and saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. 10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, [k]Satan: for it is written, [l]Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. 11 Then the devil leaveth him, and behold, [m]angels came and ministered unto him.

12 Now when Jesus had heard that [n]John was [o]cast into prison, [o]he departed into Galilee; 13 and leaving [p]Nazareth, he came and dwelt in [o]Capernaum, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim: 14 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

15 [q]The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, by [r]the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee 16 of [r]the Gentiles; the people which sat in darkness saw great light; and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up.

17 [s]From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, [t]Repent: for the 18 kingdom of heaven is at hand. [u]And Jesus, walking by [v]the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon [w]called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net 19 into the sea: for they were fishers. And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I 20 will make you fishers of men. And they straightway [x]left their nets, and 21 followed him. And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and 22 he called them. And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, [y]teaching in their synagogues and preaching [z]the gospel of the kingdom, and [a]healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the 24 people. And his fame went throughout all [aa]Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and [b]torments, and those which were [c]possessed with devils, and those which were [d]lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed 25 them. [e]And there followed him great multitudes of people from Galilee, and from [f]Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

1 And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a [a]mountain: and when he was [aa]set, his 2 disciples came unto him: and he [b]opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 [c]Blessed are [d]the poor in spirit: for [e]theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 Blessed are [f]they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are [g]the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

Blessed are [m] they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you [†] falsely, for my sake.

[n] Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for [o] so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

Ye are the salt of the earth: [p] but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men. [q] Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men [r] light a candle, and put it under [‖] a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, [s] that they may see your good works, and [st] glorify your Father which is in heaven.

[u] Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. For verily I say unto you, [x] Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. [y] Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed [z] the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Ye have heard that it was said [‖] by them of old time, [a] Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: but I say unto you, That [b] whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, [‖] Raca, shall be in danger of [c] the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou [d] fool, shall be in danger of [e] hell fire. Therefore if thou bring [f] thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee; leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. [g] Agree with thine adversary quickly, [h] whiles thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the [i] officer, and thou be cast into prison. Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing. Ye have heard that it was said [j] by them of old time, [k] Thou shalt not commit adultery: but I say unto you, That whosoever [l] looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. [m] And if thy right eye [‖] offend thee, [n] pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into [e] hell. [o] And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into [e] hell. It hath been said, [p] Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: but I say unto you, That [q] whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery.

Again, ye have heard that it hath been said [j] by them of old time, [r] Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but [s] shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: but I say unto you, [t] Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is [u] God's throne: nor by the earth; for it is [x] his footstool: neither by Jerusalem; for it is [y] the city of the great King. Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black. [z] But let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil.

[′] Ye have heard that it hath been said, [a] An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: [b] but I say unto you, [c] That ye resist not evil: but [d] whosoever shall [dd] smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also. And whosoever shall [e]compel 41 thee to go a mile, go with him twain. [f]Give to him that asketh thee, and 42 [g]from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

Ye have heard that it hath been said, 43
[h]Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and [i]hate thine enemy. But I say 44 unto you, [j]Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and [k]pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you;
that ye may be the children of your 45 Father which is in heaven: for [l]he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. [m]For if ye 46 love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even [mm]the publi-cans the same? And if ye salute your 47 brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even [mm]the publicans so? [n]Be ye therefore perfect, even 48 [o]as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

Take heed that ye do not your ‖alms 1 before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward ‖of your Father which is in heaven. Therefore when 2 thou doest thine alms, ‖do not [a]sound
a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, [b]They [c]have their reward. But when thou doest alms, let 3 not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: that thine alms may be 4 in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself [d]shall reward thee openly.

And when thou prayest, thou shalt 5 not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, [b]They have their reward.
But thou, when thou prayest, [e]enter 6 into thy [f]closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret [d]shall reward thee openly.
But when ye pray, [g]use not vain repeti- 7 tions, as [gg]the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard [h]for their much speaking. Be not ye therefore like 8 unto them: [i]for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. After this manner therefore 9 pray ye:

[k]Our Father which art in heaven,
[l]Hallowed be thy name. [m]Thy king- 10 dom come. [n]Thy will be done in earth, [o]as it is in heaven. Give us this day 11 our [p]daily bread. And forgive us our 12 [q]debts, as we forgive our debtors. [r]And 13 lead us not into temptation, but deliver us [s]from evil: [t]For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

[u]For if ye forgive men their trespasses, 14 your heavenly Father will also forgive you: [w]but if ye forgive not men their 15 trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Moreover [x]when ye fast, be not as 16
the hypocrites, [y]of a sad countenance:
for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, [b]They have their reward. But thou, when thou fastest, 17 [z]anoint thine head, and wash thy face; 18
that thou appear not unto men to fast,
but unto thy Father which is in secret:
and thy Father, which seeth in secret,
[d]shall reward thee openly.

[a]Lay not up for yourselves treasures 19 upon earth, where [b]moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves [c]break through and steal: [d]but lay up for 20 yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither [b]moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not [c]break through nor steal: for where your treasure is, 21
there will your heart be also. [e]The 22 light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be [f]single, thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine 23 eye be [f]evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore [g]the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness?

[h]No man can serve two masters: for 24 either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. [i]Ye cannot serve God and [k]mammon. [l]Therefore 25 I say unto you, [m]Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment? 26 [n]Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they? Which of you by taking 27

ness: [k]there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. And Jesus said unto the 13 centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour.

[l]And when Jesus was come into Peter's 14 house, he saw [m]his wife's mother [n]laid, and sick of a fever. And he [bb]touched 15 her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them. When 16 the even was come, they brought unto him
many that were [o]possessed with devils:
and he cast out the spirits with his word,
and healed all that were sick: that it 17 might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying [p]Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

Now when Jesus saw great multitudes 18 about him, [q]he gave commandment to depart unto the other side. And [r]a cer- 19 tain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. And Jesus saith unto him, 20
The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man 21 hath not where to lay his head. And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, [s]suffer me first to go and bury my 22 father. But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead.
23 [t]And when he was entered into a ship, 24 his disciples followed him. And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered 25 with the waves: but he was asleep. And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.
26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, [u]O ye of little faith? Then [v]he arose, and rebuked the winds and the 27 sea; and there was a great calm. But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?
28 And when he was come to the other side into the country of the [w]Gergesenes, there met him [x]two [y]possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by 29 that way. And behold, they cried out, saying, [z]What have we to do with thee, Jesus, thou [zz]Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?
30 And there was a good way off from them 31 a herd of many swine feeding. So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd 32 of swine. And he said unto them, Go.
And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and 33 perished in the waters. And they that kept them fled, and went their ways into the city, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the [y]possessed of the 34 devils. And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, [a]they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

[a]And he entered into a ship, and IX.
passed over, and came into [b]his own city.
2 [c]And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus [d]seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; 3 thy sins [e]be forgiven thee. And behold, certain of the scribes said within them-4 selves, This man blasphemeth. And Jesus [f]knowing their thoughts said,
Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

For whether is easier, to say, Thy [e]sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house. And he arose, and departed to his house. But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and [ff]glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

[g]And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man, named [gg]Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him. And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, [h]many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples. And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why [i]eateth your Master [i]with publicans and sinners? But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick. But go ye and learn [j]what that meaneth, [k]I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, [l]but sinners to repentance.

[m]Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees [n]fast oft, but thy disciples fast not? And Jesus said unto them, [o]Can [p]the children of the [pp]bridechamber mourn, as long as the [q]bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and [qq]then shall they fast. No man putteth a piece of [l]new cloth unto an old garment; for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse. Neither do men put new wine into old bottles: else [r]the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

[s]While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and [t]worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples. (And behold, a woman, which was diseased [u]with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched [v]the hem of his garment: for she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole. But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; [w]thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.) And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the [x]minstrels and the people making a noise, he said unto them, Give place: [y]for the maid is not dead, but [z]sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. But [a]when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose. And [l]the fame hereof went abroad into all that land.

And when Jesus departed thence, [b]two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, [c]Thou Son of David, have mercy on us. And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, [w]Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord. Then [cc]touched he their eyes, saying, [w]According to your faith be it unto you. And their eyes were opened; and Jesus [d]straitly charged them, saying [e]See that no man know it. [f]But they, when they were departed, [ff]spread abroad his fame in all that country.

[g]As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man [h]possessed with a devil. And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel. But the Pharisees said, [i]He casteth out the devils through the prince of the devils. [k]And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, [l]teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the [l]gospel of the kingdom, and [l]healing every sickness and every disease among the people. But [m]when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they [l]fainted, and were [n]scattered abroad, [o]as sheep having no shepherd. Then saith he unto his disciples, [p]The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; [q]pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will [r]send forth labourers into his harvest.

And [a]when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power [l]against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease. [b]Now the names of the twelve apostles are these; The first, Simon, [c]who is called

Peter, and [d]Andrew his brother; [e]James, the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and [f]Matthew the publican; James the son of Alpheus, and Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddeus; Simon [g]the Canaanite, and Judas [h]Iscariot, who also betrayed him. These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into [i]the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of [k]the Samaritans enter ye not: [l]but go rather to the [m]lost sheep of the house of Israel. [n]And as ye go, preach, saying, [o]The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: [p]freely ye have received, freely give. [q]Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor [r]brass in your purses; nor [s]scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet [t]staves: [u]for the workman is worthy of his meat. And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, inquire who in it is [u]worthy; and there abide till ye go thence. And when ye come into a house [w]salute it. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not [u]worthy, let your peace [x]return to you. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, [y]shake off the dust of your feet. [z]Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city.

[a]Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore [b]wise as serpents, and [‖]harmless as doves. But beware of men: for [c]they will deliver you up to the [dg]councils, and [e]they will scourge you in their [g]synagogues; and ye shall be brought before [f]governors and kings for my sake, [ff]for a testimony against them and the Gentiles. [g]But when they deliver you up, [h]take no thought how or what ye shall speak: [i]for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. [k]For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you. [l]And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death. [m]And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: [n]but he that endureth to the end shall be saved. But when they [m]persecute you in this city, [o]flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not [‖]have gone over the cities of Israel, [p]till the Son of man be come. [q]The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord. It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. [r]If they have called the master of the house [t]Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household? Fear them not therefore: [s]for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known. What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops. And [t]fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather [u]fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in [x]hell. Are not two sparrows sold for a [‖]farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. But [y]the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear ye not therefore, [z]ye are of more value than many sparrows. Whosoever therefore shall [a]confess me before men, [b]him will I confess also before [c]my Father which is in heaven. But whosoever shall [d]deny me before men, him will I also deny before [c]my Father which is in heaven.

[e]Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law. And [f]a man's foes shall be they of his own household. [g]He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. [h]And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me. [i]He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.

[k]He that receiveth you receiveth me, and [l]he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. He [m]that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name

XI. And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities. [a]Now 2 when John had heard [b]in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples, and said unto him, Art thou [c]he 3 that should come, or do we look for another? Jesus answered and said unto 4 them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: [d]the 5 blind receive their sight, and [d]the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and [d]the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and [e]the poor have the gospel preached to them. And blessed is he, whosoever 6 shall not [f]be offended in me.

And as they departed, Jesus began to 7 say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out [ff]into the wilderness to see? [g]A reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to see? A 8 man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses. But what went ye out for to 9 see? [h]A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet. For this is 10 he, of whom it is written, [i]Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. Verily I say unto you, 11
Among them that are [k]born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. [l]And from the days of John 12 the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven ‖suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force. [l]For all the pro- 13 phets and the law prophesied until John. And if ye will receive it, this is [m]Elias, 14 which was for to come. [n]He that hath 15 ears to hear, let him hear.

[o]But whereunto shall I liken this ge- 16 neration? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their [oo]fellows, and saying, We have piped unto 17 you, and ye have not danced; we have [p]mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented. For John came neither [q]eating nor [r]drinking, and they say, He hath 18 a devil. The Son of man came eating 19 and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, [s]a friend of [ss]publicans and sinners. But wisdom [t]is justified [u]of [v]her children.

[w]Then began he to upbraid the cities 20 wherein most of his mighty works were 21 done, because they repented not. Woe unto thee, Chorazin, woe unto thee, [x]Bethsaida: [y]for if the mighty works which were done in you, had been done in [z]Tyre and Sidon they would have repented long ago in [a]sackcloth and 22 [b]ashes. [c]But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for [z]Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you.
And thou, Capernaum, [d]which art exalt- 23
ed unto heaven, [e]shalt be brought down to hell: [y]for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until 24 this day. [c]But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

[f]At that time Jesus [g]answered and 25 said, I thank thee, [h]O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, [i]because thou hast hid these things [k]from the wise and prudent, and hast [m]revealed them unto 26 babes. Even so, [h]Father: for so it 27 seemed good in thy sight. [n]All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither knoweth any man the Father, [o]save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.

Come unto [p]me, all ye that labour 28 and are [q]heavy laden, and I will give 29 you rest. [r]Take my yoke upon you, and [s]learn of me; for I am [t]meek and lowly in heart: and [u]ye shall find 30 rest unto your souls. For [x]my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

XII. At that time [a]Jesus went on the sab- 1 bath day through the corn; and his disciples were a hungred, and [b]began to 2 pluck the ears of corn, and to eat. But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that [c]which is not lawful to do upon the sab- 3 bath day. But he said unto them, Have ye not read [d]what David did, when he was a hungred, and [e]they that 4 were with him; how he entered into the house of God, and did eat [f]the shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, [g]but only for the priests? Or 5 have ye not read [h]in the law, how that on the sabbath days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless? But I say unto you, That 6 in this place is one [i]greater than the temple. But if ye had known [k]what 7 this meaneth, [l]I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. For the Son 8 of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

And when he was departed thence, 9 [m]he went into their synagogue: and be- 10 hold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, [n]Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him. 11
And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? [o]How much then is a 12 man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days. Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth 13 thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

Then the Pharisees went out, [p]and 14
[q]held a council against him, how they might destroy him. But when Jesus 15 knew it, [q]he withdrew himself from thence: [r]and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all, and 16 [s]charged them that they should not make him known: that it might be ful- 17 filled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, [t]Behold my servant, 18 whom I have chosen; my beloved, [u]in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Gentiles. He shall not strive, 19 nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets. A 20 bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment [x]unto victory. [y]And in his name 21 shall the Gentiles trust.

[z]Then was brought unto him one 22
[a]possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. And all the people [aa]were 23 amazed, and said, Is this [b]the son of David? But when the Pharisees 24 heard it, they said, [c]This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by [f]Beelzebub 25 the prince of the devils. And Jesus [d]knew their thoughts, [e]and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall 26 not stand: and if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall 27 then his kingdom stand? And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do [f]your children cast them out? therefore 28 they shall be your judges. But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God [g]is come unto you. 29
Or else [h]how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and [i]then 30
he will spoil his house. [k]He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. 31 [l]Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the [m]Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven 32 unto men. And whosoever speaketh a word [n]against the Son of man, [o]it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, 33 neither in the world to come. [p]Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: [pq]for the tree is known by 34 his fruit. [r]O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? [s]for out of the abundance of the heart 35 the mouth speaketh. A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth 36 evil things. But I say unto you, That every [t]idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the 37 day of judgment. For [u]by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

Then certain of the scribes and of the 38
Pharisees answered, saying, [x]Master, we 39 would see a sign from thee. But he answered and said to them, [y]An evil and [z]adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas: 40 for [a]as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three 41 nights in the heart of the earth. The men of [b]Nineveh shall rise [c]in judgment with this generation, and [d]shall condemn it: because [e]they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, [f]a greater than Jonas is here. The [g]queen 42

[h]When the unclean spirit is gone out 43 of a man, he walketh through [i]dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none. Then he saith, I will return into my 44 house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and [j]garnished. Then goeth he, 45 and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and [k]the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.

While he yet talked to the people, 46 [l]behold, his mother and [m]his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him. Then one said unto him, Behold, 47 thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee. But 48 he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren? And he stretched 49 forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren. For [n]whosoever shall do the 50 will of [o]my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

XIII.

The same day went Jesus out of [a]the house, and [b]sat by the sea side. [c]And 2 great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that [d]he went into [e]a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore. And he spake many 3 things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow; and 4 when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up: some fell upon stony 5 places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth: and 6 when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had not root, they withered away. And some fell among 7 [f]thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them: but other fell into good 8 ground, and [g]brought forth fruit, some [h]an hundred*fold*, some sixty*fold*, some 9 thirty*fold*. [i]Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

And the disciples came, and said unto 10 him, Why speakest thou unto them in 11 parables? He answered and said unto them, Because [j]it is given unto you [k]to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. 12 [l]For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even [m]that he 13 hath. Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do 14 they understand. And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith, [n]By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not 15 perceive: for this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears [o]are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should [oo]be converted, and I 16 should heal them. [p]But [q]blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your 17 ears, for they hear. For verily I say unto you, [r]That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye 18 hear, and have not heard them. [s]Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower. 19
When any one heareth the word [t]of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh [u]the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the 20 way side. But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and [w]anon [x]with joy 21 receiveth it; yet hath he not root in himself, but [y]dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, [yy]by and by [z]he is 22 offended. He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and [a]the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of [b]riches, choke the 23 word, and he becometh unfruitful. But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundred*fold*, some sixty, some thirty.

Another [c]parable put he forth unto 24 them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, 25 his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when 26 the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.
So the servants of the householder came 27 and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? He said unto them, 28
An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he said, 29 Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.
Let both grow together until the har- 30 vest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but [d]gather the wheat into my barn.

Another parable put he forth unto 31 them, saying, [e]The kingdom of heaven is like unto [f]a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field: which indeed is the least of all 32 seeds: but when it is grown, [ff]it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that [g]the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

Another parable spake he unto them; 33 [h]The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in [i]three [†]measures of meal, till the whole was leavened. [k]All these things spake 34 Jesus unto the multitude in parables;
and without a parable spake he not unto them: that it might be fulfilled which 35 was spoken by the prophet, saying, [l]I will open my mouth in parables; [m]I will utter things which have been kept secret [n]from the foundation of the world.

Then Jesus sent the multitude away, 36
and went into [o]the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us [p]the parable of the tares of the field. He answered and said unto them, 37
He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; the field is [q]the world; the 38 good seed are [r]the children of the kingdom; but the tares are [s]the children of [t]the wicked one; the enemy that sowed 39 them is the devil; [u]the harvest is [x]the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels. As therefore the tares are 40 gathered and burnt in the fire; so shall 41 it be in [x]the end of the world. [xx]The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all [‖]things that offend, and them which 42 do iniquity; and shall [y]cast them into [yy]a furnace of fire: [z]there shall be wailing 43 and gnashing of teeth. Then shall [a]the righteous shine forth as the sun in [b]the kingdom of their Father. [c]Who hath
ears to hear, let him hear.

44 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto [d]treasure hid in a field;
the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and [e]selleth all that he hath, and [f]buyeth that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly 46 pearls: who, when he had found one [g]pearl of great price, went and [e]sold all that he had, and [f]bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is [h]like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, 48 and gathered [i]of every kind: which,
when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into 49 vessels, but cast the bad away. So shall it be at [k]the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and [l]sever the 50 wicked from among the just, [m]and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Jesus saith unto them, [mm]Have ye understood all these things? They say unto 52 him, Yea, Lord. Then said he unto them, Therefore every [n]scribe which is [o]instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things [p]new and old.

53 And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed 54 thence. [q]And when he was come into [r]his own country, [rr]he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they [s]were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these [t]mighty 55 works? [u]Is not this the [w]carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and [x]his brethren, [y]James, and Joses, and 56 Simon, and Judas? And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath 57 this man all these things? And they [z]were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, [a]A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in 58 his own house. And [b]he did not many mighty works there, [c]because of their unbelief.

XIV.

A. D. 32, beginning.

At that time [a]Herod [b]the tetrachy heard of the fame of Jesus, and said 2 unto his [c]servants, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore [d]mighty works [‖]do shew forth themselves in him. For Herod *[e]had 3 laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias' sake, [f]his brother Philip's wife. For John 4 said unto him, [g]It is not lawful for thee to have her. And when he would have 5 put him to death, [h]he feared the multitude, because they counted him as [i]a prophet. But when Herod's birthday 6 was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced [†]before them, and pleased Herod. Whereupon he promised with an 7 oath to give her whatsoever she would ask. And she, being [k]before instructed 8 of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a [l]charger. And the 9 king was sorry: nevertheless for the oaths' sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her. And he sent, and beheaded 10 John in the prison. And his head was 11 brought in a [l]charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother. And his disciples came, and took 12 up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jesus.

*[m]When Jesus heard of it, [n]he de- 13 parted thence by ship into a desert place apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities. And Jesus went forth, 14 and saw a great multitude, and [o]was moved with compassion toward them, and he [p]healed their sick. And when 15 it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and [q]the time is now past; [r]send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.
But Jesus said unto them, They need 16 not depart; [s]give ye them to eat. And 17 they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes. He said, 18 Bring them hither to me. And he com- 19 manded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and [ss]looking up to heaven, [t]he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude. And 20 they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve [u]baskets full. And 21 they that had eaten were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

[w]And straightway Jesus constrained 22 his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away. And when 23 he had sent the multitudes away, he went up [x]into a mountain apart to pray:
and when the evening was come, he was there alone. But the ship was now in 24
the midst of the sea, tossed with waves:
for the wind was contrary. And in the 25 [y]fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea. And 26 when the disciples saw him [z]walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is [a]a spirit; and they cried out for fear.
But straightway Jesus spake unto them, 27 saying, Be of good cheer; it is I, [b]be not afraid. And Peter answered him 28 and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water. And he 29 said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus. But when he saw 30 the wind [‖]boysterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me. And immediately Jesus stretch- 31 ed forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, [c]O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt? And when 32 they were come into the ship, the wind ceased. Then they that were in the 33 ship came and [d]worshipped him, saying,
Of a truth thou art [e]the Son of God.

And when they were gone over, they 34 came into the land of [f]Gennesaret. And 35 when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto 36 him all that were diseased; and besought him that they might only touch [g]the hem of his garment: and [h]as many as touched [i]were made perfectly whole.

XV.

Then [a]came to Jesus scribes and Pha- 1
risees, which were of Jerusalem, saying, 2
Why do thy disciples transgress [b]the tradition of [c]the elders? for they wash not 3 their hands when they eat bread. But he answered and said unto them, Why do you also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? For God 4 commanded, saying, [d]Honour thy father and mother: and, [e]He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. But ye say, Whoso- 5 ever shall say to his father or his mother, It is [f]a gift, by whatsoever thou 6 mightest be profited by me; and honour

not his father or his mother, he shall be [g] free. Thus [g] have ye made the commandment of God [g] of none effect by your tradition. Ye hypocrites, well did [h] Esaias prophesy of you, saying, [h] This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. But in vain they do [i] worship me, teaching for [i] doctrines the commandments of men.

And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand: [k] not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man. Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying? But he answered and said, [l] Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up. Let them alone: [m] they be blind leaders of the blind. And [n] if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch. Then answered [o] Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable. And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding? [p] Do not ye yet understand, that [q] whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught? But [r] those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile [s] the man. For [t] out of the heart proceed [u] evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies: these are the things which defile a man: but to eat [x] with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of [y] Tyre and Sidon. And behold, a woman of [z] Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, [a] thou Son of David; my daughter is grievously [b] vexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, [c] Send her away; for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, [d] I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Then came she and [e] worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to [f] dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, [g] great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour. [h] And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto [i] the sea of Galilee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there. And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were [k] lame, blind, dumb, [l] maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them: insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the [l] maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and [m] they glorified [n] the God of Israel.

[o] Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, [p] I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they [q] faint in the way. And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude? And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few [r] little fishes. And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground. And he took the seven loaves and [r] the fishes, and [s] gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven [t] baskets full. And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children.

[u] And he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of [x] Magdala. The [a] Pharisees also with the [aa] Sadducees came, and tempting desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven. He answered and said unto them, [b] When it is evening, ye say, It will be [c] fair weather: for the sky is red. And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day: for the sky is red and lowring. [d] O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times? [e] A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread. Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and [f]beware of the [g]leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees. And they [gg]reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread. Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, [h]O ye of little faith, why [gg]reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread? Then understood they how that he bade them not [f]beware of the leaven of bread, but of the [g]doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

[n]When Jesus came into the coasts of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I the Son of man am? And they said, Some say that thou art [o]John the Baptist: some, [p]Elias; and others, [q]Jeremias, or one of the prophets. He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, [r]the Son of [s]the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, [t]Blessed art thou, [u]Simon Bar-jona: for [x]flesh and blood hath not [y]revealed it unto thee, but [z]my Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee, That thou art [a]Peter, and [b]upon this rock I will build my church; and [c]the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give unto thee [d]the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and [e]whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. [f]Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

From that time forth began Jesus [g]to shew unto his disciples, how that [h]he must go unto Jerusalem, and [hi]suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and [j]be raised again the third day. Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, [t]Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee. But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, [k]Satan: thou art an [l]offence unto me: for thou [m]savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and [n]take up his cross, and follow me. For [o]whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his [p]life for my sake shall find it. For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own [p]soul? or [q]what shall a man give [r]in exchange for his [p]soul? For [s]the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father [t]with his angels: and then [u]he shall reward every man according to his works. Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not [x]taste of death, [y]till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

And [a]after six days Jesus taketh [b]Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart, and was [c]transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light. And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him. Then [d]answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: [e]if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. While he yet spake, behold, [f]a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, [g]This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; [h]hear ye him. And when the disciples [i]heard it, they [k]fell on their face, and were sore afraid. And Jesus came and [l]touched them, and said, Arise, and [m]be not afraid. And when they had [mm]lift up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

[n]And as they came down from the mountain, [o]Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead. And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that [p]Elias must first come? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and [q]restore all things. But I say unto you, That [p]Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but [r]have done unto him whatsoever they [s]listed. Likewise shall also [t]the Son of man suffer them. Then the disciples understood [p]that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and [z] perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I [a] suffer you? bring him hither to me. And Jesus rebuked the devil; and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour. Then came the disciples to Jesus [b] apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out? And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: [c] for verily I say unto you, [d] If ye have faith as a [e] grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto [f] this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be unpossible unto you. [a] ch. 17. 24. To ver. 5, Mark 9. 33—37. Luke 9. 46—48.

At [a] the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them. And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye [b] be converted, and [c] become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And [d] whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me. [e] But whoso shall [f] offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. Woe unto the world because of [g] offences: [h] for it must needs be that offences come; [hi] but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh. [k] Wherefore if [l] thy hand or thy foot [f] offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or [m] maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into everlasting fire. And if [n] thine eye [f] offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into [o] hell fire.

Take heed that ye despise not one of [p] these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven [q] their angels do always [r] behold the face of [s] my Father which is in heaven. [t] For the Son of man is come to save [u] that which was lost. [x] How think ye? [y] if a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray? And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray. Even so it is not the will of your [s] Father which is in heaven, that one of [p] these little ones should perish.

Moreover [z] if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast [a] gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that [b] in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto [c] the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, [d] let him be unto thee as a [e] heathen man and a [f] publican. Verily I say unto you, [g] Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. Again I say unto 19 you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching [h]any thing that they shall ask, [i]it shall be done for them of [s]my Father which is in heaven. For 20 where two or three are gathered together [j]in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

Then came Peter to him, and said, 21 Lord, [k]how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? [l]till seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto 22 thee, Until seven times: but, [m]Until seventy times seven. Therefore is the 23 kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would [n]take account of his servants. And when he had begun 24 to [n]reckon, one was brought unto him, which ought him ten thousand ‖talents. But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his 25 lord commanded him to be [o]sold, and his wife, and [p]children, and all that he had, and payment to be made. The 26 servant therefore fell down, and ‖worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. Then 27 the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt. But the same ser- 28 vant went out, and found [q]one of his fellowservants, which ought him an hundred ‖pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest. And his fellow- 29 servant fell down at his feet, and [q]besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. And he 30 would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt. So 31 when his fellowservants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and [r]told unto their lord all that was done. Then his lord, after that he had 32 called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou [q]desiredst me: 33 shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellowservant, even as I had pity on thee? And his lord was wroth, 34 and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him. [s]So likewise shall my heavenly Father 35 do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

2 of Judea beyond Jordan; [d]and great multitudes followed him; and he healed 3 them there. The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man [e]to put away 4 his wife for every cause? And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that [f]he which made them at the beginning made them male and female, 5 and said, [g]For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and [h]they twain shall be one flesh? 6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. 7 They say unto him, [i]Why did Moses then command to give a writing of 8 divorcement, and to put her away? He saith unto them, Moses because of the [k]hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the be- 9 ginning it was not so. [l]And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put 10 away doth commit adultery. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That [g]a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven. And [h]again I say unto you, It is easier for a [i]camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved? But Jesus [k]beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is unpossible; but [l]with God all things are possible.

Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have [m]forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore? And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the [n]regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, [o]ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, [op]judging the twelve tribes of Israel. And every one that hath [m]forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life. But many that are [q]first shall be last; and the [r]last shall be first.

[a]For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into [aa]his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for [b]a [‖]penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace, and said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the [c]eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, [d]Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. So [e]when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his [f]steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny. But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny. And when they had received it, they murmured against [g]the goodman of the house, saying, These last [‖]have [h]wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and [i]heat of the day. But he answered one of them, and said, [j]Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny? Take [jj]that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee. [k]Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye [l]evil, because I am [m]good? So [n]the last shall be first, and the first last: [o]for many be called, but few chosen.

[p]And Jesus [pp]going up to Jerusalem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them, Behold, [q]we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be [r]betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall [r]deliver him [s]to the Gentiles to [t]mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and [u]the third day he shall rise again.

[w]Then came to him the mother of [x]Zebedee's children with her sons, [y]worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him. And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons [z]may sit, the one [zz]on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom. But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of [a]the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with [b]the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able. And he saith unto them, [c]Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, [d]but it shall be given to them for whom it is [e]prepared of my Father.

24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two 25 brethren. But Jesus called them unto him, and said, [f]Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles [g]exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise 26 authority upon them. But it shall not be so among you: but [h]whosoever will be great among you, let him be your 27 [i]minister; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant:
28 even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, [k]but to minister, and [l]to give his life a ransom for [m]many.
29 [n]And as they [nn]departed from [o]Jericho, a great multitude followed him.
30 And behold, [p]two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.
31 And the multitude rebuked them, [q]because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.
32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto 33 you? They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.
34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and [r]touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

And [a]when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to [b]Bethphage, unto [c]the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples, saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. [d]All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, [e]Tell ye the daughter of Sion, [f]Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass. And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him [g]thereon. And a very great multitude [h]spread their garments in the way; others [i]cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way. And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, [k]Hosanna to the Son of David: [l]Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the 10 Lord; [k]Hosanna [m]in the highest. [n]And when he was come into Jerusalem, [o]all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus [p]the prophet of [q]Nazareth of Galilee.
12 [r]And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the 13 [s]tables of the [t]moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold [u]doves, and said unto them, It is written, [x]My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it [y]a den of [yy]thieves.
14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them.
15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, [z]Hosanna to the Son of Da-
16 vid; they were sore displeased, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, [a]Out of the mouth of [b]babes and sucklings thou hast 17 [c]perfected praise? And he left them, and went out of the city into [d]Bethany; and he lodged there.
18 [e]Now in the morning as he returned
19 into the city, he hungered. And when he saw [f]a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away.
20 [f]And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig 21 tree withered away! Jesus answered and said unto them, [g]Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and [h]doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto [i]this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be 22 done. And [k]all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.
23 [l]And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, [m]By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave 24 thee this authority? And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority 25 I do these things. The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they [mm]reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him? But if we shall say, Of 26 men; [n]we fear the people; for all hold John as [o]a prophet. And they answered 27 Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. [p]But 28 what think you? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to day [q]in my vineyard. He answered and said, I will not: but 29 afterward he [r]repented, and went. And 30 he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not. Whether of them 31 twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That the [s]publicans and the [t]harlots go into the kingdom of God before you. For 32 John came unto you [u]in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the [x]publicans and the harlots [x]believed him: and ye, when ye had seen it, [q]repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.

Hear another parable: [y]There was a 33 certain householder, which planted [z]a vineyard, and [a]hedged it round about, and [a]digged a winepress in it, and [a]built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and [b]went into a far country: and when 34 the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, [c]that they might receive the fruits of it. And 35 the husbandmen took his servants, and [d]beat one, and [e]killed another, and [f]stoned another. Again, he sent [g]other 36 servants moe than the first: and they did unto them likewise. But last of all 37 he sent unto them his son, saying, They will [h]reverence my son. But when the 38 husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is [i]the heir; come, [j]let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance. [k]And they caught 39 him, and cast him [l]out of the vineyard, and slew him. When the lord therefore 40 of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen? They say 41 unto him, [m]He will miserably destroy those wicked men, [n]and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. Jesus saith unto them, Did ye 42 never read in the scriptures, [o]The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our 43 eyes? Therefore say I unto you, [p]The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth 44 the fruits thereof. And whosoever [q]shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, [r]it will grind 45 him to powder. And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of 46 them. But [s]when they sought to lay hands on him, [t]they feared the multitude, because they took him for [u]a prophet.

And Jesus [a]answered and spake unto XXII. 2 them again by parables, and said, [b]The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a [c]marriage for 3 his son, and sent forth his servants [d]to call them that were bidden to the wed- 4 ding: and they would not come. Again, he sent forth [e]other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my [f]dinner: [g]my oxen and my [h]fatlings are killed, and all things 5 are ready: come unto the marriage. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his 6 merchandise: and the remnant took his servants, and entreated them [i]spitefully, 7 and slew them. But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth [k]his armies, and destroyed those mur- 8 derers, and burnt up their city. Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were 9 not [l]worthy. Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, 10 bid to the marriage. So those servants went out into the *high*ways, and gathered together all as many as they found, [m]both bad and good: and the wedding 11 was furnished with guests. And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man [n]which had not on [o]a 12 wedding garment: and he saith unto him, [p]Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And 13 he [q]was speechless. Then said the king to the [r]servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and [s]cast him into outer darkness; there shall be weep- 14 ing and gnashing of teeth. [t]For many are called, but few are chosen.

[u] Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk. And they sent out unto him their disciples with the [x] Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for [y] thou regardest not the person of men. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give [z] tribute unto [a] Cesar, or not? But Jesus [b] perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye [c] hypocrites? Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a [‖] penny. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and [‖] superscription? They say unto him, Cesar's. Then saith he unto them, [d] Render therefore unto Cesar the things which are Cesar's; and unto God the things that are God's. When they had heard these words, they marvelled, [e] and left him, and went their way.

The same day came to him the [f] Sadducees, [g] which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him, saying, Master, Moses said, [h] If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother: likewise the second also, and the third, unto the [†] seventh. And last of all the woman died also. Therefore in the resurrection whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her. Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, [i] not knowing the scriptures, nor [j] the power of God. For in the resurrection [k] they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are [l] as the angels of God in heaven. But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, [m] I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. And when the multitude heard this, [n] they were astonished at his doctrine.

But when the Pharisees had heard that he had [o] put [p] the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together. Then one of them, which was [q] a lawyer, asked him a question, [q] tempting him, and saying, Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, [r] Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, [s] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang [t] all the law and the prophets.

While the Pharisees were gathered together, [u] Jesus asked them, saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, [x] The Son of David. He saith unto them, How then doth David [y] in spirit call him Lord, saying, [z] The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool? If David then call him Lord, how is he his son? [a] And no man was able to answer him a word, [b] neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any moe questions.

XXIII.

Then [a] spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples, Saying, [b] The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat: all therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for [c] they say, and do not. [cc] For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers. But all their works they do [d] for to be seen of men: they make broad [e] their phylacteries, and enlarge [f] the borders of their garments, and love [g] the uppermost rooms at feasts, and [h] the chief seats in the synagogues, and [gh] greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, [i] Rabbi, Rabbi. [k] But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your [l] Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren. And call [m] no man your father upon the earth: [n] for one is your Father, which is in heaven. Neither be ye called [o] masters: for one is your [o] Master, even Christ. But [p] he that is greatest among you shall be your [q] servant. And [r] whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

But [s] woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! [t] for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! [u] for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one [x]proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of [y]hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, [z]ye blind guides, which say, [a]Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor. 17 Ye [b]fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or [c]the temple that sanctifieth the gold? 18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by [d]the gift that is upon it, he is [‖]guilty. 19 Ye [c]fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or [f]the altar that sanctifieth the gift? 20 Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon. 21 And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by [g]him that dwelleth therein. 22 And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by [h]the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 [i]Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and [†]anise and cummin, and [k]have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. 24 [l]Ye blind guides, which strain out a gnat, and swallow [m]a camel.

25 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! [n]for ye make clean the outside of the [o]cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and [p]excess. 26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within the [o]cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 [q]Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto [r]whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of [s]all uncleanness. 28 Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 [t]Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and [u]garnish the sepulchres of the righteous, 30 and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. 31 Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that [x]ye are the children of them 32 which killed the prophets. [y]Fill ye 33 up then the [z]measure of your fathers. Ye serpents, ye [a]generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of [b]hell?

34 [c]Wherefore behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and [d]scribes: and [e]some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and [f]some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and [g]persecute them from city to city: 35 that [h]upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous [i]Abel unto the blood of [k]Zacharias son of [l]Barachias, whom ye slew between the [m]temple and the [n]altar. 36 Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

37 O [o]Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that [p]killest the prophets, and [p]stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have [q]gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens [r]under her wings, and ye would 38 not? Behold, your house is left unto 39 you desolate. For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, [s]Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

XXIV. And [a]Jesus went out, and [b]departed from the temple: and his disciples came 2 to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, [c]There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not 3 be thrown down. And as he sat upon [d]the mount of Olives, [e]the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of 4 [f]the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them, [g]Take heed 5 that no man deceive you. For [h]many shall come in my name, saying, I am 6 Christ; [i]and shall deceive many. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that [k]ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but 7 the end is not yet. For [l]nation shall rise against nation, and [m]kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be [n]famines, and pestilences, and earth- 8 quakes in divers places. All these are the beginning of [o]sorrows.

[p] Then shall they deliver you up [q] to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake. And then shall many [r] be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another. And many [s] false prophets shall rise, and [t] shall deceive many. And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. [u] But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. And this [x] gospel of the kingdom [y] shall be preached in all [z] the world [zz] for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by [a] Daniel the prophet, stand in [b] the holy place, ([c] whoso readeth, let him understand:) then let them which be in Judea flee into the mountains: [d] let him which is on the [e] housetop not come down to take any thing out of his house: neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes. And [f] woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days. But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day: for then shall be great [g] tribulation, [gb] such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except [i] those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for [k] the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. Then [l] if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not. For there shall arise false Christs, and [m] false prophets, and [n] shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very [k] elect. Behold, I have told you before. Wherefore if [o] they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in [p] the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the [q] secret chambers; believe it not. [r] For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. [s] For wheresoever the [ss] carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

Immediately after the [t] tribulation of those days [u] shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and [w] the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: and then [x] shall appear [y] the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall [z] all the tribes of [za] the earth mourn, and they shall see [b] the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with [bb] power and great glory. And [c] he shall send his angels [‖] with a great sound of a [d] trumpet, and they shall gather together his [e] elect from the four winds, [f] from one end of heaven to the other. Now learn a parable of the fig tree; When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh: so likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that [‖] it is near, even [g] at the doors. Verily I say unto you, [h] This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled. [i] Heaven and earth shall pass away, but [k] my words shall not pass away.

But of [l] that day and hour [m] knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, [n] but my Father only. But [o] as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For [p] as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, [q] marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. [r] Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. [s] Two women shall be grinding [t] at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left. [u] Watch therefore: [w] for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

But [x] know this, that if the [y] goodman of the house had known in what watch [z] the thief would come, he would have [u] watched, and would not have suffered his house to be [a] broken up. Therefore be ye also [b] ready: [w] for in such an hour as you think not the Son of man cometh. [c] Who then is a [df] faithful and [dd] wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? [e] Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. Verily I say unto you, That [f] he shall make him ruler over all his goods. [g] But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord [h] delayeth his coming; and shall begin to smite his fellowservants, and to eat and drink with the drunken; the lord of that ser-bridegroom. [c]And five of them were 2 [d]wise, and five were [e]foolish. They that 3 were [e]foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them: but the [d]wise took oil 4 in their vessels with their lamps. While 5 the bridegroom [f]tarried, they all [g]slumbered and [h]slept. And at midnight 6 there was [i]a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. Then all those virgins arose, and 7 [k]trimmed their lamps. And the [e]foolish 8 said unto the [d]wise, Give us of your oil;

for our lamps are [l]gone out. But the 9 [d]wise answered, saying, Not so; [l]lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. And while they went to 10 buy, the bridegroom came; and [m]they that were ready went in with him to the [n]marriage: and [o]the door was shut. Af- 11 terward came also the other virgins, saying, [o][p]Lord, Lord, open to us. But he 12 answered and said, Verily I say unto you, [q]I know you not. [r]Watch there- 13 fore, [r]for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.

[s]For [t]the kingdom of heaven is [t]as a 14 man [u]travelling into a far country, who called his [y]own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one he 15 gave five [l]talents, to another two, and to another one; [x]to every man according to his [y]several ability; and straightway [u]took his journey. Then he that had re- 16 ceived the five talents went and [z]traded with the same, and made them other five talents. And likewise he that had re- 17 ceived two, he also gained other two.
But he that had received one went and 18 digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money. After a long time the lord of 19 those servants cometh, and [a]reckoneth with them. And so he that had received 20 five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained besides them five talents moe.
His lord said unto him, Well done, thou 21 good and faithful servant: thou hast been [aa]faithful over a few things, [b]I will make thee ruler over many things: enter 22 thou into [c]the joy of thy lord. He also that had received two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two 23 other talents besides them. His lord said unto him, [d]Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the 24 joy of thy lord. Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, [e]I knew thee that thou art a [f]hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not straw-25 ed: and I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou 26 hast [g]that is thine. His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and [h]slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather 27 where I have not strawed: thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the [i]exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with 28 usury. Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath 29 ten talents. [k]For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he 30 hath. And [l]cast ye the [m]unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 [n]When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the [o]holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of 32 his glory: and [p]before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall [q]separate them one from another, as a shepherd [q]divideth his [r]sheep from the goats: 33 and he shall set the sheep [s]on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall [t]the King say unto [u]them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, [w]inherit [x]the kingdom [y]prepared for you [z]from the foundation of 35 the world: [a]for I was a hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was [b]a stranger, and 36 ye [c]took me in: [d]naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye [e]visited me: [f]I

XXVI. And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples, [a]Ye know that after two 2 days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.
[b]Then assembled together the chief 3 priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the [c]palace of the high priest, who was called [d]Caiaphas, and consulted that they might take Je- 4 sus by subtilty, and kill him. But they 5 said, Not on the feast day, lest there be [dd]an uproar among the people.

Now when Jesus was in [f]Bethany, 6 in the house of Simon the leper, there 7 came unto him a woman having [g]an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on [h]his head, as he sat at meat. But when [i]his disciples saw it, 8 they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste? For this oint- 9 ment might have been sold for [j]much, and given to the poor. When Jesus un- 10 derstood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me. For 11 [k]ye have the poor always with you; but [l]me ye have not always. For in that 12 she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my [m]burial. Verily 13
I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told [n]for a memorial of her.

[o]Then one of the twelve, called [p]Ju- 14
das Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, and said unto them, [q]What will ye give 15
me, and I will deliver him unto you?
And they [r]covenanted with him for [s]thirty pieces of silver. And from that 16 time he sought opportunity to betray him.

[t]Now [u]the first day of the feast of un- 17 leavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover? And he said, Go into the city 18 [w]to such a man, and say unto him, [x]The Master saith, [y]My time is at hand; I will [z]keep the passover at thy house with my disciples. And the disciples 19 did as Jesus had [a]appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

Now [b]when the even was come, [c]he 20 sat down with the twelve. And as they 21 did eat, he said, [d]Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. And 22 they were exceeding sorrowful, and [dd]began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I? And he answered and 23 said, [e]He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me. [f]The Son of man goeth [g]as it is 24 written of him: but [fh]woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed: it [i]had been good for that man if he had not been born. Then Judas, which be- 25 trayed him, [k]answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, [l]Thou hast said.

[ll]And as they were eating, Jesus took 26 bread, and [l]blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; [m]this is my body. And he took the 27 cup, and [n]gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; for 28 [m]this is my [o]blood of the [p]new testament, which is shed for [q]many [r]for the remission of sins. But [s]I say unto you, 29
I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you [t]in my Father's kingdom.

[u] And when they had sung a ‖hymn, [w] they went out into [x] the mount of Olives. Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be [y] offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will [z] smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock [a] shall be scattered abroad. But after I am risen again, [b] I will go before you into Galilee. Peter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, [c] yet will I never be offended. Jesus said unto him, [d] Verily I say unto thee, That this night, [e] before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. Peter said unto him, [f] Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

[g] Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called [h] Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder. And he took with him Peter and [i] the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and [j] very heavy. Then saith he unto them, [k] My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and [l] watch with me. And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and [m] prayed, saying, [n] O my Father, if it be possible, let this [o] cup pass from me: nevertheless [p] not as I will, [q] but as thou wilt. And [r] he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, [s] What, could ye not [l] watch with me one hour? [t] Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: [u] the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, [p] if this [o] cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, [q] thy will be done. And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were [x] heavy. And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words. Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on [y] now, and take your rest: behold, [z] the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

[a] And while he yet spake, lo, [b] Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and [c] staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. Now he that betrayed him [d] gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he: hold him fast. And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, [e] master; and [f] kissed him. And Jesus said unto him, [g] Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. And behold, [h] one of them which were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew [i] his sword, and stroke [j] a servant of the high priest's, and smote off his ear. Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: for [k] all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me [l] more than twelve [m] legions of angels? But how then shall [n] the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be? In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a [o] thief with swords and [c] staves for to take me? I [p] sat daily with you [q] teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me. But all this was done, that the [n] scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then [r] all the disciples [rr] forsook him, and fled.

[s] And they that had laid hold on Jesus led him away to [t] Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled. But Peter followed him afar off unto the high priest's [t] palace, and went in, and sat with the [u] servants, to see the end. Now the chief priests, and elders, and all [x] the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death; but found none: yea, though many [y] false witnesses came, yet [z] found they none. At the last came [a] two false witnesses, and said, This fellow said, [b] I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it [c] in three days. And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? But [d] Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, [e] I adjure thee by [f] the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, [g] the Son of God. Jesus saith unto him, [h] Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, [i] Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting [k] on the right hand of [kk] power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. Then the high priest [l] rent

XXVII. [a]When the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people [b]took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: and when they had bound 2 him, [c]they led him away, and [d]delivered him to [e]Pontius Pilate [f]the governor.

[g]Then Judas, which had betrayed him, 3 when he saw that he was condemned, [h]repented himself, and brought again [g]the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, I have sinned 4 in that I have betrayed the [i]innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. And he cast down 5 the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and [k]hanged himself. And the chief priests took the 6 silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the [l]treasury, because it is the price of blood. And they [b]took 7 counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Where- 8 fore that field was called, [m]The field of blood, [mm]unto this day. Then was ful- 9 filled that which was spoken by [n]Jeremie the prophet, saying, [o]And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, [‖]whom they of the children of 10 Israel did value; and gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord [p]appointed me.

11 And Jesus stood before the governor: [q]and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And 12 Jesus said unto him, [r]Thou sayest. And when he was accused of the chief priests 13 and elders, [s]he answered nothing. Then said Pilate unto him, [t]Hearest thou not how many things they witness against 14 thee? And he answered him [s]to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.

15 [u]Now at that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people [x]a pri- 16 soner, whom they would. And they had then a [y]notable prisoner, called Barab- 17 bas. Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? 18 For he knew that for envy they had 19 delivered him. When he was set down on [z]the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, [a]Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day [b]in a dream be- 20 cause of him. But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude [c]that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. 21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barab- 22 bas. Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him 23 be crucified. And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be 24 crucified. When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather [d]a tumult was made, he [e]took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am [f]innocent of the blood of 25 this just person: see ye to it. Then answered all the people, and said, [g]His blood be on us, and on our children. 26 Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had [h]scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.

27 Then [i]the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the [‖]common hall, and

him they s compelled to bear his cross.

t And when they were come unto a 33

Now r from the sixth hour there was 45 darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour. And about s the ninth hour Jesus 46
t cried with a loud voice, saying, ELI, ELI, LAMA SABACHTHANI? that is to say, u My God, my God, why hast

47 thou forsaken me? Some of them

48 said, This man calleth for Elias. And

49 z The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.
50 Jesus, when he had t cried again with 51 a loud voice, a yielded up the ghost.

And behold, b the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and c the earth did quake, and the 52 rocks rent; and the graves were opened;
and many bodies of saints d which slept 53 arose, and came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into e the holy 54 city, and appeared unto many. Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, f watching Jesus, saw c the earthquake, and g those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, h Truly 55 this was the Son of God. And i many k which followed Jesus from Galilee, 56 l ministering unto him: among which was Mary m Magdalene, and n Mary the mother of o James and Joses, and p the mother of Zebedee's children.

57 q When the even was come, there came a rich man of r Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' s dis-58 ciple: he went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then t Pilate command-59 ed the body to be delivered. And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped 60 it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it u in 62 Now the next day, that followed the

63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that a deceiver said, while he was yet alive, b After 64 three days I will rise again. Command therefore that the sepulchre be made made the sepulchre sure, [d]sealing [e]the stone, and setting [c]a watch.

XXVIII. [a]In the end of the sabbath, [b]as it began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came [b]Mary Magdalene and [c]the other Mary to see the sepulchre. And behold, there [‖]was [d]a great earthquake: for [e]the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back [f]the stone from the door, and sat upon it. [g]His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment [h]white as snow: and for fear of him [i]the keepers did shake, and became as dead men. And the angel [j]answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here: for he is risen, [k]as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay. And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and behold, [l]he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you. And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with [m]fear and great joy; and [n]did run to bring his disciples word. And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met [o]them, saying, All hail. And they came and [p]held him by the feet, and [q]worshipped him. Then said Jesus unto them, [r]Be not afraid: go tell [s]my brethren [l]that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

Now when they were going, behold, some of [t]the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done. And when they were assembled with the elders, and had [u]taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. And if this come to the [w]governor's ears, we will [x]persuade him, and secure you. So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is [y]commonly reported among the Jews [z]until this day.

Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain [a]where Jesus had [b]appointed them. And when they saw him, they [q]worshipped him: but [c]some [d]doubted. And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, [e]All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. [f]Go ye therefore, [g]and [‖]teach all nations, [f]baptizing them [h]in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, [i]I am with you alway, even unto [k]the end of the world. †S. MARK.

I. A. D. 26, ending.

THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, [a]the Son of God; [b]as it is written in the prophets, [c]Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. [d]The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance [e]for the remission of sins. And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins. And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey; and preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the [f]latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose. I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.

[g]And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from [h]Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan. And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens [i]opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him: and there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

And immediately [j]the Spirit [k]driveth him into the wilderness. And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

[l]Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching [m]the gospel of the kingdom of God, and saying, [n]The time is fulfilled, and [o]the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.

Now [p]as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers. And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him. And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets. And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

A. D. 31.

And [q]they went into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered [r]into the synagogue, and taught. And [s]they were astonished at his doctrine: [s]for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes. And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, saying, Let us alone; [t]what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? [u]I know thee who thou art, [v]the Holy One of God. And Jesus [w]rebuked him, [x]saying, [y]Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the unclean spirit had [z]torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him. And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him. And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.

[a]And forthwith, when they were come [b]out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. But Simon's wife's 30 mother lay sick of a fever, and [c]anon they tell him of her. And he came and 31 took her by the hand, and lift her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them. And at even, 32 [d]when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils. And all [e]the city was gathered together 33 at the door. And [f]he healed many 34 that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and [g]suffered not the devils ‖to speak, because they knew him.

[h]And in the morning, rising up a 35 great while before day, he went out, and [i]departed into a solitary place, and [i]there prayed. And Simon and they 36 that were with him followed after him. And when they had found him, they 37 said unto him, All men seek for thee. And he said unto them, Let us go into 38 the next towns, that I may preach there also: for [k]therefore came I forth. And 39 he preached [l]in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.

[m]And there came a leper to him, be- 40 seeching him, and [n]kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus, 41 moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean. And as 42 soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed. And he [o]straitly charged 43 him, and forthwith [p]sent him away; and 44 saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. [q]But he 45 went out, and began to publish it much, and [r]to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus [s]could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: [t]and they came to him from every quarter.

II.

And again he entered into [a]Capernaum [b]after some days; and it was noised that 2
he was [bb]in the house. And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was [c]no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them. [d]And 3 they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.

And when they could not come nigh 4 unto him for the press, [e]they [f]uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay. When 5 Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins [g]be forgiven thee. But there were certain 6 of the scribes sitting there, and [h]rea- 7 soning in their hearts, Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? [i]who can forgive sins but God only? And imme- 8 diately, when Jesus perceived in his spirit that they so [h]reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?
Whether is it easier to say to the sick 9 of the palsy, Thy sins [g]be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk? But that ye may know that 10 the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take 11 up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house. And immediately he arose, took 12 up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all [j]amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

And he went forth again by the sea 13 side; and [k]all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them. [l]And 14
as he passed by, he saw [m]Levi the son of Alpheus sitting ‖at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me.
And he arose and followed him. And 15 it came to pass, that as Jesus sat at meat [n]in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him. And when the 16 scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners? When Jesus heard it, he saith 17 unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

[o]And the disciples of John and of the 18 Pharisees used to fast: and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not? And Jesus said 19 unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

and the whole multitude was by the sea

in his doctrine, Hearken; Behold, there 3 went out a sower to sow: and it came 4 to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the

when it is sown in the earth, is less than 32 all the seeds that be in the earth: but when it is sown, it groweth up, and be-cometh [u]greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the 35 [z]And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side. [y] And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even [z] as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships. And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full. And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish? And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, [a] be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that you have no faith? And they [b] feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

V. And they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the [a] Gadarenes. And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs [b] a man with an unclean spirit, who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains: because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him. And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones. But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and [c] worshipped him, and cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of [d] the most high God? I [e] adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not. For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit. And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is [f] Legion: for we are many. And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country. Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding. And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand,) and were choked in the sea. And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And [ff] they went out to see what it was that was done. And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the [f] legion, sitting, and [g] clothed, and [h] in his right mind: and they were afraid. And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine. And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts. And when he was come into the ship, [i] he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him. Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee. And he departed, and began to publish in [k] Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

[l] And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him: and he was nigh unto the sea. [m] And behold, there cometh one of [n] the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet, and besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and [nn] lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live. And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him. And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years, and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, when she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment. For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole. And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that [o] plague. And Jesus immediately knowing in himself that [p] virtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes? And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing. But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told came from [n]the ruler of the synagogue's any further? As soon as Jesus heard 36

[n]the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

And when he was come in, he saith 39 unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to 40 scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and [u]them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying. And he took the damsel by 41
the hand, and said unto her, [x]TALITHA CUMI; which is, being interpreted, Damsel (I say unto thee) arise. And straight- 42 way the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were [yy]astonished with a great astonishment. And [z]he charged them straitly 43 that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

VI.

And [a]he went out from thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him. And when the 2 sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands? Is not this [b]the 3 carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and Joses, and of Juda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him. But Jesus said unto them, A pro- 4 phet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house. And [c]he could 5 there do no mighty work, save that he [cc]laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them. And he [d]marvelled be- 6 cause of their unbelief. [e]And he went round about the villages, teaching.

[f]And he calleth unto him the twelve, 7 and began to send them forth [ff]by two and two; and gave them power [f]over 8 unclean spirits; and commanded them that [g]they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no 9 bread, no [h]money in their purse: but be [h]shod with sandals; [i]and not put on two 10 coats. And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart from that place. And 11 whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust under your feet [k]for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom [l]and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city. And they went out, 12 and [l]preached that men should repent.
And they cast out many devils, and 13
[m]anointed with oil many that were sick, and [l]healed them.

And [n]king Herod heard of him; (for 14 his name was spread abroad:) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.
[p]Others said, That it is Elias. And others 15 said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets. But when Herod heard thereof, 16
he said, It is John, whom I beheaded:
he is risen from the dead. For Herod 17 himself *had sent forth and [q]laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife:
for he had married her. For John had 18 said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. Therefore 19 Herodias had [ll]a quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could not: for Herod feared John, knowing 20 that he was a just man and a holy, and [lr]observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him [s]gladly. *And when a convenient day 21 was come, that Herod on his birthday [t]made a supper to his lords, [u]high captains, and [x]chief estates of [y]Galilee; and 22
when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him, [o]the king

And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou 23 shall I ask? And she said, The head of and asked, saying, I will that thou give me [b] by and by in a charger the head of John the Baptist. And the king was exceeding sorry; yet for his oaths' sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not [bb] reject her. And immediately the king sent [i] an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison, and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel: and the damsel gave it to her mother. And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his [c] corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

[d] And [de] the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught. And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while: for there were many coming and going, and [f] they had no leisure so much as to eat.

[g] And they departed into a desert place [h] by ship privately. And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him. [i] And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, [j] because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and [k] he began to teach them many things. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed: send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat. He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And [l] they say unto him, [m] Shall we go and buy two hundred [l] pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat? He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes. And he commanded them to make all sit down [n] by companies upon the green grass. And they sat down [n] in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties. And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all. And they did all eat, and were filled. And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes. And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

[o] And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into [p] the ship, and to go to the other side before [l] unto [q] Bethsaida, while he sent away the people. And when he had [r] sent them away, he departed into a mountain [s] to pray. And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land. And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and [t] would have passed by them. But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out: for they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid. And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves [u] beyond measure, and wondered. For they [x] considered not the miracle of the loaves: for their heart was [y] hardened.

And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Genesaret, and drew to the shore. And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him, and ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was. And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched [l] him were made whole.

Then [a] came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jerusalem. And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with [l] defiled, that is to say, [b] with unwashen, hands, they found fault. For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands [l] oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders. And when they come from the market, except they [c] wash, they eat not. scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread [b]with unwashen hands? He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, [c]This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as [f]the washing of pots and cups: [g]and many other such like things ye do. And he said unto them, Full well ye [‖h]reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. For Moses said, [hh]Honour thy father and thy mother; and, [i]Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death. But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is [ii]Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free. And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother; making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: [g]and many such like things do ye.

And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand: There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man. [j]If any man have ears to hear, let him hear. And when he was entered [k]into the house from the people, [l]his disciples asked him concerning the parable. And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him; because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats? And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, [†n]covetousness, [n]wickedness, deceit, [o]lasciviousness, [p]an evil eye, blasphemy, [q]pride, [r]foolishness: all these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of [x]Tyre and Sidon, and entered into a house, and would have no man know it: but he could not be hid. For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet: the woman was a [‖]Greek, a [s]Syrophenician by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter. But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs. And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs. And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter. And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter [t]laid upon the bed.

[u]And again, departing from the coasts of [x]Tyre and Sidon, he came unto [y]the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of [z]Decapolis. And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and [a]had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him [aa]to put his hand upon him. And he [b]took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he [c]spit, and [d]touched his tongue; and [e]looking up to heaven, [f]he sighed, and saith unto him, [g]EPHPHATHA, that is, Be opened. [h]And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. And he [i]charged them that they should tell no man: [k]but the more he [i]charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it; and were [l]beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

In those days [a]the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them, [b]I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat: and if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far. And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness? And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven. And he commanded the people them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. And Peter answered and said to Jesus, [cc] Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. [d] For he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid. And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him. And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

[e] And as they came down from the mountain, he [f] charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead. And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean. And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes that Elias must first come? And he answered and told them, Elias verily cometh first, and restoreth all things; and [g] how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and [h] be set at nought. But I say unto you, That Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.

[i] And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the [l] scribes questioning with them. And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were [k] greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him. And he asked the scribes, What question ye [l] with [l] them? And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit: and wheresoever he taketh him, he [l] teareth him: and he [m] foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they could not. He answereth him, and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me. And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit [n] tare him; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed [m] foaming. And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child. And ofttimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us. Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; [o] help thou mine unbelief. When Jesus saw that the people came [p] running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. And the spirit cried, and [n] rent him sore, and came out of him: and he was as one dead; insomuch that many said, He is dead. But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up; and he arose. And when he was come [q] into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out? And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

And they departed thence, [r] and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day. [s] But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

[t] And he came to Capernaum: and being in the house he asked them, What was it that ye [u] disputed [w] among yourselves by the way? But they held their peace: for by the way [x] they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest. And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, [y] If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and [z] servant of all. And [a] he took a child, and set him in the midst of them: and when [a] he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them, Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me: and [b] whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

[c] And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us: and [d] we forbad him, because he followeth not us. But Jesus said, Forbid him not: [e] for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me. For [f] he that is not against us is on our part.

or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, they followed, they were afraid. And away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus. And Jesus answered and said 51 him, [k]Lord, that I might receive my that the Lord hath need of him; and straightway he will send him hither.

And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without in a place where two ways met; and they loose him. And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt? And they said unto them even as Jesus had com-

they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him; and he sat upon him. And many spread their garments branches off the trees, and strawed them in the way. And they that went saying, Hosanna; [f]Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: Blessed be the kingdom of our father David, that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest. [g]And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple: and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come, he went out unto [b]Bethany with the twelve.

[h]And on the morrow, when they were come from [b]Bethany, he was hungry: and seeing a [i]fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet. And Jesus answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. [j]And his disciples heard it.

[k]And they come to Jerusalem: and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves; and would not suffer that any man should carry any [l]vessel through the temple. And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, [m]My house shall be called [l]of all nations the house of prayer? but ye have made it [n]a den of thieves. [o]And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because [p]all the people was astonished at his doctrine. And when even was come, he went out of the city.

[q]And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw [r]the fig tree dried up from the roots. And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. And Jesus answering saith unto them, [l][s]Have faith in God. For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith. Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them. And when ye [t]stand praying, [u]forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses. [x]But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

And they come again to Jerusalem: [y]and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders, and say unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority to do these things? And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one [l]question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me. And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him? But if we shall say, Of men; they feared the people: for all men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed. And they answered and said unto Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

And [a]he began to speak unto them by parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country. And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard. And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty. And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled. And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some. Having yet therefore one son, [b]his wellbeloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son. But those husbandmen said amongst themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard. [c]What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others. And have ye not read this scripture; [d]The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:

this was the Lord's doing, and it 11 is marvellous in our eyes? [e]And they 12 sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: [f]and they left him, and went their way.

[g]And they send unto him certain of 13 the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to [gg]catch him in his words. And when 14 they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God [h]in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Cesar, or not? Shall we give, or shall we not 15 give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why [i]tempt ye me? bring me a [ll]penny, that I may see it. And they brought it. And he saith 16 unto them, Whose is this image and [j]superscription? And they said unto him, Cesar's. And Jesus answering said 17 unto them, Render to Cesar the things that are Cesar's, and to God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him.

Then come unto him the Sadducees, 18 which say there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying, Master, Moses 19 wrote unto us, [k]If a man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. Now 20 there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed. And the second took her, and died, 21 neither left he any seed: and the third likewise. And the seven had her, and 22 left no seed: last of all the woman died also. In the resurrection therefore, when 23 they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife. And Jesus answering said unto them, 24 Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God? For when they shall 25 rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but are as the angels which are in heaven. And 26 as touching the dead, that they rise: have ye not read in the book of Moses, how [l]in the bush God spake unto him, saying, [m]I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is not the God of the 27 dead, but the God of the living: ye therefore do greatly err.

28 And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them [mm]well, asked him, Which is the 29 first commandment of all? And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, [n]Hear, O Israel; The 30 Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first com- 31 mandment. And the second is like, namely this, [o]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. 32 And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said [p]the truth: for there is one God; [q]and there is none 33 other but he: and to love him with all the heart, and with all [r]the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, [s]is more than all [t]whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. 34 And when Jesus [u]saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. [x]And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 [y]And Jesus answered and said, [z]while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the Son of David? 36 For David himself said by the Holy Ghost, [a]The LORD said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool. 37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people [b]heard him gladly.

38 [c]And he said unto them in his doctrine, [d]Beware of the scribes, which love to go in [e]long clothing, and love [fg]salu- 39 tations in the marketplaces, and [f]the chief seats in the synagogues, and [fg]the 40 uppermost rooms at feasts: [h]which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

41 [i]And Jesus sat over against [k]the treasury, and beheld how the people cast [ll]money [l]into the treasury: and many 42 that were rich cast in much. And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two [ll]mites, which make [m]a 43 farthing. And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That [n]this poor widow

XIII.

And [a]as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here. And Jesus answering said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives over against the temple, [b]Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him privately, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled? And Jesus answering them began to say, [c]Take heed lest any man deceive you: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am [d] Christ; and shall deceive many. And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for [e] such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of [l] sorrows.

But [c]take heed to yourselves: [f]for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them. [g] And the gospel must first be published among all nations. But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, [h]take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then let them that be in Judea flee to the mountains: and let him that is on the housetop not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house: and let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment. But woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days. And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter. For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be. And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days. And then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or lo, he is there; believe him not: for false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew [i]signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect. But [c]take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven. Now learn a parable of the fig tree; When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near: so ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that [j]it is nigh, even at the doors. Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done. Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.

But of that day and that hour knoweth [jj]no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, [k]neither the Son, but the Father. [c]Take ye heed, [l]watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. For the Son of man is [m]as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to [n]watch. [n]Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, [o]at even, or at midnight, or at the [p]cockcrowing, or [o]in

For it might have been 5 sold for more than three hundred [l]pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her. And Jesus 6 said, Let her alone; why trouble you her? she hath wrought a good work on me. For ye have the poor with you always, 7 and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always. ing, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour? Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into 38 temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak. And again he went 39 away, and prayed, and spake [t]the same words. And when he returned, he found 40 them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) [u]neither wist they what to answer him. And he cometh the third time, 41 and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, [x]the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. Rise 42 up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

[y]And immediately, while he yet spake, 43 cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. And he that 44 betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely. And as soon as he was come, 45 he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, master; and kissed him. And 46 they laid their hands on him, and took him. And one of them that stood by 47 drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear. And 48 Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me? I 49 was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled. And they all 50 forsook him, and fled. And there fol- 51 lowed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the [z]young men laid hold on him: and he left the linen cloth, and fled 52 from them naked.

[a]And they led Jesus away to the high 53 priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes. And Peter followed him afar 54 off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and [b]warmed himself at the fire. And 55 the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none. For 56 many bare false witness against him, but their witness [d]agreed not together. And 57 there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, We heard him 58 say, [e]I will destroy this temple [f]that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another [g]made without 59 hands. But neither so did their witness [d]agree together. And the high priest 60 stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? But 61 he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? And Jesus said, I 62 am: [h]and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. Then 63 the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses? Ye 64 have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death. And some began to 65 spit on him, and [i]to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, [j]Prophesy: and the servants did [k]strike him with the palms of their hands.

[l]And as Peter was beneath in the 66 palace, there cometh [m]one of the maids of the high priest: and when she saw 67 [n]Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth. But he denied, 68 saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch; [o]and the cock crew. And [p]a maid saw him again, and began 69 to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. And he denied it again. 70 And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art [q]a Galilean, and [r]thy speech agreeth thereto. But he 71 began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak. [s]And the second time the cock crew. 72 And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And [‖]when he thought thereon, he wept.

And [a]straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole [b]council, and bound Jesus, and [c]carried him away, and delivered him to 2 Pilate. [d]And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest 3 it. And the chief priests accused him of many things: but he answered no- 4 thing. THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

† See Col. 4. 14.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order [a]a declaration of those things which are [b]most surely believed among us, even as [c]they delivered them unto us, which [d]from the beginning were [e]eyewitnesses, and [f]ministers of the [g]word; [h]it seemed good to me also, [i]having had perfect understanding of all things [k]from the very first, to write unto thee [l]in order, [m]most excellent [n]Theophilus, [o]that thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast [p]been instructed.

*There was [q]in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, [r]of the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both [s]righteous before God, [t]walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord [u]blameless. And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was [x]barren, and [y]they both were now [z]well stricken in years. And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God [a]in the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was [b]to burn incense when he went into [c]the temple of the Lord. And [d]the whole multitude of the people were [e]praying [d]without at the time of incense. And there appeared unto him [ee]an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of [f]the altar of incense. And when Zacharias saw him, [g]he was troubled, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and [h]thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall [i]rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and [j]shall drink [k]neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled [k]with the Holy Ghost, even [l]from his mother's womb. And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God. [m]And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to [n]turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient [‖]to the wisdom of the just; [o]to make ready a people [p]prepared for the Lord. And Zacharias said unto the angel, [q]Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife [r]well stricken in years. And the angel answering said unto him, I am [s]Gabriel, [t]that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings. And behold, [u]thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in [c]the temple. And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in [c]the temple: for [x]he beckoned unto them, and remained [x]speechless. And it came to pass that, as soon as [y]the days of his [z]ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house. And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and [a]hid herself five months, saying, Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he [b]looked on me, to [c]take away my reproach among men.

And in [d]the sixth month the angel

[c] Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named [f] Nazareth, to a virgin 27
[g] espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, [h] of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. And the 28 angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, [i] thou that art [l] highly favoured, [l] the Lord is with thee: [m] blessed art thou among women. And when she saw him, 29 [n] she was troubled at his saying, and [nn] cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be. And the angel 30 said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast [o] found favour with God. And 31 behold, [p] thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and [q] shalt call his name JESUS. He shall be 32 great, and shall be called the Son of [r] the Highest: and the Lord God shall [s] give unto him [t] the throne of his father David: and he shall reign over the 33 house of Jacob [u] for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. Then 34 said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered and said unto 35 her, [x] The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of [r] the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also [y] that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called [z] the Son of God. And behold, thy [a] cousin Elisabeth, she 36 hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her, who was called [b] barren. For [c] with 37
God nothing shall be unpossible. And 38
Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; [d] be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

And Mary arose in those days, and 39 went into [e] the hill country [f] with haste, into [e] a city of Juda; and entered into 40 the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth. And it came to pass that, when 41 Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth [g] was filled with the Holy Ghost: and she spake out with a loud voice, 42 and said, [h] Blessed art thou [i] among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. And [j] whence is this to me, 43 that the mother of [jj] my Lord should come to me? For lo, as soon as the 44 voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. And [k] blessed is she [l] that be- 45 lieved: [kk] for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

And Mary said, 46
[l] My soul doth [m] magnify the Lord,
And [n] my spirit hath rejoiced in [o] God 47
my Saviour.
For [p] he hath regarded the low estate 48
of his handmaiden:
For behold, from henceforth [q] all generations shall [r] call me blessed.
For he that is mighty [s] hath done to 49
me [t] great things;
And [u] holy is his name.
And [x] his mercy is on them that fear 50 him
From generation to generation.
[y] He hath shewed strength with his 51 arm;
[z] He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
[a] He hath put down [b] the mighty from 52
their seats,
And exalted them of low degree.
[c] He hath filled the hungry with good 53 things;
And the rich he hath [d] sent empty away.
He hath [e] holpen his servant Israel, 54
[f] In remembrance of his mercy,
(As he spake to our fathers), 55
To Abraham, and to his seed for ever.
And Mary abode with her about three 56 months, and returned to her own house.
Now Elisabeth's full time came that 57 she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. And [h] her neighbours and 58 her [i] cousins heard how the Lord had [k] shewed great mercy upon her; and [l] they rejoiced with her. And it came 59 to pass, that [m] on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and [n] they called him Zacharias, after the name of 60 his father. And his mother answered and said, Not so; but [o] he shall be 61 called John. And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. And they [p] made 62 signs to his father, how he would have him called. And he asked for a writing 63 table, and wrote, saying, [q] His name is John. And they marvelled all. [r] And 64 his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue [s] loosed, and he spake, and [t] praised God. And [u] fear came on all 65 that dwelt round about them: and all these [l] sayings were noised abroad throughout all [v] the hill country of Ju-should be ‖ taxed. (And this [c] taxing

And Joseph also [e] went up from [f] Gali-

Judea, unto [g] the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; ([h] because he was of the house and lineage of David:) to be ‖ taxed with Mary [i] his espoused

it was that, [k] while they were there, the

be delivered. And she brought forth [l] her firstborn son, and [m] wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a [n] manger; because there was no room for them in the [o] inn. And there were the Lord [p] came upon them, and the [q] glory of the Lord shone round about them: and [r] they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For [s] unto you is born this day [t] in the city of David [u] a Saviour, which is [x] Christ [y] the Lord. And this shall be [z] a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe [m] wrapped in swaddling clothes,

there was with the angel [a] a multitude [b] of the heavenly host [c] praising God, and saying,

[d] Glory to God [e] in the highest,
And on earth [f] peace,
[g] Good will towards men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, [f] the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto [h] Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a [n] manger. And when they

it wondered at those things which were returned, [l]glorifying and [c]praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

[m]And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called [n]JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

And when [o]the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, [p]they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord; (as it is written in the law of the Lord, [q]Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;) and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, [r]A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and [s]devout, [t]waiting for the [u]consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him. And it was [x]revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not [y]see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ. And he came [z]by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, [a]to do for him after the custom of the law, then took he him up in his arms, and [b]blessed God, and said,

[c]Lord, now [d]lettest thou thy servant depart
In peace, [e]according to thy word:
For mine eyes [f]have seen thy salvation,
[g]Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;
[h]A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory [i]of thy people Israel.

And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him. And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child [k]is set for the [l]fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign [m]which shall be spoken against; (yea, a [n]sword shall pierce through thy own soul also,) that [o]the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of [p]Aser: she [q]was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity; and she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but [s]served God with [r]fastings and [r]prayers [s]night and day. And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that [t]looked for [u]redemption in [‖]Jerusalem. And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into [w]Galilee, to [x]their own city Nazareth. [y]And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.

Now his parents went to Jerusalem [z]every year [a]at the feast of the passover. And when he was twelve years old, [b]they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast. And when they had fulfilled [c]the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it. But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him [d]among their kinsfolk and [dd]acquaintance. And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him. And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, [e]sitting in the midst of the [f]doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. And [g]all that heard him [h]were astonished at his [i]understanding and answers. And when they saw him, they were [g]amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, [k]thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing. And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about [k]my Father's business? And [l]they understood not the saying which he spake unto them. And he went down with them, and came to [m]Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother [n]kept all these sayings in her heart. And Jesus [o]increased in wisdom and [‖]stature, and [q]in favour with God and man.

III.

Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of [a]Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate [b]being governor of Judea, and [c]Herod being [d]tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother [e]Philip tetrarch of Iturea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the tetrarch of Abilene, [f]Annas and [g]Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto [h]John [i]the son of Zacharias [j]in the wilderness. And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance [k]for the remission of sins; as it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying, [l]The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth; [m]and all flesh shall see [mm]the salvation of God. Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore fruits ‖worthy of repentance, and [n]begin not to say within yourselves, We have [nn]Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

And the people asked him, saying, [o]What shall we do then? He answereth and saith unto them, [p]He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise. Then came also [q]publicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, [o]what shall we do? And he said unto them, [r]Exact no more than that which is appointed you. And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, [o]And what shall we do? And he said unto them, ‖Do violence to no man, neither [s]accuse any falsely; and be content with your ‖[t]wages.

And as the people were ‖in expectation, and all men ‖mused in their hearts of John, [u]whether he were the Christ, or not; John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the [x]latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, and he will throughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his [y]garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable. And many other things in his exhortation preached he unto the people. [z]But [a]Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother [a]Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

Now when all the people were baptized, [b]it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and [c]praying, the heaven was opened, and the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased. IV.

And [a]Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost [b]returned from Jordan, and was led [c]by the Spirit into the wilderness, [d]being forty days tempted of the devil. 2 And in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungered. And the devil said unto 3 him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread. And Jesus answered him, saying, It is 4 written, That [dd]man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God. [e]And the devil, taking him up 5 into a high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of [f]the world in a moment of time. And the devil said unto 6 him, All this [g]power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for [g]that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it. If thou therefore wilt 7 [l]worship me, all shall be thine. And 8 Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, [h]Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. [i]And he brought him to Jeru- 9 salem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence: for it is written, [k]He shall 10 give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee: and in their hands they 11 shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. And Jesus answering said unto him, It 12 is said, [l]Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. And when the devil 13 had ended all the temptation, he departed from him [m]for a season.

*[n]And Jesus returned [o]in the power of 14 the Spirit into [p]Galilee: [q]and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. And [r]he taught in their 15 synagogues, being [s]glorified of all. †[t]And 16 he came to [u]Nazareth, [x]where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, [r]he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and [y]stood up for to read. [z]And there was delivered unto 17 him the book of the prophet Esaias.

And when he had [a]opened the book, he found the place where it was written, 18 [b]The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, [c]and recovering of sight to the blind, [d]to set at liberty them
19 that are bruised, [b]to preach the [e]ac-
20 ceptable year of the Lord. And he [a]closed the book, and he gave it again to the [f]minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were [g]fastened on him.
21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your 22 ears. And all bare him witness, and wondered at the [h]gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they 23 said, [i]Is not this Joseph's son? And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, [k]Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in [l]Capernaum, do also here in [m]thy 24 country. And he said, Verily I say unto you, [n]No prophet is [e]accepted in [m]his 25 own country. But I tell you of a truth, [o]many widows were [p]in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up [q]three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the 26 land; but unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto [o]Sarepta, a city of [oo]Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.
27 [r]And many lepers were [p]in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, saving Naa-
28 man the Syrian. And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, 29 were filled with wrath, and rose up, and [rr]thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the [ll]brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might cast him
30 down headlong. But he [s]passing through 31 the midst of them went his way, and [t]came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbath
32 days. And [u]they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was [x]with power.
33 And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice, 34 saying, [ll]Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? [y]I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of 35 God. And Jesus [y]rebuked him, saying,

Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not. And they were all amazed, 36 and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for [z]with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. And the 37 fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

[a]And he arose [b]out of the synagogue, 38 and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her. And he stood over her, and [c]rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them. [d]Now when the sun was 40 setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he [dd]laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. [e]And devils 41 also came out of many, [ee]crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ [f]the Son of God. And he [g]rebuking them [e]suffered them not [‖]to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

[h]And when it was day, he departed 42 and went into a desert place: and [i]the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them. And he said unto 43 them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent. And he preached [k]in the 44 synagogues of Galilee.

And [a]it came to pass that, as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by [b]the lake of Gennesaret, [c]and saw two ships 2 standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets. And he entered 3 into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And he [d]sat down, and taught the people [e]out of the ship. Now when he had 4 left speaking, he said unto Simon, [f]Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. And 5 Simon answering said unto him, [g]Master, [gg]we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net. And 6 when they had this done, [f]they inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake. And they beckoned unto 7 their [h]partners, which were in [i]the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to 8 sink. When Simon Peter saw it, [ii]he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, [j]Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, 9 O Lord. For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken: 10 and so was also James, and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were [h]partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou 11 shalt catch men. And when they had brought their ships to land, [k]they forsook all, and followed him.

12 [l]And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from 14 him. And he charged him to tell no man: [m]but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a 15 testimony unto them. [n]But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him 16 of their infirmities. [o]And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and [o]prayed. 17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and [p]doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was 18 present to heal them. [q]And behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him 19 before him. And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon [r]the housetop, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into 20 the midst before Jesus. And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, 21 thy sins are forgiven thee. And the scribes and the Pharisees began [rr]to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? [s]Who can forgive sins, 22 but God alone? But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What [rr]reason ye in your 23 hearts? Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk? But that ye may know 24 that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house. And immediately he 25 rose up before them, and took up [t]that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, [u]glorifying God. And they 26 were all amazed, and they [u]glorified God, and [w]were filled with fear, saying, We have seen [x]strange things to day.

[y]And after these things he went forth, 27 and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me. And [z]he left all, 28 rose up, and followed him. And Levi 29 [a]made him a great [a]feast in his own house: and there was a great company of [aa]publicans and of others that sat down with them. But their scribes and 30 Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners? And Jesus 31 answering said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick. [b]I came not to call 32
the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

[bb]And [c]they said unto him, Why do 33
the disciples of John [d]fast often, and make [d]prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink? And he said unto them, 34 Can ye make the children of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? [dd]But the days will come, 35 when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days. And he spake also 36 a parable unto them; No man putteth
a piece of a new garment upon an old;
if otherwise, then both the new maketh
a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new agreeth not with the old. And no man putteth new wine 37 into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish. But new 38 wine must be put into new bottles;
and both are preserved. No man also 39 having drunk old wine straightway de-sireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

VI.

And [a]it came to pass on [b]the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn fields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, [bb]Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath days?
3 And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when himself was a hungred, and they which were with him;
4 how he went into the house of God,
and did take and eat the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat but 5 for the priests alone? And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord [c]also of the sabbath.

6 [d]And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was [dd]withered.
7 And the scribes and Pharisees [e]watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; that they might find an 8 accusation against him. But he [ee]knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he 9 arose and stood forth. Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing;
Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to 10 destroy it? And [f]looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole 11 as the other. And they were filled with [g]madness; and communed [h]one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in those days, that he went out [i]into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in [k]prayer 13 to God. And when it was day, [l]he called unto him his disciples: [m]and of them he chose twelve, whom also he 14 named apostles; Simon, (whom he also named Peter,) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholo-15 mew, Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon called [n]Ze-16 lotes, and [o]Judas [p]the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitor.

17 And he came down with them, and stood [q]in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and [r]a great multitude of people out of all Judea and Jerusalem, and from the sea coast of [s]Tyre 18 and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; and they that were vexed with unclean spi-

Blessed are ye that hunger now: for 21
ye shall be filled.

Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.

Blessed are ye, when men shall hate 22

from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. Rejoice ye in 23 that day, and leap [a]for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

[b]But woe unto you that are [c]rich: for 24
ye [d]have received your [e]consolation.

Woe unto you that are full: for [f]ye 25

Woe unto you [g]that laugh now: for

Woe unto you, [h]when all men shall 26

fathers to the [i]false prophets.

But I say unto you which hear, 27 [k]Love your enemies, do good to them

you, and [k]pray for them which despite-fully use you. And [l]unto him that 29

ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. [o]For if 32 ye love them which love you, what [p]thank have ye? for [q]sinners also love those that love them. And if ye do 33 good to them which do good to you, what [p]thank have ye? for [q]sinners also do even the same. [r]And if ye lend 34
to them of whom ye hope to receive, what [p]thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again. But [s]love ye your enemies, and 35 do good, and [r]lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and [t]ye shall be the children of [u]the

every one [‖]that is [f]perfect shall be as thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of clearly to pull out the mote that is in doth a corrupt tree bring forth good of the good treasure of his heart bring-evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: [k]for of the abundance of the heart his

47 Whosoever cometh to me, and [m]heareth stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was found-49 ed upon a rock. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that [n]without a foundation built a house [n]upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great.

certain centurion's servant, who was [b]dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die. And when he heard of Jesus, 3 he sent unto him [c]the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and [d]heal his servant. And when 4 they came to Jesus, they besought him [e]instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this: [f]for he 5 loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue. Then Jesus went with 6 them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent [g]friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, [g]trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my 7 roof: wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but say in a word, and my servant shall 8 be healed. For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto [†]one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it. When Jesus heard 9 these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found [h]so great faith, no, not in Israel. And they that were 10 sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

And it came to pass the day after, 11 that he went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people. Now when he 12 came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, [i]the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. And when the 13 Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And 14 he came and touched the [‖k]bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, [l]Arise. And he that was dead sat up, 15 and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother. [m]And there came a 16 fear on all: and [n]they glorified God, saying, That a great [o]prophet is risen up among us; and, [p]That God hath visited his people. And this rumour 17 of him went forth throughout all Judea, and throughout all the region round about.

[q]And the disciples of John shewed 18 him of all these things. And John call- 19 ing unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? 20 When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? 21 And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and [r]plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were 22 blind he [s]gave sight. Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the 23 poor the gospel is preached. And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offend- 24 ed in me. And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the 25 wind? But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in 26 kings' courts. But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. 27 This is he, of whom it is written, [t]Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy 28 way before thee. For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than 29 he. And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, [u]justified God, [w]being baptized with [x]the baptism of John. 30 But the Pharisees and [y]lawyers [‖]rejected [z]the counsel of God [‖]against themselves, being not baptized of him.

31 And the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? 32 and to what are they like? They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned 33 to you, and ye have not wept. For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, 34 He hath a devil. The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sin- 35 ners. But wisdom is [u]justified of all her children.

[36] [a]And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. [37] And behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought [b]an alabaster box of ointment, [38] and stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did [c]wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. [39] Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, [d]This man, if he were [e]a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner. [40] And Jesus [f]answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on. [41] There was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one ought five hundred [l]pence, and the other fifty. [42] And when they had nothing to pay, he [g]frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most? [43] Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. [44] And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, [h]thou gavest me no water for my feet: but [i]she hath washed my feet with tears, and [c]wiped them with the hairs of her head. [45] [k]Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased to kiss my feet. [46] [l]Mine head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment. [47] Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she [m]loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. [48] And he said unto her, [n]Thy sins are forgiven. [49] And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, [o]Who is this that forgiveth sins also? [50] And he said to the woman, [p]Thy [m]faith hath [q]saved thee; [r]go in peace.

VIII. And it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him, [2] and [a]certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called [b]Magdalene, [c]out of whom went seven devils, [3] and [d]Joanna the wife of Chuza [e]Herod's [f]steward, and Susanna, and many others, which [a]ministered unto him of their substance.

[4] [g]And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable: [5] A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the [6] fowls of the air devoured it. And some fell upon a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it [7] lacked moisture. And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up with [8] it, and choked it. And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundredfold. And when he said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

[9] And his disciples asked him, saying, [10] What might this parable be? And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; [h]that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might [11] not understand. [i]Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. [12] Those by the way side are they that hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest [13] they should believe and be saved. They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation [k]fall [14] away. And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and [15] bring no fruit to perfection. But that on the good ground are they, which in [l]an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit [m]with patience.

[16] [n]No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a [o]vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in [17] may see the light. [p]For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid, that shall not be [18] known and come abroad. [q]Take heed therefore how ye hear: [r]for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he [l]seemeth to have.

his brethren, and could not come at him for the press. And it was told him by 20 certain which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. And he answered and said 21 unto them, My mother and my brethren are these [t] which hear the word of God, and do it.

Now it came to pass on a certain 22 day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of [w] the lake. And they launched forth. But 23 as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on [w] the lake; and they were filled with water, and [x] were in jeopardy. And they came 24 to him, and awoke him, saying, [y] Master, master, we perish. Then he rose, and rebuked the wind and the [z] raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm. And he said unto them, 25 Where is your faith? And they being afraid wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this? for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

And they arrived at the country of 26 the [a] Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee. And when he went forth to 27 land, there met him out of the city [b] a certain man, which had devils [c] long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs. When 28 he saw Jesus, he cried out, and [cc] fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God most high? I beseech thee, torment me not. (For he 29 had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains and in fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil [d] into the wilderness.) And 30 Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him. And 31 they besought him that he would not command them to go out into [e] the deep. And there was there a herd of many 32 swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them. Then went the devils out 33 of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into [w] the lake, and were choked. When they that fed them saw what was 34 done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country. Then they 35 went out to see what was done; and came to Jesus, and found the man, [f] out of whom the devils were departed, [g] sitting at the feet of Jesus, [h] clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid. They also which saw it told them by 36 what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed. Then the whole 37 multitude of the country of the [a] Gadarenes round about besought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into [i] the ship, and returned back again. Now [j] the man [f] out of whom the devils 38 were departed besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying, Return to thine own house, 39 and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published [k] throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him.

IX.

Then [a]he called his twelve disciples 1 together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases. And [b]he sent them to preach 2 the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick. [c]And he said unto them, Take 3 nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece. And 4 whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart. And whoso- 5 ever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet [d]for a testimony against them. [e]And they departed, and went 6 through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.

[f]Now [g]Herod the tetrarch heard of 7 all that was done by him: and he [h]was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead; and of some, that Elias had ap- 8 peared; and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again. And 9 Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear such things? [i]And he desired to see him.

[j]And the apostles, when they were 10 returned, told him all that they had done. [k]And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called [l]Bethsaida. And the 11 people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and [m]spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and [n]healed them that had need of healing. And when the day began to [nn]wear away, 12 then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and [o]lodge, and get vic- [o] ch. 19. 7 (Gk.).
tuals: for we are here in a desert place. 13
But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for 14 all this people. For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company. And they did so, and 15 made them all sit down. Then he took 16 the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude. And they did 17 eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

And it came to pass, as he was alone 18 praying, his disciples were with him: and [p]he asked them, saying, Whom say the 19 people that I am? They answering said, John the Baptist; but some say, Elias; and others say, that [q]one of the old prophets is risen again. He said unto them, 20
But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering said, The Christ of God. [r]And 21 he [s]straitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing; [t]saying, [u]The Son of man must suffer many 22 things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day. And he 23 said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and [w]take 24 up his cross [x]daily, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my 25 sake, the same shall save it. For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or [y]be cast 26 away? [z]For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his 27 spake of his [g]decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem. But Peter and 32 they that were with him were [h]heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw [f]his glory, and the two men that stood with him. And it came to 33 pass, as [i]they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, [k]Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: [l]not knowing what he said. While he thus spake, 34 there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as [i]they entered into the cloud. And there came a voice 35 out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him. And when the 36 voice was past, Jesus was found alone. [m]And they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.

And it came to pass, that on the next 37 day, [n]when they were come down from [nn]the hill, much people met him. And 38 behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, [o]look upon my son: for he is [p]mine only child. And lo, a spirit taketh him, and he sud- 39 denly [pp]crieth out; and it [q]teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him hardly departeth from him. And I be- 40 sought thy disciples to cast him out; and they could not. And Jesus answering 41 said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither. And 42 as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

And they were all amazed at the 43 mighty power of God. [r]But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, Let 44 these sayings [s]sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men. [t]But they un- 45 derstood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

[u]Then there arose [w]a reasoning among 46 them, which of them should be greatest. And Jesus, [x]perceiving the thought of 47 their heart, took a child, and set him by him, and said unto them, Whosoever shall 48 receive this child in my name receiveth me: and [y]whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: [z]for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

49 [a]And John answered and said, [b]Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbad him, because he 50 followeth not with us. And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us.

51 And it came to pass, when the time [c]was come [d]that he should be received up, he [e]stedfastly set his face to go to 52 Jerusalem, and sent [f]messengers before his face: and they went, and [g]entered into a village of the [h]Samaritans, to make 53 ready for him. And [i]they did not [j]receive him, because [k]his face was as 54 though he would go to Jerusalem. And when his disciples [l]James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, [m]even as Elias 55 did? But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of 56 spirit ye are of. [n]For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.

57 And it came to pass that, [o]as they went in the way, [p]a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever 58 thou goest. And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not 59 where to lay his head. [q]And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my 60 father. Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and 61 preach the kingdom of God. And another also said, Lord, [r]I will follow thee; but let me first go [s]bid them farewell, 62 which are at home in my house. And Jesus said unto him, No man [t]having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is [u]fit for the kingdom of God.

After these things the Lord [a]appointed [b]other [c]seventy also, and [d]sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would 2 come. Therefore said he unto them, [e]The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send 3 forth labourers into his harvest. Go your ways: [f]behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves. [g]Carry neither 4 [h]purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and [i]salute no man by the way. And into whatso- 5 ever house ye enter, first say, [k]Peace be to this house. And if [l]the son of peace 6 be there, your peace shall rest upon it:

if not, it shall turn to you again. And 7 in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. And into what- 8 soever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat [m]such things as are set before you: [n]and heal the sick that are therein, 9 and say unto them, [o]The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. But into 10 whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say, Even the 11 very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off [p]against you: notwithstanding be ye sure of this, that [o]the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.
But I say unto you, that it shall be more 12 tolerable [q]in that day for Sodom, than
for that city.

[r]Woe unto thee, Chorazin, woe unto 13 thee, Bethsaida: for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, [s]sitting in sackcloth and ashes. But it shall be more tole- 14 rable for Tyre and Sidon [q]at the judgment, than for you. And thou, Caper- 15 naum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell. [t]He that hear- 16 eth you heareth me; and [u]he that despiseth you despiseth me; [x]and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me.

And [y]the seventy returned again with 17 joy, saying, Lord, [z]even the devils are subject unto us through thy name. And 18 he said unto them, [a]I beheld Satan as lightning [b]fall from heaven. Behold, I 19 give unto you power [c]to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you. Notwithstand- 20 ing in this rejoice not, [d]that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because [e]your names are written in heaven.

[f]In that hour Jesus [g]rejoiced in spi- 21
rit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so [h]it seemed good in thy sight. [i]All things are 22 delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him. And he turned him unto his dis- 23 ciples, and said privately, [i]Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: for I tell you, that many prophets 24 and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

And behold, a certain [j]lawyer stood 25
up, and [k]tempted him, saying, [l]Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?
He said unto him, What is written in 26
the law? how readest thou? And he 27 answering said, [m]Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind;
and [n]thy neighbour as thyself.
And he said unto him, Thou hast an- 28 swered right: this do, and [o]thou shalt live. But he, willing to [p]justify himself, 29 said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour? And Jesus answering said, A 30 certain man [q]went down from Jerusalem to [r]Jericho, and fell among [s]thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance there [q]came 31 down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he [t]passed by on the other side. And likewise a Levite, when 32 he was at the place, came and looked on him, and [t]passed by on the other side. But a certain [u]Samaritan, as he 33 journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him, and [x]bound 34 up his wounds, pouring in [x]oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. And on the morrow when he de- 35 parted, he took out two ‖pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee. Which now of these 36 three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the [s]thieves? And 37
he said, He that [y]shewed mercy on him.
Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

Now it came to pass, as they went, 38
that he entered into a certain village:
and a certain woman named [z]Martha

[a] received him into her house. And she 39 had a sister called [b] Mary, which also [c] sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word.
But [z] Martha was cumbered about much 40 serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. And Jesus 41 answered and said unto her, [z] Martha, Martha, [d] thou art careful and troubled about many things: but [e] one thing is 42 needful: and Mary hath chosen [f] that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

XI. And it came to pass that, [a] as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples. And he said 2 unto them, When ye pray, say,

[b] Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. Give us [g] day by day our 3 daily bread. And forgive us our sins; 4 for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

And he said unto them, Which of 5
you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him [c] at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves; for 6 a friend of mine [g] in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing [d] to set before him: and he from within shall an- 7 swer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee?
I say unto you, [e] Though he will not 8 rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity
he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. And I say unto you, [f] Ask, 9 and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh 10 receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth;
and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. If a son shall ask bread of 11 any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent? Or if he 12 shall ask an egg, will he [i] offer him a [g] scorpion? If ye then, being evil, know 13 how to give good gifts unto your children: [h] how much more shall your heavenly Father give [i] the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

[j] And he was casting out a devil, and 14
it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake; and the people wondered. But 15 some of them said, He casteth out devils through [i] Beelzebub the chief of the devils. And other, [k] tempting him, [l] sought 16 of him a sign from heaven. [m] But he, 17
knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house di- vided against a house falleth. If Satan 18 also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelze-bub. And if I by Beelzebub cast out 19 devils, by whom do your [n] sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. But if I with [o] the finger of 20 God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.
When a strong man armed keepeth his 21
[p] palace, his goods are in peace: but 22
when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him [q] all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils. [r] He 23 that is not with me is against me: and he that [s] gathereth not with me [t] scat-tereth. [u] When the unclean spirit is 24 gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out. And when 25 he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished. Then goeth he, and taketh 26 to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in, and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first.

And it came to pass, as he spake 27 these things, a certain woman of the company [x] lift up her voice, and said unto him, [y] Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast 28 sucked. But he said, [z] Yea rather, [a] blessed are they [b] that hear the word of God, and [c] keep it.

And when the people were gathered 29 thick together, he began to say, [d] This is an evil generation: they seek a sign;
and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet. For as 30 Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation. [e] The queen of the south 31 shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and [f] condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, a greater than Solomon is here. [g] The men of Nineveh 32 shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall [f]condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

[h]No man, when he hath lighted a 33 candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a [‖]bushel, but on a candlestick, [i]that they which come in may see the light. [k]The light of the body is the 34 eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when [l]thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness. Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee be 35 not darkness. If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, 36 the whole shall be full of light, as when [†]the [m]bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.

And as he spake, a certain Pharisee 37 besought him to [n]dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat. And 38 when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first [o]washed before [n]dinner. [p]And the Lord said unto 39 him, [q]Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but your inward part is full of [r]ravening and wickedness. Ye fools, did not he 40 that made that which is without make that which is within also? But rather 41 [s]give alms [‖]of such things as you have; and behold, [t]all things are clean unto you. [u]But woe unto you, Pharisees! 42 for ye [w]tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

Woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye 43 love [x]the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and [y]greetings in the markets.

[z]Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as graves 44 which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

Then answered one of the [a]lawyers, 45 and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou reproachest us also. And he said, 46

Woe unto you also, ye [a]lawyers! [b]for ye [c]lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

[d]Woe unto you! for ye build the 47 sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. [d]Truly ye bear 48 witness that ye [e]allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and 49 ye build their sepulchres. Therefore also said [f]the wisdom of God, [g]I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and [h]persecute: that the blood of all the pro- 50 phets, which was shed [i]from the foundation of the world, may be required of 51 this generation; from the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the [k]temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

Woe unto you, [a]lawyers! [l]for ye 52 have taken away the key of [m]knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye [‖]hindered.

And as he said these things unto 53 them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to [n]urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things: 54 [o]laying wait for him, and [p]seeking to catch something out of his mouth, [q]that they might accuse him.

[a]In the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, [b]Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, 2 which is [c]hypocrisy. [d]For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known. 3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in [e]closets shall be proclaimed upon 4 the [f]housetops. And I say unto you [g]my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no 5 more that they can do. But I will [h]*fore*warn you whom you shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto 6 you, Fear him. Are not [i]five sparrows sold for two [‖]farthings, and not one of 7 them is forgotten before God? But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows. 8
Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before [k]the 9 angels of God: but he that denieth me before men shall be denied before [k]the 10 angels of God. And [l]whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven. 11 [m]And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto [n o]magistrates, and [n p]powers, [q]take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: 12 [r]for the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

13 And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me. 14 And he said unto him, [s]Man, [t]who made me a judge or a divider over you? 15 And he said unto them, [u]Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. 16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: 17 and he [x]thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to [y]bestow my fruits? 18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my [z]barns, and build greater; and there will I [y]bestow all my fruits and my goods. 19 And I will say to my soul, [a]Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and [b]be merry. 20 But God said unto him, Thou fool, [c]this night [†d]thy soul shall be required of thee: then [e]whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided? 21 So is he that [f]layeth up treasure for himself, and [g]is not rich towards God.

22 And he said unto his disciples, [h]Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. 23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment. 24 Consider [i]the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have [k]storehouse nor [z]barn; and [i]God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls? 25 And which of you with taking thought can add to his [l]stature [m]one cubit? 26 If ye then be not able to do [m]that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest? 27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 28 If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, 29 O ye of little faith? 30 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, [†]neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. 31 But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you. 32 [n]Fear not, [o]little flock; for [p]it is your Father's good pleasure to give you [q]the kingdom. 33 [r]Sell that ye have, and [s]give alms; [t]provide yourselves [u]bags which wax not old, [x]a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither [x]moth corrupteth. 34 [y]For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 [z]Let your loins be girded about, and 36 [a]your lights burning; and ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will [b]return from [c]the wedding; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately. 37 [d]Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find [e]watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall [f]gird himself, and [g]make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them. 38 And if he shall come in the [h]second watch, or come in the [h]third watch, and [d]find them so, blessed are those servants. 39 [i]And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have [e]watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through. 40 Be ye therefore [j]ready also: [k]for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable [l]unto us, or even [m]to all? 42 And the Lord said,

Who then is that faithful and wise [n]steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season? 43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. 44 Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath. 45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be 46 drunken; the lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not ware, and will [‡]cut him in sunder, PBut he rthat knew not, and 48 did commit things worthy of stripes, sshall be beaten with few stripes. tFor unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom u*men* have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

I am come to send wfire on the earth; 49 xand what will I, if it be already kindled? But I have ya baptism to be baptized 50 with; and zhow am I [a]straitened [b]till it be accomplished! cSuppose ye that I am 51 come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather wdivision: for from 52 henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. The father shall be 53 divided against the son, and dthe son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

And he said also to the people, 54 eWhen ye see fa cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it is. And when ye 55 see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be gheat; and it cometh to pass. h*Ye* hypocrites, ye can discern the face 56 of the sky and of the earth; but how is it that ye do not discern this time? Yea, 57 and why even iof yourselves judge ye not what is right? kWhen thou goest 58 lwith thine adversary to the magistrate, as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him; lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison. I tell 59 thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast paid the very last [l]mite.

XIII. There were present at that season some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood [a]Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. And Jesus answering 2 said unto them, [b]Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, 3 ye shall all likewise perish. Or those 4 eighteen, upon whom the tower in cSiloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were [l]sinners above all men that 5 dwelt in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise 6 perish. He spake also this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and dhe came and sought 7 fruit thereon, and found none. Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: ecut it down; why cumbereth it the ground? 8 And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig 9 about it, and dung it: and if it bear fruit, f*well:* and if not, then after that thou shalt ecut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the 11 synagogues on the sabbath. And behold, there was a woman which had a gspirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise 12 hlift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy in- 13 firmity. And he ilaid his hands on her: and immediately she was jmade straight, 14 and kglorified God. And lthe ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, [ll]because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, mThere are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and nnot on the sabbath 15 day. The Lord then answered him, and said, o*Thou* hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose phis ox or his ass from the qstall, and lead 16 him away to watering? And ought not this woman, rbeing a daughter of Abraham, whom gSatan hath bound, lo these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond 17 on the sabbath day? And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and sall the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 tThen said he, uUnto what is the 19 kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it? It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the 20 air lodged in the branches of it. And again he said, uWhereunto shall I liken 21 the kingdom of God? It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three [l]measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

villages, teaching, and [x] journeying towards Jerusalem. Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few [y] that be saved? And he said unto them, [za] Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able. [b] When once the master of the house is risen up, and [c] hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, [d] Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, [e] I know you not whence you are: then shall ye begin to say, [f] We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and [g] thou hast taught in our streets. But he shall say, I tell you, [e] I know you not whence you are; [h] depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. [i] There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see [k] Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out. [k] And they shall come [l] from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God. And behold, [m] there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart [n] hence: for [o] Herod will kill thee. And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to day and to morrow, and the third day [p] I shall be perfected. Nevertheless I must [pp] walk to day, and to morrow, and [q] the day following: for [r] it cannot be that [s] a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. [t] O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen [u] doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not? Behold, [x] your house is left unto you desolate: and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, [y] Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

XIV.

And it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees [a] to eat bread on the sabbath day, that they [b] watched him. And behold, there was a certain man before him, which had the dropsy. And Jesus [c] answering spake unto the [d] lawyers and Pharisees, saying, [e] Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go; and [c] answered them, saying, Which of you shall have [f] an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day? And [g] they could not answer him again to these things.

And he [h] put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he [i] marked how they chose out the [j] chief rooms; saying unto them, When thou art bidden of any man to a [k] wedding, sit not down in the [j] highest room; lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him; and he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou [l] begin with shame to take the lowest room. [m] But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, [n] Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee. [o] For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a [p] dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee. But when thou [q] makest a feast, call [r] the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: and thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for [s] thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection [t] of the just.

And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, [u] Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. Then said he unto him, [x] A certain man made a great supper, and bade many: and sent his servant at supper time [y] to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought [z] a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and [a] I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither [b]the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind. And the servant said, Lord, it 22 is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room. And the lord said 23 unto the servant, [c]Go out into the *high*ways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. For I say unto you, [d]That none of those 24 men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

And there went great multitudes with 25 him: and he turned, and said unto them, [e]If any man come to me, and 26 [f]hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and [g]his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. [h]And whosoever 27 doth not [i]bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. For which 28 of you, [k]intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it? Lest haply, after he hath laid the 29 foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him, saying, This man began to build, and 30 was not able to finish. Or what king, 31 going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet [l]him that cometh against him [m]with twenty thousand? Or else, while the 32 other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an [n]ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace. So likewise, whosoever he be 33 of you that [o]forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. [p]Salt 34 is good: [pq]but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? It is neither [r]fit for the land, nor yet for 35 the dunghill; but [q]men cast it out. [s]He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

XV.

Then drew near unto him [a]all [b]the publicans and sinners for to hear him. 2 And the Pharisees and scribes [c]murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them. And he 3 spake this parable unto them, saying, [d]What man of you, having an hundred 4 sheep, [e]if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine [f]in the wilderness, and [g]go after that which is lost, until he find it? And when he hath 5 found it, [h]he layeth it on his shoulders, 6 rejoicing. And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found [i]my sheep which 7 was lost. I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine [k]just persons which need no repentance.

Either what woman having ten [l]pieces 8 of silver, if she lose one [l]piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it? And 9 when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found 10 the [l]piece which I had lost. Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of [l]the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

And he said, A certain man had two 11 sons: and the younger of them said to 12 his father, Father, give me [m]the portion of goods [n]that falleth to me. And he divided unto them [o]his living. And not 13 many days after the younger son gathered all together, and [p]took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living. And when 14 he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want. And he went and joined him- 15 self to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. And [q]he would fain have filled his belly 16 with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. And when 17 he [r]came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with 18 hunger? I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, [s]I have sinned against heaven, and before 19 thee, [s]and [t]am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy 20 hired servants. And he arose, and came to his father. But [u]when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and [w]ran, and [x]fell on 21 his neck, and [y]kissed him. And the son said unto him, Father, [z]I have sinned against heaven, [a]and in thy sight, and [t]am no more worthy to be called thy 22 son. But the father said to his servants, Bring forth [b]the best robe, and put it on him; and put [c]a ring on his hand, and 23 [d]shoes on his feet: and bring hither the [e]fatted calf, and [f]kill it; and let us eat, and [g]be merry: [h]for this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to [g]be merry. Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard [i]musick and dancing. And he called one of the servants, and [k]asked what these things meant. And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath [e]killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out and intreated him. And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me [l]a kid, that I might [g]make merry with my friends: but as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast [e]killed for him the [l]fatted calf. And he said unto him, Son, [m]thou art ever with me, and [n]all that I have is thine. It was meet that we should [g]make merry, and be glad: [o]for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

XVI. And he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had [a]a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods. And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward. Then the [a]steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed. I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, [b]they may receive me into their houses. So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? And he said, An hundred ‖[c]measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty. Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred ‖[c]measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore. And the lord commended [d]the unjust [a]steward, because he had done wisely: for [e]the children of this world are in their generation wiser than [f]the children of light. And I say unto you, [g]Make to yourselves friends of [d]the [‖]mammon [d]of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, [h]they may receive you into everlasting habitations. [i]He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much. If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous ‖mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own? [k]No servant can serve two masters: for either he will [l]hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

And the Pharisees also, [m]who were covetous, heard all these things: and they [n]derided him. And he said unto them, Ye are they which [o]justify yourselves before men; but [p]God knoweth your hearts: for [q]that which is highly esteemed amongst men is abomination in the sight of God. [r]The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and [s]every man presseth into it. [t]And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail. [u]Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband committeth adultery.

There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in [w]purple and [x]fine linen, and [y]fared sumptuously every day: and there was a certain beggar named [z]Lazarus, which was [a]laid at his [b]gate, full of sores, and [c]desiring to be fed with [d]the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. And it came to pass that the beggar died, and was carried by [e]the angels into Abraham's [f]bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried; and in [g]hell [h]he lift up his eyes, being in [i]torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in [f]his bosom. And he cried and said, [k]Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool [l]my tongue; for I [m]am tormented in this [l]flame. But Abraham said, Son, [n]remember that thou in thy lifetime [o]receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is [o]comforted, and thou art tormented. And besides all this, between us and you

there is a great gulf fixed: so that they
which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence. Then he said, 27
I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:
for I have five brethren; that he may 28 [p]testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of [i]torment. Abraham 29 saith unto him, They have [q]Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. And 30 he said, Nay, [k]father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, [r]If 31
they hear not [q]Moses and the prophets, [s]neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

XVII. Then said he unto the disciples, [a]It is [b]impossible but that offences will come: but woe unto him, through whom they come. [c]It [d]were better for him 2 that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should [a]offend one of these little ones. [e]Take heed to yourselves: [f]If 3 thy brother trespass against thee, [g]rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.
And if he trespass against thee [h]seven 4 times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent;
thou shalt forgive him.

And [i]the apostles said unto the Lord, 5 [k]Increase our faith. And the Lord said, 6 [l]If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this [m]sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you. But which of you, 7 having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, will say unto him [n]by and by, when he is come from the field, [o]Go and sit down to meat? And will not rather say 8 unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and [o]gird thyself, and [o]serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? Doth 9 he thank that servant because he did
the things that were commanded him?
I trow not. So likewise ye, when ye 10 shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are [p]unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

And it came to pass, [q]as he went to 11 Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of [r]Samaria and [s]Galilee. And 12 as he entered into a certain village,
there met him ten men that were lepers, [t]which stood afar off: and they lifted up 13
their voices, and said, Jesus, [u]Master, 14 have mercy on us. And when he saw them, he said unto them, [x]Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass that, as they went, they 15 were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back,
and with a loud voice [y]glorified God, 16 and [z]fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a [a]Sa-17 maritan. And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where 18 are the nine? There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this 19 [b]stranger. And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: [c]thy faith [d]hath made thee whole.

20 And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, [e]when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not 21 [‖]with [f]observation: neither [g]shall they say, Lo here: or, lo there: for behold,
the kingdom of God is [‖]within you.
22 And he said unto the disciples, [h]The days will come, when ye shall desire [i]to see one of the days of the Son of man, 23 and ye shall not see it. [k]And [g]they shall say to you, See here; or, see there: 24 go not after them, nor follow them. [l]For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in [m]his day.
25 But first [n]must he suffer many things, 26 and be rejected of this generation. And [o]as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.
27 They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them 28 all. Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they 29 builded; but [p]the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed 30 them all. Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man [q]is revealed.
31 In that day, [r]he which shall be upon the housetop, and his [s]stuff in the house,
let him not come down to take it away:
and he that is in the field, let him like-32 wise not return back. [t]Remember Lot's 33 wife. [u]Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall 34 lose his life shall [x]preserve it. I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. [y]Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left. [z]Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. And they answered and said unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, [a]Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

XVIII.

And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought [a]always to pray, and not [b]to faint; saying, There was [f]in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither [c]regarded man: and there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary. And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor [c]regard man; [d]yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she [e]weary me. And the Lord said, Hear what [f]the unjust judge saith. And [g]shall not God [h]avenge his own [i]elect, which cry day and night unto him, though [k]he bear long with them? I tell you that he will [h]avenge them [l]speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

And he spake this parable unto certain [m]which trusted [n]in themselves [o]that they were righteous, and despised other: Two men [o]went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a [p]publican. The Pharisee [q]stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, [r]extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. I [s]fast twice in the week, I [t]give tithes of all that I [u]possess. And the publican, [q]standing afar off, [x]would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but [y]smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. I tell you, this man [z]went down to his house [a]justified rather than the other: for [b]every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

[c]And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them. But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall [d]in no wise enter therein.

[e]And a certain [ee]ruler asked him, saying, Good [f]Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is, God. Thou knowest the commandments, [g]Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother. And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up. Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet [h]lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich. And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved? And he said, The things which are unpossible with men are possible with God.

Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee. And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, who shall not receive [i]manifold more [j]in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

[k]Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written [l]by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished. For he shall be [m]delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and [mm]spitefully entreated, and [n]spitted on: and they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again. And they [o]understood none of these things: [p]and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

And it came to pass, that [q]as he was [r]come nigh unto Jericho, a [s]certain blind man sat by the way side begging:

and hearing the multitude pass by, he 36 [t] asked what it meant. And they told 37 him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by.
And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou Son of 38
David, have mercy on me. And they 39 which went before [u] rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me. And Jesus stood, 40 and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near,
he asked him, saying, What wilt thou 41
that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.
And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy 42 sight: thy faith hath [x] saved thee. And 43 immediately he received his sight, and followed him, [y] glorifying God: and [z] all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

XIX.

And Jesus [a] entered and passed through Jericho. And behold, there was a man 2 named [b] Zaccheus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.
And he sought [c] to see Jesus who he 3 was; and could not for the press, because he was little of [d] stature. And he 4 ran before, and climbed up into a [e] sy-comore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. And when Jesus came 5 to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down; for to day I must [f] abide at thy house. And 6 he made haste, and came down, and [g] received him joyfully. And when they 7 saw it, they all [h] murmured, saying, [h] That he was gone [i] to be guest with a man that is a sinner. And Zaccheus 8 stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have [k] taken any thing from any man [k] by false accusation, I restore him [l] fourfold. And Jesus said 9 unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, [m] forsomuch as [n] he also is [o] a son of Abraham. [p] For the Son of man 10 is come to [q] seek and to save that which was lost.

And as they heard these things, he 11 [r] added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because [s] they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear. He said therefore, 12 [t] A certain [u] nobleman [w] went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. And he called his 13 [x] ten servants, and delivered them ten [l] pounds, and said unto them, Occupy 14 till I come. But [y] his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to 15 reign over us. And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the [†] money, that he might know how much every man 16 had gained by trading. Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath 17 gained ten pounds. And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been [z] faithful in [a] a very little,
have thou authority over ten cities.
18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.
19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou 20 also over five cities. And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound,
which I have kept laid up in a [b] napkin: 21 [c] for I feared thee, because thou art an [d] austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou 22 didst not sow. And he saith unto him, [e] Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. [f] Thou knew-est that I was an [d] austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping 23 that I did not sow: wherefore then gavest not thou my money into [g] the bank, that at my coming I might have 24 [h] required [i] mine own with usury? And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him 25 that hath ten pounds. (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.) 26 For I say unto you, [k] That unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath 27 shall be taken away from him. But those mine enemies, [l] which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and [m] slay them before me.
28 And when he had thus spoken, [n] he went before, [o] ascending up to Jerusa-29 lem. And it came to pass, [p] when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount 30 of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, saying, Go ye into the village over against you; in the which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring 31 him hither. And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath 32 need of him. And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them. And as they were 33 loosing the colt, [q]the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt? And they said, The Lord hath need of 34 him. And they brought him to Jesus: 35 [r]and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon. And 36 as he went, they spread their clothes in the way. And when he was come nigh, 37 even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and [s]praise God with a loud voice for all the [t]mighty works that they had seen: saying, 38 Blessed be [u]the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: [w]peace in heaven, and glory in the highest. [x]And 39 some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples. And he answered and 40 said unto them, I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, [y]the stones would immediately cry out.

And when [z]he was come near, he 41 beheld the city, and [a]wept over it, saying, [b]If thou hadst known, even 42 thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes. For the 43 days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall [c]cast a trench about thee, and [d]compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, and [e]shall lay 44 thee even with the ground, and [f]thy children within thee: and [g]they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not [h]the time of thy [i]visitation.

[j]And he went into the temple, and 45 began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought; saying unto 46 them, It is written, [k]My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it [l]a den of thieves. And he [m]taught 47 daily in the temple. But [n]the chief priests and the scribes and [o]the chief of the people sought to destroy him, and could not find what they might do: 48 for all the people [l]were very attentive to hear him.

XX. [a]And it came to pass, that on one of those days, [b]as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him with the elders, and spake 2 unto him, saying, Tell us, by what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and 4 answer me: The baptism of John, was 5 it from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, 6 Why then believed ye him not? [c]But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: [d]for they be persuaded 7 that John was a prophet. And they answered, that they could not tell whence 8 it was. And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 Then began he to speak to the people this parable; [e]A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country [f]for a 10 long time. And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, 11 and sent him away empty. And [g]again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, 12 and sent him away empty. And [g]again he sent a third: and they wounded him 13 also, and cast him out. Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see 14 him. But when the husbandmen saw him, they [h]reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be 15 ours. So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do 16 unto them? He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they 17 heard it, they said, [i]God forbid. And he [k]beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, [l]The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the 18 corner? Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind 19 him to powder. And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour [m]sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 [n]And they [o]watched him, and sent forth [o]spies, which should [p]feign themselves just men, that they might [q]take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto [r]the power and authority of [s]the governor. And they 21 asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God [t]truly: is it lawful for us to give [u]tri- 22 bute unto Cesar, or no? But he per- 23 ceived their [x]craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me? Shew me a 24 [l]penny. Whose image and superscrip-tion hath it? They answered and said, Cesar's. And he said unto them, Ren- 25 der therefore unto Cesar the things which be Cesar's, and unto God the things which be God's. And they could 26 not [y]take hold of his words before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

Then came to him certain of the 27 Sadducees, which deny that there is any resurrection; and they asked him, say- 28 ing, Master, Moses wrote unto us, [z]If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. There were therefore seven bre- 29 thren: and the first took a wife, and died without children. And the second 30 took her to wife, and he died childless.
And the third took her; and in like 31 manner the seven also: and they left no children, and died. Last of all the 32 woman died also. Therefore in the 33 resurrection whose wife of them is she?
for seven had her to wife. And Jesus 34 answering said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage: but they which shall be [a]ac- 35 counted worthy to obtain that world,
and the resurrection from the dead,
neither marry, nor are given in marriage: neither can they die any more: 36 for they are equal unto the angels; and are [b]the children of God, being the children of the resurrection. Now that 37 the dead are raised, even Moses shewed
[c]at the bush, when he calleth the Lord [d]the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.
For he is not a God of the dead, but 38
of the living: for [e]all live unto him.

Then certain of the scribes answering 39 said, Master, [f]thou hast well said. And 40 after that [g]they durst not ask him any question at all. [h]And he said unto 41 them, How say they that Christ is David's son? And David himself saith 42 in the book of Psalms, [i]The LORD said to my Lord, Sit thou on my 43 right hand, till I make thine ene- 44 mies thy footstool. David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?

Then in the audience of all the people 45 [k]he said unto his disciples, Beware of 46
the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets,
and the [lm]highest seats in the synagogues,
and the [ln]chief rooms at feasts; which 47 devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

XXI.

And he looked up, [a]and saw the rich men casting their [b]gifts into the treasury.
And he saw also a certain poor widow 2 casting in thither two [l]mites. And he 3 said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than 4 they all: for all these have of their abundance cast in unto the [b]offerings of God: but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

[c]And as some spake of the temple, 5
how it was adorned with goodly stones and [d]gifts, he said, As for these things 6 which ye behold, the days will come, in the which [e]there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And they asked him, 7 saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass?

And he said, Take heed that ye be 8 not deceived: [f]for many shall come in my name, saying, I am [g]Christ; [l]and the time draweth near: [f]go ye not therefore after them. But when ye shall hear 9 of wars and [h]commotions, be not [i]terrified: for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not [k]by and by.

Then said he unto them, Nation shall 10 rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and great earthquakes shall 11 be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven. But 12 before all these, [l]they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and [m]into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake. And [n]it 13 shall turn to you for a testimony. [o]Settle 14
it therefore in your hearts, not to [p]medi-

able to gainsay nor resist. And ye shall 16 be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all 17 men for my name's sake. But [r]there 18 shall not a hair of your head perish. In 19 your [s]patience [t]possess ye your souls.

And when ye shall see Jerusalem 20 [u]compassed with armies, then know that [w]the desolation thereof is nigh. Then 21 let them which are in Judea flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; [x]and let not them that are in the [y]countries enter thereinto. For these be the days of [z]ven- 22 geance, that all things [a]which are written may be fulfilled. But woe unto them 23 that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days, for there shall be great [b]distress in the land, and wrath upon this people. And they shall fall 24 by [c]the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be [d]trodden down of the Gentiles, [e]until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. And there shall be 25 signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth [f]distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts fail- 26 ing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on [g]the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken. And then shall they see the 27 Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things 28 begin to come to pass, then [h]look up, and lift up your heads; for your [i]redemption draweth nigh.

And he spake to them a parable; Be- 29 hold the fig tree, and all the trees; when 30 they now shoot forth, ye see and know [k]of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand. So likewise ye, when ye 31 see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand. Verily I say unto you, This generation 32 shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled. Heaven and earth shall pass away: but 33 my words shall not pass away.

And [l]take heed to yourselves, [m]lest at 34 any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares [n]of this life, and so that day [o]come upon you unawares. For [p]as a snare 35 shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth. [q]Watch ye 36 therefore, and [r]pray always, that ye may be [s]accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and [t]to stand before the Son of man.

And in the day time he was [u]teach- 37 ing [x]in the temple; and at night he went out, and [y]abode in [z]the mount that is 38 called the mount of Olives. And all the people [x]came early in the morning to him [x]in the temple, for to hear him.

Now [a]the feast of unleavened bread XXII.
drew nigh, which is called the Passover. 2 And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

[b]Then entered [c]Satan into Judas sur- 3 named Iscariot, being of the number of 4 the twelve. And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and [d]captains, how he might betray him un- 5 to them. And they were glad, and cove- 6 nanted to give him money. And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them [ll]in the absence of the multitude.

[e]Then came the day of unleavened 7 bread, when the passover must be killed. 8 And he sent [ee]Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we 9 may eat. And they said unto him, Where 10 wilt thou that we prepare? And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth 11 in. And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my 12 disciples? And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make 13 ready. And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

And when the hour was come, [f]he 14 sat down, and the twelve [ff]apostles with 15 him. And he said unto them, [l]With desire I have desired to eat this pass- 16 over with you before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, [g]until it be fulfilled [h]in the kingdom 17 of God. And he took the cup, and [i]gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide 18 it among yourselves: for [j]I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

[k]And he took bread, and [i]gave thanks, 19 and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: [l]this do in remembrance of me. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

But behold, [m]the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table. [n]And truly the Son of man goeth, [o]as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed. And [p]they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

[q]And there was also a strife among them, which of them [r]should be accounted the greatest. [s]And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called [t]benefactors. But ye shall not be so: [u]but he that is greatest among you, let him be as [x]the younger; and he that is [y]chief, as [z]he that doth serve. For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but [z]I am among you as he that serveth. Ye are they which have continued with me in [a]my temptations. And I [b]appoint unto you [c]a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me; that [d]ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and [e]sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, [f]Satan hath desired to have you, that he may [g]sift you as wheat: but [h]I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art [i]converted, [k]strengthen thy brethren. And he said unto him, [l]Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and [m]to death. [n]And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me. And he said unto them, [o]When I sent you without [p]purse, and scrip, and [pp]shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing. Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a [p]purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one. For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, [q]And he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me [r]have an end. And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

[s]And he came out, and went, [t]as he was wont, to [u]the mount of Olives; and his disciples also followed him. And [w]when he was at the place, he said unto them, [x]Pray that ye enter not into temptation. And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and [y]kneeled down, and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be [t]willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done. And there appeared [z]an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him. And being in [a]an agony [b]he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow, and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and [c]pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

[d]And while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite [e]with the sword? And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he [f]touched his ear, and healed him. Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and [g]captains of the temple, and the elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves? When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is [h]your hour, and [i]the power of darkness.

[k]Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. [l]And Peter followed afar off. [m]And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the [mm]hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down among them. But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and [n]earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him. And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not. And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not. And about the space of one hour after [nn] another [o] confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him: for he is a Galilean. And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. And the Lord turned, and [oo] looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, [p] Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

[q] And the men that held Jesus [r] mocked him, and smote him. And when they had blindfolded him, they stroke him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesy, who is it that smote thee? And many other things [s] blasphemously spake they against him. [t] And as soon as it was day, [u] the elders of the people and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into their [w] council, saying, Art thou the Christ? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, you will not believe: and if I also ask you, you will not answer me, nor [x] let me go. Hereafter shall the Son of man [y] sit on the right hand of the power of God. Then said they all, Art thou then [z] the Son of God? And he said unto them, [a] Ye say that I am. And they said, What need we any further witness? for we ourselves have heard of his own mouth.

XXIII.

And [a] the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate. And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow [b] perverting the nation, and [c] forbidding to give [d] tribute to Cesar, saying [e] that he himself is Christ a King. [f] And Pilate asked him, saying, [e] Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it. Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, [g] I find no fault in this man. And they were the more fierce, saying, He [h] stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, [i] beginning from [k] Galilee to this place. When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean. And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto [l] Herod's jurisdiction, he [m] sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time. And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for [n] he was desirous to see him of a long season, because [o] he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him. Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing. And the chief priests and scribes stood and [p] vehemently accused him. And Herod with his [q] men of war [r] set him at nought, and [s] mocked him, and [t] arrayed him in a [u] gorgeous robe, and [m] sent him again to Pilate. And the same day [x] Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, said unto them, [y] Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that [b] perverteth the people: and behold, I, [z] having examined him before you, [a] have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: no, nor yet Herod: for [m] I sent you to him; and lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him. [b] I will therefore chastise him, and release him. [c] (For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.) And they cried out all at once, saying, [d] Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas: (who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for [d] murder, was cast into prison.) Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them. But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. And he said unto them [e] the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: [b] I will therefore chastise him, and let him go. And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed. And Pilate [f] gave sentence that it should be as they required. And he released unto them [d] him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; [g] but he delivered Jesus to their will.

[h] And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus. And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also [i] bewailed and lamented him. But Jesus turning unto them, said, [k] Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. For behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, [l]Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck. [m]Then shall they 30 begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. For if they do these things in [n]a green 31 tree, [o]what shall be done in the dry? [p]And there were also two [q]other, male- 32 factors, led with him to be put to death.

[r]And when they were come to the 33 place, which is called [l]Calvary, there they crucified him, [p]and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left. Then said Jesus, [s]Father, [t]forgive 34 them; for [u]they know not what they do. And [x]they parted his raiment, and cast lots. And [y]the people stood beholding. 35 And [z]the rulers also with them [a]derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ, [b]the chosen of God. And the soldiers also [c]mocked 36 him, coming to him, and offering him [d]vinegar, and saying, [e]If thou be the 37 King of the Jews, save thyself. And 38 a [f]superscription also was written over him in letters [g]of Greek, and Latin, and [gh]Hebrew, [i]THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

[j]And one of the malefactors which 39 were hanged [k]railed on him, saying [l]If thou be Christ, save thyself and us. But 40 the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And 41 we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done [m]nothing amiss. And he said un- 42 to Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest [n]into thy kingdom. And Jesus 43 said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in [o]paradise.

And it was about the sixth hour, and 44 there was a darkness over all the [l]earth until the ninth hour. And [p]the sun was 45 darkened, and [q]the vail of the temple was rent in the midst. And when Jesus 46 had cried [r]with a loud voice, he said, [s]Father, [t]into thy hands I [u]commend my spirit: and having said thus, [x]he gave up the ghost.

[y]Now when the centurion saw what 47 was done, [z]he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man. And 48 all the people that came together [a]to that sight, beholding the things which were done, [b]smote their breasts, and re- 49 turned. And [c]all his acquaintance, and [d]the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

[c]And behold, there was a man named 50 Joseph, [f]a counseller; and he was a [ff]good 51 man, and a just: (the same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them;) he was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews: [f]who also himself [g]waited for the 52 kingdom of God. This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. 53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, [h]wherein never man be- 54 fore was laid. And that day was [i]the preparation, and the sabbath [k]drew on.

And [l]the women also, which came 55 with him from Galilee, followed after, and [m]beheld the sepulchre, and how his 56 body was laid. And they returned, and [n]prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath day [o]according to the commandment. Now [a]upon the first day of the week, [b]very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bring- 1 ing [c]the spices which they had prepared, 2 and certain others with them. And they found [cc]the stone rolled away from the 3 sepulchre. And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus. 4 And it came to pass, as they were [d]much perplexed thereabout, behold, [e]two [f]men [g]stood by them [f]in shining garments: 5 and as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye [l]the living among 6 the dead? He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you [h]when 7 he was yet in Galilee, saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and [i]be crucified, and 8 [j]the third day rise again. And [k]they re- 9 membered his words, [l]and returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things 10 unto the eleven, and to all the rest. It was Mary [m]Magdalene, and [n]Joanna, and [m]Mary the mother of James, [o]and other women that were with them, which told these things unto [p]the apostles. 11 And their words seemed to them as [q]idle tales, and [r]they believed them not. 12 [s]Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and [t]stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering [u]in himself at that which was come to pass.

13 And behold, [w]two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore [x]furlongs. 14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened. 15 And it came to pass, that while they communed together and reasoned, [y]Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. 16 But [z]their eyes were holden that they should not know him. 17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye [a]have one to another, as ye walk, and are [b]sad? 18 And the one of them, whose name was [c]Cleopas, answering said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days? 19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was [d]a prophet [e]mighty in deed and word before God and all the people: 20 [f]and how the chief priests and our [ff]rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him. 21 But we trusted [g]that it had been he which should have redeemed Israel: and beside all this, to day is the third day since these things were done. 22 Yea, and [h]certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were [i]early at the sepulchre; 23 and [k]when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen [l]a vision of angels, [m]which said that he was alive. 24 And [n]certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not. 25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken: 26 [o]ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? 27 [p]And beginning at [q]Moses and [r]all the prophets, he expounded unto them in [p]all the scriptures the things concerning himself. 28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and [s]he made as though he would have gone further. 29 But they [t]constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is towards evening, and the day [u]is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them. 30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and [x]blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. 31 And [y]their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he [||z]vanished out of their sight. 32 And they said one to another, Did not [a]our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he [b]opened to us the scriptures? 33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, [c]and found the eleven gathered together, and [d]them that were with them, 34 saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and 35 [e]hath appeared to Simon. And they told what things were done in the way, and how [f]he was known of them in breaking of bread.

36 [g]And as they thus spake, Jesus himself [h]stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, [hi]Peace be unto you. 37 But they were [j]terrified and affrighted, and [k]supposed that they had seen a 38 spirit. And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do [l]thoughts 39 arise in your hearts? Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: [ll]handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not [m]flesh 40 and bones, as ye see me have. And when he had thus spoken, he shewed 41 them [mm]his hands and his feet. And while they yet [n]believed not [nn]for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, [o]Have ye 42 here any meat? And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of a [p]honeycomb. 43 And he took it, and [q]did eat 44 before them. And he said unto them, [r]These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things [x]must be fulfilled, which were written in [s]the law of Moses, and in [s]the prophets, and in [t]the psalms, concerning me. 45 Then [u]opened he their understanding, that they might understand the 46 scriptures, and said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus [x]it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead [y]the 47 third day: and that repentance and [z]remission of sins should be preached in his name [a]among all nations, [b]beginning 48 at Jerusalem. And [c]ye are witnesses of 49 these things. And behold, I send [d]the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, [e]until ye be endued with [f]power from on high.

I.

[a] IN the beginning was [b]the Word, and the Word was [c]with God, and the Word [d]was God. The same was in the beginning with God. [e]All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. [f]In him was life; and [g]the life was the light of men. And [h]the light shineth in [h]darkness; and the darkness [i]comprehended it not.

*There was a man [j]sent from God, whose name was [k]John. The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, [l]that all men through him might believe. He was not that [m]Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light. [n]That was the true Light, which lighteth every man [o]that cometh into the world. He was in the world, and [p]the world was made by him, and the world knew him not. He came unto [q]his own, and [r]his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he [s]power [s]to become [t]the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name: which were born, [u]not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but [w]of God. And [x]the Word [y]was made flesh, and [z]dwelt among us, (and we beheld [a]his glory, [b]the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) [j]full of [c]grace and truth. John [d]bare witness of him, and [e]cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, [f]He that cometh after me is [g]preferred before me: [h]for he was [i]before me. And of his [j]fulness have all we received, and grace for grace. For [k]the law was given by Moses, but [l]grace and [m]truth came by Jesus Christ. [n]No man [q]hath seen God at any time; [o]the only begotten Son, [oo]which is in [p]the bosom of the Father, he hath [q]declared him.

*And this is [r]the record of John, when [rr]the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou? And he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, [s]I am not the Christ. And they asked him, What then? Art thou [t]Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou [u]‖that prophet? And he answered, No. Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? He said, I am [x]the voice of one crying in the wilderness, [y]Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias. And they which were sent were of the [z]Pharisees. And they asked him, and said unto him, Why [z]baptizest thou then, if thou be not that [a]Christ, nor Elias, neither that prophet? John answered them, saying, [b]I baptize with water: [c]but there standeth one [d]among you, whom ye know not; he it is, who [e]coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's [f]latchet I am not worthy to unloose. These things were done [g]in Bethabara [h]beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

sin of the world. [k]This is he of whom 30
I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for he was [l]before me. And I knew him not: but that he 31 should [ll]be made manifest to Israel, [m]therefore am I come baptizing with water. And John [n]bare record, saying, 32 [o]I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.
And I knew him not: but he that sent 33
me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him,
the same is [p]he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost. And I saw, and [n]bare 34 record that this is [q]the Son of God.

Again the next day after John stood, 35
and two of his disciples; and [x]looking 36 upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, [r]Behold the Lamb of God. And the two 37 disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. Then Jesus turned, and 38 saw them following, and saith unto them, [s]What seek ye? They said unto him, [t]Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where [ll]dwellest thou?
He saith unto them, Come and see. 39
They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was [ll]about the tenth hour. [u]One of the two 40 which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. He first findeth [v]his own brother 41 Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the [w]Messias, which is, being interpreted, [ll]the Christ. And he brought 42 him to Jesus. And when Jesus [x]beheld him, he said, Thou art [y]Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called [z]Cephas, which is by interpretation, [ll]A stone.

[a]The day following Jesus would [b]go 43 forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me. Now 44 [c]Philip was of [d]Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter. Philip findeth [e]Na- 45 thanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom [f]Moses in the law, and [f]the prophets, did write, Jesus [g]of Nazareth, [h]the son of Joseph. And Na- 46 thanael said unto him, [i]Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. Je- 47 sus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an [j]Israelite indeed, [k]in whom is no guile. Nathanael 48 saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.
Nathanael answered and saith unto him, 49 [l]Rabbi, thou art [m]the Son of God; thou art [n]the King of Israel. Jesus answered 50 and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, [o]believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these. And he saith unto him, Ve- 51 rily, verily, I say unto you, [p]Hereafter ye shall see [q]heaven open, and [r]the angels of God ascending and descending upon [s]the Son of man.

And [a]the third day there was a mar- II.
riage in [b]Cana of Galilee; and the mo- 2 ther of Jesus was there: and both Jesus was called, and [c]his disciples, to [d]the 3 marriage. And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him,
They have no wine. Jesus saith unto 4 her, [e]Woman, [f]what have I to do with thee? [g]mine hour is not yet come. His 5 mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. And 6 there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of [h]the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three [i]firkins apiece. Jesus saith unto them, 7 Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. And he 8 saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast.
And they bare it. When [j]the ruler of 9 the feast had tasted [k]the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: (but the servants which drew the water knew;) the governor of the feast 10 called the bridegroom, and saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have [l]well drunk, then that which is worse:
but thou hast kept the good wine until 11
now. This beginning of miracles did Jesus in [b]Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth [m]his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

After this [n]he went down to Caper- 12
naum, he, and his mother, and [o]his brethren, and his disciples: and they continued there not many days. And the 13
Jews' [p]passover was at hand, and Jesus [q]went up to Jerusalem, [r]and found in 14 the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: and when he had made 15
a scourge of [s]small cords, he drove them

all out of the temple, and the sheep and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables; and said unto them that sold doves, 16 Take these things hence; make not [t]my Father's house a house of merchandise. And his disciples remembered that it 17 was written, [u]The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

Then answered [v]the Jews and said 18 unto him, [w]What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? Jesus answered and said unto them, 19 [x]Destroy [y]this temple, and in three days [z]I will raise it up. Then said [v]the Jews, 20 Forty and six years [a]was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days? But he spake of [b]the temple of his body. When therefore he was 22 risen from the dead, [c]his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed [d]the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said. Now when he was in Jerusalem at the 23 passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw [e]the miracles which he did. But Jesus did 24 not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, and needed not that 25 any should testify of man: for [f]he knew what was in man.

III.

There was a man of the Pharisees, named [a]Nicodemus, [b]a ruler of the Jews: [a]the same came to Jesus [c]by night, 2 and said unto him, [d]Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do [e]these miracles that thou doest, except [f]God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Ve- 3 rily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man [g]be born [h]again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus saith 4 unto him, [hh]How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I 5 say unto thee, Except a man be born of [ii]water and of [j]the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. [k]That 6 which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. [kk]Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye 7 must be born [h]again. [l]The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is 8 every one that is born of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, 9 [m]How can these things be? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou [n]a master of Israel, and knowest not these 10 things? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and [o]testify that we have seen; [o]and ye receive not 11 our witness. [p]If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things? 12 And [q]no man hath ascended up to heaven, but [r]he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man [s]which is in 13 heaven. And [t]as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so [u]must 14 the Son of man [w]be lifted up: that [x]whosoever believeth in him should not 15 perish, but [y]have eternal life. For [z]God so loved the world, that he [a]gave his 16 [b]only begotten Son, that [x]whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For [bb]God sent not 17 his Son into the world [c]to condemn the world; [d]but that the world through him 18 might be saved. [e]He that believeth on him is not condemned: [f]but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name 19 of the [b]only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that [g]light is come into the world, and men loved [h]darkness [i]rather than light, [ii]because 20 their deeds were evil. For [j]every one that [k]doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should 21 be [ll]reproved. But he that [k]doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 After these things came Jesus and [m]his disciples into [n]the land of Judea; and there he tarried with them, and 23 [o]baptized. And John also was baptizing in [p]Aenon near to [p]Salim, because there was much water there: [q]and they 24 came, and were baptized. For [r]John 25 was not yet cast into prison. Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about 26 [s]purifying. And they came unto John,

IV.

When therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and [a]baptized moe disciples than John,
2 (though [b]Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,)
3 he left [c]Judea, and departed [d]again into Galilee.
4 And he [e]must needs go through [f]Samaria.
5 Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called [g]Sychar, near to the parcel of ground [h]that Jacob gave to his son Joseph.
6 Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied [i]with his journey, sat [k]thus on the well: and it was about [l]the sixth hour.
7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.
8 (For his disciples were gone away unto [m]the city to buy meat.)
9 Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For [n]the Jews have no dealings with 10 the Samaritans. Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given 11 thee [o]living water. The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?
12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and 13 his cattle? Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water 14 shall thirst again: but [p]whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into [pp]everlasting 15 life. The woman saith unto him, [q]Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.
16 Jesus saith unto her, Go, [r]call thy husband, and come hither.
17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I 18 have no husband: for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst
19 thou truly. The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art [s]a prophet.
20 Our fathers worshipped in [t]this mountain; and ye say, that in [u]Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.
21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, [w]the hour cometh, [x]when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Je-22 rusalem, worship [y]the Father. Ye worship [z]ye know not what: we know what we worship: [a]for salvation is of the 23 Jews. But [w]the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in [b]spirit and in [c]truth: for the Father [d]seeketh such to worship
24 him. [e]God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in [b]spirit 25 and in [c]truth. The woman saith unto him, I know that [f]Messias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is 26 come, [g]he will [h]tell us all things. Jesus saith unto her, [i]I that speak unto thee am he.
27 And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?
28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to 29 the men, Come, see a man, [k]which told me all things that ever I did: [l]is not this the Christ? Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, [m]Master, [n]eat. But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of. Therefore said the disciples one to another, [o]Hath any man brought him ought to eat? Jesus saith unto them, [p]My meat is [q]to do the will of him that sent me, and [r]to finish his work. Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, [s]Lift up your eyes, and look on [t]the fields; [u]for they are white already to harvest. And he that reapeth receiveth [x]wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both [y]he that soweth and [z]he that reapeth may rejoice together. And herein is that saying true, [a]One soweth, and another reapeth. I sent [z]you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and [c]ye are entered into their labours. And many of the Samaritans of [d]that city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified, [e]He told me all that ever I did. So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would [f]tarry with them: and he [f]abode there two days. And many moe believed because of his own word; and said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, [g]the Saviour of the world.

Now after [h]two days he departed thence, and [i]went into Galilee. For Jesus himself testified, [j]that a prophet hath no honour in his own country. Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans [k]received him, [l]having seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: [m]for they also went unto the feast. So Jesus came again into [n]Cana of Galilee, [o]where he made the water wine. And there was a certain ‖nobleman, whose son was sick at [p]Capernaum. When he heard that Jesus was come [q]out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would [r]come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death. Then said Jesus unto him, [s]Except ye see [t]signs and [t]wonders, ye will not believe. The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, [r]come down [u]ere my child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way. And as he was now [r]going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth. Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at [x]the seventh hour the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house. [y]This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come [q]out of Judea into Galilee.

After this there was [a]a feast of the Jews; and Jesus [b]went up to Jerusalem. Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep ‖market a pool, which is called [bb]in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches. In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, [c]withered, waiting for the moving of the water. For [cc]an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had. And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years. When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole? The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, [d]Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day [e]was the sabbath. [f]The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: [g]it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed. He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, ‖a multitude being in that place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: [h]sin no more, [i]lest a worse thing come unto thee. The man 15 departed, and told [f]the Jews that it was Jesus, which had made him whole.

And therefore did [f]the Jews perse- 16 cute Jesus, and [n]sought to slay him, because [j]he had done these things on the sabbath day. But Jesus [k]answered them, 17
My Father worketh [l]hitherto, [m]and I

more to kill him, because he not only [j]had broken the sabbath, but [o]said also that God was [p]his Father, [q]making himself equal with God. Then [k]answered 19
Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily,
I say unto you, The Son can do nothing [r]of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise. For 20 [s]the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and [t]he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel. For as the 21 Father raiseth up the dead, and [u]quick-eneth them; even so [v]the Son quickeneth whom he will. For the Father judgeth 22 no man, but [w]hath committed all [x]judgment unto the Son: that all men should 23 honour the Son, even as they [y]honour the Father. [z]He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him. Verily, verily, I say 24 unto you, [a]He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but [b]is passed from death unto life. Verily, verily, I say 25 unto you, [c]The hour is coming, and now is, when [d]the dead shall hear [dd]the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live. For as the Father hath life 26 in himself; [e]so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself; and [f]hath 27 given him [g]authority to execute [h]judgment also, [i]because he is the Son of man. [j]Marvel not at this: for [d]the hour 28 is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, [k]and 29 shall come forth; [l]they that have [m]done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have [mn]done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation. [o]I can 30 of mine own self do nothing: as I hear,
I judge: and my judgment is just; because [p]I seek not mine own will, but [q]the will of the Father which hath sent me. [r]If I bear witness of myself, my 31 witness is not true. There is [s]another 32 that beareth witness of me; and [t]I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. [u]Ye sent unto John, and 33
[v]he bare witness unto the truth. But 34 [w]I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved. He [x]was a burning and [y]a shin- 35 ing [z]light: and ye were willing [a]for a season to rejoice in his light. But I 36 have [b]greater witness than that of John:
for [bb]the works which [c]the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that [cc]the Father hath sent me. And the Father him- 37 self, [cc]which hath sent me, [d]hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither [e]heard his voice at any time, nor [f]seen his shape. And [g]ye have not his word 38 abiding in you: for whom he hath sent,
him ye believe not. [h]Search the Scrip- 39
tures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and [i]they are they which testify of me. And [k]ye will not come to me, 40 that ye might have life. I receive not 41 [l]honour from men. But [m]I know you, 42 that ye have not [n]the love of God in
you. [nn]I am come in my Father's name, 43 and ye receive me not: if [o]another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. How can ye believe, which 44 receive [p]honour one of another, and seek not [q]the honour that cometh from God [qq]only? Do not think [r]that I will 45 accuse you to the Father: [s]there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, [t]in whom ye trust. For had ye believed Moses, 46 ye would have believed me: for [u]he

And this he said [k]to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do. [l]Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little. One of his disciples, [m]Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him, There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two [n]small fishes: but what are they among so many? And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now [o]there was much grass in the place. So [p]the men sat down, in number about five thousand. And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had [q]given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of [n]the fishes as much as they would. When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost. Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve [r]baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten. Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth [s]that prophet [t]that should come into the world.

[u]When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him [w]a king, he departed again [x]into a mountain himself alone. And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea, and entered into [y]a ship, and went over the sea towards [z]Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them. And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew. So when they had rowed about [a]five and twenty or thirty [b]furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid. But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid. Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately [c]the ship was at the land whither they went.

The day following, when the people which stood [d]on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other [e]boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into [e]the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone; (howbeit there came other [e]boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that [f]the Lord had given thanks:) when the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to [g]Capernaum, seeking for Jesus. And when they had found him [h]on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, [i]Rabbi, when camest thou hither? Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled. [ll][k]Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat [l]which endureth unto everlasting life, [l]which the Son of man shall give unto you: [m]for him hath God the Father [n]sealed. Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work [o]the works of God? Jesus answered and said unto them, This is [o]the work of God, [p]that ye believe on him whom he hath sent. They said therefore unto him, [q]What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work? [r]Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, [s]He gave them bread from heaven to eat. Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of God is [t]he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world. Then said they unto him, [u]Lord, evermore give us this bread. And Jesus said unto them, [x]I am [y]the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and [z]he that believeth on me shall never thirst. But I said unto you, [a]That ye also have seen me, and believe not. [b]All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and [c]him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. For [d]I came down from heaven, not to do [e]mine own will, but [e]the will of him that sent me. And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of [b]all which he hath given me [f]I should lose nothing, but [g]should raise it up again at the last day. And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which [h]seeth the Son, and [i]believeth on him, may have [k]everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

[l]The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, [m]I am the bread which came down from heaven. And they said, Is not this Jesus, [n]the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, [d]I came down from heaven? Jesus therefore answered and 43 said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves. No man can come to me, except 44 the Father which hath sent me [o]draw him: and [g]I will raise him up at the last day. It is written [p]in the prophets, 45 [q]And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and [r]hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. [s]Not that any man 46 hath seen the Father, [t]save he which is [u]of God, he hath seen the Father. Verily, 47 verily, I say unto you, [x]He that believeth on me hath everlasting life. [y]I 48 am that bread of life. [z]Your fathers did 49 eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead. This is the bread [a]which cometh 50 down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and [b]not die. I am [c]the living 51 bread [d]which came down from heaven: [e]if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and [f]the bread that I will give is my flesh, which [g]I will give for the life of the world. [h]The Jews there- 52 fore [i]strove amongst themselves, saying, [k]How can this man give us his flesh to eat? Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, 53 verily, I say unto you, Except [l]ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and [lm]drink his blood, ye have no life in you. Who- 54 so eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, [n]hath eternal life; and [o]I will raise him up at the last day. For my 55 flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He that eateth my flesh, 56 and drinketh my blood, [p]dwelleth in me, and I in him. As the living Father 57 hath sent me, and [q]I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, [r]even he shall live by me. This is [s]that bread [t]which came 58 down from heaven: [u]not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: [e]he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.

These things said he in the synagogue, 59
as he taught in [x]Capernaum.

[y]Many therefore of his disciples, when 60 they had heard this, said, This is a [z]hard saying; [a]who can hear it? When Jesus 61 [b]knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, [c]Doth this offend you? [d] What and if ye shall 62 see the Son of man [c]ascend up [f]where he was before? [g]It is the spirit that 63 quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: [h]the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are [h]life. But [i]there 64 are some of you that believe not. For Jesus [b]knew from the beginning [i]who they were that believed not, and [k]who 65 should betray him. And he said, Therefore said I unto you, [l]that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

From that time [m]many of his disciples 66 went back, and walked no more with 67 him. Then said Jesus unto [n]the twelve, Will ye also go away? Then [o]Simon 68 Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast [p]the words of eternal 69 life. [o]And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, [q]the Son of 70 [r]the living God. Jesus answered them, Have not [s]I chosen you [n]twelve, and 71 one of you is [t]a devil? He spake of Judas Iscariot [u]the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of [n]the twelve.

After these things Jesus walked in VII.
Galilee: for [a]he would not walk in Jewry, [b]because [c]the Jews sought to 2 kill him. Now the Jews' [d]feast of ta- 3 bernacles was at hand. [e]His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that [f]thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest. 4
For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, 5 [g]shew thyself to the world. For [h]neither did [e]his brethren believe in him.
Then Jesus said unto them, [i]My time is 6 not yet come: but your time is alway ready. [j]The world cannot hate you; 7 but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that [k]the works thereof are evil.
[l]Go ye up unto this feast: I go not 8 up yet unto this feast; for [im]my time is not yet full come. When he had 9 said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

But when [e]his brethren were [l]gone 10 up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in 11 secret. [n]Then [c]the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he? 12
And [o]there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, [p]He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he [pp]deceiveth the people. Howbeit no man spake openly of 13 him [q]for fear of [c]the Jews.

Now about the midst of the feast 14 Jesus [l]went up [r]into the temple, and taught. And [c]the Jews [s]marvelled, say- 15 ing, How knoweth this man [‖]letters, having never learned? Jesus answered 16 them, and said, [t]My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. [u] If any 17 man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. He that 18 speaketh of himself [x] seeketh his own glory: but he that [x] seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. [y] Did not 19 Moses give you the law, and yet [z] none of you keepeth the law? [a] Why go ye about to kill me? The people answered 20 and said, [b] Thou hast a devil: [a] who goeth about to kill thee? Jesus an- 21 swered and said unto them, I have done [c] one work, and ye all marvel.

[d] Moses therefore gave unto you cir- 22 cumcision, not because it is of Moses, but [e] of the fathers; and [f] ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man. If a man 23 on the sabbath day receive circumcision, [‖d] that the law of Moses should not be broken; [g] are ye angry at me, because [h] I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day? [i] Judge 24 not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment. Then said 25 some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he, [a] whom they seek to kill? But lo, 26 he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. Do [k] the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?
[l] Howbeit [m] we know this man whence 27
he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth [n] whence he is. Then [o] cried 28 Jesus [p] in the temple as he taught, saying, [q] Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and [r] I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is [s] true, [t] whom ye know not. But [u] I know him: for I am [w] from him, and [x] he hath sent me. Then [y] they sought to take 30 him: but [z] no man laid hands on him, because [za] his hour was not yet come.
And [b] many of the people believed on 31
him, and said, [c] When Christ cometh, will he do moe [d] miracles than these which this man hath done? The Phari- 32 sees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent [e] officers to take him. Then said Jesus 33 unto them, [f] Yet a little while am I with you, and then [g] I go unto him that sent me. [fh] Ye shall seek me, and shall not 34 find me: and where [i] I am, thither [j] ye 35 cannot come. Then said [k] the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto [l] the dispersed among the [‖] Gen-36 tiles, and teach the [‖] Gentiles? What manner of saying is this that he said, [m] Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

37 In the last day, [n] that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and [o] cried, saying, [p] If any man thirst, let him come 38 unto me, and drink. [q] He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, [r] out of his belly shall flow rivers of 39 [s] living water. (But [t] this spake he of [u] the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: [x] for the Holy Ghost was not yet [y] given; [z] because that Jesus was not yet [a] glorified.) 40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth 41 this is [b] the Prophet. Others said, [c] This is the Christ. But some said, Shall 42 Christ come [d] out of Galilee? Hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh [e] of the seed of David, and out of the town of [f] Bethlehem, [g] where David 43 was? So there was [h] a division among 44 the people because of him. And [i] some of them would have taken him; [i] but no man laid hands on him.

45 Then came [k] the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, [k] Why have ye not brought 46 him? [k] The officers answered, [l] Never 47 man spake like this man. Then answered them the Pharisees, [m] Are ye 48 also deceived? [n] Have any of [o] the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on 49 him? But this people who knoweth not 50 the law are cursed. [o] Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came [l] to Jesus by 51 night, being one of them,) Doth [q] our law judge any man, before it [r] hear him, 52 and know what he doeth? They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for [s] out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 And every man went unto his own house.

people came unto him; and [c] he sat down, and taught them. And the scribes 3 and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst, they say 4 unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

Now [d] Moses in the law commanded 5 us, that such [e] should be stoned: but what sayest thou? This they said, 6 [f] tempting him, [g] that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger [h] wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.
So when they continued asking him, he 7
[i] lift up himself, and said unto them, [k] He that is without sin among you, [l] let him first cast a stone at her. And again 8 he stooped down, and [h] wrote on the ground. And they which heard it, 9 [m] being convicted [n] by their own conscience, went out [o] one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last:
and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. When Jesus had 10 [i] lift up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee? She said, No man, 11 Lord. And Jesus said unto her, [p] Neither do I condemn thee: go, and [q] sin no more.

Then spake Jesus again unto them, 12 saying, [r] I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have [r] the light of life. The Pharisees therefore said unto 13 him, Thou bearest record of thyself;
thy record is not true. Jesus answered 14 and said unto them, [s] Though I bear record of myself, yet [t] my record is true:
for I know [ux] whence I came, and [x] whither I go; but [y] ye cannot tell whence
I come, and whither I go. Ye judge 15 [z] after the flesh; [a] I judge no man. And 16 yet if I judge, [b] my judgment is true:
for [c] I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. It is also written 17 [d] in your law, that the testimony of two men is true. I am one that bear 18 witness of myself, and [e] the Father that sent me beareth witness of me. Then 19 said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, [f] Ye neither know me, nor my Father: [g] if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also. These words spake Jesus in [h] the 20 treasury, [i] as he taught in the temple:
and [k] no man laid hands on him; for [kl] his hour was not yet come.

21 Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and [m] ye shall seek me, and [n] shall die in your sins: [mq] whither I go, 22 ye cannot come. Then said [o] the Jews,
[p] Will he kill himself? because he saith, 23 Whither I go, ye cannot come. And he said unto them, [q] Ye are from beneath; [r] I am from above: ye are [rs] of this world; [t] I am not of this world.
24 I said therefore unto you, that [u] ye shall die in your sins: [x] for if ye believe not that [y] I am he, ye shall die in your sins.
25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same [z] that I said unto you from 26 the beginning. I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is [a] true; and I speak to the world those things which I have [b] heard 27 of him. [c] They understood not that he 28 spake to them of the Father. Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have [d] lift up the Son of man, then shall ye know that [y] I am he, and that [e] I do nothing of myself; but [f] as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.
29 And he that sent me is [g] with me: [h] the Father hath not left me alone; [i] for I do always those things that please him.
30 As he spake these words, [k] many believed on him.

31 Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, [l] If ye continue in my word, then [l] are ye my disciples indeed; 32 and ye shall know [m] the truth, and the 33 truth [n] shall make you free. They answered him, [o] We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man:
how sayest thou, [p] Ye shall be made 34 free? Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [q] Whosoever com-35 mitteth sin is the servant of sin. And [r] the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but [s] the son abideth ever.
36 If [t] the Son therefore [n] shall make you 37 free, ye shall be free indeed. I know that [o] ye are Abraham's [u] seed; but [w] ye seek to kill me, because my word hath 38 no place in you. I speak that which I have [x] seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with [y] your 39 father. They answered and said unto him, [o] Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, [z] If ye were Abraham's [u] children, ye would do the works of 40 Abraham. But now [a] ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have [b] heard of God:

this did not Abraham. Ye do the 41 deeds of your father. Then said they to him, [c]We be not born of fornication;
we have [d]one Father, even God. Jesus 42 said unto them, If God were your Father, [e]ye would love me: for [f]I proceeded forth and came from God; [g]neither came I of myself, but [h]he sent me.
[i]Why do ye not understand my speech? 43
even because ye cannot [j]hear my word.
[k]Ye are of [l]your father the devil, and 44 the lusts of your father ye will do. He was [m]a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When [n]he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of [o]his own:
for he is a liar, and the father of it.
And because I tell you the truth, ye 45 believe me not. [p]Which of you [q]con- 46 vinceth me of [r]sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me? [s]He 47
that is of God [j]heareth God's words:
ye therefore [j]hear them not, because [t]ye are not of God. Then answered [u]the 48 Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a [x]Samaritan, and [y]hast a devil? Jesus answered, I have 49 not a devil; but I honour my Father, and [z]ye do dishonour me. And I seek 50 not [a]mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth. Verily, verily, I 51 say unto you, [b]If a man keep my saying, [c]he shall never see death. Then 52 said [u]the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. [d]Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and thou say-est, [b]If a man keep my saying, he shall never [e]taste of death. Art thou greater 53 than our father Abraham, which is dead?
and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? Jesus answered, [f]If I 54 honour myself, my honour is nothing: [g]it is my Father that honoureth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God:
yet [h]ye have not known him; [i]but I 55 know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be [j]a liar like unto you:
but I know him, and [k]keep his saying.
Your father Abraham [l]rejoiced to see 56
[m]my day: and he saw it, and was glad.
Then said [u]the Jews unto him, Thou 57 art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? Jesus said unto 58 them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, [n]I am. Then 59 [o]took they up stones to cast at him:
but Jesus [p]hid himself, and [q]went out of the temple, [r]going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

[r] Luke 4. 30 (Gk.).

And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.
2 And his disciples asked him, saying,
[a]Master, [b]who did sin, this man, or [c]his 3 parents, that he was born blind? Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but [d]that the works of God should be made manifest in him.
4 I must work [e]the works of him that sent me, [f]while it is day: the night com-5 eth, when no man can work. As long as I am in the world, [g]I am the light of 6 the world. When he had thus spoken, [h]he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he [i]anointed the eyes 7 of the blind man with the clay, and said unto him, Go, wash in [i]the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) [j]He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.
8 The neighbours therefore, and they which before had [k]seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he [l]that sat and 9 begged? Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am 10 he. Therefore said they unto him, How 11 were thine eyes opened? He answered and said, [m]A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and 12 I received sight. Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.
13 They brought to the Pharisees him 14 that aforetime was blind. And [n]it was the sabbath day when Jesus made the 15 clay, and opened his eyes. Then [o]again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and 16 I washed, and do see. Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not [p]of God, [q]because he keepeth not the sabbath day. [r]Others said, [s]How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And [t]there was a division among 17 them. They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, 18 He is [u]a prophet. But [x]the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until 19 they called the parents of him that had received his sight. And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see? His parents answered 20 them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

but by what means he now seeth, we 21 know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself. These 22 words spake his parents, because [y]they feared [x]the Jews: for [z]the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, [a]he should be put out of the synagogue. There- 23 fore said his parents, He is of age;
ask him. Then again called they the 24 man that was blind, and said unto him, [b]Give God the praise: we know that this man is [c]a sinner. He answered 25 and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see.
Then said they to him again, What 26
did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I have told 27 you already, and ye did not [d]hear:
wherefore would you hear it again? will ye also be his disciples? Then they 28 reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses' disciples. We 29 know that God spake unto Moses: as for this fellow, [e]we know not from whence he is. The man answered and 30 said unto them, [f]Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes. Now we know that [g]God 31 heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, [h]him he heareth. [i]Since the world 32 began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind. [k]If this man were not [l]of God, 33
he could do nothing. They answered 34 and said unto him, Thou wast [m]altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they [n]cast him out.
Jesus heard that they had [n]cast him 35 out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou [o]believe on [p]the Son of God? He answered and 36 said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him? And Jesus said unto 37 him, [q]Thou hast both seen him, and [r]it is he that talketh with thee. And he 38 said, Lord, I believe. And he [s]worshipped him.

And Jesus said, [t]For judgment I am 39 come into this world, that they which see not might see; and that [u]they which see might be made blind. And some of 40 the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, [x]Are we blind also? Jesus said unto them, If ye 41 were blind, [y]ye should have no sin: [x]but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

X.

Verily, verily, I say 1 unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a [a]robber. But he that entereth in 2 by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.
To him [b]the porter openeth; and the 3 sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. And when he [c]putteth forth his 4 own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. And [d]a stranger will they not 5 follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. This 6 [e]parable spake Jesus unto them: [f]but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

Then said Jesus unto them again, 7 Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep. All that ever came 8 before me are thieves and [a]robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. I am [g]the 9 door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and [h]shall go in and out, and [i]find pasture. The thief cometh 10 not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. I am [k]the good 11 shepherd: the good shepherd [l]giveth his life for the sheep. But he that is a 12 [m]hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth [n]the wolf coming, and [o]leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and [p]scattereth the sheep. The hireling 13 fleeth, because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep. I am the 14 [q]good shepherd, and [r]know my sheep, and am known of mine. [s]As the Father 15 knoweth me, even so know I the Father:
and [t]I lay down my life for the sheep.
And [u]other sheep I have, which are not 16
of this [w]fold: [y]them also I must bring,
and they shall hear my voice; [y]and there shall be one [z]fold, and [a]one shepherd. [b]Therefore doth my Father love 17 me, [c]because [t]I lay down my life, that I might take it again. No man taketh it 18 from me, but [td]I lay it down of myself.
I have power to lay it down, and [e]I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father. There was a division therefore 19 again among the Jews for these sayings. And many of them said, He 20 hath a devil, and is mad; why hear ye him? Others said, These are not 21 the words of him that hath a devil. Can a devil open the eyes of the blind?

And it was at Jerusalem the feast of 22 the dedication, and it was winter. And 23 Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch. Then came the Jews 24 round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and 25 ye believe not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are 26 not of my sheep, as I said unto you. My sheep hear my voice, and I know 27 them, and they follow me: and I give 28 unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. My 29 Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand. I and 30 my Father are one. Then the Jews 31 took up stones again to stone him. Jesus answered them, Many good works 32 have I shewed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? The Jews answered him, saying, For 33 a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God. Jesus 34 answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods? If he 35 called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken; say ye of him, whom the 36 Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? If I 37 do not the works of my Father, believe me not. But if I do, though ye believe 38 not me, believe the works: that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in me. Therefore they 39 sought again to take him: but he escaped out of their hand, and went away 40 again beyond Jordan into the place where John at first baptized; and there he abode. And many resorted unto 41 him, and said, John did no miracle: but all things that John spake of this 42 man were true. And many believed on him there.

Now a certain man was sick, named XI.
Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha. It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.) Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick. When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby. Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was. Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judea again. His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him. These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well. Howbeit Jesus spake of his death:
but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep. Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.
And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lien in the grave four days already. Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off:
and many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother. Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house. Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee. Jesus 23 saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him, I know 24 that he shall rise again [a]in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto 25 her, I am [b]the resurrection, and the [c]life: [d]he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and 26 whosoever liveth and believeth in me [e]shall never die. Believest thou this?

She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I be- 27 lieve that [f]thou art the Christ, [g]the Son of God, [h]which should come into the world. And when she had so said, she 28 went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, [i]The Master is come, and calleth for thee. As soon as 29 she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him. Now Jesus was not yet 30 come into the town, but was in that place [k]where Martha met him. [l]The 31 Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, [m]that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.
Then when Mary was come where Jesus 32 was, and saw him, she [n]fell down at his feet, saying unto him, [o]Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.
When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, 33 and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he [p]groaned in the spirit, and [t]was troubled, and said, Where have ye 34 laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. [q]Jesus wept. Then said 35 36
the Jews, Behold, [r]how he loved him.
And some of them said, Could not this 37 man, [s]which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died? Jesus therefore 38 again [p]groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was [ss]a cave, and [t]a stone lay upon it. Jesus said, [u]Take ye away 39 the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he [v]hath been dead four days. Jesus saith unto her, 40 [w]Said I not unto thee, that, [x]if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see [y]the glory of God? Then they took away 41 [t]the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus [z]lift up his eyes, and said, [a]Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me. And I knew that 42 thou hearest me always: but [b]because of the people which stand by I said it,
that they may [c]believe that thou hast sent me. And when he thus had spoken, 43 he cried with a loud voice, [d]Lazarus, 44 come forth. And he that was dead came forth, [e]bound hand and foot with grave-clothes: and [f]his face was bound about with [g]a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

Then [h]many of the Jews which came 45 to Mary, and [i]had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. But some 46 of them went their ways to [j]the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done. Then [k]gathered the chief 47 priests and the Pharisees [l]a council, and said, [m]What do we? for this man doeth many miracles. If we let him 48 thus alone, all men will believe on him:
and [n]the Romans shall come and take away both our [o]place and [o]nation. And 49 one of them, named [p]Caiaphas, being the high priest [q]that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, nor 50 consider [r]that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. And 51 this spake he not [s]of himself: but being high priest [q]that year, [t]he prophesied [u]that Jesus should die for that nation;
[u]And [x]not for that nation only, [y]but that 52 also he should [z]gather together in one [a]the children of God that were [z]scattered abroad. Then from that day forth 53 [b]they took counsel together for to put him to death. Jesus therefore [c]walked 54 no more openly among the Jews; but went thence unto a country near to [d]the wilderness, into a city called [e]Ephraim,
and there continued with his disciples.
And [f]the Jews' passover was nigh at 55 hand: and many [g]went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, [h]to purify themselves. [i]Then 56 sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast? Now both the chief priests 57 and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

Then [a]Jesus six days before [b]the pass- XII.
over came to [c]Bethany, where [d]Lazarus was which had been dead, whom he [2]raised from the dead. There [e]they made him a supper; and [fg]Martha served:

the table with him. Then took [g]Mary [3] [h]a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and [i]anointed the feet of Jesus, and [k]wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. Then saith one of his [4] disciples, Judas Iscariot, [l]Simon's son, which should betray him, Why was not [5]
this ointment sold [m]for three hundred pence, and given to the poor? This he [6] said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and [n]had the bag, and [o]bare what was put therein.
Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against [7]
the day of my [p]burying hath she kept this. For the poor always ye have with [8] you; but me ye have not always.

Much people of [q]the Jews therefore [9] knew that he was there: and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, [r]whom he had raised from the dead. But [s]the chief [10] priests [t]consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death; because [u]that by [11] reason of him [x]many of [q]the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

On the next day [y]much people that [12] were come to [b]the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took [z]branches of palm trees, [13]
and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna: [a]Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord. And Jesus, when he had found [14]
a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, Fear not, [b]daughter of Sion: behold, [15] thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. [c]These things understood [16] not his disciples at the first: but when [d]Jesus was glorified, then [e]remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. [f]The people therefore that [17]
was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record. [g]For this cause [18]
the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.
The Pharisees therefore said among [19] themselves, [h]Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him.

And there were certain [i]Greeks among [20] them [k]that came up to worship [l]at the feast: the same came therefore to [m]Philip, [21] which was of [n]Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. Philip cometh and telleth [m]An- [22] drew: and again Andrew and Philip tell Jesus. And Jesus answered them, say- [23] ing, [o]The hour is come, that the Son of man [d]should be glorified. Verily, verily, [24]
I say unto you, [p]Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. [q]He that loveth his life [25] shall lose it; and he that [r]hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. If any man serve me, let him [26] follow me; and [s]where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, [t]him will my Father honour. [u]Now [27] is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? [w]Father, save me from [x]this hour:
but [y]for this cause came I unto [x]this hour. [w]Father, glorify thy name. [z]Then [28] came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. The people therefore, that [29] stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him. Jesus answered and said, [a]This [30] voice came not because of me, but for your sakes. Now is [b]the judgment of [31] this world: now shall [c]the prince of this world be [d]cast out. And I, if I be [e]lifted [32] up from the earth, [f]will draw [g]all men unto me. [h]This he said, [i]signifying [33] what death he should die. The people [34] answered him, We have heard out of [j]the law [k]that Christ abideth for ever:
and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be [e]lift up? who is this Son of [35] man? Then Jesus said unto them, [l]Yet a little while is [m]the light [n]with you.
[o]Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for [p]he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. While ye have light, believe [36] in the light, that ye may be [q]the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and [r]did hide himself from them.

But though he had done so many [37]
[s]miracles before them, yet they believed not on him: that the saying of Esaias [38]
the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lord, [t]who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? There- [39] fore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, [u]He hath [40] blinded their eyes, and [x]hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. These things said Esaias, [y] when he [z] saw 41 his glory, and spake of him. Never- 42 theless among [a] the chief rulers also [b] many believed on him; but [c] because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest [d] they should be put out of the synagogue: for they loved [e] the 43 praise of men more than the praise of God.

Jesus [f] cried and said, [g] He that 44 believeth on me, believeth not on me, [h] but on him that sent me. And [i] he 45 that seeth me seeth him that sent me. [k] I am come a light into the world, that 46 whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness. And if any man hear 47 my words, and believe not, [l] I judge him not: for [m] I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. [n] He that 48 [o] rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: [p] the word that I have spoken, the same [q] shall judge him [r] in the last day. For 49 [s] I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me [t] a commandment, [u] what I should say, and what I should speak. And I know that 50 his commandment is [x] life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

XIII.

Now [a] before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that [b] his hour was come that he should [c] depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved [d] his own [e] which were in the world, he loved them unto the end. And supper being 2 ended, [f] the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, [g] Simon's son, to betray him; Jesus knowing that 3 [h] the Father had given all things into his hands, and [i] that he was come from God, and [c] went to God; [k] he riseth from sup- 4 per, and laid aside his garments; and took a towel, and [l] girded himself. After 5 that, he [m] poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel where- with he was girded. Then cometh he 6 to Simon Peter: and [t] Peter saith unto him, [n] Lord, dost thou wash my feet? Jesus answered and said unto him, 7 What I do thou knowest not now; [o] but thou shalt know hereafter. Peter saith 8 unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, [p] If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me. 9 Simon Peter saith unto him, [q] Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and 10 my head. Jesus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not' save to wash his feet, but is [r] clean [s] every whit: and [t] ye 11 are clean, but not all. For [u] he knew who should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

So after he had washed their feet, 12 and [x] had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, [o] Know ye what I have done to you? 13 Ye call me [y] Master and [z] Lord: and ye 14 say well; for so I am. If I then, your Lord and Master, [k] have washed your feet; [a] ye also ought to wash one an- 15 other's feet. For I have given you an example, [b] that ye should do as I have 16 done to you. Verily, verily, I say unto you, [c] The servant is not greater than his lord; neither [cc] he that is sent greater 17 than he that sent him. [d] If ye know these 18 things, happy are ye if ye do them. [e] I speak not of you all: I know whom [f] I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, [g] He that eateth bread with me hath lift up his 19 heel against me. [h] [‖] Now I tell you before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that [i] I am he. 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [k] He that receiveth whomsoever I send re- ceiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

When Jesus had [l] thus said, he [m] was 21 troubled in spirit, and [n] testified, and said, [o] Verily, verily, I say unto you, 22 that [p] one of you shall betray me. Then [q] the disciples looked one on another, 23 doubting of whom he spake. Now there was leaning on Jesus' [r] bosom one of his disciples, [s] whom Jesus loved. 24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of 25 whom he spake. He then [t] lying on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is 26 it? Jesus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a [‖] sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had [u] dipped the sop, [x] he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of 27 Simon. And after the sop [y] Satan enter- ed into him. Then said Jesus unto him, [z] That thou doest, do quickly. 28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the Son of man [c]glorified, and [d]God is glorified in him. If [d]God be glorified in him, God shall also [e]glorify him in himself, and [f]shall straightway glorify him. Little children, [g]yet a little while I am with you. Let [a]not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In [b]my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. [c]I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, [d]I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that [e]where I am, there ye may be also. And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know. [f]Thomas saith unto him, Lord, [g]we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am [h]the way, [i]the truth, and [k]the life: no man cometh unto the Father, [l]but by me. [m]If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from [n]henceforth ye know him, and have seen him. [o]Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? [p]he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father? Believest thou not that [q]I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you, [r]I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, [s]he doeth the works. Believe me that [q]I am in the Father, and the Father in me: [t]or else believe me for the very works' sake. Verily, verily, I say unto you, [u]He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and [v]greater works than these shall he do; because [w]I go unto my Father. [x]And whatsoever ye shall ask [y]in my name, that will I do, that [z]the Father may be glorified in the Son. If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

[a]If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another [b]Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; Even [c]the Spirit of truth; [d]whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: [e]but ye know him; for [f]he dwelleth with you, and [g]shall be in you. I will not leave you ‖comfortless: [h]I will come to you. [i]Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye [j]see me: [k]because I live, ye shall live also. [l]At that day ye shall know that [m]I am in my Father, and you in me, [n]and I in you. [a]He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and [o]he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him. [oo]Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world? Jesus answered and said unto him, [a]If a man love me, [q]he will keep my words: and [o]my Father will love him, and [r]we will come unto him, and [s]make our abode with him. He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and [t]the word which you hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you. But [u]the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost,

I am [a]the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. [b]Every branch in me 2 that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. Now [c]ye are clean through [d]the 3 word which I have spoken unto you. [e]Abide in me, and I in you. As the 4 branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, 5 [f]ye are the branches: [e]He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same [g]bringeth forth much fruit: for [h]without me ye can do nothing. If a man abide not in 6
me, he is cast forth as a branch, and [h]is withered; and [i]men gather them, and [ij]cast them into the fire, and [i]they are burned. [k]If ye abide in me, and [d]my 7 words abide in you, [l]ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. [m]Herein is my Father glorified, that ye 8 bear much fruit; [k]so shall ye be my disciples. As the Father hath loved me, 9 so have I loved you: continue ye in [n]my love. [o]If ye keep my commandments, 10 ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept [p]my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

These things have I spoken unto you, 11 that [q]my joy might remain in you, and [r]that your joy might be full. This is my 12 commandment, [s]That ye love one an- 13 other, as I have loved you. [t]Greater love hath no man than this, [u]that a man 14 lay down his life for his friends. Ye are [x]my friends, [y]if ye do whatsoever I com- 15 mand you. Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that [z]I have heard of my Father [a]I have made known 16 unto you. Ye have not chosen me, but [b]I have chosen you, and [c]ordained you, that you should go and [d]bring forth fruit, and that [e]your fruit should remain: that [f]whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father 17 in my name, he may give it you. These things I command you, [g]that ye love 18 one another. If [h]the world hate you, ye know that it hated me [i]before it hated 19
you. [k]If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but [l]because ye are not of the world, but [b]I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world 20 hateth you. Remember the word that I said unto you, [m]The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, [n]they will also persecute you; [o]if they have kept my saying, they 21 will keep yours also. But [p]all these things will they do unto you [q]for my name's sake, [r]because they know not 22 him that sent me. If I had not come and spoken unto them, [s]they had not had sin: [t]but now they have no [u]cloke 23 for their sin. He that hateth me hateth 24 my Father also. If I had not done among them [x]the works which none other man did, [s]they had not had sin: but now have they both [y]seen and [z]hated 25 both me and my Father. But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in [a]their law, [b]They 26 hated me without a cause. But when [c]the Comforter is come, [d]whom I will send unto you from the Father, even [e]the Spirit of truth, [d]which proceedeth from the Father, [f]he shall testify of me: 27 and [g]ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me [h]from the beginning.

shall [c]put you out of the synagogues: yea, [d]the time cometh, [e]that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God [f]service. And these things will they do unto you, [g]because they have not known the Father, nor me. But [h]these things have I told you, that when [d]the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And [i]these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you. But now [k]I go my way to him that sent me; and [l]none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? But because I have said these things unto you, [m]sorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, [n]the Comforter [o]will not come unto you; but [p]if I depart, [q]I will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will [r]reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: [s]of sin, [t]because they believe not on me; [u]of righteousness, [w]because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; [x]of judgment, because [y]the prince of this world [z]is judged.

[a]I have yet many things to say unto you, [b]but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, [c]the Spirit of truth, is come, [d]he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and [e]he will [f]shew you things to come. He shall [g]glorify me: for [h]he shall receive of mine, and shall [f]shew it unto you. [i]All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that [h]he shall take of mine, and shall [f]shew it unto you. [k]A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and [l]ye shall see me, [m]because I go to the Father.

Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, [n]A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father? They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith. Now Jesus [o]knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, [n]A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me? Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall [p]weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but [q]your sorrow shall be turned into joy. A [r]woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world. And ye now therefore have [s]sorrow: but I will see you again, and [t]your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you. And [u]in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, [w]Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, [x]that your joy may be full. These things have I spoken unto you in [‖]proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in [‖]proverbs, but I shall shew you [y]plainly of the Father. [z]At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you: for [a]the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have [b]believed [c]that I came out from God. [c d]I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and [e]go to the Father.

His disciples said unto him, Lo, [f]now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no [‖]proverb. Now are we sure that [g]thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this [h]we believe that [h i]thou camest forth from God. Jesus answered them, [k]Do ye now believe? Behold, [l]the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that [m]ye shall be scattered, [n]every man to [‖o]his own, and shall leave me alone: and [p]yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. These things I have spoken unto you, that [q]in me ye might have peace. In the world [r]ye shall have tribulation: but [s]be of good cheer; [t]I have overcome the world.

These words spake Jesus, and [a]lift up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, [b]the hour is come; [c]glorify thy Son, that [z]thy Son also may glorify thee: [d]as thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to [e]as many as thou hast given him. And this is life 3 eternal, that they might know thee the [f]only [g]true God, and Jesus Christ, [h]whom thou hast sent. [i]I have glorified 4 thee on the earth: [k]I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do. And 5 now, O Father, [l]glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory [m]which I had with thee [n]before the world was.

[o]I have manifested thy name unto 6 the men [p]which thou gavest me out of the world: [z]thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and [q]they have kept thy word. Now they have known that 7 all things whatsoever thou hast given me are [r]of thee. For I have given unto 8 them [s]the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and [t]have known surely that I came out from thee, and they [t]have [u]believed that [w]thou didst send me. [x]I pray for them: I 9 [y]pray not for the world, but for them [p]which thou hast given me; for [z]they are thine. And all mine are thine, and 10 [a]thine are mine; and I am glorified [b]in them. And now [c]I am no more in the 11 world, but [d]these are in the world, and I come to thee. [e]Holy Father, [f]keep [g]through thine own name those [h]whom thou hast given me, [i]that they may be one, [k]as we are. While I was with them 12 in the world, I [f]kept them [g]in thy name: those [h]that thou gavest me I have kept, and [l]none of them is lost, but [m]the son of perdition; [n]that the scripture might be fulfilled. [o]And now come I to thee; 13 and these things I speak in the world, that they might have [p]my joy fulfilled in themselves. [q]I have given them thy 14 word; and [r]the world hath hated them, [s]because they are not of the world, even as [t]I am not of the world. I pray not 15 that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest [f]keep them from [u]the evil. [w]They are not of 16 the world, even as I am not of the world. [x]Sanctify them [y]through thy 17 truth: [z]thy word is [a]truth. [b]As thou 18 hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world. And for their sakes I [c]sanctify myself, 19 that they also might be [d]sanctified 20 through the truth. Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me [e]through 21 their word; that [f]they all may be one; as [g]thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that [h]they also may be one in us: that the world may [i]believe that [k]thou 22 hast sent me. And [l]the glory which thou gavest me [m]I have given them; [h]that they may be one, even as we are 23 one: [g]I in them, and thou in me, that [n]they may be made perfect in one; and [o]that the world may know that [k]thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as 24 thou hast loved me. Father, I will that [p]they also, [q]whom thou hast given me, be with me where [r]I am; that [s]they may behold my glory, [l]which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me [t]before the 25 foundation of the world. O [u]righteous Father, [v]the world hath not known thee: but [w]I have known thee, and these [x]have known that [k]thou hast sent me. 26 And [y]I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it: that the love [z]where*with* thou hast loved me may be in them, [g]and I in them.

When Jesus had spoken these words, XVIII.
[a]he went forth with his disciples over [b]the brook Cedron, [a]where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his 2 disciples. And Judas also, which betrayed him, knew [c]the place: [d]for Jesus ofttimes resorted thither with his disci-3 ples. [e]Judas then, having received a [f]band of men, and [g]officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with 4 lanterns and [h]torches and weapons. Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and 5 said unto them, [i]Whom seek ye? They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with 6 them. As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went back-7 ward, and fell to the ground. Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye?
8 And they said, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go 9 their way: that the saying might be fulfilled, which he spake, [k]Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none. Then 10 Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus. Then said Jesus 11 unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: [l]the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

Then [fm]the band and [m]the captain 12 and [g]officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him, and [n]led him away to 13 [o]Annas first; for he was father in law to [p]Caiaphas, which was the high priest [q]that same year. [t] Now Caiaphas was he, 14 which gave counsel to the Jews, [r]that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

[s]And Simon Peter followed Jesus, 15 and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into [t]the palace of the high priest. [u]But Peter stood at the 16 door without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto [x]her that kept the door, and brought in Peter. Then 17 saith [y]the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not. And the servants and [g]officers stood 18 there, who had made [z]a fire of coals; for it was cold: and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.

[a]The high priest then asked Jesus of 19 his disciples, and of his doctrine. Jesus 20 answered him, I spake [b]openly to the world; I ever taught [c]in the synagogue, and [d]in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and [e]in secret have I said nothing. [f]Why askest thou me? ask 21 them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, [g]they know what I said. And when he had thus spoken, 22 one of the [h]officers which stood by [i]stroke Jesus [l]with the palm of his hand, saying, [k]Answerest thou the high priest so? Jesus answered him, If I have 23 spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me? Now 24 Annas [l]had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

[m]And Simon Peter stood and warmed 25 himself. [n]They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not. One 26 of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman [o]whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden

27 with him? Peter then denied again: and immediately [p]the cock crew.

28 [q]Then led they Jesus from [r]Caiaphas unto ‖the hall of judgment: and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, [s]lest they should be defiled; but [t]that they might eat the 29 passover. [u]Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring 30 you against this man? They answered and said unto him, If he were not a [x]malefactor, we would not have deliver- 31 ed him up unto thee. Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and [y]judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful 32 for us to put any man to death: that the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, [z]signifying what death he 33 should die. Then Pilate entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, [a]Art thou the 34 King of the Jews? Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did 35 others tell it thee of me? Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee 36 unto me: what hast thou done? Jesus answered, [b]My kingdom is not [c]of this world: if my kingdom were [c]of this world, then would [d]my servants [e]fight, that I should not [f]be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from 37 hence. Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, [g]Thou sayest that I am a king. [h]To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should [i]bear witness unto [k]the truth. [l]Every one that is of the truth heareth my 38 voice. Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he [m]went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, [n]I find in him no fault 39 at all. [o]But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 40 Then cried they all [p]again, saying, [q]Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was [r]a robber.

XIX. Then Pilate there- 1 fore took Jesus, and [a]scourged him. And 2 [b]the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on 3 him [c]a purple robe, and said, Hail, King of the Jews: and they [d]smote him 4 with their hands. Pilate therefore [e]went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that [ef]I find no fault in him. Then came Jesus forth, wearing the 5 crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man. When the chief priests therefore 6 and [g]officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for [f]I find no fault in him.

The Jews answered him, [h]We have a 7 law, and by our law he ought to die, because [i]he made himself the Son of God.
When Pilate therefore heard that say- 8
ing, [k]he was the more afraid; and went 9 [l]again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, [m]Whence art thou? But [n]Jesus gave him no answer. Then saith 10 Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee? Jesus answered, Thou 11 couldest have no [o]power at all against me, except it were [p]given thee [q]from above: therefore [r]he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. And 12 from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cesar's friend: [s]whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cesar. When 13 Pilate therefore heard that saying, [t]he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in [u]the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but [w]in the Hebrew, Gabbatha. And it was [x]the prepara- 14 tion of the passover, and about [y]the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, [z]Behold your King. But they cried 15 out, [zz]Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, [a]We have no king but Cesar. Then [b]delivered he him there- 16 fore unto them to be crucified.
And [c]they took Jesus, and led him away. And he [d]bearing his cross [e]went forth 17 into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha: where they crucified him, and [f]two 18 other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. And Pilate 19 wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, [g]JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS. This title then read many of 20 the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was [e]nigh to the city: and it was written [h]in Hebrew, and Greek, and 21 Latin. Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews. Pilate answered, [i]What I 22 have written I have written. [k]Then 23
the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, [l]to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was [m]without seam, ‖woven from the top throughout. They said therefore among them- 24 selves, Let us not rent it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, [n]They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.
[o]Now there stood by the cross of 25
Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, [p]Mary the wife of ‖[q]Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus therefore saw 26 his mother, and the disciple standing by, [r]whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, [s]Woman, behold thy son. Then saith 27 he to the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that hour that disciple took her unto [t]his own home.
After this, Jesus knowing that all 28 things were now accomplished, that [u]the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.
Now there was set [x]a vessel full of vine- 29 gar: and [y]they filled a spunge with vinegar, and put it upon [z]hyssop, and put it to his mouth. When Jesus therefore 30 had received the vinegar, he said, [a]It is finished: and he bowed his head, and [b]gave up the ghost.
The Jews therefore, [c]because it was 31
the preparation, [d]that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was [e]a high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. Then came the soldiers, 32 and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.
But when they came to Jesus, and saw 33 that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: but one of the soldiers with a 34 spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out [f]blood and water. And 35 he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and [g]he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe. For 36 these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, [h]A bone of him shall not be broken. And again 37 another scripture saith, [i]They shall look on him whom they pierced.

[j]And after this Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly [k]for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus. And there came also [l]Nicodemus, which at the first came to Jesus by night, and [m]brought a mixture of [n]myrrh and [o]aloes, about an hundred [p]pound weight. Then took they the body of Jesus, and [q]wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to [r]bury. Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid. There laid they Jesus therefore because of the Jews' [s]preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

XX.

The [a]first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth [b]the stone taken away from the sepulchre. Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, [c]whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him. [d]Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre. So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre. And he [e]stooping down, and looking in, saw [f]the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in. Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth [f]the linen clothes lie, and [g]the napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place [h]by itself. Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed. For as yet they [i]knew not the [k]scripture, that he must rise again from the dead. Then the disciples went away again [l]unto their own home.

But [m]Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she [e]stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre, and seeth [n]two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and [o]saw Jesus standing, and [p]knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? [q]whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have [r]borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away. Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, [s]Rabboni; which is to say, Master. Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet [t]ascended to my Father: but go to [u]my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend [x]unto my Father, and your Father; and to [y]my God, and your God. [z]Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

[a]Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, [b]when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled [c]for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and [d]stood in the midst, and saith unto them, [e]Peace be unto you. And when he had so said, [f]he shewed unto them his hands and his side. [g]Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord. Then said Jesus to them again, [e]Peace be unto you: [h]as [i]my Father hath sent me, even so send I you. And when he had said this, [k]he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost: [l]whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

But Thomas, one of the twelve, [m]called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see [n]in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe. And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then [o]came Jesus, [p]the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, [e]Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and [q]thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God. Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: [r s]blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have [s] believed.

[t]And many other [u]signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book: [w]but these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, [x]the Son of God; and that believing [y]ye might have life [z]through his name.

XXI.

After these things Jesus [a]shewed himself again to the disciples [b]at the sea of Tiberias; and on this wise shewed he himself. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas [c]called Didymus, and [d]Nathanael of [e]Cana in Galilee, and [f]the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and [t]entered into a ship immediately; and [g]that night they caught nothing. But when the morning was now come, [h]Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples [i]knew not that it was Jesus. Then Jesus saith unto them, [l k]Children, have ye any meat? [l]They answered him, No. And [m]he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. Therefore that disciple [n]whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he [o]girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was [p]naked,) and did cast himself into the sea. And the other disciples came in [q]a little ship; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes. As soon then as they were come to land, they saw [r]a fire of coals there, and [s]fish laid thereon, and bread. Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the [s]fish which ye have now caught. Simon Peter [t]went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken. Jesus saith unto them, [u]Come and [x]dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. [u]Jesus then cometh, and [y]taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise. This is now [z]the third time that Jesus shewed himself [z]to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

So when they had [x]dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, [a]Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me [b]more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again the second time, [a]Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, [c]Feed my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, [a]Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him [d]the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, [e]thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep. [f]Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou [g]girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. [h]This spake he, signifying [i]by what death he should [h]glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, [k]Follow me. Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple [l]whom Jesus loved following; [m]which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee? Peter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he [n]tarry [o]till I come, what is that to thee? [k]follow thou me. Then went this saying abroad among [p]the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and [q]we know [r]that his testimony is true. [s]And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that [t]even the world itself could not [u]contain the books that should be written. Amen.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

I. A.D. 33.

THE former treatise have I made, O [a]Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach, until the day in which [b]he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost [c]had given commandments unto the Apostles whom he had chosen: [d]to whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many [e]infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of [f]the things pertaining to the kingdom of God: and, [‖]being assembled together with them, commanded them [g]that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for [h]the promise of the Father, which, [i]saith he, ye have heard of me. For [j]John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be [jk]baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence. When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time [l]restore again the kingdom to Israel? And he said unto them, [m]It is not for you to know [n]the times or the seasons, [o]which the Father hath put in his own power. But ye shall receive [‖p]power, [q]after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be [r]witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in [s]Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, [t]he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight. And while they [u]looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, [v]two [w]men stood by them in [x]white apparel; which also said, [y]Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is [b]taken up from you into heaven, [z]shall [a]so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven. Then [b]returned they unto Jerusalem from [c]the mount called Olivet, which is from Jerusalem [d]a sabbath day's journey. And when they were come in, they went up into [e]an upper room, where abode both [f]Peter, and James, and [g]John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and [h]Judas [i]the brother of James. These all [j]continued [k]with one accord in prayer and supplication, with [l]the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with [m]his brethren.

And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number of names together were [n]about an hundred and twenty,) Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost [o]by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, [p]which was guide to them that took Jesus. For [q]he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of [r]this ministry. Now [s]this man purchased a field with [t]the reward of iniquity; and [u]falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out. And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch as that field is called in [w]their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, [x]The field of blood. For it is written in the book of Psalms, [y]Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and [z]his [‖]bishoprick let another take. Wherefore of these 21 men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus [a]went in and out among us, [b]beginning from the 22 baptism of John, unto that same day that he was [c]taken up from us, must one be ordained to be [d]a witness with us of his resurrection. And they ap- 23 pointed two, Joseph called [e]Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and [f]Matthias. And they [g]prayed, and said, 24 Thou, Lord, [h]which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen, that he may take 25 part of [i]this ministry and [j]apostleship, from which Judas by [k]transgression fell,

that he might go [l]to his own place.
And they gave forth their lots; and 26 [m]the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

II.

And when [a]the day of Pentecost 2 [b]was fully come, they were all [c]with one accord in one place. And suddenly there came [d]a sound from heaven [e]as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them 3 cloven tongues like as of [f]fire, and it sat upon each of them. And [g]they 4 were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began [h]to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. And 5
there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, [i]devout men, out of every nation under heaven. Now [t]when this was noised 6 abroad, the multitude came together, and were [j]k]confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language. And they were all [l]a- 7 mazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak [m]Galileans? And how hear we 8 every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born? Parthians, and [n]Medes, 9 and [o]Elamites, and the dwellers in [p]Mesopotamia, and in Judea, and [q]Cappa-docia, in [qr]Pontus, and [qs]Asia, [t]Phry- 10 gia, and [u]Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya about [x]Cyrene, and [y]strangers of Rome, Jews and [z]proselytes, [a]Cretes and [b]Arabians, we do 11 hear them speak in our tongues the [c]wonderful works of God. And they 12 were all [d]amazed, and [e]were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this? Others mocking said, These men 13 are full of new wine.

But Peter, standing up with [f]the 14 eleven, [g]lift up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words: for these are not [h]drunken, as 15 ye suppose, [i]seeing it is but [k]the third hour of the day. But this is that which 16 was spoken by the prophet Joel; [l]And 17 it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, [m]I will pour out of my Spirit [n]upon all flesh: and your sons and [o]your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams: and on my 18 servants and on my handmaidens
I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; and [p]they shall prophesy: and 19
I will shew [q]wonders in heaven above, and [q]signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke: [r]the sun shall be turned 20 into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come: and it 21 shall come to pass, that [s]whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved. Ye men of Israel, 22 hear these words; [t]Jesus of Nazareth, a man [u]approved of God among you
by [x]miracles and [qx]wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know: Him, 23 [y]being delivered by the [z]determinate counsel and [a]foreknowledge of God, [b]ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: [c]whom God hath 24 raised up, having loosed [d]the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it. For David 25 speaketh [e]concerning him, [f]I foresaw
the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved: therefore 26 did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope: [g]because thou 27 wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption. Thou hast 28 made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance. Men and 29 brethren, ‖ let me freely speak unto you of [h] the patriarch David, that [i] he is both dead and buried, and [k] his sepulchre is with us unto this day. Therefore being 30 a prophet, and knowing that [l] God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, [m] according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne; he seeing this before, 31 spake of the resurrection of Christ, [n] that his soul was not left in [o] hell, neither his flesh did see corruption. This Jesus [c] hath God raised up, where- 32 of we all are [p] witnesses. Therefore 33 [q] being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received [r] of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath [s] shed forth this, which ye now see and hear. For David is not [t] as- 34 cended [u] into the heavens: but he saith himself, [x] The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 until I make thy foes thy footstool. Therefore let all the house of 36 Israel know [y] assuredly, that [z] God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both [a] Lord and Christ.

Now when they heard this, they were 37 [b] pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, [c] what shall we do? Then Peter said unto them, [d] Repent, 38 and [e] be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ [f] for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive [g] the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the 39 promise is unto you, and [h] to your children, and to all that are [i] afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call. And with many other words did 40 he [j] testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this [k] untoward generation.

Then they that gladly [l] received his 41 word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them [m] about three thousand [n] souls. And they [o] con- 42 tinued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in [y] breaking of bread, and in prayers. And [p] fear 43 came upon every soul: and [q] many wonders and signs were done by the apostles. And all that believed were [r] together, and [s] had all things common; 44 and [t] sold their possessions and goods, 45 and parted them to all men, [u] as every 46 man had need. And they, [o] continuing daily [w] with one accord [x] in the temple, and [y] breaking bread ‖ from house to house, did eat their meat with [z] gladness and singleness of heart, [a] praising 47 God, and having [b] favour with all the people. And the Lord [c] added to the church daily [d] such as should be saved.

Now Peter and [a] John [b] went up to- III. gether [c] into the temple at [d] the hour 2 of prayer, being [e] the ninth hour. And a certain man [f] lame from his mother's womb was carried, [g] whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, [h] to ask alms of them 3 that entered into the temple; who seeing Peter and John about to go into 4 the temple, asked an alms. And Peter, [i] fastening his eyes upon him with John, 5 said, Look on us. And he [j] gave heed unto them, expecting to receive some- 6 thing of them. Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: [k] In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and 7 walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lift him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones re- 8 ceived strength, and he [l] leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and 9 [l] leaping, and praising God. And [m] all the people saw him walking and prais- 10 ing God: and they [n] knew that it was he which [h] sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as the lame man which was healed [nn] held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in [o] the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly 12 wondering. And when Peter saw it, he [p] answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why [q] look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or [r] holiness we had 13 made this man to walk? Pilate, when he was determined to [x]let him go. But ye denied [y]the Holy One and [z]the Just, and [a]desired a murderer to be [b]granted unto you; and killed the ‖[c]Prince of [d]life, whom [e]God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are [f]witnesses. But those things, which God [l]before had shewed [m]by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled. Yea, and all the [z]prophets from [z]Samuel and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise [l]foretold of these days. Ye are [a]the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, [b]And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be [c]blessed. 3 [c]the resurrection from the dead. And [d]they laid hands on them, and put them in [e]hold unto the next day: for it was 4 now eventide. Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was [f]about five 5 thousand. And it came to pass on the morrow, that their [g]rulers, and elders, 6 and scribes, and [h]Annas the high priest, and [i]Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem. And 7 when they had set them in the midst, they asked, [k]By what power, or by 8 what name, have ye done this? Then Peter, [l]filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye [g]rulers of the people, 9 and elders of Israel, if we this day be [m]examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is
10 [n]made whole; be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that [o]by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom [p]God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before

12 corner. [s]Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.
13 Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and [t]John, and [u]perceived that they were unlearned and [x]ignorant men, they marvelled; and [y]they took knowledge of them, that they had been with 14 Jesus. And beholding the man which was healed [z]standing with them, they

God, judge ye. For [g]we cannot but 20 speak the things which [h]we have seen and heard. So when they had further 21 threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, [i]because of the people: for all men [k]glorified God for [l]that which was done. For the man was above forty 22 years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

And being let go, they went to [m]their 23 own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them. And when they heard that, they 24 lift up their voice to God [n]with one accord, and said, [o]Lord, [p]thou art God, [q]which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is: who by the mouth of thy 25 servant David hast said, [r]Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things? The kings of 26 the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his [u]Christ.
For [s]of a truth against [t]thy holy child 27
Jesus, [u]whom thou hast anointed, both [x]Herod, and [y]Pontius Pilate, with [z]the Gentiles, and [a]the people of Israel, were gathered together, for to do what- 28 soever thy hand and thy counsel [b]determined before to be done. And now, 29 Lord, [c]behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all [d]boldness they may speak thy word, by stretching forth thine hand to heal; 30 and that [e]signs and wonders may be done [f]by the name of [g]thy holy child Jesus. And when they had prayed, 31 the place [h]was shaken where they were assembled together; and [i]they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with [d]boldness.

And the multitude of them that be- 32
lieved were of [j]one heart and of [k]one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but [l]they had all things common. And with great [m]power gave 33 the apostles [n]witness of [o]the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great [p]grace was upon them all. Neither was there 34 any among them that lacked: [q]for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, and [r]laid 35 them down at the apostles' feet: and [s]distribution was made unto every man 36 [t]according as he had need. And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed [u]Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted,
The son of consolation,) a Levite, and 37 of the country of [x]Cyprus, having land, [q]sold it, and brought the money, and [r]laid it at the apostles' feet.

V.

But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a posses-2 sion, and [a]kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and [b]laid it 3 at the apostles' feet. But Peter said, Ananias, why hath [c]Satan [d]filled thine heart [‖]to lie to [f]the Holy Ghost, and to [a]keep back part of the price of the 4 land? Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou [e]conceived this thing in thine heart?
thou hast not lied unto men, but [f]unto 5 God. And Ananias hearing these words [g]fell down, and gave up the ghost: [h]and great fear came on all them that heard 6 these things. [i]And the young men arose, [j]wound him up, and carried him 7 out, and buried him. And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came 8 in. And Peter [k]answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.
9 Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to [kk]tempt [f]the Spirit of the Lord? behold, [l]the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry 10 thee out. Then [g]fell she down straightway at his feet, and [g]yielded up the ghost: and [i]the young men came in,
and found her dead, and, carrying her 11 forth, buried her by her husband. [h]And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

12 And [m]by the hands of the apostles were many [n]signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all [o]with one accord in [p]Solomon's porch.
13 And of the rest [q]durst no man join the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least [t] the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them. There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing [u] sick folks, and them which were [u] vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

Then [x] the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the [y] Sadducees,) and were filled with [‖] indignation, and [z] laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common [a] prison. But [b] the angel of the Lord by night [c] opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, Go, stand and speak [d] in the temple to the people all [e] the words of this life. And when they heard that, they entered [fg] into the temple [g] early in the morning, and taught. [h] But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called [i] the council together, and all [k] the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought. But when the [l] officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told, saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within. Now when the [ll] high priest and the [m] captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they [n] doubted of them whereunto this would grow. Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing [f] in the temple, and teaching the people. Then went the [m] captain with the [l] officers, and brought them without violence: [o] for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned. And when they had brought them, they set them before [i] the council: and the high priest asked them, saying, [p] Did not we [q] straitly command you that you should not teach in this name? and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and [r] intend to bring this man's [s] blood upon us. Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, [t] We ought to obey God rather than men. [u] The God of our fathers [x] raised up Jesus, [y] whom ye slew and [z] hanged on a tree. Him hath God exalted [a] with his right hand to be [b] a Prince and [c] a Saviour, for to give [d] repentance to Israel, and [de] forgiveness of sins. And [f] we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, [g] whom God hath given to them that obey him.

When they heard that, they were cut [h] to the heart, and [i] took counsel to slay them. Then stood there up one in [j] the council, a Pharisee, named [k] Gamaliel, [l] a doctor of law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space; and said unto them, Ye men of Israel, [m] take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men. For [*] before these days rose up Theudas, [n] boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as [‖] obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought. After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of [o] the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as [‖] obeyed him, were dispersed. And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: [p] for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought: but if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even [q] to fight against God. And to him they agreed: and when they had [r] called the apostles, and [s] beaten them, they [r] commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. And they departed from the presence of [j] the council, [t] rejoicing that they were [u] counted worthy to suffer shame for his name. And daily [x] in the temple, and [y] in every house, [z] they ceased not to teach and [a] preach Jesus Christ.

VI.

And in those days, [a] when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the [b] Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected [c] in the daily ministration. Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, [d] It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve [e] tables. Wherefore, brethren, [f] look ye out among you seven men [g] of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business. But we will [h] give ourselves 4 continually to prayer, and to [i] the ministry of the word. And the saying pleased 5 the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, [k] a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and [l] Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and [m] Nicolas a [n] proselyte of [o] Antioch: whom they set before the 6 apostles: and when they had [p] prayed, they [q] laid their hands on them. And 7 [r] the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and [s] a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

And Stephen, full of faith and power, 8 did great [t] wonders and miracles among the people. Then there arose certain 9 of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Libertines, and [u] Cyrenians, and [x] Alexandrians, and of them of [y] Cilicia and of [z] Asia, disputing with Stephen. And they were not able to 10 [a] resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake. Then [b] they suborned 11 men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God. And they stirred 12 up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and [c] came upon him, and [d] caught him, and brought him to [e] the council, and set up [f] false witnesses, 13 which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this [g] holy place, and the law: for we have 14 council, [k] looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had been [l] the face of an angel.

VII. Then said the high priest, Are these things so? And he said, 2 months: and [z]when he was cast out, 21 Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son. And 22 Moses was learned in all [a]the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was [b]mighty in words and in deeds. And when he was 23 full forty years old, [c]it came into his heart [d]to visit his brethren the children of Israel. And seeing one of them suf- 24 fer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian: [l]for he supposed his bre- 25 thren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not. [e]And the 26 next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? But he that did his neighbour wrong 27 thrust him away, saying, [f]Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? Wilt 28 thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday? [g]Then fled Moses at this 29 saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, [h]where he begat two sons. And when forty years were expired, 30 [i]there appeared to him in the wilderness [k]of mount Sina an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush. When Moses saw it, he wondered at 31 the sight: and as he drew near to [l]behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, saying, [m]I am the God of 32 thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then [n]Moses trembled, and durst not [l]behold. Then said the 33 Lord to him, [o]Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground. [p]I have seen, I 34 have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt. This Moses 35 whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer [q]by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush. [r]He brought 36 them out, after that he had shewed [s]wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and [t]in the Red sea, and [u]in the wilderness [w]forty years. This is 37 that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, [x]A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, [l]like unto me; him shall ye hear. This is he, [y]that 38 was in the [z]church in the wilderness with [a]the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: [b]who received the lively [c]oracles to give unto us: to whom our fathers would 39 not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts [d]turned back again into Egypt, saying unto Aaron, [e]Make 40 us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. And [f]they 41 made a calf in those days, and [f]offered sacrifice unto the idol, and [g]rejoiced in the works of their own hands. Then 42 God [i]turned, and [j]gave them up to worship [k]the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, [l]O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilder- 43 ness? Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of [m]Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will [n]carry you away beyond Babylon. Our fathers had [o]the tabernacle of Wit- 44 ness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, [l]speaking unto Moses, [p]that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen. Which also 45 our fathers [l]that came after [q]brought in with [r]Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, [s]whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, [t]unto the days of David; who [u]found favour before 46 God, and [w]desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob. [x]But Solomon 47 built him a house. [y]Howbeit [z]the most 48 High [a]dwelleth not in temples [b]made with hands; as saith the prophet, [c]Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest? Hath not my 49 hand made all these things? Ye [de]stiffnecked and [df]uncircumcised 50 in heart and ears, ye do always [g]resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. [h]Which of the prophets have 51 not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of [i]the Just One; of whom 52 [k]ye have been now the betrayers and murderers: who have received the law 53 [l]by the disposition of angels, and have not [m]kept it.

And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and [c]they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and [d]Samaria, except the apostles. And [e]devout men [f]carried Stephen to his burial, and [g]made great lamentation over him. As for Saul, [h]he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and [i]haling men and women committed them to prison. Therefore [j]they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

Then [k]Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them. And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did. For [l]unclean spirits, [m]crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed. And there was [n]great joy in that city. But there was a certain man, called Simon, which beforetime in the same city [o]used sorcery, and [p]bewitched the people of Samaria, [q]giving out that himself was some great one: to whom they all gave heed, [r]from the least to the greatest, saying, [s]This man is the great power of God. And to him they [t]had regard, because that of long time he had [p]bewitched them with [o]sorceries. But when they believed Philip preaching [u]the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he [v]continued with Philip, and [p]wondered, beholding the [†]miracles and signs which were done.

Now when [w]the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them [x]Peter and John: who, when they were come down, prayed for them, [y c]that they might receive the Holy Ghost: (for [z]as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only [y a]they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.) Then [b]laid they their hands on them, and [c]they received the Holy Ghost. And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands [c]the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. But Peter said unto him, [d]Thy money perish with thee, because [e]thou hast thought that [f]the gift of God may be purchased with money. Thou hast neither [g]part nor lot in this [h]matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, [i]if perhaps the [k]thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee. For I perceive that thou art in [l]the gall of bitterness, and in [m]the bond of iniquity. Then answered Simon, and said, [n]Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me. And they, when they had [o]testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and [p]preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

And [q]the angel of the Lord spake unto [r]Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto [s]Gaza, which is desert. And he arose and went: and behold, [t]a man of Ethiopia, [u]an eunuch [w]of great authority under Candace queen of the [x]Ethiopians, who had [y]the charge of all her treasure, and [z]had come to Jerusalem for to worship, was returning, and sitting in his chariot read

Esaias the prophet. Then the Spirit 29 said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot. And Philip ran 30 thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, [a]Understand-est thou what the readest? And he 31 said, How can I, except some man should [b]guide me? And [c]he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him. The place of the scripture 32 which he read was this, [d]He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth: in his humiliation his 33 judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.
And the eunuch answered Philip, and 34 said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man? Then Philip [e]opened his 35 mouth, and [f]began at the same [g]scripture, and [h]preached unto him Jesus.
And as they went on their way, they 36 came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; what doth [i]hinder me to be baptized? And 37 Philip said, [j]If thou believest with all thine heart, [k]thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that [l]Jesus Christ is [m]the Son of God. And he 38 commanded the chariot to stand still:
and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him. And when they were 39 come up out of the water, [n]the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way [o]rejoicing. But Philip was 40 found at [p]Azotus: and passing through he [q]preached in all the cities, till he came to [r]Cesarea.

IX. And [a]Saul, yet [b]breathing out threat- 1 enings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto [c]the high priest, and desired of him letters to 2 [d]Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any [†]of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem. [e]And as 3
he journeyed, he came near [d]Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven: and 4 he fell to the earth, [f]and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou [g]me? And he said, Who 5 art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus [g]whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.
6 And he trembling and astonished said,
Lord, [h]what wilt thou have me to do?
And the Lord said unto him, [i]Arise,
and go into the city, and it shall be told 7 thee what thou must do. And [ii]the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, [j]hearing a voice, but seeing 8 no man. And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, [k]he saw no man: but [l]they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damas-9 cus. And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.
10 [m]And there was a certain disciple at [d]Damascus, named Ananias; and to him said the Lord in [n]a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, 11 Lord. And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul, of [o]Tarsus: 12 for behold, he prayeth, and hath seen in [n]a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and [p]putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.
13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, [q]how much evil he hath done to thy [r]saints at Je-14 rusalem: and here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all [s]that 15 call on thy name. But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is [t]a chosen vessel unto me, [u]to bear my name before [x]the Gentiles, and [y]kings, 16 and the children of Israel: for [z]I will shew him how great things he must 17 suffer for my name's sake. [a]And Ananias went his way, and entered into [b]the house; and [c]putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and [d]be 18 filled with the Holy Ghost. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been [e]scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and [f]was baptized, 19 and when he had received meat, he was strengthened. [g]Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at 20 Damascus. And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is 21 [h]the Son of God. But all that heard him were amazed, and said; Is not this he that [i]destroyed them [k]which called on this name in Jerusalem, [l]and came hither for that intent, [m]that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

But Saul increased the more in strength, 22 and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, [n]proving that this is very Christ.

*And after that many days were ful- 23
filled, the Jews took counsel to kill him:
but their [o]laying await was known of 24
Saul. [p]And they watched the gates day and night to kill him. Then the 25 disciples took him by night, and [q]let him down by the wall in a [r]basket.
And [s]when Saul was come to Jerusa- 26 lem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple. But [t]Barnabas took him, and 27 brought him [u]to the apostles, and declared unto them [x]how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and [y]how he had [z]preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus. And [u]he was with them [a]com- 28
ing in and going out at Jerusalem.
And he [z]spake boldly in the name of 29
the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the [b]Grecians: but [c]they went about to slay him. Which when [d]the bre- 30 thren knew, they brought him down to [e]Cesarea, and sent him forth to [f]Tarsus.
Then had [g]the churches rest through- 31
out all Judea and Galilee and [h]Samaria, and were [i]edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the [k]comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

*And it came to pass, as [l]Peter passed 32 throughout all quarters, he came down also to [m]the saints which dwelt at [n]Lyd-
da. And there he found a certain man 33 named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.
And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, [o]Je- 34 sus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately. And all that dwelt at [n]Lydda 35 and [p]Saron saw him, and [q]turned to the Lord.

Now there was at [r]Joppa a certain 36 disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called [l]Dorcas: this woman was full of [s]good works and almsdeeds which she did. And it came to pass in 37 those days, that she was sick, and died:
whom when they had washed, they laid her in an [t]upper chamber. And foras- 38 much as [n]Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not [l][u]delay to 39 come to them. Then Peter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the [t]upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them. But Peter [x]put them 40 all forth, and [y]kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body [z]said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up. And he gave her his hand, and lift 41 her up, and when he had called [a]the saints and widows, presented her alive.
And it was known throughout all [r]Jop- 42
pa; and [b]many believed in the Lord.
And it came to pass, that he tarried 43 many days in Joppa with one [c]Simon a tanner.

There was a certain man in [a]Cesarea X.
called Cornelius, a centurion of the A.D. 41.
[b]band called the Italian band, a [c]devout man, and [d]one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway. [e]He saw in [f]a vision evidently, about the ninth hour of the day, [ff]an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius. And when he [g]looked on him, [h]he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms [i]are come up [j]for a memorial before God. And now send men to [k]Joppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter: he lodgeth with one [l]Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: [m]he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do. And when the angel which spake unto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his [n]household servants, and a [c]devout soldier of them that [o]waited on him continually; and when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, [p]Peter went up upon [q]the house to pray about [r]the sixth hour: and he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into [s]a trance, and [t]saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:
wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.
And there came a voice to him, Rise,

Peter; kill, and eat. But Peter said, 14
Not so, Lord; for [u]I have never eaten any thing that is [v]common or [w]unclean.
And the voice spake unto him again the 15
second time, What God hath cleansed, that [x]call not thou common. This was 16 done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

Now while Peter [y]doubted in himself 17
what this [f]vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made inquiry for Simon's house, and [z]stood before [a]the gate, and called, and asked 18 whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there. While Peter 19 thought on the vision, the spirit said unto him, Behold, [b]three men seek thee: arise therefore, and get thee down, 20
and [c]go with them, [d]doubting nothing:
for I have sent them. Then Peter went 21 down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come? And they said, 22 Cornelius the centurion, a just man, and [e]one that feareth God, and [f]of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was [g]warned from God by a [h]holy angel to send for thee into his house, and [i]to hear words of thee. Then called he 23 them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Peter went away with them, and [j]certain [k]brethren from Joppa accompanied him. And the morrow after 24 they entered into [l]Cesarea. And Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

And as Peter was coming in, Corne- 25
lius met him, and [m]fell down at his feet, and [n]worshipped him. But Peter took 26 him up, saying, Stand up; [o]I myself also am a man. And as he talked with him, 27 he went in, and found [p]many that were come together. And he said unto them, 28 Ye know how that it is an [q]unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew [r]to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but [s]God hath shewed me that I should not call any man common or unclean. Therefore came I unto you 29 without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for: I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me? And Cornelius 30 said, [t]Four days ago I was [u]fasting until this hour; and at [w]the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and behold, [x]a man stood before me in [xy]bright clothing, and said, Cornelius, [z]thy prayer is heard, 31
and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God. [a]Send therefore to 32 Joppa, and call hither Simon, whose surname is Peter; he is lodged in the house of one Simon a tanner by the sea side: who, when he cometh, shall speak 33 unto thee. Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and [b]thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.
Then Peter [c]opened his mouth, and 34 said, Of a truth I perceive that God is [d]no respecter of persons: but [e]in every 35 nation [f]he that feareth him, and work-eth righteousness, is accepted with him.
The word which God sent unto the chil- 36
dren of Israel, preaching [g]peace by Jesus Christ: (for [h]he is [i]Lord of all:) that 37 word, I say, you know, which was published throughout all Judea, and [j]began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; how God [k]anointed Je- 38 sus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for [l]God was with him.
And we are [m]witnesses of all things 39 which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; [n]whom they slew and hanged on a tree: him [o]God 40 raised up the third day, and shewed him openly; [p]not to all the people, but 41 unto [q]witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, [r]who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. And 42 [s]he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to [t]testify that [u]it is he which was [x]ordained of God to be the Judge [y]of quick and dead. To him 43 give [z]all the prophets witness, that through his name [a]whosoever believeth in him shall receive [b]remission of sins.
While Peter yet spake these words, 44 [c]the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. And [d]they of the cir- 45 cumcision which believed were astonished, [d]as many as came with Peter, because that [e]on the Gentiles also was [f]poured out [g]the gift of the Holy Ghost.
For they heard them [h]speak with tongues, 46

have received the Holy Ghost [l]as well be baptized [n]in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

XI. And the apostles and [a]brethren that were in Judea heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God. And when Peter was [b]come up to Jerusalem, [c]they that were of the circumcision contended with him, saying, [d]Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and [e]didst eat with them. But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and [f]expounded it [g]by order unto them, saying, [h]I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw [i]a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me: upon the which when I had [j]fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air. And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Peter; slay and eat. But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth. But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common. And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven. And behold, immediately there were three men [k]already come unto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea unto me. And the spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover [l]these six [a]brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house: and he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter; who shall tell thee [m]words, whereby thou and [n]all thy house shall be saved. And as I began to speak, [o]the Holy Ghost fell on them, [p]as on us at the beginning. Then [q]remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, [r]John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost. [s]Forasmuch then as God gave them the like [t]gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ; what was I, that I could [u]withstand God? When they heard these things, they held their peace, and [x]glorified God, saying, [y]Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted [z]repentance unto life.

19 Now [a]they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen travelled as far as [b]Phenice, and [c]Cyprus, and [d]Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews 20 only. And some of them were men of [c]Cyprus and [e]Cyrene, which, when they were come to [d]Antioch, spake unto the [f]Grecians, [g]preaching the Lord Jesus. 21 And [h]the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number [i]believed, 22 and [ii]turned unto the Lord. Then [j]tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth [k]Barnabas, that he 23 should go as far as [d]Antioch. Who, when he came, and had seen [l]the grace of God, was glad, and [m]exhorted them all, that with [n]purpose of heart they 24 would cleave unto the Lord. For he was [o]a good man, and [p]full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people 25 [q]was added unto the Lord. *Then departed Barnabas to [r]Tarsus, for to seek 26 Saul: and when he had found him, he brought him unto [s]Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves [l]with the church, and taught much people, and the [t]disciples were called [u]Christians first in [s]Antioch.

27 And in these days came [x]prophets 28 from Jerusalem unto [s]Antioch. And there stood up one of them named [y]Agabus, and signified by the spirit that there should be great [z]dearth throughout all [a]the world: which came to pass in 29 the days of [b]Claudius Cesar. Then the [t]disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send [c]relief unto the [d]brethren which dwelt in Judea: 30 [e]which also they did, and sent it to [f]the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

Now about that time [a]Herod the king XII.
[ll][b]stretched forth his hands to vex cer-
2 tain of the church. And he killed [c]James the brother of [d]John [e]with the sword.
3 And [ee]because he saw it pleased the Jews, he [f]proceeded further to take Peter also. (Then were [g]the days of unleavened bread.) And when he had 4 apprehended him, he put him in [h]prison, and delivered him to four [i]quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after [j]Easter to bring him forth to the people.

Peter therefore was kept in prison: but 5 [‖]prayer was made without ceasing [k]of the church unto God for him. And 6 when [a]Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with [l]two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison. And behold, [m]the an- 7 gel of the Lord [n]came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and [o]he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. And the 8 angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and [p]bind on thy sandals. And so he did.
And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. And 9 he went out, and followed him; and wist
not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought [q]he saw [r]a vision.
When they were past the first and the 10 second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; [s]which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him. And when Peter was 11 [t]come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent [u]his angel, and [w]hath delivered me out of the hand of [a]Herod, and from all [x]the expectation of the people of the Jews.
And when he had [y]considered the thing, 12
he came to the house of Mary the mother of [z]John, whose surname was [a]Mark;
where many were gathered together [b]praying.

And as Peter knocked at the door of 13 [c]the gate, [d]a damsel came [‖]to hearken, named Rhoda. And when she knew 14
Peter's voice, she opened not [c]the gate [e]for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before [c]the gate. And they 15 said unto her, Thou art mad. But she [f]constantly affirmed that it was even so.
Then said they, It is [g]his angel. But 16 Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished. But he, [h]beckon- 17 ing unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison.
And he said, Go shew these things unto [i]James, and to [k]the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.
18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what 19 was become of Peter. And when [l]Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he [m]examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to [n]Cesarea, and there abode.
20 And [l]Herod [‖]was highly displeased with them of [o]Tyre and Sidon: but they came with one accord to him, and,
[p]having made Blastus [†]the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace; because [q]their country was nourished by 21 the king's country. And upon a set day [l]Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his [r]throne, and made an oration 22 unto them. And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, 23 and not of a man. And immediately the angel of the Lord [s]smote him, because [t]he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the 24 ghost. But [u]the word of God grew and 25 multiplied. [w]And [x]Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their [‖][y]ministry, and [t]took with them [z]John, whose surname was [z]Mark.

whose name was Bar-jesus: which was 7
with the [z]deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a [a]prudent man; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God. But Elymas the sor- 8 cerer (for so is his name by interpretation) [b]withstood them, seeking to [g]turn away the deputy from the faith. Then 9 Saul, (who also is called Paul,) [c]filled with the Holy Ghost, [d]set his eyes on him, and said, O full of all subtilty and all 10 [e]mischief, [f]thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to [g]pervert the [h]right ways of the Lord? And now behold, [i]the hand of 11 the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun [k]for a season.
And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking [l]some to lead him by the hand. Then 12
the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being [m]astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

Now when [n]Paul and his company 13 loosed from [o]Paphos, they came to [p]Perga in [q]Pamphylia: and [r]John [s]departing from them returned [t]to Jerusalem. But when they departed from 14 [p]Perga, they came to [u]Antioch in [x]Pisidia, and went [y]into the synagogue [yz]on the sabbath day, and sat down. And 15 after the reading of [a]the law and [b]the prophets [c]the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any [d]word of [de]exhortation for the people, say on. Then Paul 16 stood up, and [f]beckoning with his hand
said,

Men of Israel, and [g]ye that fear God,
give audience. [h]The God of this people 17 of Israel [i]chose our fathers, and exalted the people [k]when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and [l]with a high arm brought he them out of it. And 18 about the time of [m]forty years [l]suffered he their manners in the wilderness. And 19 when [n]he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, [o]he divided their land to them by lot. And after that [p]he 20 gave unto them judges about the space of [q]four hundred and fifty years, until [r]Samuel the prophet. And afterward [s]they 21 desired a king: and [t]God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, [u]a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty 22 years. And [w]when he had removed him, [x]he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, [y]I have found David the son of Jesse, [z]a man after mine own heart, [a]which shall fulfil all my 23 will. [b]Of this man's seed hath God according [c]to his promise raised unto Israel 24 [d]a Saviour, Jesus: when [e]John had first preached before his [f]coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.
25 And as John [g]fulfilled his course, he said, [h]Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am 26 not worthy to loose. Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and [i]whosoever among you feareth God, [k]to you is the word of this salvation sent.
27 For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and [l]their rulers, [m]because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets [n]which are read every sabbath day, they have [o]fulfilled them in condemning him.
28 And [p]though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that 29 he should be slain. And when [q]they had fulfilled all that was written of him, [r]they took him down from [s]the tree, and 30 laid him in a sepulchre. But [t]God 31 raised him from the dead: and [u]he was seen many days of them which [v]came up with him [w]from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his [x]witnesses unto the people.
32 And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that [y]the promise which was made 33 unto the fathers, God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath [t]raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, [z]Thou art
my Son, this day have I begotten 34 thee. And as concerning that he [t]raised him up from the dead, now no more [a]to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you [b]the sure [l]mer-35 cies of David. Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, [c]Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corrup-36 tion. For David, [l]after he had served his own generation by the will of God, [d]fell on sleep, and was [e]laid unto his 37 fathers, and [a]saw corruption: but he, whom God raised again, [a]saw no corruption. Be it known unto you therefore, 38 men and brethren, that [f]through this man is preached unto you the [g]forgiveness of sins: and [h]by him all that be- 39 lieve are [i]justified from all things, [k]from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. Beware therefore, lest 40 that come upon you, which is spoken of in [l]the prophets; [m]Behold ye de- 41 spisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which you shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

And when the Jews were gone out of 42
the synagogue, [n]the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them [o]the next sabbath. Now when 43 the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and [p]religious [q]proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, [r]persuaded them to continue in [s]the grace of God. And the 44 next sabbath day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God.
But when the Jews saw the multitudes, 45 [t]they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and [u]blaspheming.
Then Paul and Barnabas [x]waxed 46 bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should [y]first have been spoken to you: but [z]seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves [a]unworthy of everlasting life, lo, [b]we turn to the Gentiles. For so hath the Lord 47 commanded us, saying, [c]I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.
And when the Gentiles heard this, they 48 were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and [d]as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. And the word 49 of the Lord was published throughout all the region. But [e]the Jews stirred 50 up the [f]devout and [g]honourable women, and [h]the chief men of the city, and [i]raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts. But they [k]shook off the dust 51 of their feet [k]against them, and came unto [l]Iconium. And the disciples were 52 filled with [m]joy, and with [n]the Holy Ghost.

And it came to pass in [a]Iconium, XIV.
that they went both together [b]into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews 2 and also of the Greeks believed. But [c]the unbelieving Jews [d]stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil 3 affected against [e]the brethren. Long time therefore abode they [f]speaking boldly in the Lord, [g]which gave testimony unto [h]the word of his grace, and granted [i]signs and wonders to be done 4 by their hands. But the multitude of the city was divided: and [j]part held with the Jews, and part with the [k]apo-5 stles. And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews with their rulers, [l]to use them 6 despitefully, and to stone them, they were [m]ware of it, and [n]fled unto [o]Lystra and [p]Derbe, cities of [q]Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round 7 about: and there they preached the gospel.

8 And there sat a certain man at [o]Lystra, impotent in his feet, [r]being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never 9 had walked: the same heard Paul speak:
who [s]stedfastly beholding him, and [t]perceiving that he had faith [u]to be healed, 10 said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he [x]leaped and walk-11 ed. And when the people saw what Paul had done, they [y]lift up their voices, saying in the speech of [q]Lycaonia, [z]The gods are come down to 12 us in the likeness of men. And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.
13 Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto [a]the gates, and [b]would have 14 done sacrifice with the people. Which when [c]the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, [d]they rent their clothes, and [e]ran in among the people, crying out, 15 and saying, Sirs, [f]why do ye these things? We also are men [g]of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should [h]turn from these [i]vanities unto [j]the living God, [k]which made heaven, and earth, and the sea,
and all things that are therein:
16 who in times past [l]suffered all nations 17 [m]to walk in their own ways. [n]Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and [o]gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with [p]food and [q]gladness. And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

And [r]there came thither certain Jews from [s]Antioch and [t]Iconium, who persuaded the people, and, [u]having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead. Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Barnabas to [x]Derbe. And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and [†]had taught many, they returned again to [y]Lystra, and to [t]Iconium, and [s]Antioch, [z]confirming the souls of the disciples, and [a]exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that [b]we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God. A. D. 51.

And [a]certain men which came down from Judea taught [b]the brethren, and said, [c]Except ye be circumcised [d]after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved. When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and [e]disputation with them, they determined that [f]Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should [g]go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and [h]elders about this question. And [i]being brought on their way by the church, they passed through [k]Phenice and [l]Samaria, [m]declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all [b]the brethren. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were [n]received of the church, and of the apostles and [h]elders, and they [o]declared all things that God had done with them. But there [‖]rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, [c]That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.

And the apostles and [h]elders came together for to consider of this matter. And when there had been much [e]disputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that [p]a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe. And God, [q]which knoweth the hearts, [r]bare them witness, [s]giving them the Holy Ghost, [t]even as he did unto us; and [u]put no difference between us and them, [x]purifying their hearts [y]by faith. Now therefore why [z]tempt ye God, [a]to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? But we believe that [b]through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they. Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, [c]declaring what [d]miracles and wonders [e]God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

And after they had held their peace, [f]James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me: [g]Simeon [h]hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name. And to this agree the words of [i]the prophets; as it is written, After this I will return, and [k]will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up: that the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things. Known unto God are all his works [l]from the beginning of the world. Wherefore [m]my sentence is, that we [n]trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles [o]are turned to God: but that we write unto them, that they ab-

Then pleased it the apostles and 22 [t]elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to [u]Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas surnamed [x]Barsabas, and [y]Silas, [z]chief men among [a]the brethren: and they wrote letters by them after this 23 manner; The apostles and [t]elders and [a]brethren [b]send greeting unto the [a]brethren which are of the Gentiles in [u]Antioch and [c]Syria and [cd]Cilicia: Forasmuch 24 as we have heard, that [e]certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment: [f]it seemed good unto us, 25 being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, men [g]that 26 have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. We have sent 27 therefore [h]Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by [i]mouth. For [f]it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, 28 and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things; that 29 ye abstain from [k]meats offered to idols, and from [l]blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. [m]Fare ye well.

So when they were dismissed, they 30 came to [n]Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle: which when they 31 had read, they rejoiced for the ‖consolation. And [h]Judas and Silas, being [o]pro- 32 phets also themselves, [p]exhorted the brethren with many words, and [q]confirmed them. And after they had tarried 33 there a space, they were let go [r]in peace from the brethren unto the apostles. Notwithstanding it pleased [s]Silas to 34 abide there still. [t]Paul also and Barna- 35 bas continued in [n]Antioch, teaching and [u]preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

And some days after Paul said unto 36 Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren [x]in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see 37 how they do. And Barnabas determined to take with them [y]John, whose 38 surname was Mark. But Paul thought not good to take him with them, [z]who departed from them from [a]Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work. 39 And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so [b]Barnabas took 40 [y]Mark, and sailed unto [c]Cyprus; and Paul chose [d]Silas, and departed, being [e]recommended by the brethren unto [f]the 41 grace of God. And he went through [g]Syria and Cilicia, [h]confirming the churches.

Then came he to [a]Derbe and [a]Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named [b]Timotheus, [c]the son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek: 2 which [d]was well reported of by the brethren that were at [a]Lystra and [e]Iconium. 3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and [f]took and circumcised him because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they [g]knew all that his 4 father was a Greek. And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the [h]decrees for to keep, [i]that were ordained of the apostles and [k]elders which 5 were at Jerusalem. And so were [l]the churches established in the faith, and 6 increased in number daily. Now when they had gone throughout [m]Phrygia and the region of [n]Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the 7 word in [o]Asia, after they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into [p]Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not. 8 And they passing by Mysia came down 9 to [q]Troas. And [r]a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man of [x]Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help 10 us. And after he had seen [r]the vision, immediately [s]we endeavoured to go into [x]Macedonia, [t]assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the 11 gospel unto them. Therefore loosing from [q]Troas, we [u]came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day 12 to Neapolis; and from thence to [w]Philippi, which is ‖the chief city of that part of [x]Macedonia, and [y]a colony:

and we were in that city abiding certain days.

13 And on the [t]sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.

14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of [z]Thyatira, [a]which worshipped God, heard us: whose [b]heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptized, [c]and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and [d]abide there. And she [e]constrained us.

16 And it came to pass, as we went to [f]prayer, a certain damsel possessed with [g]a spirit [h]of [i]divination met us, which brought her masters [i]much gain by soothsaying:

17 the same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, [k]These men are the servants of [l]the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.

18 And this did she many days. [k]But Paul, [m]being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ [n]to come out of her. [o]And he came out the same hour.

19 And [p]when her masters saw that the hope of their [i]gains was gone, they caught Paul and [q]Silas, and [r]drew them into the [s]market-place unto the rulers,

20 and brought them to [s]the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, [t]do exceedingly trouble our city,

21 and [u]teach customs, which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, [v]being Romans.

22 And the multitude rose up together against them: and the [s]magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded [w]to beat them.

23 And when they had laid many [x]stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging [y]the jailor to keep them safely:

24 who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner [z]prison, and made their feet fast [a]in the stocks.

25 And [b]at midnight Paul and [c]Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly [d]there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately all [e]the doors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed.

27 And [f]the keeper of the prison [g]awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself,

28 supposing that the prisoners had been fled. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are

29 all here. Then he called for a light, and [h]sprang in, and came trembling, and

30 [i]fell down before Paul and [c]Silas, and brought them out, and said, Sirs, [k]what

31 must I do to be saved? And they said, [l]Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and [m]thy house.

32 And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to [m]all that were in his

33 house. And he took them [n]the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and [l]was baptized, he and [m]all

34 his, straightway. And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with [m]all his house.

35 And when it was day, [o]the magistrates sent the sergeants, saying, Let 36 those men go. And [f]the keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul, [o]The magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore depart, and [p]go in peace.

37 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly [q]uncondemned, being [q]Romans, and have cast us into prison; and now do they thrust us out privily? nay verily; but let them come them-

38 selves and fetch us out. And the sergeants told these words unto [o]the magistrates: and [r]they feared, when they

39 heard that they were Romans, [a]and they came and besought them, and brought them out, and [s]desired them to depart

40 out of the city. And they went out of the prison, and entered into [t]the house of Lydia: and when they had seen [u]the brethren, they [x]comforted them, and departed.

XVII.

Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came

1 to [a]Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews:

2 and Paul, [b]as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them

3 [c]out of the scriptures, [d]opening and alleging, that [e]Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this [f]Jesus, [l]whom I preach

4 unto you, is Christ. [g]And some of them believed, and consorted with Paul and [h]Silas; and of the [i]devout [k]Greeks a great multitude, and of [l]the chief

5 women not a few. But [m]the Jews which believed not, [n]moved with envy, took unto them certain [o]lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of [p]Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people. And when they found them not, they 6 drew Jason and certain [q]brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, [r]These that have [s]turned [t]the world upside down are come hither also; whom Jason hath [u]received: and these all do contrary to the [v]decrees of Cesar, [w]saying that there is another king, one Jesus. And they troubled the people and 8 the rulers of the city, when they heard these things. And when they had taken 9 security of Jason, and of the other, they let them go.

And [q]the brethren immediately [x]sent 10 away Paul and [h]Silas by night unto Berea: who coming thither [b]went into the synagogue of the Jews. These were 11 more [y]noble than those in [a]Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and [z]searched the scriptures [a]daily, whether those things were so. Therefore many of 12 them believed; also of [b]honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few. But when the Jews of Thes- 13 salonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at [c]Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people. And then immediately the 14 brethren [d]sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but [e]Silas and [f]Timotheus abode there still. And they that 15 [g]conducted Paul brought him unto [h]Athens: and [i]receiving a commandment unto [e]Silas and [f]Timotheus for to come to him with all speed, they departed.

A.D. 54.

[k]Now while Paul waited for them at 16 Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city ‖wholly given to idolatry. Therefore [l]disputed he [m]in 17 the synagogue with the Jews, and with the [n]devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him. Then certain philosophers of the Epi- 18 cureans, and of the Stoicks, encountered him. And some said, What will this ‖babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because [o]he preached unto them Jesus, and [p]the resurrection. And they took 19 him, and brought him unto ‖Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is? 20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore 21 what these things mean. (For all the Athenians and [q]strangers which were there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to hear some new 22 thing.) Then Paul stood in the midst of ‖Mars' hill, and said,

Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in 23 all things ye are too [r]superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your ‖devotions, I found an altar with this [s]inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly 24 worship, [t]him declare I unto you. [u]God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is [x]Lord of heaven and earth, [y]dwelleth not in temples 25 [z]made with hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands, [a]as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all 26 [b]life, and breath, and all things; and hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath [c]determined the times before appointed, and [d]the bounds of 27 their habitation; that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, [e]though he be not 28 far from every one of us: for [f]in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of [g]your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. 29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, [h]we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's de- 30 vice. And the times of this ignorance God [i]winked at; but [k]now commandeth all men every where to repent: 31 because he hath appointed a day, in the which [l]he will judge [m]the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath [c]ordained; whereof he ‖hath given assurance unto all men, in that [n]he hath raised him from the dead.

32 And when they heard of [o]the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, [p]We will hear thee again 33 of this matter. So Paul departed from 34 among them. Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the [q]Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

After these things Paul departed from XVIII.

found a certain Jew named [b]Aquila, born in [c]Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife [b]Priscilla; (because that [d]Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome:) and came unto them. And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and [e]wrought: for by their occupation they were tent-makers. And he [f]reasoned [g]in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks. And [h]when Silas and Timotheus were come from [i]Macedonia, Paul was [j]pressed in spirit, and [k]testified to the Jews that [l]Jesus [l]was Christ. And when they opposed themselves, and [m]blasphemed, [n]he shook his raiment, and said unto them, [o]Your blood be upon your own heads; [p]I am clean: [q]from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles. And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house, named Justus, [r]one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue. And [s]Crispus, the [t]chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord [u]with all his house; and many of [a]the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized. Then [x]spake the Lord to Paul in the night by [y]a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace: for [z]I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city. And he [t]continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

* And when Gallio was the [a]deputy of [b]Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and [c]brought him to [d]the judgment seat, saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to [e]the law. And when Paul was now about to [f]open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong or wicked [g]lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should [h]bear with you: [i]but if it be a question of words and names, and of [c]your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters. And he drave them from [d]the judgment seat. Then all the Greeks took [k]Sosthenes, the [l]chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before [d]the judgment seat. And Gallio cared for none of those things.

And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then [m]took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into [n]Syria, and with him [o]Priscilla and [o]Aquila; having [p]shorn his head in [q]Cenchrea: for he had [p]a vow. And he came to [r]Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entered [s]into the synagogue, and [t]reasoned with the Jews. When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not; but [m]bade them farewell, saying, [u]I must by all means [x]keep this feast that cometh in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you, [y]if God will. And he sailed from [r]Ephesus. *And when he had landed at [z]Cesarea, and [a]gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to [b]Antioch. And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of [c]Galatia and [d]Phrygia [e]in order, [f]strengthening all the [g]disciples.

And a certain Jew named [h]Apollos, born at [i]Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to [j]Ephesus. This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being [k]fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught [l]diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only [m]the baptism of John. And he began to [n]speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when [o]Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and [p]expounded unto him [q]the way of God more [l]perfectly. And when he was disposed to pass into [r]Achaia, the brethren wrote, [s]exhorting the disciples to [t]receive him: who, when he was come, [u]helped them much which had believed through grace: for he [w]mightily convinced [x]the Jews, and that publickly, shewing by the [y]scriptures that [z]Jesus [l]was Christ.

And it came to pass that, while [a]Apollos was at [b]Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to [c]Ephesus: and finding certain disciples, he said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, We have not so much as heard [d]whether there be any Holy Ghost. And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, Unto [e]John's baptism. Then said Paul, [f]John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that [g]they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus. When they heard 5 this, [h]they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. And when Paul had 6 [i]laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they [j]spake with tongues, and [k]prophesied. And 7 all the men were about twelve. And 8 he went [l]into the synagogue, and [m]spake boldly for the space of three months, [n]disputing and [o]persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God. But 9 when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of [p]that way before the multitude, he departed [q]from them, and separated the [r]disciples, [n]disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus. And this continued by the space of [s]two 10 years; so that all they which dwelt in [t]Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks. And [u]God 11 wrought [w]special miracles by the hands of Paul: so that [x]from his body were 12 brought unto the sick [y]handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and [z]the evil spirits went out of them.

* Then certain of the vagabond Jews, 13 [a]exorcists, [b]took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth. And 14 there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and [c]chief of the priests, which did so. And the evil spirit answered and 15 said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye? And the man in whom 16 the evil spirit was leapt on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house [d]naked and wounded. And this was 17 known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at [e]Ephesus; and [f]fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. And many that be- 18 lieved came, and [g]confessed, and shewed their deeds. Many also of them 19 which used curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand [h]pieces of silver. So mightily [i]grew the word of 20 God and prevailed.

* After these things were ended, Paul 21 [k]purposed in the spirit, [l]when he had passed through [mn]Macedonia and [mo]Achaia, [p]to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, [q]I must also see 22 Rome. So he sent into [n]Macedonia two of [r]them that ministered unto him, [s]Timotheus and [t]Erastus; but he himself stayed in [u]Asia for a season. And the 23 same time there arose [w]no small stir about [x]that way. For a certain man 24 named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought [y]no small gain unto the craftsmen; whom he called together with the work- 25 men of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth. Moreover ye see and hear, 26 that not alone at [e]Ephesus, but almost throughout all [u]Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that [z]they be no gods, which are made with hands: so that not only this 27 our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana [a]should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all [h]Asia and [b]the 28 world worshippeth. And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians. And the whole 29 city was filled with [i]confusion: and having [c]caught [d]Gaius and [e]Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's [f]companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre. And when Paul would 30 have entered in unto the people, the [g]disciples suffered him not. And cer- 31 tain of the chief of [h]Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre. Some therefore cried one 32 thing, and some another: for the assembly was [i]confused; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together. And they [k]drew Alexander out 33 of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And [l]Alexander [m]beckoned with the hand, and would have [n]made his defence unto the people. But when 34 they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephe- 35 sians. And when the townclerk had [o]appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is [t]a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which 36 fell down from Jupiter? Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be [o]quiet, and to do nothing [p]rashly. For ye have brought 37 hither these men, which are neither [q]robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess. Wherefore if De- 38 metrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, [‖]the law is open, and there are [r]deputies: let them [s]implead one another. But if ye inquire any thing con- 39 cerning other matters, it shall be determined in a [‖]lawful assembly. For we 40 are in danger to be [s]called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse. And when he had 41 thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

XX. And after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him [a]the disciples, and [b]embraced them, and [c]departed for to go into [d]Macedonia. *And when he had 2 gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece, and there abode three months: 3
and [e]when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into [f]Syria, he purposed to return through [d]Macedonia.
And there accompanied him into [g]Asia 4 Sopater of [h]Berea; and of the [i]Thessalonians, [k]Aristarchus and Secundus; and [k]Gaius of [l]Derbe, and [m]Timotheus; and of [g]Asia, [n]Tychicus and [o]Trophimus.
These going before tarried for [p]us at 5 [q]Troas. And we sailed away from [r]Phi- 6 lippi after [s]the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to [q]Troas in five days; where we abode seven days. And 7 upon [t]the first day of the week, when [a]the disciples came together to [u]break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight. And there 8 were many [v]lights in [w]the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.
And there sat in a [x]window a certain 9 young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third [y]loft, and was taken up dead. And Paul went 10 down, and [z]fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not yourselves; [a]for his life is in him. When he therefore 11 was come up again, and had [b]broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed. And they brought the young 12 man alive, and were not a little comforted.

And we went before to ship, and 13 sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot. And when 14
he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene. And we 15 sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios; and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium; and [c]the next day we came to 16 [d]Miletus. For Paul had determined to sail by [e]Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, [f]to be at Jeru- 17 salem [g]the day of Pentecost. And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called [h]the elders of the church. And when 18 they were come to him, he said unto
them,

Ye know, [i]from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons, serv- 19
ing the Lord with all humility of mind,
and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me [k]by the lying in wait of the Jews: and how [l]I kept back nothing 20 that was profitable unto you, [l]but have shewed you, and have taught you publickly, and from house to house, [m]testi- 21 fying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, [no]repentance toward God, and [n]faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.
And now behold, I go bound in the 22 spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there: save 23 that [p]the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, [q]saying that bonds and afflictions [‖]abide me. But [r]none of these 24 things move me, neither [s]count I my life
dear unto myself, so that I might [t]finish my course with joy, and [u]the ministry, which I have received [w]of the Lord Jesus, to [m]testify the gospel of the grace of God. And now behold, I know that 25 ye all, among whom I have gone [x]preaching the kingdom of God, [y]shall see my face no more. Wherefore I take you to 26 record this day, that [z]I am pure from the blood of all men. For [a]I have not 27 shunned to declare unto you all [b]the counsel of God. [c]Take heed therefore 28 unto yourselves, and to all [d]the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you [e]overseers, [d]to feed the church of God, which he hath [f]purchased [g]with his own blood. For I know this, that 29 after my departing shall [h]grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock. Also [i]of your own selves shall 30 men arise, speaking [k]perverse things, to draw away [l]disciples after them. There- 31 fore [m]watch, and remember, that by the space of [n]three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears. And now, brethren, I [o]commend you to 32 God, and to [p]the word of his grace, which is able to [q]build you up, and to give you [r]an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. [s]I have co- 33 veted no man's silver, or gold, or [t]apparel. Yea, ye yourselves know, that 34 [u]these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and [x]to them that were with me. I have shewed you all things, how 35 that [s]so labouring ye ought to [y]support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

And when he had thus spoken, he 36 [z]kneeled down, and prayed with them all. And they all wept sore, and [a]fell 37 on Paul's neck, and kissed him, sorrow- 38 ing most of all for the words [b]which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they [c]accompanied him unto the ship.

XXI.

And it came to pass, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we [a]came with a straight course unto [b]Cos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara: and finding a ship sailing over unto 2 [c]Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth. Now when we had discovered 3 [d]Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into [e]Syria, and landed at [f]Tyre: for [g]there the ship was to unlade her burden. And finding [h]disciples, we tar- 4 ried there seven days: who said to Paul [i]through the Spirit, that he should not [k]go up to Jerusalem. And when we 5 had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way; and they all [l]brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we [m]kneeled down on the shore, and prayed. And when we had [mm]taken 6 our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned [n]home again. And 7 when we had finished our course from [f]Tyre, we came to [o]Ptolemais, and saluted [p]the brethren, and abode with them one day. And the next day we 8 [q]that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto [r]Cesarea: and we entered into the house of [s]Philip [t]the evangelist, which was one [s]of the seven; 9 and abode with him. And the same man had four daughters, virgins, [u]which 10 did prophesy. And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judea a certain [x]prophet, named [y]Agabus. 11 And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's [z]girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith [a]the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the 12 hands of the Gentiles. And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to [b]go up 13 to Jerusalem. Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, [c]but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus. 14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, [d]The will of the 15 Lord be done. And after those days we took up our [e]carriages, and [b]went 16 up to Jerusalem. There went with us also certain of the [f]disciples of [g]Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of [h]Cyprus, an old [f]disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, [i]the brethren [k]received us gladly. 18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto [l]James; and all [m]the elders 19 were present. And when he had saluted them, he [n]declared particularly what things God had wrought among 20 the Gentiles by [o]his ministry. And when they heard it, they [p]glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are 21 all [q]zealous of the law: and they [r]are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither 22 to walk after the [s]customs. What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that 23 thou art come. Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men 24 which have [u]a vow on them; them take, and [t]purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may [u]shave their heads: and all may know that those things, whereof [r]they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law. As touching the 25 Gentiles which believe, [x]we have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication. Then Paul took 26 the men, and the next day [t]purifying himself with them [y]entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that [z]an offering should be offered for every one of them. And when [a]the seven 27 days were almost ended, [b]the Jews which were of [c]Asia, [bd]when they saw him in the temple, [e]stirred up all the people, and [f]laid hands on him, crying 28 out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men every where against the people, and [g]the law, and this place: and further brought Greeks also into the temple, and [h]hath polluted this holy place. (For they had seen 29 before with him in the city [i]Trophimus an [k]Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

And all the city was moved, and the 30 people [l]ran together: and [m]they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.
And as they went about to kill him, 31 tidings came unto [n]the chief captain of the [o]band, that all Jerusalem [e]was in an uproar. [p]Who immediately took 32 soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them: and when they saw [n]the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul. Then [n]the chief cap- 33 tain came near, and took him, and commanded him [q]to be bound with [r]two chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done. And some 34 cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into [s]the castle. And when he came upon [t]the 35 stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the people. For the multitude of the peo- 36 ple followed after, crying, [u]Away with him.

And as Paul was to be led into [s]the 37 castle, he said unto the [n]chief captain, May I speak unto thee? Who said, Canst thou speak Greek? [v]Art not 38 thou that Egyptian, which *before these days [w]madest an uproar, and leddest out into [x]the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers? But Paul 39 said, I am a man which am a Jew of [y]Tarsus, a city in [z]Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and, I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people.
And when he had given him licence, 40
Paul stood on [t]the stairs, and [a]beckoned with the hand unto the people. And when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in [b]the Hebrew tongue, saying,

[a]Men, brethren, and fathers, hear ye XXII.
my defence which I make now unto
you. (And when they heard that he 2 spake in [b]the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith,) I am verily a man which am [c]a 3
Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city [d]at the feet of [e]Gamaliel, and taught according to [f]the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and [g]was zealous towards God, [h]as ye all are this day. And [i]I perse- 4 cuted [k]this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. As also the high priest 5 doth bear me witness, and all [l]the estate of the elders: [m]from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished. [n]And it came to pass 6 that, as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. And I fell 7 unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And I answered, Who 8 art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest. And they that were with 9 me saw indeed the light, and were afraid; but they [o]heard not the voice of him that spake to me. And I said, 10 What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do. And when I could not see 11 for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus. And [p]one Ana- 12
nias, a [q]devout man according to the law, [r]having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there, [s]came unto me, 13 and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him. And he 14 arise, and [d]be baptized, and [e]wash away thy sins, [f]calling on the name of the Lord. And it came to pass that, 17 [g]when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in [h]a trance; and [i]saw him saying 18 unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: [k]for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me. And I said, Lord, they know 19 that [l]I imprisoned and [m]beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee: and when the blood of thy [n]martyr 20

Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and [o]consenting unto his death, and [p]kept the raiment of them that slew him. And he said unto me, De- 21

And they gave him audience unto 22 this word, and then [s]lift up their voices, and said, [t]Away with such a fellow from the earth: for [u]it is not fit that he should live. And as they cried 23 out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air, the chief cap- 24 tain commanded him to be brought into [x]the castle, and bade that he should be [y]examined by scourging; that he might know wherefore they cried so against him. And as they bound him 25 with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a [z]Roman, and [z]uncondemned? When the 26 centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Roman. Then the chief captain came, 27 and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea. And the 28 chief captain answered, With a great sum [a]obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born. Then 29 straightway they departed from him which should have ‖examined him: and the chief captain also [b]was afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from [c]his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their [d]council to appear, and brought Paul [e]down, and set him before them. And Paul, [a]earnestly beholding [b]the council, said, Men and brethren, I have [c]lived [d]in all good conscience before God until this day. 2 And the high priest [dd]Ananias commanded them that stood by him to 3 [e]smite him on the mouth. Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou [f]whited wall: for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten [g]contrary to the 4 law? And [h]they that stood by said, 5 Revilest thou God's high priest? Then said Paul, [i]I wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, [j]Thou shalt not speak evil of the 6 ruler of thy people. But when Paul perceived that the one part were [k]Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in [b]the council, Men and brethren, [l]I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: [m]of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in ques- 7 tion. And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the [k]Sadducees: and the 8 multitude was divided. For the [k]Sadducees [n]say that there is no resurrection, neither angel nor spirit: but the 9 Pharisees confess both. And there arose a great cry: and the scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, [o]We find no evil in this man: but [p]if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, [q]let us not fight against God. 10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded [qq]the soldiers to [r]go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into [s]the castle.

11 And [t]the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for [u]as thou hast [v]testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear 12 witness also [w]at Rome. And when it was day, [x]certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves ‖under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. 13 And they were more than forty which 14 had made this conspiracy. came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a [y] great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul. Now there- 15 fore ye with [b] the council signify to the chief captain that he [z] bring him down unto you to morrow, as though ye would inquire something more [a] perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him. And when 16 Paul's sister's son heard of their [b] lying in wait, he went and entered into [c] the castle, and told Paul. Then Paul called 17 one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him. So he took him, and 18 brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee. Then the chief captain 19 took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me? And 20 he said, [d] The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to morrow into [e] the council, [d] as though they would inquire somewhat of him more [a] perfectly. But do 21 not thou yield unto them: for there [f] lie in wait for him of them moe than forty men, which have bound themselves [g] with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee. So the chief 22 captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, [h] See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me. And he called unto him two centu- 23 rions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to [i] Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night; and provide them beasts, that they may 24 set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix [j] the governor. And he wrote a 25 letter [k] after this manner:

Claudius Lysias unto the [l] most excel- 26 lent [j] governor Felix [m] sendeth greeting. [n] This man was taken of the Jews, and 27 should have been killed of them: then came I with [o] an army, and rescued him, [p] having understood that he was a Roman. And when I would have known 28 the cause wherefore they [q] accused him, I [r] brought him forth into their [e] council: whom I perceived to be [q] accused [s] of 29 questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge [t] worthy of death 30 or of bonds. And [u] when it was told me how that the Jews [v] laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and [w] gave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. [x] Farewell.

31 Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him 32 by night to Antipatris. On the morrow they left [y] the horsemen to go with him, 33 and returned to [c] the castle: who, when they came to [i] Cesarea, and delivered the epistle to [j] the governor, presented 34 Paul also before him. And when [j] the governor had read the letter, he asked of what [z] province he was: [a] and when he 35 understood that he was of [a] Cilicia; [b] I will hear thee, said he, [c] when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in [d] Herod's [e] judgment hall.

And after [a] five days [b] Ananias the high priest [c] descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed [d] the governor against 2 Paul. And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying,

Seeing that by thee we enjoy great [e] quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy [e] provi- 3 dence, we [f] accept it always, and in all places, [g] most noble Felix, with all thank- 4 fulness. Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy [h] cle- 5 mency [i] a few words. For we have found this man [k] a pestilent fellow, and [l] a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout [m] the world, and a ringleader 6 of the [z] sect of the Nazarenes: who also hath gone about [n] to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have [o] judged 7 according to our law. [p] But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands, 8 [q] commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by [r] examining of whom thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things, 9 whereof we accuse him. And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul, after that [d] the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been *of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheer- 11 fully [s] answer for myself: because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but [t]twelve days since I [u]went up to Jerusalem [v]for to worship. [w]And they 12 neither found me in the temple [x]disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city: neither can they prove 13

the things whereof they now accuse me.
But this I confess unto thee, that after 14
[y]the way which they call [z]heresy, so [a]worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in [b]the law and the prophets: and have 15
[c]hope towards God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a [c]resurrection of the dead, [d]both of the just and unjust. And herein do I exer- 16 cise myself, [e]to have always a conscience [f]void of offence toward God, and toward men. Now [g]after [h]many 17 years I came [i]to bring alms to my nation, and offerings. [j]Whereupon [k]cer- 18
tain Jews from [l]Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult. [m]Who ought to have 19 been here before thee, and object, if they had ought against me. Or else let 20 these same here say, if they have found any evil doing in me, [n]while I stood before the council, except it be for this 21 one voice, that I cried standing among them, [o]Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.

And when Felix heard these things, 22 having more [p]perfect knowledge of [q]that way, he deferred them, and said, [r]When Lysias the chief captain shall come down,
I will [rr]know the uttermost of your matter. And he commanded a centurion 23 to keep Paul, and [s]to let him have liberty, and that he should forbid none of his [t]acquaintance to minister or come unto him. And after certain days, when 24 Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.
And as he reasoned of righteousness, 25
[u]temperance, and [v]judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; [w]when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee. He 26 hoped also that [x]money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him [y]the oftener, and communed with him.
But after two years Porcius Festus came 27 into Felix' room: and Felix, [z]willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

Now when Festus was come into the XXV.
[a]province, [b]after three days he [c]ascend-
2 ed from [d]Cesarea to Jerusalem. Then [e]the high priest and [f]the chief of the Jews [eg]informed him against Paul, and 3 besought him, and desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, [h]laying wait in the way to kill 4 him. But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at [d]Cesarea, and that he 5 himself would depart shortly thither. Let them therefore, said he, which among you are [i]able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wicked- 6 ness in him. And when he had tarried among them [l]more than ten days, he [k]went down unto [d]Cesarea; and the next day sitting in [l]the judgment seat, 7 commanded Paul to be brought. And when he was come, the Jews which [k]came down from Jerusalem stood round about,
and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, [m]which they could not 8 [n]prove. While he [o]answered for himself, [p]Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, have I offended any thing at all.
9 But Festus, [q]willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, [r]Wilt thou [c]go up to Jerusalem, and there be 10 judged of these things before me? Then said Paul, I stand at Cesar's [l]judgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou 11 [s]very well knowest. [t]For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may [u]deliver me unto them. [v]I appeal unto Cesar.
12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou [v]appealed unto Cesar? unto Cesar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days king Agrippa and Bernice came unto [d]Cesarea to salute 14 Festus. And when they had been there many days, Festus [w]declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, [x]There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix:
15 [y]about whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews [g]informed me, desiring to have judg-16 ment against him. [y]To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to [u]deliver any man to die, before that [z]he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have licence [o]to answer for himself concerning the crime

laid against him. Therefore, when they 17 were come hither, without any delay, [y]on the morrow I sat on [l]the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth. Against whom when the accusers 18 stood up, they brought none [a]accusation of such things as I supposed: [b]but 19 had certain questions against him of their own [c]superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. And because [||]I doubted of 20 such manner of questions, I asked him [d]whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters. But 21
when Paul had [v]appealed to be reserved unto the [||]hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar. Then [e]Agrippa said unto 22 Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

And on the morrow, when [f]Agrippa 23
was come, and Bernice, with great pomp,
and were entered into the place of hearing, with the [g]chief captains, and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment Paul was brought forth. And 24 Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom [h]all the multitude of the Jews have [i]dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that [k]he ought not to live any longer. But 25 when I found that [l]he had committed nothing worthy of death, [m]and that he himself hath [v]appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him. Of whom 26
I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write. For it seemeth to me 27 unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the [a]crimes laid against him. Then Agrippa said unto XXVI. Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and [a]answered for himself:

I think myself happy, king Agrippa, 2 because I shall [a]answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am [b]accused of the Jews: es- 3 pecially because I know thee to be expert

[n]turn to God, and do works [o]meet for repentance. For these causes [p]the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me. Having therefore obtained [q]help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to [r]small and great, saying none other things than those which [s]the prophets and [s]Moses did say should come: that Christ [t]should suffer, and that he should be [u]the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew [x]light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

And as he thus [y]spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, [z]thou art beside thyself; much [a]learning doth make thee mad. But he said, I am not [zc]mad, [b]most noble Festus; but speak forth the words of truth and [c]soberness. For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I [d]speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner. King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a [e]Christian. And Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except [f]these bonds. And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and [g]the governor, and [h]Bernice, and [h]they that sat with them: and when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, [i]This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. Then said Agrippa unto Festus, [j]This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not [k]appealed unto Cesar.

And when [a]it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' [b]band. And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of [c]Asia; one [d]Aristarchus, a Macedonian of [e]Thessalonica, being with us. And the next day we touched at [f]Sidon. And Julius [g]courteously entreated Paul, and [h]gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself. And when we had launched from thence, we [i]sailed under [j]Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. And when we had sailed over the sea of [k]Cilicia and [l]Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of [m]Lycia. And there the centurion found [n]a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein. And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against [m]Cnidus, [o]the wind not suffering us, we [i]sailed under [lp]Crete, over against Salmone; and hardly [q]passing it, came unto a place which is called The fair havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea. Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because *the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them, and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with [lr]hurt and much [r]damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives. Nevertheless the centurion believed the [s]master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul. And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter; which is a haven of [p]Crete, and lieth toward the south west and north west. And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their [t]purpose, loosing thence, they [q]sailed close by [p]Crete. But not long after there [l]arose [u]against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon. And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive. And running under a certain island which is called Clauda, we had much work to come by the boat: which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and fearing lest they should [v]fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven. And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they [w]lightened the ship; and the third day we [w]cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship. And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away. But after long abstinence Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, [x]ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from [p]Crete, and to have gained this [r]harm and [r]loss. And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship. For [y]there [z]stood by

am, and [a]whom I serve, saying, Fear 24 not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cesar: and lo, God hath [b]given thee all them that sail with thee. Wherefore, 25 sirs, [c]be of good cheer: [d]for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me. Howbeit [e]we must be [f]cast upon 26 a certain island.

But when the fourteenth night was 27
come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country; and sounded, and found it twenty 28 fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms. Then fearing lest we 29 should have [f]fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day. And as the shipmen were 30 about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down [g]the boat into the sea, [h]under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship, Paul said to the centurion and to the 31
soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. Then the soldiers 32 cut off the [i]ropes of the boat, and [j]let her [f]fall off. And while the day was 33 coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing.
Wherefore I pray you to take some 34 meat: for this is for your health: for [k]there shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you. And when he had thus 35 spoken, he took bread, and [l]gave thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.
Then were they all [c]of good cheer, and 36
they also took some meat. And we were 37 in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen [m]souls. And when they had 38 eaten enough, they lightened the ship,
and cast out the wheat into the sea.
And when it was day, they knew not 39
the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship. And when they had 40 [n]taken up [o]the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and [p]loosed the rudder bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.
And falling into a place where two seas 41 met, [q]they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained un-moveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves. And 42 the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape. But the centurion, willing 43 to save Paul, kept them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land: and the 44 rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, [r]that they escaped all safe to land.

[r] ver. 22.

And when they were escaped, [a]then XXVIII.
they knew that [b]the island was called Melita. And [c]the barbarous people 2 shewed us [d]no little [e]kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. And when Paul 3 had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand. And when [c]the barbarians saw 4 the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, [f]No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, [g]yet Vengeance suffereth not to live. And he shook off 5 the beast into the fire, and [h]felt no harm. Howbeit they looked when he 6 should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw [i]no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and [k]said that he was a god. In the 7 same quarters were possessions of [l]the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius; who received us, and lodged us three days [m]courteously. And it came 8 to pass, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flixe: to whom Paul entered in, and [n]prayed, and [o]laid his hands on him, and healed 9
him. So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed: who also hon- 10
oured us with many [p]honours; and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

And after three months we departed 11
in [q]a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Castor and Pollux. And landing at Syracuse, 12 we tarried there three days. And from 13 thence we fet a compass, and came to Rhegium: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli: where we found [r]brethren, 14
and were desired to tarry with them

seven days: and so we went toward Rome. And from thence, when [r]the 15 brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii forum, and The three taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage. And when 16 we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but [s]Paul was suffered to dwell by himself with a soldier that kept him.

And it came to pass, that [t]after three 17 days Paul called [l]the chief of the Jews together: and when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, [u]though I have committed nothing against the people, or [w]customs of our fathers, yet [x]was I delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans. Who, when they had [y]ex- 18 amined me, [z]would have let me go, [u]because there was no cause of death in me. But when the Jews spake against 19 it, I was constrained to [a]appeal unto Cesar; not that [b]I had ought to accuse my nation of. For this cause therefore 20 have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you: because that [c]for the hope [d]of Israel I am bound with [e]this chain. And they said unto him, We 21 neither received letters out of Judea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harm of thee. But we desire to hear of thee 22 what thou thinkest: for as concerning this [f]sect, we know that every where [g]it is spoken against. And when they had 23 appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging; to whom he [h]expounded and [i]testified [k]the kingdom of God, [kl]persuading them concerning Jesus, [m]both out of the law of Moses, and out of the prophets, from morning 24 till evening. And [n]some believed the things which were spoken, and some be- 25 lieved not. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the 26 prophet unto our fathers, saying, [o]Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall 27 see, and not perceive: for the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should 28 heal them. Be it known therefore unto you, that [p]the salvation of God is sent [q]unto the Gentiles, and that they 29 will hear it. And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great [r]reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and [s]received all 31 that came in unto him, [t]preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all [u]confidence, no man forbidding him.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

ROMANS.

I. Anno DOMINI 60.

PAUL, a servant of Jesus Christ, [a]called to be an apostle, [b]separated unto the gospel of God, (2 [c]which he had promised afore [d]by his prophets in the holy scriptures,) concerning his 3 Son Jesus Christ our Lord, [e]which was [f]made of the seed of David according to the flesh; and [f]declared to be [g]the 4 Son of God with power, according [h]to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead: by whom [i]we have 5 received grace and [j]apostleship, [k]for [k]obedience to the faith [l]among all nations, [l]for his name: among whom are 6 ye also the [m]called of Jesus Christ: to 7 all that be in Rome, beloved of God, [m]called to be saints: [n]Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

First, [o]I thank my God through Jesus 8 Christ for you all, that [p]your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world. For [q]God is my witness, [r]whom I serve 9 [k]with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that [s]without ceasing I make mention of you, always in my prayers, [t]making 10 request, if by any means now at length I might [u]have a prosperous journey [v]by the will of God to come unto you. For 11 I long to see you, that [w]I may impart unto you [x]some spiritual gift, to the end you may be established; that is, that I 12 may be comforted together [k]with you by [y]the mutual faith both of you and me.

Now I would not have you ignorant, 13 brethren, that [z]oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but [a]was let hitherto,) that I might have [b]some [c]fruit [k]among you also, even as among other Gentiles. [d]I am debtor both to the 14 Greeks, and to the [e]barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise. So, as 15 much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also. For [f]I am not ashamed of the gospel of 16 Christ: for [g]it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to [h]the Jew [i]first, and also to [h]the [j]Greek. For therein [k]is the righteousness of God 17 revealed from [kk]faith to faith: as it is written, [l]The just shall live by faith.

For [m]the wrath of God is revealed 18 from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness; [n]because [o]that 19 which may be known of God is manifest [k]in them; for God hath shewed it unto them. For [o]the invisible things of him 20 from the creation of the world are clearly seen, [p]being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; [k]so that they are [q]without excuse: because that, when they 21 knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but [r]became [s]vain in their imaginations, and their [t]foolish heart [s]was darkened. [u]Professing themselves to be wise, they became 22 fools, and [v]changed the glory of the 23

Wherefore [x]God also gave 24 them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, [y]to dishonour their own bodies between themselves: who 25 changed [z]the truth of God into [a]a lie, and worshipped and served the creature ‖more than the Creator, who is [b]blessed for ever. Amen.

For this cause [x]God gave them up 26 unto [c]vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: and likewise 27 also [d]the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their [e]lust one towards another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet. And 28 even as they did not [f]like ‖to retain God in their knowledge, [x]God gave them over to ‖a reprobate mind, to do those things [g]which are not convenient; being 29 filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, [hi]wickedness, [h]covetousness, [ijk]maliciousness; full of [k]envy, murder, debate, deceit, [l]malignity; [m]whisperers, [m]backbiters, [n]haters of God, [o]despiteful, 30 [hp]proud, [p]boasters, [q]inventors of evil things, [p]disobedient to parents, [r]without 31 understanding, covenant-breakers, ‖[s]without natural affection, [s]implacable, unmerciful: who knowing [t]the judgment 32 of God, that they which commit such things [u]are worthy of death, not only do the same, but ‖[x]have pleasure in them that do them.

II.

Therefore thou art [a]inexcusable, [b]O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for [c]wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things. But [d]we are sure 2 that the judgment of God is according to truth against them which commit such things. And thinkest thou this, 3 [b]O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God? Or 4 despisest thou [e]the riches of his goodness and [f]forbearance and [g]longsuffering; [h]not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? But 5 after thy hardness and impenitent heart [i]treasurest up unto thyself wrath against [k]the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God; [l]who will 6 render to every man according to his deeds: to them who by [m]patient con- 7 tinuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality, [n]eternal life: but unto them [o]that are contentious, 8 and [p]do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and [q]wrath, [r]tribulation and [r]anguish, [s]upon every 9 soul of man that doeth evil, [t]of the [u]Jew first, and also of the [tu]Gentile; but 10 [w]glory, [w]honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the [t]Gentile: for there is [x]no 11 respect of persons with God. For [u]as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and [u]as many as have sinned in the law shall be judged 12 [y]by the law; (for not [z]the hearers of the law are just before God, but the 13 doers of the law [a]shall be justified. For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, 14 are a law unto themselves: which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, ‖their conscience also bearing witness, and [b]their thoughts ‖the mean while accusing or else excusing one an- 15 other;) [c]in the day when God shall judge the secrets of men [d]by Jesus Christ [e]according to my gospel. 16

sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, [r]dost thou commit sacrilege? [s]thou that makest thy boast of 23 the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God? For [t]the name 24 of God is blasphemed [u]among the Gentiles through you, as it is written. [w]For circumcision verily pro- 25 fiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision. Therefore [x]if 26 the uncircumcision keep [y]the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision? And shall not uncircumcision which is 27 by nature, if it fulfil the law, [z]judge thee, who by [a]the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law? For [b]he is not a 28 Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: but he is a Jew, [c]which is one 29 inwardly; and [d]circumcision is that of the heart, [e]in the spirit, and not in [a]the letter; [f]whose praise is [g]not of men, but of God.

III. What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision? Much every way: chiefly, because that 2
[a]unto them were committed [b]the oracles of God. For [c]what if some did 3 not believe? shall their unbelief make [d]the faith of God without effect? [c]God 4 forbid: yea, let [f]God be true, but [g]every man a liar; as it is written, [h]That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged. But 5 if our unrighteousness [i]commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? ([k]I speak as a man) [e]God 6 forbid: for then [l]how shall God judge the world? For if [m]the truth of God 7 hath more abounded through [m]my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner? And not rather, 8 (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say,) [n]Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

What then? [o]are we better than 9 they? No, in no wise: for we have before [t]proved both [p]Jews and [q]Gentiles, that [r]they are all under sin; as 10 it is written, [s]There is none righteous, no, not one: there is none 11 that understandeth, there is none 12 that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together [t]become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, 13 not one. [u]Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; [x]the poison of 14 asps is under their lips: [y]whose mouth is full of cursing and bit- 15 terness: [za]their feet are swift to 16 shed blood: destruction and mi- 17 sery are in their ways: and the way of peace have they not known: 18 [b]there is no fear of God before their eyes. Now we know that what 19 things soever [c]the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that [d]every mouth may be stopped, and [e]all the world may become [‖]guilty before 20
God. [f]Therefore [g]by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for [h]by the law is the knowledge of sin.

But now [i]the righteousness of God 21
[j]without the law is manifested, being witnessed by [kl]the law and [lm]the pro- 22 phets; even the righteousness of God which is [n]by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for 23 [o]there is no difference: for [e]all have sinned, and come short of the glory 24 of God; being justified [p]freely [q]by his grace [r]through the redemption that is 25 in Christ Jesus: whom God hath [‖s]set forth [t]to be a propitiation through faith [u]in his blood, [w]to declare his righteousness for the [‖]remission of [x]sins that are past, through the [y]forbearance of 26
God; [w]to declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which be- 27 lieveth in Jesus. [z]Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? [a]of works? Nay: but by the law of 28 faith. Therefore we [b]conclude [c]that a man is justified by faith [d]without the 29 deeds of the law. Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gen- 30 tiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also: seeing [e]it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and [f]uncir- 31 cumcision through faith. Do we then make void the law through faith?

[g] God forbid: yea, [h] we establish the law.

IV. What shall we say then that Abraham [a] our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found? For if Abraham were [b] justified by works, he hath [c] whereof to glory; [d] but not before God. For what saith the scripture? [e] Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. Now [f] to him that worketh is the reward not [g] reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, [h] his faith is [g] counted for righteousness. Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God [g] imputeth righteousness [i] without works, saying, [j] Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin. Cometh this blessedness then upon [k] the circumcision [l] only, or upon [k] the uncircumcision also? for [e] we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness. How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision. And he received [m] the sign of circumcision, [n] a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that [o] he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also: and the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised. For the promise, that he should be the [p] heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. For [q] if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is [r] made void, and [q] the promise made of none effect: because [s] the law worketh wrath: for [t] where no law is, [u] there is no transgression. Therefore it is of faith, that it might be [x] by grace; [y] to the end the promise might be sure [z] to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; [a] who is the father of us all, (as it is written, [b] I have made thee a father of many nations,) [l] before him whom he believed, even God, [c] who quickeneth the dead, and calleth [d] those things which be not as though they were. Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations; according to that which was spoken, [e] So shall thy seed be. And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now [f] dead, [g] when he was about an hundred year old, neither yet [h] the deadness of Sara's womb: he [i] staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God; and [k] being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, [l] he was able also to perform. And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness. Now [m] it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him; but for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe [n] on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead; [o] who was delivered for our offences, and [p] was raised again for our [q] justification.

V. Therefore [a] being justified by faith, we have [b] peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ: by whom also [c] we have access by faith into this grace [d] wherein we stand, and [e] rejoice in hope of the glory of God. [f] And not only so, but [g] we [e] glory in tribulations also: [h] knowing that tribulation worketh patience; and patience, [i] experience; and [i] experience, hope: and [j] hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God [k] is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us. For when we were yet without strength, [l] in due time [l] Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die. But God [m] commendeth [n] his love toward us, in that, [o] while we were yet sinners, [l] Christ died for us. Much more then, being now justified [o] by his blood, [p] we shall be saved from wrath through him. For if, [q] when we were enemies, [r] we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by [s] his life. [f] And not only so, but we also [e] joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the ‖atonement.

Wherefore, as [t]by one man sin entered 12 into the world, and [u]death by sin; and so death passed upon [z]all men, ‖[v]for that all have sinned: for until the law sin 13 was in the world: but [w]sin is not imputed when there is no law. Neverthe- 14 less death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned
after the similitude of [x]Adam's transgression, [y]who is the figure of him that was to come. But not as the offence, so 15 also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one [z]many be dead, much more [a]the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto [z b]many. And not 16 as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto [c]justification. For 17 if ‖by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. Therefore as ‖by [d]the of- 18 fence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so ‖by [d]the [e]righteousness of one the free gift came upon [z e]all men unto [f]justification of life. For 19 as by one man's disobedience [z]many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall [b z]many be made righteous.
Moreover [g]the law [b]entered, that the 20 offence might abound. But [i]where sin abounded, [j]grace did much more abound:
that as sin hath reigned unto death, 21 even so might [k]grace reign through righteousness unto [l]eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord.

What shall we say then? [a]Shall we continue in sin, that [b]grace may abound? 2 [c]God forbid. How shall we, that [d]are dead to sin, live any longer therein?
Know ye not, that [e]so many of us as 3 ‖were baptized [f]into Jesus Christ ‖were [g]baptized into his death? Therefore we 4 are [h]buried with him by baptism into death: that like as [i]Christ was raised up from the dead by [k]the glory of the Father, even so [l]we also should walk in newness of life. For [m]if we have been 5 [n]planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection: knowing this, that [o]our 6 old man [p]is crucified with him, that [q]the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin. For 7 [r]he that is dead is [s]freed from sin. Now 8 [t]if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him: know- 9 ing that [u]Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him. For in that 10 he died, [w]he died unto sin [x]once: but in that he liveth, he [y]liveth unto God.
Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to 11 be [z]dead indeed unto sin, but alive [a]unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord. Let 12 not [b]sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof. Neither [c]yield ye your mem- 13 bers as [†]instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but [d]yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as [†]instruments of righteousness unto God. For [b]sin 14 shall not have dominion over you: for [e]ye are not under the law, but under grace.

What then? [f]shall we sin, [z]because 15
we are not under the law, but under grace? [g]God forbid. Know ye not, that 16 [h]to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness? But God 17 be thanked, [i]that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart [k]that form of doctrine [†]which was delivered you. Being then [l]made free 18 from sin, [m]ye became the servants of righteousness. [n]I speak after the manner 19 of men [o]because of [o]the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have [c]yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to [p]iniquity unto iniquity; even so now [d]yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness. For when ye 20 were [h]the servants of sin, ye were free [†]from righteousness. [q]What fruit had 21 ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for [r]the end of those things is death. But now being [l]made 22 free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life. For the 23 [s]wages of sin is [t]death; but the gift of God is [u]eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Know ye not, brethren, (for I speak VII. to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man, as long as he liveth? For [a]the woman 2 [b]which hath a husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth;

but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of the husband. So then 3 [c]if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man. Wherefore, 4 my brethren, ye also [d]are become dead to the law [e]by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even
to him who is raised from the dead, that [f]we should bring forth fruit unto God. For when we were in the flesh, 5 the [†]motions of sins, which were by the law, did work [g]in our members [h]to bring forth fruit [i]unto death. But now we are 6 delivered from the law, [‖]that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve [k]in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

What shall we say then? Is the law 7 sin? [l]God forbid. Nay, [m]I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known [‖]lust, except the law had said, [n]Thou shalt not covet. But sin, 8 [m]taking [o]occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For [pq]without the law sin was dead. For I was alive [q]without the 9 law once: but when the commandment came, sin [r]revived, and I died. And 10 the commandment, [s]which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death. For 11 sin, taking [o]occasion by the commandment, [t]deceived me, and by it slew me.
Wherefore [u]the law is holy, and the 12 commandment holy, and [x]just, and [y]good. Was then that which is good 13 made death unto me? [l]God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

For we know that the law is [z]spiri- 14
tual: but I am [z]carnal, [a]sold under sin.
For that which I do I [†]allow not: for 15
[b]what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I. If then I do that 16 which I would not, I consent unto [c]the law that it is good. [d]Now then it is no 17 more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me. For I know that [e]in me (that 18 is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: [b]for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find 19 not. For [b]the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, 20 that I do. [d]Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin 21 that dwelleth in me. I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is pre-22 sent with me. For [f]I delight in the law 23 of God after [g]the inward man: but I see [h]another law in [i]my members, [k]warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin 24 which is in my members. O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me 25 from the [l]body of this death? [m]I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God; but with the flesh
the law of sin.

There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus who [a]walk not after the flesh, but after 2 the Spirit. For the law of [b]the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus [c]hath made me free from [d]the law of sin and death.
3 For [e]what the law could not do, in that [f]it was weak through the flesh, [g]God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and [‖]for sin, condemned sin 4 in the flesh: that [h]the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, [a]who walk not after the flesh, but after the 5 Spirit. For [i]they that are after the flesh do [j]mind [k]the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit [l]the things
6 of the Spirit. For [†]to be carnally minded is [m]death; but [†]to be spiritually mind-
7 ed is life and peace. Because [†]the carnal mind is [n]enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, [o]nei-8 ther indeed can be. So then they that 9 are in the flesh cannot please God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, [p]if so be that [q]the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not [q]the 10 Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but [r]the Spirit is life be-11 cause of righteousness. But if the Spirit of [s]him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, [t]he that raised up Christ from the dead [u]shall also quicken your mortal bodies [‖x]by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore, brethren, we are debtors,
[y]not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.
13 For [z]if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do [a]mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live. For as many as [b]are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. For [c]ye have not received [d]the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of [e]adoption, whereby we cry, [f]Abba, Father. [g]The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are [h]the children of God: and if children, then [i]heirs; [i]heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; [k]if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. For I [l]reckon that [m]the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with [n]the glory which shall be revealed in us. For the [o]earnest expectation of the creature [p]waiteth for [pp]the manifestation of the sons of God. For [q]the creature was made subject to [r]vanity, not willingly, but [s]by reason of him who hath subjected the same, in hope, because the creature itself also shall be [t]delivered from the bondage of [u]corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God. For we know that [l]the [v]whole creation [w]groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. And [x]not only they, but ourselves also, [g]which have [y]the firstfruits of the Spirit, [z]even we ourselves groan within ourselves, [a]waiting for [b]the adoption, to wit, the [c]redemption of our body. For we are saved by hope: but [d]hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience [a]wait for it. Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for [e]we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but [f]the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. And [g]he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is [h]the mind of the Spirit, [l]because [i]he maketh intercession for the saints [j]according to the will of God. And we know that [k]all things work together [l]for good to them that love God, to them [m]who are the called according to his [n]purpose. For whom he did [o]foreknow, he also did [p]predestinate to be [q]conformed to [r]the image of his Son, that he might be [s]the firstborn amongst many [t]brethren. Moreover whom he did [p]predestinate, them he also [u]called: and whom he called, them he also [x]justified: and whom he justified, them he also [y]glorified. What shall we then say to these things? [z]If God be for us, who can be against us? He that [a]spared not his own Son, but [b]delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also [c]freely give us [d]all things? Who shall [e]lay any thing to the charge of [f]God's elect? [g]It is God that justifieth: [gh]who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that [bi]died, yea rather, that is risen again, [j]who is even at the right hand of God, who also [k]maketh intercession for us. [l]Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall [m]tribulation, or [m]distress, or [mm]persecution, or famine, or [n]nakedness, or peril, or sword? As it is written, [nn]For thy sake [o]we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter. Nay, in all these things [p]we are more than conquerors through [q]him that loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither [l]death, nor life, nor [r]angels, nor [s]principalities, nor [st]powers, nor things [uw]present, nor things [u]to come, nor [x]height, nor [x]depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from [y]the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

though the word of God hath taken none effect. For [t]they are not all Israel, which are of Israel: [u]neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, [w]In Isaac shall thy seed be called. That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but [x]the children of the promise are counted for the seed. For this is the word of promise, [y]At this time will I come, and Sara shall have a son. [z]And not only this; but [a]when Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac; (for the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that [b]the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of [c]him that calleth;) it was said unto her, [d]The ‖elder shall serve the ‖younger. As it is written, [e]Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I [f]hated.

What shall we say then? [g]Is there unrighteousness with God? [h]God forbid. For he saith to Moses, [i]I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion. So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy. For [k]the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, [l]Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth. Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? For [m]who hath resisted his will? [n]Nay but, [o]O man, who art thou that ‖repliest against God? [p]Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? [q]Hath not the potter power [r]over the clay, of the same lump to make [s]one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, [t]endured with much [u]long-suffering [w]the vessels of wrath ‖[x]fitted to destruction: and [y]that he might make known [z]the riches of his glory on [w]the vessels of mercy, which [a]he had afore prepared unto glory, even us, whom [b]he hath called, [c]not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles? As he saith also in Osee, [d]I will call them my people, which were not my people; and her beloved, which was not beloved. [e]And it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people; there shall they be called the children of [f]the living God. Esaias also crieth concerning Israel, [g]Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, [h]a remnant shall be saved: for he will finish [i]the work, and cut it short in righteousness: [i]because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth. And as Esaias said before, [k]Except the Lord of sabaoth had left us a seed, [l]we had been as Sodoma, and been made like unto Gomorrha. What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, [m]which [n]followed not after righteousness, have [n]attained to righteousness, [o]even the righteousness which is of faith. But Israel, [p]which followed after the law of righteousness, [q]hath not [r]attained to the law of righteousness. Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For [s]they stumbled at that [u]stumblingstone; as it is written, [t]Behold, I lay in Sion a [u]stumblingstone and rock of [w]offence: and [tx]whosoever believeth on him shall not be ‖ashamed.

Brethren, [a]my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved. For I bear them record [b]that they have a zeal of God, but [c]not according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of [d]God's righteousness, and going about to establish [d]their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. For [e]Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That [f]the man which doeth those things shall live by them. But [d]the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, [g]Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, [h]to bring Christ down from above:) or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.) But what saith it? [i]The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach; that if thou shalt 9 [k] confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt [l] believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man 10 believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For [ll] the scripture saith, [m] Whosoever believeth on him shall not 11 be ashamed. For [n] there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: 12 for [o] the same Lord over all is [p] rich unto all that call upon him. For [q] whosoever 13 shall [r] call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. How then 14 shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear [s] without a preacher? And how shall they preach, 15 except [t] they be sent? as it is written, [u] How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things! But [x] they have not all 16 obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, [y] who hath believed [t] our [ll] [z] report? So then faith cometh by [z] hearing, 17 and [z] hearing by the word of God. But 18

I say, Have they not heard? [a] Yes verily, [b] their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world. But I say, 19
Did not Israel know? First Moses saith, [c] I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a [d] foolish nation I will anger you. But Esaias is very bold, and 20 saith, [e] I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me. But to Israel he saith, [f] All day 21 long have I stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

XI.

I say then, [a] Hath God cast away his people? [b] God forbid. For [cd] I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of [d] the tribe of Benjamin. [e] God hath 2 not cast away his people [f] which he foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith [t] of Elias? how he [g] maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying, Lord, [h] they have killed thy pro- 3 phets, and digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they 4 seek my life. But what saith [i] the answer of God unto him? [k] I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the
5 knee to the image of Baal. Even so then at this present time also there is [l] a remnant according to the election of 6 grace. And [m] if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is 7 no more work. What then? [n] Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it,
8 and the rest were [ll] blinded, (according as it is written, [o] God hath given them the spirit of [ll] slumber, [p] eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.
9 And David saith, [q] Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and [qq] a stumblingblock, and a recom-
10 pence unto them: let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway.

11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? [b] God forbid: but rather [r] through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, [s] for to provoke them
12 to jealousy. Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the [ll] diminishing of them the riches of the Gen-
13 tiles; how much more their fulness? For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as [t] I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify
14 mine office: if by any means I may [s] provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and [u] might [w] save some of them.
15 For if the casting away of them be the [x] reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the 16 dead? For if [y] the firstfruit be holy, [z] the lump is also holy: and if [a] the root be 17 holy, so are the branches. And if [b] some of the branches be broken off, and thou, [c] being a wild olive tree, wert graffed in [l] amongst them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of [d] the olive tree; 18 boast not against the branches: but if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but 19 the root thee. Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might 20 be graffed in. Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou [e] standest by faith. [e] Be not high-minded, 21 but [f] fear: for if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee. Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, [g] if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise [h] thou also shalt be cut off. And [i] they also, if they bide not still in unbelief, shall be graffed in: for God is able to graff them in again. For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert graffed contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be graffed into their own olive tree?

For [ii] I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, [j] lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; [k] that [ll] blindness [l] in part is happened to Israel, [m] until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in. And [i] so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, [n] There shall come [o] out of Sion the Deliverer, and [p] shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob: for this is my covenant unto them, [q] when I shall take away their sins. As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are [r] beloved for the fathers' sakes. For the gifts and calling [s] of God are [t] without repentance. For as ye [u] in times past have not [ll] believed God, [w] yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief: even so have these also now not [ll] believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy. For [x] God hath [ll] concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

O [y] the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and [z] knowledge of God! [a] how unsearchable are his judgments, and [b] his ways [c] past finding out! [d] For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counseller? Or [e] who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? For [f] of him, and [g] through him, and [g] to him, are all things: [h] to [f] whom be glory for ever. Amen.

XII.

I [a] beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye [b] present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, [c] acceptable unto God, which is your [d] reasonable [e] service. And [f] be not conformed [g] to this world: but [h] be ye transformed by [i] the renewing [j] of your mind, that ye may [k] prove what is that good, and [c] acceptable, and perfect, [l] will of God. For I say, [m] through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, [n] not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think [t] soberly, [o] according as God hath dealt to every man [p] the measure of faith. [q] For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office: so we, [r] being many, [s] are one body in Christ, and every one [t] members one of another. [u] Having then gifts differing [o] according to [m] the grace that is given to us, whether [wx] prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith; or [y] ministry, let us wait on our ministering: or [z] he that teacheth, on [wa] teaching; or [b] he that exhorteth, on [c] exhortation: [d] he that [l] giveth, let him do it [ll] with simplicity; [e] he that ruleth, with [f] diligence; he that sheweth mercy, [g] with cheerfulness.

Let [h] love be [hi] without dissimulation. [j] Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. Be [k] kindly affectioned one to another [lll] with brotherly love; [m] in honour preferring one another; not [n] slothful in [f] business; [o] fervent in spirit; [p] serving the Lord; rejoicing in hope; [q] patient in tribulation; [r] continuing instant in prayer; [s] distributing to the necessity of saints; [t] given to hospitality. [u] Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not. [v] Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and [w] weep with them that weep. Be [x] of the same mind one towards another. [y] Mind not high things, but [ll] condescend to men of low estate. [z] Be not wise in your own conceits. [a] Recompense to no man evil for evil. [b] Provide things honest in the sight of all men. [bb] If it be possible, as much 18 as lieth in you, [c] live peaceably with all men. Dearly beloved, [d] avenge not your- 19 selves, but rather give place unto [e] wrath:

for it is written, [f] Vengeance is mine;
I will repay, saith the Lord. There- 20 fore [ug] if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink:
for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head. Be not 21 overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

XIII. Let every [a] soul [b] be subject unto the higher powers. For [c] there is no power but of God: the powers that be are [‖d] or- 2 dained of God. Whosoever therefore resisteth [b] the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves [dd] damnation.
For rulers are not a terror to [e] good works, 3 but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and [f] thou shalt have praise of the same: for he is [g] the minister of God 4 to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is [g] the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil. Where- 5 fore [h] ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also [i] for conscience sake.
For for this cause pay you [k] tribute also: 6 for they are [g] God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing. [l] Ren- 7 der therefore to all their dues: [k] tribute to whom tribute is due; [m] custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour. Owe no man 8 any thing, but to love one another: for [n] he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. For this, [o] Thou shalt not com- 9 mit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, [op] Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly com-prehended in this saying, namely, [q] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. Love worketh no ill to his neigh- 10 bour: therefore [nr] love is the fulfilling of the law.

And that, knowing [s] the time, [s] that 11 now it is high time [t] to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when [u] we believed. The night is 12 far spent, [v] the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off [w] the works of darkness, and [x] let us put on [y] the armour of 13 light. [z] Let us walk [‖f] honestly, as in the day; not in [a] rioting and [b] drunkenness, not in [c] chambering and [d] wantonness, 14 not in [e] strife and envying. But [f] put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, [g] to fulfil the lusts thereof.

XIV. Him that is [a] weak in the faith [b] receive you, but [‖] not to doubtful disputa-2 tions. For one believeth [d] that he may eat all things: another, who is [a] weak, 3 eateth herbs. Let not him that eateth [r] despise him that eateth not; and [e] let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath [b] received him.
4 [f] Who art thou that judgest another man's [g] servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him 5 stand. [h] One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. [i] Let every man be [‖k] fully 6 persuaded in his own mind. He that [l] regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it.
He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for [l] he giveth God thanks; and he that eat-eth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and 7 giveth God thanks. For [m] none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to 8 himself. For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live 9 therefore, or die, we are the Lord's. For [m] to this end Christ both [n] died, and rose, and [o] revived, that he might be [p] Lord both [q] of the dead and living.

10 But [e] why dost thou judge thy brother?
or why dost thou [r] set at nought thy brother? for [s] we shall all stand before 11 [t] the judgment seat of Christ. For it is written, [u] As I live, saith the Lord, [w] every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.
12 So then [x] every one of us shall give ac-13 count of himself to God. [e] Let us not therefore judge one another any more:
but judge this rather, [y] that no man put fall in his brother's way. I know, and 14 am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, [b]that there is nothing [t]unclean of itself: but [c]to him that esteemeth any thing to be [t]unclean, to him it is unclean. But if 15 thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not [t]charitably. [d]Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died. [e]Let not then your good 16 be evil spoken of: for [f]the kingdom of 17

God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. For he that in these things 18 [g]serveth Christ is [h]acceptable to God, and [e]approved of men. Let us there- 19 fore [i]follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith [k]one may edify another. [d]For meat destroy 20 not the work of God. [bl]All things indeed are pure; [m]but it is evil for that man who eateth with [z]offence. [n]It is good 21 neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.
Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before 22
God. [o]Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he [p]alloweth.
And he that [l q]doubteth is damned 23
if he eat, because he eateth not of faith:
for [l]whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

[s]confirm the promises made unto the fa-9 thers: and [t]that the Gentiles might [p]glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, [u]For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing 10 unto thy name. And again he saith, [x]Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his peo-11 ple. And again, [y]Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all 12 ye people. And again Esaias saith, [z]There shall be [a]a root of Jesse,
and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gen-13 tiles trust. Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.
14 And [b]I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of [c]goodness, filled with all [d]knowledge, able also to admonish one another.
15 Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you [e]in some sort, [b]as putting you in mind, [f]because of the 16 grace that is given to me of God, that [g]I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the [lh]offering up of the Gentiles might be [i]acceptable, being 17 sanctified by the Holy Ghost. I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ [k]in those things which per-18 tain to God. For I will not dare to speak of any of those things [l]which Christ hath not wrought by me, [m]to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed, 19 through [n]mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gos-20 pel of Christ. Yea, so have I [o]strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, [p]lest I should build upon 21 another man's foundation: but as it is written, [q]To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.
22 For which cause also I have been [l]much 23 [r]hindered from coming to you. But now having no more place in these [s]parts, and [t]having a great desire these 24 many years to come unto you; whenso-ever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and [u]to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be

I [a]commend unto you Phebe our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at [b]Cenchrea: that ye [c]re- 2 ceive her in the Lord, as becometh [d]saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you:
for she hath been a succourer of many,
and [e]of myself also. Greet [f]Priscilla 3 and Aquila [e]my helpers in Christ Jesus: who have for my life laid down 4 their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles. Likewise greet [g]the 5 church that is in their house. Salute my wellbeloved Epenetus, who is [h]the firstfruits of [i]Achaia unto Christ. Greet 6 Mary, [e]who [n]bestowed much labour on us. Salute Andronicus and Junia, [j]my 7 kinsmen, and [jj]my fellowprisoners, who are [k]of note among [l]the apostles, [ll]who also were in Christ before me. Greet 8 Amplias my beloved in the Lord. Sa- 9 lute Urban [e]our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloved. Salute Apelles 10 [m]approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus' [l]household. Salute 11 Herodion [j]my kinsman. Greet them that be of the [l]household of Narcissus, 12 which are in the Lord. Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, which [n]laboured much in the Lord.
13 Salute [o]Rufus [p]chosen in the Lord, 14 and his mother and mine. Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and [q]the brethren which are with 15 them. Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and [q]all [d]the saints which are with 16 them. [r]Salute one another with a holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you.
17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause [s]divisions and [t]offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and [u]avoid them.
18 For they that are such [w]serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but [x]their own belly;
and [y]by good words and fair speeches 19 deceive the hearts of the [z]simple. For [a]your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you [b]wise

20 concerning evil. And [c]the God of peace [d]shall [l]bruise [e]Satan under your feet shortly. [f]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.
21 [s]Timotheus [l]my workfellow, and [i]Lucius, and [k]Jason, and [l]Sosipater, 22 [j]my kinsmen, salute you. I Tertius, [m]who wrote this epistle, salute you in 23 the Lord. [n]Gaius mine host, and of the whole church, saluteth you. [o]Erastus the [p]chamberlain of the city saluteth you, and Quartus a brother.
24 [f]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.
25 [q]Now to him that is of power [r]to stablish you [s]according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, [t]according to the revelation of the mystery, [u]which was kept secret since the world
26 began, [v]but now [t]is made manifest, and [w]by the scriptures of the prophets, [x]according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all 27 nations [y]for the obedience of faith: to [z]God only wise, be glory through Jesus Christ for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

CORINTHIANS.

I.

PAUL, [a] called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ [b] through the will of God, and [c] Sosthenes our brother, unto 2 the church of God which is at [d] Corinth, [e] to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, [f] called to be [g] saints, with all that in every place [h] call upon the name of Jesus Christ [i] our Lord, [j] both theirs and ours: [k] grace be unto you, and peace, 3 from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

[l] I thank my God always on your 4 behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ; that in every 5 thing ye are enriched by him, [m] in all utterance, and in all [mn] knowledge; even 6 as [o] the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you: so that ye come behind 7 in no gift; [p] waiting for the [r] coming of our Lord Jesus Christ: [q] who shall also 8 confirm you unto the end, that ye may be [r] blameless [rr] in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. [s] God is faithful, [ss] by whom 9 ye were called unto [t] the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

Now [u] I beseech you, brethren, by 10 the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, [v] that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no [t] divisions among you; but that ye be [w] perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment. For it hath been declared 11 unto me of you, my brethren, by them [x] which are of the house of Chloe, that there are [y] contentions among you. Now 12 this I say, that [z] every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of [a] Apollos; and I of [b] Cephas; and I of Christ. [c] Is 13 Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye [d] baptized in the name 14 of Paul? I thank God that [e] I baptized none of you, but [f] Crispus and [g] Gaius; 15 lest any should say that I had [d] bap- 16 tized in mine own name. And I baptized also the household of [h] Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: [i] not with wisdom of [ll] words, lest the cross of Christ should be [k] made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the cross is to [l] them that perish [m] foolishness; but unto us [n] which are saved it is [o] the 19 power of God. For it is written, [p] I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will [q] bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? [r] where is [s] the scribe? where is the disputer [ss] of this world? [t] hath not God [u] made foolish 21 the wisdom [uu] of this world? [v] For after that [p] in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, [vv] it pleased God by the [m] foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

22 For [w] the Jews require a sign, and the 23 Greeks seek after wisdom: but [ww] we preach Christ crucified, [x] unto the Jews a [y] stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks 24 [m] foolishness; but unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ [o] the power of God, and [z] the wisdom 25 of God. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For [a] ye see your [b] calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, [c] not many [d] mighty, not many 27 [e] noble, are called: but [f] God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to

II.

And I, brethren, when I came to you, [a] came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you [b] the testimony of God. For I determined not to know any thing among you, [c] save Jesus Christ, and him crucified. And [d] I was with you [e] in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. And my speech and my preaching was [a] not with ‖ enticing words of man's wisdom, but [f] in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: that your faith should not † stand in the wisdom of men, but [g] in the power of God.

Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are [h] perfect: yet [a] not the wisdom [i] of this world, nor of the [p] princes of this world, [k] that come to nought: but we speak the wisdom of God [l] in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, [m] which God ordained [n] before the world unto our glory: [o] which none of the [p] princes [i] of this world knew: for [q] had they known it, they would not have crucified [r] the Lord of glory. But as it is written, [s] Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have [t] entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath [u] prepared for them that love him. But [x] God hath revealed them unto us [y] by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. [z] For what man knoweth the things of a man, [a] save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but [b] the Spirit of God. Now [c] we have received, not the spirit of the world, but [c] the Spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Which things also we speak, [d] not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; [e] comparing spiritual things with spiritual. [f] But the [g] natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: [h] for they are foolishness unto him: [i] neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. But [k] he that is spiritual ‖ judgeth all things, yet he himself is ‖ judged of no man. [m] For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he † may instruct him? But [n] we have the mind of Christ.

And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto [a b] spiritual, but as unto [a c] carnal, even as unto [d] babes in Christ. I have fed you with [e] milk, and not with meat: [f] for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able. For ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you [g] envying, and [g h] strife, and ‖ divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk † as men? For [i] while one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of [j] Apollos; are ye not carnal?

Who then is Paul, and who is [j] Apollos, but [k] ministers by whom [l] ye believed, [m] even as the Lord gave to every man? [n] I have planted, [j o] Apollos watered; [p] but God gave the increase. So then [q] neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase. Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: [r] and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour. For [s] we are labourers together with God: ye are God's ‖ husbandry, ye are † God's building. [u] According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, [x] I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon. cious stones, wood, hay, stubble; [a]every 13 man's work shall be made manifest:
for [b]the day [c]shall declare it, because [d]it [†]shall be revealed [e]by fire; and [e]the fire shall [f]try every man's work of what sort it is. If any man's work 14 abide which he hath built thereupon, [a]he shall receive a reward. If any man's 15 work shall be burnt, [g]he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as [eh]by fire. [i]Know ye not that ye 16 are the temple of God, and that [j]the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any 17 man [‖]defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are. [k]Let 18
no man deceive himself. [l]If any man among you seemeth to be wise in [m]this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. For [n]the wisdom of this 19 world is foolishness with God. For it is written, [o]He taketh the wise in their own [p]craftiness. And again, 20 [q]The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.
Therefore [r]let no man glory [s]in men. 21
For [t]all things are yours; whether Paul, 22 or [u]Apollos, or [u]Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or [x]things present, or things to come; all are yours; and [y]ye 23 are Christ's; and [z]Christ is God's.

IV.

Let a man so account of us, as of [a]the ministers of Christ, and [b]stewards of [c]the mysteries of God. Moreover it 2 is required in stewards, that a man be found [d]faithful. But with me it is a 3 very small thing that I should be [e]judged of you, or of man's [†]judgment: yea,
I [e]judge not mine own self. For [f]I 4 know nothing by myself; [g]yet am I not hereby justified: but he that [e]judgeth me is the Lord. Therefore [h]judge 5 nothing before the time, until the Lord come, [i]who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts:
and [k]then shall every man have [l]praise
of God.

And these things, brethren, [m]I have 6 [n]in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes; that ye might learn in us [o]not to think of men above that which is written, [p]that no one of you [q]be puffed up for one against an- 7 other. For who [†r]maketh thee to differ from another? and [s]what hast thou that thou didst not [t]receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it? Now 8 ye are full, [u]now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and [x]I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you. For [y]I 9 think that God hath set forth [‖]us the apostles last, [z]as it were appointed to death: for [a]we are made a [†]spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men. [b]We are fools for Christ's sake, 10 but [bb]ye are wise in Christ; [c]we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honourable, but we are despised. Even unto 11 this present hour we both [d]hunger, and [d]thirst, and [de]are naked, and [f]are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling place; and [g]labour, working with our 12 own hands: [h]being reviled, we bless;

being [i]persecuted, we suffer it: being 13 defamed, we intreat: we are made [j]as the filth of the world, and are [k]the offscouring of all things unto this day.
I write not these things to [l]shame you, 14
but [m]as my beloved sons I warn you.
For though you have ten thousand 15 [n]instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for [o]in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel.
Wherefore I beseech you, [p]be ye fol- 16 lowers of me. For this cause have I 17 sent unto you [q]Timotheus, [r]who is my beloved son, and [s]faithful in the Lord, who shall [t]bring you into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, [u]as I teach every where in every church. Now [x]some are [y]puffed up, 18 as though I would not come to you.
But [z]I will come to you shortly, [a]if 19
the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are [y]puffed up, but the power. For the kingdom of 20
God is not in word, but [b]in power.
What will ye? [c]shall I come unto you 21 [d]with a rod, or in love, and in [e]the spirit of meekness?

amongst the Gentiles, [c] that one should have his [d] father's wife. And ye are [e] puffed up, and have not rather [f] mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you. For I verily, as [g] absent in body, but present in spirit, have [l] judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, [g] and my spirit, [h] with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ, [i] to deliver such a one unto [k] Satan for the destruction of the flesh, [l] that the spirit may be saved in [m] the day of the Lord Jesus. [n] Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that [o] a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even [p] Christ our passover [‖] is sacrificed for us: therefore [q] let us keep [‖] the feast, [q] not with old leaven, neither with [o] the leaven of [r] malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of [s] sincerity and truth.

I wrote unto you in [t] an epistle not to company with fornicators: [u] yet not altogether with the fornicators [w] of this world, or with [x y] the covetous, or [y z] extortioners, or with [y] idolaters; for then must [z z] ye needs go out of the world. But [t] now I have written unto you not to keep company, [a] if any man that is called a brother be a [t] fornicator, or [y] covetous, or an [y] idolater, or a [b] railer, or a [c] drunkard, or an [y] extortioner; with such a one no not to eat. For what have I to do to judge [d] them also that are without? do not ye judge [e] them that are within? But [d] them that are without God judgeth. Therefore [f] put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

VI.

Dare any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and [a] not before the saints? Do ye not know that [b] the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? Know ye not that we shall [c] judge angels? how much more things [d] that pertain to this life? If then ye have judgments of things [d] pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church. [e] I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man amongst you? no, not one that shall be able to [f] judge between his brethren? But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers. Now therefore there is [g] utterly a [h] fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. [i] Why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded? Nay, you do wrong, and defraud, [j] and that your brethren. Know ye not that the unrighteous [k] shall not inherit the kingdom of God? [l] Be not deceived: [k] neither [m n o] fornicators, nor [o] idolaters, nor [n] adulterers, nor effeminate, nor [m p] abusers of themselves with mankind, [k] nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. And such were [q] some of you: but [r] ye are washed, but [s] ye are sanctified, but [t] ye are justified [u] in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

[x] All things are lawful unto me, [x] but all things are not [‖] expedient: [x] all things are lawful for me, but I will not be [y] brought under the power of any. [z] Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but [a] for the Lord; and [b] the Lord for the body. And [c] God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us [d] by his own power. Know ye not that [e] your bodies are [b] the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of a harlot? [f] God forbid. What? know ye not that he which is [g] joined to a harlot is one body? for [h] two, saith he, shall be one flesh. But [i] he that is [g] joined unto the Lord is one spirit. [k] Flee [l] fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth [m] against his own body. What? know ye not that [n] your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and [b o] ye are not your own? For [p] ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, [b] which are God's.

VII. Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: [a] It is good for a man not to [b] touch a woman. Nevertheless, 2 to avoid [c] fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband. [d] Let the husband 3 render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband. The wife [e] hath not power 4 of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband [e] hath not power of his own body, but the wife. [f] Defraud you not one the other, except 5 it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to [g] fasting and prayer, and come together again, that [h] Satan [i] tempt you not for your [j] incontinency. But I speak this by permis- 6 sion, and [k] not of commandment. For 7 [l] I would that all men were [m] even as I myself. But [n] every man hath his proper gift of God, [o] one after this manner, and another after that.

I say therefore to the unmarried and 8 widows, [a] It is good for them if they abide [m] even as I. But [p] if they cannot 9 [q] contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. And unto 10 the married I command, yet [r] not I, but the Lord, [s] Let not the wife depart from her husband: [t] but and if she 11 depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife. But 12 [k] to the rest speak I, [u] not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she [w] be pleased to dwell with him, let him not [x] put her away. And 13 the woman which hath a husband that believeth not, and if he [w] be pleased to dwell with her, let her not [x] leave him. For the unbelieving husband is sancti- 14 fied by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else [y] were your children unclean; but now are they [z] holy. But if the unbelieving 15 depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but [a] God hath called us [t] to peace. For [b] what knowest thou, O 16 wife, whether thou shalt [c] save thy husband? or [t] how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt [c] save thy wife? But [d] as God hath distributed to every 17 man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And so [dd] ordain I [e] in all churches. Is any man called 18 being circumcised? [f] let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? [g] let him not be cir- 19 cumcised. [h] Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but [i] the keeping of the commandments of God. 20 [k] Let every man abide in the same 21 calling wherein he was called. Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, 22 use it rather. For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is [l] the Lord's [t] freeman: likewise also he that is call- 23 ed, being free, is [m] Christ's servant. [n] Ye are bought with a price; [o] be not ye 24 the servants of men. Brethren, [k] let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

Now concerning virgins [p] I have no 25 commandment of the Lord: yet I give [p] my judgment, as [q] one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be [r] faithful. 26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the [s] present [tt] distress, I say, [u] that it is 27 good for a man so to be. Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? 28 seek not a wife. [v] But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such [w] shall have trouble in the 29 flesh: but [x] I spare you. But this I say, brethren, [y] the time is short: [z] it remaineth, that both they that have wives be 30 as though they had none; [z] and they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as 31 though they [a] possessed not; and they that use this world, as not [b] abusing it: for [c] the [d] fashion of this world passeth 32 away. But [e] I would have you without carefulness. [f] He that is unmarried careth for the things [t] that belong to the Lord, how he may [g] please the Lord: 33 but he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may 34 please his wife. [h] There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman [e] careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. 35 And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may [i] cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that you may attend upon the Lord without 36 distraction. But if any man think that he [j]behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she [k]pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry. Nevertheless he that [l]standeth 37

[m]stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well. So 38 then he that giveth her in marriage [n]doeth well; but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.

[o]The wife is bound by the law as 39 long as her husband liveth; but if her husband [p]be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only [q]in the Lord. But she is happier if she so 40 abide, [r]after my judgment: and I [s]think also [t]that I have the Spirit of God.

VIII.

Now as touching [a]things offered unto idols, we know that we all have [b]knowledge. [bc]Knowledge [d]puffeth up, but charity [e]edifieth. And [f]if any man 2 think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know. But if any man love God, [g]the 3 same is known of him. As concerning 4 therefore the eating of [a]those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that [h]an idol is nothing in the world, and that [i]there is none other God but one. For [k]though there be that are 5 called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,) but [i]to us there is but one God, 6 [l]the Father, [m]of whom are all things, and we [l]in him; and [n]one Lord Jesus Christ, [o]by whom are all things, and we by him. Howbeit there is not in every 7 man that [b]knowledge: for some [p]with conscience of the idol unto this hour, eat it as [a]a thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak [q]is defiled. But [r]meat commendeth us not 8 to God: for neither, if we eat, [l]are we the better; neither, if we eat not, [l]are we the worse. But [s]take heed [t]lest by 9 any means this [l]liberty of yours become a [u]stumblingblock [v]to them that are weak. For [w]if any man see thee which 10 hast [b]knowledge sit at meat in [x]the idol's temple, shall not [p]the conscience of him which is weak be [f]emboldened to eat [a]those things which are offered to idols; [w]and through thy knowledge shall 11 [v]the weak brother perish, [y]for whom
12 Christ died? But [z]when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.
13 Wherefore, [a]if meat [b]make my brother to offend, [c]I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I [b]make my brother to offend.

IX.

[a]Am I not an apostle? am I not [aa]free? [b]have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? [c]are not you my work in the 2 Lord? If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you: for [d]the seal of mine [e]apostleship are ye in 3 the Lord. Mine [ee]answer to them that 4 do [f]examine me is this: Have we not
5 power [g]to eat and to drink? [h]Have we not power to lead about [i]a sister, a [l]wife, as well as other apostles, and as [j]the brethren of the Lord, and [k]Cephas?
6 Or I only and [l]Barnabas, have not we 7 power [g]to forbear working? Who goeth [m]a warfare any time at his own [n]charges? who [o]planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who [p]feedeth a [q]flock, and eateth not of the milk of 8 the [q]flock? Say I these things [r]as a man? or saith not the law the same 9 also? For it is written in the law of Moses, [s]Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that [t]treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for 10 oxen? Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? [u]For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that [w]he that ploweth should plow in hope; and that he that [t]thresheth in hope should be partaker of his 11 hope. [x]If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall 12 reap your carnal things? If others be partakers of this power [y]over you, are not we rather? Nevertheless [z]we have not used this power; but [a]suffer all things, [b]lest we should hinder the gospel 13 of Christ. Do ye not know that [c]they which minister about holy things [l]live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the 14 altar? Even so [d]hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the gos-15 pel [g]should live of the gospel. But [e]I have used none of these things: neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for it were better for me to die, than that any man should 16 make [f]my glorying void. For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing [f]to glory of: for [g]necessity is laid upon me; [h]yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel! For if I do this thing willingly, I have [i]a reward: but if against my will, [k]a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me. What is my [i]reward then? Verily that, when I preach the gospel, [l]I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I [m]abuse not my power in the gospel. For though I be [n]free from all men, yet have [o]I made myself servant unto all, that I might [p]gain the more. And [q]unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might [p]gain the Jews; [q]to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might [p]gain them that are under the law; [r]to them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but [s]under the law to Christ,) that I might [p]gain them that are without law. [t]To the weak became I as weak, that I might [p]gain the weak: [o]I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means [u]save some. [v]And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth [w]the prize? So [x]run, that ye may [y]obtain. And every man that [z]striveth for the mastery [a]is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible [b]crown; but we an [c]incorruptible. I therefore so [x]run, not as uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that [cc]beateth the air: but [d]I [e]keep under my body, and [f]bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, [g]I myself should be [h]a castaway.

Moreover, brethren, [a]I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under [aa]the cloud, and all passed through [b]the sea; and were all baptized [c]unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; and did all eat the same [d]spiritual meat; and did all drink the same [e]spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that [l]followed them: and that Rock was Christ. But with many of them [f]God was not well pleased: for [g]they were overthrown in the wilderness. Now these things were [t]our [h]examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as [i]they also lusted. Neither be ye [k]idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, [l]The people sat down to eat and drink, and [s]rose up to play. Neither let us [m]commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day [n]three and twenty thousand. Neither let us tempt Christ, as [o]some of them also tempted, and [p]were destroyed of serpents. Neither murmur ye, as [q]some of them also murmured, and [r]were destroyed of [s]the destroyer. Now all these things happened unto them for [ll]ensamples: and [t]they are written for our admonition, [u]upon whom the ends of the world are come. Wherefore [x]let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. There hath no temptation taken you but such as is [ll]common to man: but [y]God is faithful, [z]who will not suffer you to be tempted above that you are able; but will with the temptation also make a [a]way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it. Wherefore, my dearly beloved, [b]flee from idolatry. I speak as to [c]wise men; judge ye what I say.

The [d]cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the [e]communion of the blood of Christ? [f]The bread which we break, is it not the [e]communion of the body of Christ? For [g]we being many are one bread, and [h]one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread. [i]Behold Israel [j]after the flesh: [k]are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar? What say I then? [l]that the idol is any thing, or [m]that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing? But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, [n]they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should [e]have fellowship with devils. [o]Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and [p]the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils. Do we [q]provoke the Lord to jealousy? [r]are we stronger than he?

All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things [t]edify not.

woman; but r the woman for the man.
10 For this cause ought the woman to have ‖ power on her head because of s the an-11 gels. Nevertheless t neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman 12 without the man, u in the Lord. For as q the woman is of the man, even so is the man also by the woman; but x all 13 things of God. y Judge in yourselves:
is it comely that a woman pray unto 14 God uncovered? Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have 15 long hair, it is a shame unto him? But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a 16 ‖ covering. But z if any man a seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither b the churches of God.
17 Now in this that I declare unto you
I praise you not, that you come together not for the better, but for the worse.
18 For first of all, when ye come together in the church, c I hear that there be ‖ divisions among you; and I partly believe 19 it. For d there must be also ‖ e heresies among you, f that they which are g approved may be made manifest among 20 you. When ye come together therefore into one place, ‖ this is not to eat h the 21 Lord's supper. For in eating every one r taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and i another is drunken.
22 What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye k the church of God, and l shame ‖ them that have not?
What shall I say to you? shall I praise 23 you in this? I praise you not. For m I have received of the Lord that which also
I delivered unto you, n That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was be-24 trayed took bread: and when he had given thanks, he o brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is o broken for you: this do ‖ in p remem-25 brance q of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, r when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as 26 ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ‖ ye do shew the Lord's death 27 s till he come. Wherefore t whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord u unworthily, shall be w guilty of x the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But [y] let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.
29 For he that eateth and drinketh eth unworthily, eateth and drinketh ‖ damnation to himself, not [z] discerning the Lord's body.
30 For this cause many are weak and [a] sickly among you, and many [b] sleep.
31 For [c] if we would [d] judge ourselves, we should not be judged.
32 But when we are judged, [e] we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.
33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.
34 And [f] if any man hunger, let him [g] eat at home; that [h] ye come not together unto ‖ condemnation. And the rest [i] will I set in order [k] when I come.

Now [a] concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, [b] I would not have you ignorant.
2 Ye know that [c] ye were Gentiles, [d] carried away unto these [e] dumb idols, even as ye were led.
3 Wherefore I give you to understand, that [f] no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus ‖ accursed: and that [g] no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost.
4 Now [h] there are diversities of gifts, but [i] the same Spirit.
5 And [k] there are [l] differences of ‖ administrations, but [i] the same Lord.
6 And there are diversities of [m] operations, but it is [i] the same God which worketh [n] all in all.
7 [o] But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.
8 For to one is given by the Spirit the word of [p] wisdom; to another the word of [q] knowledge by the same Spirit;
9 to another [r] faith [s] by the same Spirit; to another [t] the gifts of healing by the same Spirit;
10 to another the [m] working of [u] miracles; to another [x] prophecy; to another [y] discerning of spirits; to another [z] divers kinds of tongues; to another [a] the interpretation of tongues:
11 but all these worketh that one and the selfsame Spirit, [aa] dividing to every man severally [b] as he will.
12 For [c] as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, [c] being many, are one

13 For [c] by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, ‖ whether we be Jews or [f] Gentiles, ‖ whether we be bond or free; and [g] have been 14 all made to drink into [h] one Spirit.
15 For the body is not one member, but many.
16 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?
17 And if the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?
18 But now [i] hath God set the members every one of them in the body, [b] as [j] it hath pleased him.
19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?
20 But now are they [c] many members, yet 21 but one body. And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no 22 need of you.
23 Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary:
24 and those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we ‖ bestow more abundant honour; and our [k] uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.
25 For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:
26 that there should be no ‖ schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another.
27 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members [l] rejoice with it.
28 Now [d] [m] ye are the body of Christ, and [n] members [o] in particular.
And [i] God hath set some in the church, first [pq] apostles, secondarily [pq r] prophets, thirdly [p] teachers, after that [s] miracles, then [t] gifts of healings, [u] helps, [x] governments, ‖ diversities of tongues.
29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers?
30 are all ‖ workers of miracles?
31 have all the [t] gifts of healing? [y] do all speak with tongues? [y] do all interpret?
But [z] covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

XIV.

[a] Follow after charity, and [aa]desire [b]spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may [c]prophesy. For he that [d]speaketh in an unknown tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man [t][e]understandeth him; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. But he that [c]prophesieth speaketh unto men to [f]edification, and [g]exhortation, and [h]comfort. He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself; but he that [c]prophesieth [i]edifieth the church. I would that ye all [d]spake with tongues, but [j]rather that ye [c]prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, [k]except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying. Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by [l]revelation, or by [m]knowledge, or by [n]prophesying, or by [n]doctrine? And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the [l][o]sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped? For if [p]the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to [q]the battle? So likewise you, except ye utter by the tongue words [t]easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall [r]speak into the air. There are, [s]it may be, [t]so many [u]kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification. Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a [x]barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me. Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous [t]of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to [f]the edifying of the church. Wherefore let him that [d]speaketh in an unknown tongue pray [k]that he may interpret. For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful. What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and will pray with the understanding also: [y]I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing [z]with the understanding also. Else when thou shalt [a]bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the [b]unlearned say [c]Amen at [d]thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest? For thou verily givest [d]thanks well, but the other is not edified. I thank my God, I [c]speak with tongues more than you all: yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might [e]teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue. Brethren, [f]be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice [g]be ye children, but in understanding be [f]men. [h]In the law it is written, [i]With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord. Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not: but [k]prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe. If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are [b]unlearned, or unbelievers, [l]will

[n] judged of all: and thus are the secrets 25 of his heart made manifest; and so [o] falling down on his face [p] he will worship God, and [q] report that God is in you of a truth.

How is it then, brethren? when ye 26
come together, every one of you hath [qq] a psalm, hath a [r] doctrine, hath a [s] tongue, hath a [r] revelation, hath an [s] interpretation. [t] Let all things be done unto edifying. If any man [s] speak in an un- 27 known tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course;
and let one interpret. But if there be 28 no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God. Let the [u] prophets 29 speak two or three, and let the other [w] judge. If any thing be revealed to 30 another that sitteth by, [x] let the first hold his peace. For ye may all [k] pro- 31 phesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be [y] comforted. And the 32 spirits of the [u] prophets are subject to the prophets: for God is not the author 33 of [†] confusion, but of peace, as [z] in all churches of the saints.

[a] Let your women keep silence in 34
the churches: for [a] it is not permitted unto them to speak; but [b] they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith [c] the law. And if they will learn 35 any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church. What? came 36 the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only? If any man 37 [d] think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, [e] let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord. But if 38 any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant. Wherefore, brethren, [f] covet to 39 [g] prophesy, and forbid not [g] to speak with tongues. [h] Let all things be done 40 [i] decently and in order.

Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you [a] the gospel [b] which I preached unto you, which also you have [f] received, and [c] wherein ye stand; by which also 2 ye are [d] saved, if ye [‖] keep in memory [†] what I preached unto you, [e] unless ye have believed in vain. For [f] I delivered 3 unto you first of all that which I also [f] received, how that Christ died [g] for our sins [h] according to the scriptures; 4 and that he was buried, and that he rose again [i] the third day [j] according 5 to the scriptures: and that [k] he was seen of [l] Cephas, then [m] of the twelve: 6 after that, he was seen of [n] above five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part [o] remain unto this present, 7 but some are [p] fallen asleep. After that, he was seen of [q] James; then of [r] all 8 the apostles. And [s] last of all [t] he was seen of me also, as of [‖] one born out of due time. For [u] I am the least of 9 the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because [x] I persecuted 10

the church of God. But [y] by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but [z] I laboured more abun- 11 dantly than they all: [a] yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.
Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

Now if Christ be preached that he 12 rose from the dead, [b] how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? But if there be no resur- 13 rection of the dead, [c] then is Christ not risen: and if Christ be not risen, 14 then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain. Yea, and we are 15 found false witnesses of God; because we have testified of God [d] that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not. For if 16 the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised: and if Christ be not raised, 17 your faith is vain; [e] ye are yet in your sins. Then they also which are [f] fallen 18 asleep in Christ are perished. If in this 19 life only we have hope in Christ, [g] we are of all men most miserable. But now 20 [h] is Christ risen from the dead, and [i] become the firstfruits of them that [f] slept
For [k] since by man came death, [l] by man 21 came also the resurrection of the dead.
For [m] as in Adam all die, even so in 22
Christ shall all be made alive. But 23 every man in his own order: [i] Christ the firstfruits; [n] afterward they that are Christ's [o] at his coming. Then cometh the 24 end, when he shall have delivered up [p] the kingdom to [pp] God, even the Father; when he shall have [q] put down all

[r] rule and all authority and [r] power. For 25 he must reign, [s] till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy 26 that shall be [q t] destroyed is death. For 27 [u] he hath put all things under his feet. But when [w] he saith, all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him. And when [x] all things shall be 28 subdued unto him, then [y] shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all. Else what shall they do 29 which [z] are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not [a] at all? why are they then baptized for the dead? And why stand 30 we in [b] jeopardy every hour? I protest 31 by [ll] your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, [c] I die [d] daily. If [l] after 32 the manner of men [e] I have fought with beasts at [f] Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? [g] let us eat and drink; [h] for to morrow we die.
[i] Be not deceived: [j] evil communications 33 corrupt good manners. [k] Awake to right- 34 eousness, and sin not: for [l] some have not the knowledge of God: [m] I speak this to your shame.

But some man will say, [n] How are the 35 dead raised up? and with what body do they come? Thou [o] fool, [p] that which 36 thou sowest is not quickened, except it die: and that which thou sowest, thou 37 sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, [q] it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain: but God giveth it 38
a body [qq] as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body. All flesh is 39 not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
There are also celestial bodies, and 40 bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another. There is one glory 41 of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars:
for one star differeth from another star in glory. [r] So also is the resurrection of 42
the dead. It is sown in [s] corruption; it is raised in [t] incorruption: [u] it is sown in 43 dishonour; it [r] is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
it is sown a natural body; it is raised a 44 spiritual body. There is a [w] natural body, and there is a spiritual body. And so 45 it is written, [x] The first man Adam was made a living soul; [y] the last Adam was made [z] a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is [w] natural; and 47 afterward that which is spiritual. [a] The first man is of the earth, [b] earthy: the second man is [ac] the Lord from hea-48 ven. As is the [b] earthy, such are they also that are [b] earthy: and as is the heavenly, [d] such are they also that are 49 heavenly. And [e] as we have borne the image of the [b] earthy, [f] we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that [g] flesh and blood [h] cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth [i] corruption inherit 51 [i] incorruption. Behold, I shew you a mystery; [k] We shall not all [l] sleep, but 52 [m] we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for [n] the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorrupt-53 ible, and we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on [i] incorruption, and [o] this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on [i] incorruption, and [op] this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, [q] Death is [o] swallowed up [r] in 55 victory. [s] O death, where is thy sting? O [tt] grave, where is thy vic-56 tory? The sting of death is sin; and 57 [u] the strength of sin is the law. But [v] thanks be to God, [w] which giveth us [x] the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58 [y] Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye [z] stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in [a] the work of the Lord, forasmuch as you know [b] that your labour is not in vain [c] in the Lord.

Now concerning [a] the collection for XVI.
[b] the saints, as [c] I have given order to [d] the churches of [e] Galatia, even so do ye.
2 Upon [f] the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, [g] as God hath [h] prospered him, [i] that there be no 3 gatherings when I come. And when I come, [j] whomsoever you shall [k] approve by your letters, them will I send to bring 4 your [l] liberality unto Jerusalem. And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me. Now I will come unto you, 5 [l]when I shall pass through [m]Macedonia:

for [n]I do pass through Macedonia.
And [o]it may be that I will abide, yea, 6 and winter with you, that ye may [p]bring

For I will not see you [q]now by the way; 7 but I trust to tarry a while with you, [r]if the Lord permit. But I will tarry at 8 [s]Ephesus until [t]Pentecost. For [u]a great 9 and [v]there are many adversaries. Now 10 [w]if [x]Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for [y]he worketh

no man therefore despise him: but [p]conduct him forth [b]in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren. As touching [c]our brother 12 Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time. [d]Watch ye, [e]stand fast in 13
the faith, [f]quit you like men, [fg]be strong. [h]Let all your things be done 14 with charity.

15 I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of [i]Stephanas, that it is [k]the firstfruits of [l]Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to [mn]the ministry of 16 the saints,) [o]that ye submit yourselves unto such, and to every one that helpeth 17 with us, and [n]laboureth. I am glad of the coming of [i]Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: [p]for that which was lacking on your part they have supplied.
18 For they have [q]refreshed my spirit and yours: therefore [o]acknowledge ye them 19 that are such. The churches of [r]Asia salute you. [s]Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, [t]with the church 20 that is in their house. All the brethren greet you. [u]Greet ye one another with a holy kiss.
21 [v]The salutation of me Paul with mine 22 own hand. [w]If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be [x]ana-23 thema, [y]Maran-atha. [z]The grace of 24 our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. My love be with you all in Christ Jesus.
Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

CORINTHIANS.

Anno DOMINI 60.

I.

PAUL, [a]an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and [b]Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at [c]Corinth, [d]with all the saints which are in all [e]Achaia: [f]grace be to you and 2 peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [g]Blessed be [h]God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort; 4 [i]who comforteth us in all our tribulation, [j]that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, [i]by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. 5 For as [k]the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ. 6 And whether we be afflicted, [lm]it is for your consolation and [m]salvation, which [ln]is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation. 7 And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that [o]as you are partakers of the sufferings, [op]so shall ye be also of the consolation. 8 For [q]we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of [r]our trouble which came to us in [s]Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we [t]despaired even of life: 9 but [tt]we had the [ll]sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not [u]trust in ourselves, but [v]in God [w]which raiseth the dead: 10 [x]who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us; 11 [y]you also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift bestowed upon us [z]by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

12 For our rejoicing is this, [a]the testimony of our conscience, that in [b]simplicity and godly [c]sincerity, [d]not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you- 13 wards. For we write none other things unto you, than what you read or acknowledge; and I trust you shall acknowledge 14 even to the end; as also you have acknowledged us [e]in part, that we are your [f]rejoicing, even as ye also are ours 15 [g]in the day of the Lord Jesus. And in this confidence [h]I was minded to come unto you before, that you might have [i]a 16 second [f]benefit; and to pass by you into [j]Macedonia, and [k]to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be [l]brought on my way toward Judea. 17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose [m]according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea 18 yea, and nay nay? But as God is true, our [ln]word toward you was not yea and 19 nay. For [o]the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and [p]Silvanus and [q]Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but 20 [r]in him was yea. For [s]all the promises of God in him are [t]yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us. 21 Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath [u]anointed us, is God; 22 who hath also [v]sealed us, and [w]given the earnest of [x]the Spirit in our hearts. 23 Moreover [y]I call God for a record upon my soul, that [z]to spare you I came 24 not as yet unto Corinth. Not for that we [a]have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for [b]by faith ye stand. But I determined this with myself, [a]that I would not come again to you in heaviness. [b]For if I make you 2 sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me? And I wrote this same unto 3 you, [c]lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; [d]having confidence in you all, that [e]my joy is the joy of you all. For 4 out of much affliction and [f]anguish of heart [g]I wrote unto you with many tears; [g]not that you should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

But [h]if any have caused grief, [hh]he 5 hath not grieved me, but [i]in part: that I may not overcharge you all. Sufficient 6 to such a man is this [ij]punishment, which was inflicted [k]of many. So that 7 contrariwise [l]ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow. Wherefore I beseech you 8 that you would [m]confirm your love towards him. For to this end also did I write, 9 that I might know [n]the proof of you, whether [o]ye be obedient in all things. To whom [p]ye forgive any thing, I for- 10 give also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it ‖[q]in the [r]person of Christ; lest 11 [s]Satan should [t]get an advantage of us: for [u]we are not ignorant of his [w]devices.

Furthermore, when I came to [x]Troas 12 to preach Christ's gospel, and [y]a door was opened unto me of the Lord, [z]I 13 had no rest in my spirit, because I found not [a]Titus my brother: but [b]taking my leave of them, [c]I went from thence into Macedonia. Now thanks be 14 unto God, which always [d]causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest [e]the savour of his knowledge by us in every place. For we are unto God [e]a 15 sweet savour of Christ, in [f]them that are [g]saved, and [h]in [f]them that perish: [ij]to the one we are the savour of death 16 unto death; and [j]to the other the savour of life unto life. And [k]who is sufficient for these things? For we are not as 17 many, which ‖[l]corrupt the word of God: but as of [m]sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we ‖in Christ.

Do we begin again to [a]commend ourselves? or need we, as [b]some others, [c]epistles of commendation to you, or 2 letters of commendation from you? [d]Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, 3 [e]known and read of all men: forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ [f]ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of [g]the living God; not in [h]tables of stone, 4 but [i]in fleshy tables of the heart. And such [j]trust have we through Christ to 5 God-ward: [k]not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but [l]our sufficiency is of God; 6 who also hath made us able [dm]ministers of [n]the new [nn]testament; not of [o]the letter, but of the spirit: for [p]the letter kill- 7 eth, but [q]the spirit ‖giveth life. But if [p]the ministration of death, [h]written and engraven in stones, [r]was glorious, [r]so that the children of Israel could not [s]stedfastly behold the face of Moses for [t]the glory of his countenance; which 8 glory was to be [u]done away: how shall not the ministration of the spirit be ra- 9 ther glorious? For if [v]the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth [w]the ministration of righteousness 10 exceed in glory. For even that which was made glorious [x]had no glory [y]in this respect, by reason of the glory that 11 excelleth. For if that which is [u]done away was glorious, much more that 12 which remaineth is glorious. Seeing then that we have such hope, [z]we use 13 great ‖plainness of speech: and not as Moses, [r]which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not [s]stedfastly look to [a]the end of that 14 which is [u]abolished: but [b]their [c]minds were [d]blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away [e]in the reading of [f]the old testament; which vail 15 is [u]done away in Christ. But even unto this day, [e]when Moses is read, the vail 16 is upon their heart. Nevertheless [g]when it shall turn to the Lord, [h]the vail shall 17 be taken away. Now [i]the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord 18 is, [j]there is liberty. But we all, with open face [k]beholding as in a glass [l]the glory of the Lord, [m]are [n]changed into

IV.

Therefore seeing we have a this ministry, b as we have received mercy, c we faint not; but have renounced the hidden things of † dishonesty, not walking in d craftiness, nor e handling the word of God deceitfully; but h by manifestation of f the truth g commending ourselves h to every man's conscience in the sight of God. But if our gospel be i hid, it is hid k to them that are lost: in whom l the god m of this world n hath blinded the o minds of them which believe not, lest p the light of q the glorious gospel of Christ, r who is the image of God, should shine unto them. For s we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and t ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake. For God, u who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, † hath w shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God x in the face of Jesus Christ.

But we have this treasure in y earthen z vessels, a that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us. We are b troubled on every side, yet not c distressed; we are cc perplexed, but 7 not in despair; d persecuted, but not e forsaken; f cast down, but not destroyed; g always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, h that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body. For we which live i are alway delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh. So then k death worketh in us, but life in you. We having l the same spirit m of faith, according as it is written, n I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, o and therefore speak; knowing that p he which raised up the Lord Jesus q shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall qq present us with you. For r all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might s through the thanksgiving of many redound t to the glory of God. For which cause u we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet v the inward man w is renewed day by day. For x our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us y a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; z while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are a temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

For we know that if a our earthly house of b this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house c not made with hand, eternal in the heavens. For in this d we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven: if so be that e being clothed we shall not be found naked. For we that are in b this tabernacle d do groan, being burdened: not f for that g we would be unclothed, g but h clothed upon, that mortality might be h swallowed up of life. Now i he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath k given unto us the earnest of the Spirit. Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord: (for l we walk by faith, m not by sight:) n we are confident, I say, and o willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

Wherefore we 7 labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be p accepted of him. For we must all appear q before the judgment seat of Christ; r that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad. Knowing therefore s the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but t we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are t made manifest in your consciences. For we u commend not ourselves v again unto you, but give you w occasion x to glory on our behalf, that you may have somewhat to answer them which glory † in appearance, and not in heart. For whether we be y besides ourselves, it is to God: or whether we z be sober, it is for your cause. For a the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that b if one died for all, then were all dead: and that he died for all, c that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which

[d]Receive us; [e]we have wronged no 2 man, we have corrupted no man, we have [f]defrauded no man. I speak not 3 this to condemn you: for [g]I have said before, that you are in our hearts to die and live with you. Great is my [h]bold- 4 ness of speech toward you, great is [i]my glorying of you: [j]I am filled with comfort, [k]I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation. For, [l]when we were come 5 into Macedonia, [l]our flesh had no rest,
but we were [m]troubled on every side;
[n]without were fightings, within were fears.
Nevertheless God, that comforteth those 6 that are cast down, comforted us [o]by the coming of [l]Titus; and not by his 7 coming only, but [k]by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you,
when he told us your [p]earnest desire, [q]your mourning, your [r]fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.

For [s]though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not [t]repent, [tt]though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but [u]for a season. Now I rejoice, [v]not that ye were made sorry, but [v]that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry [‖]after a godly manner, that ye might [w]receive damage by us in nothing. For [qx]godly sorrow worketh [y]repentance to salvation [z]not to be repented of: but [a]the sorrow of the world worketh death. For behold this selfsame thing, that ye sorrowed [b]after a godly sort, what [c]carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what [d]clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what [e]fear, yea, what [f]vehement desire, yea, what [fg]zeal, yea, what [g]revenge! In all things ye have [h]approved yourselves to be clear [i]in this matter. Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor [k]for his cause that suffered wrong, [l]but that our [c]care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you. Therefore [m]we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of [m]Titus, because his spirit [n]was refreshed by you all. For [o]if I have boasted any thing to him of you, [o]I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you [p]in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before [m]Titus, is found a truth. And his [t]inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth [q]the obedience of you all, how with [e]fear and trembling you received him. I rejoice therefore that [r]I have confidence in you in all things.

Moreover, brethren, [a]we do you to wit of [aa]the grace of God bestowed on the churches of [b]Macedonia; how that in a great [c]trial of affliction [d]the abundance of their joy and [d]their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their [t]liberality. For [e]to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were [f]willing of themselves; praying us with much intreaty [g]that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of [h]the ministering to the saints. And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us [i]by the will of God. Insomuch that [j]we desired [k]Titus, that as he had [x]begun, so he would also finish in you the same [‖]grace also. Therefore, as [l]ye abound in every thing, in faith, and [m]utterance, and [m]knowledge, and in all [n]diligence, and in [o]your love to us, see [p]that ye abound in this grace also. [q]I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the [n]forwardness of others, and [qq]to prove the sincerity of [o]your love. For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, [r]though he was rich, yet [rs]for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty [t]might be rich. And herein [u]I give my advice: for [w]this is expedient for you, who have [x]begun before, not only to do, but also to be [t]forward [y]a year ago. Now therefore perform the doing of it; that as there was a [z]readiness to will, so there may be a performance also [c]out of [a]that which you have. For [b]if there be first [z]a willing mind, it is [c]accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not. For I mean not that other men be eased, and you burdened: but by an [d]equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply [e]for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want: that there may be [d]equality: as it is written, [f]He that had gathered much had nothing over; and he that had gathered little had no lack.

IX.

For as touching [a]the ministering to [b]the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you: for I know [c]the forward- 2 ness of your mind, [d]for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that [e]Achaia was ready [f]a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many. Yet have I 3 sent [g]the brethren, lest [h]our boasting of you should be in vain [i]in this behalf; that, [j]as I said, ye may be ready: lest 4 haply if [k]they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, you) should be ashamed in [l]this same [m]confident boasting. There- 5 fore I thought it necessary to exhort [g]the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your [†]bounty, [‖]whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, [n]as a matter of [†]bounty, and [o]not as of covetousness. But this I say, [p]He which 6 soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Every man 7 according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; [q]not [r]grudgingly, or of necessity: for [s]God loveth a cheerful giver. And [pt]God is able to make all 8 [u]grace abound towards you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every [x]good work: (as it 9 is written, [y]He hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever. Now he that [z]ministereth seed 10 to the sower both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase [a]the fruits of your [b]righteousness;) being enriched in every thing 11 to all [‖]bountifulness, which causeth [c]through us thanksgiving to God. For 12 [ad]the administration of this service not only supplieth [e]the want of the saints, but is abundant also [cf]by many thanksgivings unto God; whiles by the [g]expe- 13 riment of this [d]ministration they [h]glorify God for your professed [i]subjection unto the gospel of Christ, and for your [j]liberal [k]distribution unto them, and unto 14
all men; and by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding 15 [l]grace of God in you. Thanks be unto [l]God for his unspeakable gift.

Now I Paul myself [a]beseech you by the [aa]meekness and [b]gentleness of Christ, [c]who [‖][d]in presence am [dd]base among you, but being absent am bold toward 2 you: but I beseech you, [e]that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I [‖]think to be bold against [f]some, which [‖]think of us as if we walked [g]according to the 3 flesh. For though we walk in the flesh, 4 we do not war [g]after the flesh: (for [h]the [i]weapons of our [k]warfare are not carnal, but [l]mighty [‖]through God [m]to the [n]pull- 5 ing down of [o]strong holds;) [p]casting down [‖]imaginations, and [q]every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every [r]thought to [s]the obedience of Christ; and [e]having in a readi- 6 ness to revenge all disobedience, [t]when your obedience is fulfilled.

[u]Do ye look on things after the out- 7 ward appearance? [v]If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as [w]he is 8 Christ's, even so are [x]we Christ's. For though I should [y]boast somewhat more of [z]our authority, which the Lord hath given us for [zz]edification, and not for your [n]destruction, [a]I should not be 9 ashamed: that I may not seem as if I 10 would terrify you by letters. For his letters, [†]say they, are [b]weighty and powerful; but [c]his bodily presence is weak, and [d]his speech contemptible. 11
Let such a one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

For we dare not make ourselves of the 12 number, or [e]compare ourselves with some that [f]commend themselves: but [g]they measuring themselves by themselves, and [e]comparing themselves a- 13 mongst themselves, [‖]are not wise. But we will not [h]boast of things without our measure, but according to [i]the measure of the [‖]rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you. 14 For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you: for [k]we are [l]come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ: 15 not [h]boasting of things without our measure, that is, [m]of other men's labours; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be [l]enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly, 16 to preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast [m]in another man's [‖]line of things made ready to our hand. 17 But [n]he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. 18 For [g]not he that [f]commendeth himself is [o]approved, but [p]whom the Lord commendeth.

XI. 1 Would to God you could [a]bear with me a little in [b]my folly: and indeed [‖][a]bear with me. 2 For I am [c]jealous over you with godly jealousy: for [d]I have espoused you to one husband, [e][f]that I may present you [f]as a chaste virgin to Christ. 3 But I fear, lest by any means, as [g]the serpent [h]beguiled Eve through his [i]subtilty, so your [j]minds [k]should be corrupted from the [l]simplicity that is in Christ. 4 For if [m]he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or [n]another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well [a]bear [‖]with him. 5 For I [o]suppose I was [p]not a whit behind the very [q]chiefest apostles. 6 But [r]though I be [s]rude in speech, [t]yet not in knowledge; but [tt]we have been throughly made manifest among you in all things. 7 Have I committed [u]an offence in [v]abasing myself that you might be exalted, because [w]I have preached to you the gospel of God [x]freely? 8 I robbed other churches, taking [y]wages of them, to do you service. 9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, [zz]I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me [a]the brethren which came from [b]Macedonia supplied: and in all things [c]I have kept myself from being burdensome to you, and so will I keep myself. 10 [d]As the truth of Christ is in me, [†]no man shall stop me of this [f]boasting in the 11 [g]regions of [h]Achaia. Wherefore? [i]because I love you not? [k]God knoweth. 12 But what I do, that I will do, [l]that I may cut off [m]occasion from them which desire [m]occasion; that wherein they glory, [n]they may be found even as we. 13 For [o]such are [p]false apostles, [q]deceitful workers, [r]transforming themselves into 14 the apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for [s]Satan himself is [r]transformed into 15 [t]an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if [u]his ministers also be [r]transformed as [v]the ministers of righteousness; [w]whose end shall be according to their works.

16 I [x]say again, [y]Let no man think me a fool; if otherwise, yet as a fool [‖][z]receive me, that I may boast myself a 17 little. That which I speak, [a]I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were [n]foolishly, [b]in this confidence of boasting. 18 Seeing that many glory [c]after the 19 flesh, [d]I will glory also. For [e]ye suffer fools gladly, [f]seeing ye yourselves 20 are wise. For [e]ye suffer, if a man [g]bring you into bondage, [h]if a man devour you, if a man [i]take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man [k]smite you on the 21 face. I speak as concerning [l]reproach, [m]as though we had been weak. Howbeit [d]whereinsoever any is bold, (I speak 22 [n]foolishly,) I am bold also. Are they [o]Hebrews? so am I. Are they [p]Israelites? so am I. Are they [q]the seed of 23 Abraham? so am I. Are they [r]ministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool) I am more; [st]in labours more abundant, [tu]in stripes above measure, [tv]in prisons more frequent, 24 [w]in deaths oft. [x]Of the Jews five times 25 received I [y]forty stripes save one. Thrice was I [z]beaten with rods, [a]once was I stoned, thrice I [b]suffered shipwrack, a night and a day I have been in the deep; 26 in journeyings often, in [c]perils of waters, in perils of [d]robbers, in [c]perils [e]by my own countrymen, in perils [f]by the heathen, in perils [g]in the city, in perils in [gg]the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in 27 perils among [h]false brethren; [i]in [j]weariness and [j]painfulness, [i]in watchings often,

XII.

It is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. [t]I will come to [a]visions and [b]revelations of the Lord. I knew a man 2 [c]in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: [d]God knoweth;) [e]such a one [f]caught up to [g]the third heaven. *And I knew such 3 a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell: [d]God knoweth;) how that he was [f]caught up into [h]paradise, and heard unspeakable words, 4 which it is not [i]lawful for a man to utter. Of such a one will I glory: yet 5 [k]of myself I will not glory, [l]but in mine infirmities. For though I would desire 6 to glory, [m]I shall not be a fool; for I will say the truth: but now [n]I forbear, lest any man should [o]think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me. And lest I should be 7 exalted above measure through the abundance of the [b]revelations, [l]there was given to me [p]a thorn in the flesh, [q]the messenger of [r]Satan to [s]buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure. For 8 this thing I besought the Lord [t]thrice, that it might depart from me. And he 9 said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for [u]my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore [k]will I rather glory in my infirmities, that [v]the power of Christ may rest upon me. Therefore [l]I [w]take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in [xz]necessities, in 10 [y]persecutions, in [z]distresses for Christ's

now I write to them [d]which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, [e]I will not [f]spare: since ye seek [g]a proof of Christ [h]speaking in me, [i]which to you-ward is not weak, but [j]is mighty [k]in you. For [l]though he was crucified through weakness, yet [m]he liveth [j]by the power of God. For [n]we also are weak [l]in him, but we shall live with him [j]by the power of God toward you. Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; [o]prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that [p]Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be [q]reprobates? But I trust that ye shall know that we are not [q]reprobates. Now I pray to God that ye do no evil; not that [r]we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as [q]reprobates. For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. For we are glad, when [s]we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, even your [t]perfection. Therefore I write these things being absent, [u]lest being present I should use [w]sharpness, according to [x]the power which the Lord hath given me to [xy]edification, and not to [xz]destruction.

Finally, brethren, farewell. [a]Be perfect, [b]be of good comfort, [c]be of one mind, [d]live in peace; and the God [e]of love and [f]peace shall be with you. [g]Greet one another with a holy kiss. THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

GALATIANS.

Anno DOMINI 58.

I.

PAUL, an apostle, (a not of men, neither by man, but b by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, c who raised him from the dead;) and all d the brethren 2 which are with me, unto the churches of e Galatia: f grace be to you and peace 3 from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ, g who gave himself for our 4 sins, that he might deliver us from this h present i evil world, according to the will of j God and our Father: k to whom 5 be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

I marvel that you are l so soon m re- 6 moved from n him that called you into the grace of Christ unto o another gospel:
which is not another; but there be some 7 that p trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. But though we, or 8 q an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be r accursed. As we said before, so say I 9 now again, If any man preach s any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be r accursed. For 10 t do I now u persuade men, or God? or do I seek w to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

But xz I certify you, brethren, that 11
y the gospel which was preached of me is not after man. For z I neither re- 12 ceived it a of man, neither was I taught it, but by a the revelation of Jesus Christ.
For ye have heard of my b conversation 13
in time past in the c Jews' religion, how that d beyond measure I persecuted e the 14 church of God, and f wasted it: and g profited in the c Jews' religion above many my t equals in mine own nation, h being more exceedingly zealous of i the 15 traditions of my fathers. *But when j it pleased God, k who separated me from my mother's womb, and l called me by 16 his grace, a to reveal his Son in me, m that I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I n conferred not 17 with o flesh and blood: neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went into p Arabia, and returned again unto q Da-18 mascus. *Then after r three years rr I ll went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and 19 abode with him s fifteen days. But other of the apostles saw I none, save 20 t James u the Lord's brother. Now the things which I write unto you, behold, 21 w before God, I lie not. Afterwards I came into the x regions of y Syria and 22 z Cilicia; and was unknown by face unto a the churches of Judea b which 23 were in Christ: but they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past now preacheth the faith which 24 once he f destroyed. And c they glori-

should run, or had run, in vain. But neither [e]Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, [m]was compelled to be circumcised: and that [n]because of [o]false brethren unawares brought in, who [p]came in privily to spy out [q]our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, [r]that they might bring us into bondage: to whom we gave place by subjection, no, not [s]for an hour; that [t]the truth of the gospel might continue with you. But of these [k]who seemed [u]to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: [w]God accepteth no man's person:) for [x]they [k]who seemed to be somewhat [y]in conference added nothing to me: but contrariwise, when they saw that [z]the gospel of the uncircumcision [a]was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter; (for he that wrought effectually in Peter to the [b]apostleship of the circumcision, the same [c]was mighty in me towards the Gentiles:) and when [d]James, [e]Cephas, and [f]John, [g]who seemed to be [h]pillars, perceived [i]the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and [j]Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision. Only they would [k]that we should remember the poor; [l]the same which I also was forward to do.

But [m]when Peter was come to [n]Antioch, I withstood him [o]to the face, because he was to be blamed. For before that certain came from [d]James, [p]he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing [q]them which were of the circumcision. And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that [j]Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation. But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to [r]the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter [s]before them all, If thou, being a Jew, [p]livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why [ss]compellest thou the Gentiles to [t]live as do the Jews? [u]We who are Jews [v]by nature, and not [w]sinners of the Gentiles, knowing that [x]a man is not justified by the works of the law, but [yu]by the [z]faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified [u]by the [z]faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for [a]by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found [b]sinners, is therefore Christ [c]the minister of sin? [d]God forbid. For if I build again the things which I destroyed, I [e]make myself a transgressor. For I [f]through the law [g]am dead to the law, that [h]I might live unto God. I am [i]crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh [h]I live by the faith of the Son of God, [k]who loved me, and [l]gave himself for me. I do not [m]frustrate the grace of God: for [n]if righteousness come by the law, then [o]Christ is dead in vain.

Mark 7. 9 marg. [n] ch. 3. 21. So Heb. 7. 11.

O foolish [a]Galatians, who hath bewitched you, [b]that you should not obey [bc]the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ [d]hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you? This only would I learn of you, [e]Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or [f]by the hearing of [e]faith? Are ye so foolish? having [g]begun in the Spirit, are ye now [gh]made perfect by the flesh? [i]Have ye suffered [‖]so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain. He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and [k]worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith? Even as [l]Abraham believed God, and it was [‖]accounted to him for righteousness. Know ye therefore that [m]they which are of faith, [n]the same are the children of Abraham. And [o]the scripture, foreseeing that God [p]would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, [q]In thee shall all nations be blessed. So then [m]they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham. For as many as are of the works of the law [r]are under the curse: for it is written, [s]Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. But [t]that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, [u]The just shall live by faith. And the law is not of faith: 12 but, [w]The man that doeth them shall live in them. [x]Christ hath [y]redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, [z]Cursed is every one that [a]hangeth on a tree: that the blessing of Abraham 14 [b]might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might [c]receive [d]the promise of the Spirit through faith. Brethren, I speak [e]after the manner of men; Though it be but a man's [||f]covenant, yet if it be [g]confirmed, no man [h]disannulleth, or added thereto. Now 16 [hh]to Abraham and his seed were [i]the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but [j]as of one, [k]And to thy seed, which is Christ. And this 17 I say, that the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, [l]which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot [m]disannul, that it should [no]make the promise of none effect. For if [o]the inheritance be of the 18 law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

Wherefore then serveth the law? [p]It 19 was added because of transgressions, till [k]the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was [q]ordained by angels [r]in the hand of a mediator. Now a [s]mediator is not a mediator of 20 one, but [t]God is one. Is the law then 21 against the promises of God? [u]God forbid: [w]for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law. But [x]the scripture hath [y]concluded all under sin, [z]that the promise by 22 [a]faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe. But [b]before faith 23 came, we were [c]kept under the law, [y]shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed. Wherefore [d]the 24 law was our [e]schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, [f]that we might be justified by faith. But [b]after that faith is come, 25 we are no longer under a [e]schoolmaster. For [g]ye are all the children of God by 26 faith in Christ Jesus. For [h]as many of 27 you as have been baptized into Christ [i]have put on Christ. There is [k]neither 28 Jew nor Greek, there is [l]neither bond nor free, there is [m]neither male nor female: for [n]ye are all one in Christ Je- 29 sus. And if [o]ye be Christ's, [p]then are ye Abraham's seed, and [q]heirs according to the promise.

Now I say, That [a]the heir, as long as IV. 1 he is a child, differeth nothing from a 2 servant, though he be lord of all; but is under [b]tutors and [c]governors until the 3 time appointed of the father. Even so we, when we were children, [d]were in bondage under [e]the [||]elements of the 4 world: but [f]when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, [g]made [h]of a woman, [g]made [i]under the 5 law, [k]to redeem them that were under the law, that [l]we might receive the adop- 6 tion of sons. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth [m]the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, [n]Abba, 7 Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and [o]if a son, then 8 an heir of God through Christ. Howbeit then, [p]when ye knew not God, [q]ye did service unto them which [r]by nature 9 are no gods. But now, after that ye have known God, or rather [s]are known of God, [t]how turn ye [||]again to the [u]weak and beggarly [||]elements, where- 10 unto ye desire again [d]to be in bondage? Ye observe [w]days, and [xy]months, and 11 [y]times, and [z]years. I am afraid of you, [a]lest I have [b]bestowed upon you labour [c]in vain.

Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; 12 for I am as ye are: [d]ye have not injured me at all. Ye know how [e]through 13 infirmity of the flesh I preached the 14 gospel unto you [f]at the first. And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me [g]as an angel of God, even [h]as Christ 15 Jesus. [||]Where is then the [i]blessedness you spake of? for I bear you record, that [j]if it had been possible, ye would have [k]plucked out your own eyes, and have 16 given them to me. Am I therefore become your enemy, [l]because I tell you 17 the truth? They [m]zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would exclude ‖you, that you might [m]affect them. But 18 it is good [m]to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you. [n]My little 19 children, of whom I travail in birth again until [o]Christ be [p]formed [o]in you, [q]I desire to be present with you now, 20

and to change my voice; for ‖I [r]stand in doubt of you.

Tell me, ye that desire to be under 21
the law, do ye not hear the law? For 22 it is written, that Abraham had two sons, [s]the one by a bondmaid, [t]the other by a freewoman. But [u]he who 23 was of the bondwoman was born after the flesh; [tw]but he of the freewoman was by promise. Which things are an 24 allegory: for these are the two ‖covenants; [x]the one from the mount [t]Sinai, which gendereth [y]to bondage, which is Agar. For this Agar is mount Sinai in 25 [z]Arabia, and ‖answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and [y]is in bondage with her children. But [a]Jerusalem which is 26 above is free, which is the mother of us all. For it is written, [b]Rejoice, thou 27 barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many moe children than she which hath a husband. Now we, [c]brethren, as 28
Isaac was, are [c]the children of promise.
But as then [d]he that was born after the 29 flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, [e]even so it is now. Never- 30 theless what saith [f]the scripture? [g]Cast out the bondwoman and her son:
for the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman. So then, brethren, we are not 31 children of the bondwoman, [h]but of the free.

V. [a]Stand fast therefore in [b]the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with [c]the yoke [d]of bondage. Behold, I Paul say unto 2 you, that [e]if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing. For I testify 3 again to every man that is circumcised, [f]that he is a debtor to do the whole law.
[g]Christ is [h]become of no effect unto 4 you, [g]whosoever of you are justified by the law; [i]ye are fallen from grace. For 5 we through the Spirit [k]wait for the hope of righteousness by faith. ‖For in Jesus 6 Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but [m]faith 7 [n]which worketh by love. Ye [o]did run well; ‖who did [p]hinder you [q]that ye 8 should not obey the truth? This persuasion cometh not of [r]him that calleth 9 you. [s]A little leaven leaveneth the 10 whole lump. [t]I have confidence in you through the Lord, that [u]you will be none otherwise minded: but [w]he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, who-11 soever he be. And I, brethren, [x]if I yet preach circumcision, [y]why do I yet suffer persecution? then [z]is the offence of 12 the cross [h]ceased. [a]I would they were even [b]cut off which [c]trouble you.
13 For, brethren, ye have been called [d]unto liberty; only [e]use not liberty for an [f]occasion to the flesh, but [g]by love 14 serve one another. For [h]all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this;
[i]Thou shalt love thy neighbour
15 as thyself. But if ye [j]bite and devour one another, take heed ye be not 16 consumed one of another. This I say then, [k]Walk in the Spirit, [l]and ‖[m]ye shall not fulfil [n]the lust of the flesh.
17 For [o]the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other:
so that [p]ye cannot do the things that 18 ye would. But if ye be [q]led of the Spirit, [r]ye are not under the law.
19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, [stu]fornication, [stv]uncleanness, [tvw]lasciviousness, [x]idolatry, [y]witchcraft, hatred, [za]va-
21 riance, [za]emulations, [a]wrath, [ab]strife, [z]seditions, [c]heresies, [d]envyings, [d]murders, [e]drunkenness, [f]revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that [g]they which do such things [g]shall not 22 inherit the kingdom of God. But [h]the fruit of the Spirit is [i]love, joy, peace, [jk]longsuffering, [jk]gentleness, [l]goodness,
23 [m]faith, [k]meekness, [n]temperance: [o]a-24 gainst such there is no law. And they that are Christ's [p]have crucified the 25 flesh with the ‖affections and lusts. [q]If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit. [r] Let us not be desirous of 26

VI. Brethren, [a] [l] if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye [b] which are spiritual, restore such a one [c] in the spirit of meekness; [d] considering thyself, lest thou also [e] be tempted. [f] Bear ye one another's burdens, and [g] so fulfil [h] the law of Christ. 2
For [i] if a man think himself to be something, [k] when he is nothing, [l] he deceiveth himself. But let every man 3 4
[m] prove his own work, and then [n] shall he have [o] rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. For [p] every man shall 5
[q] bear his own burden. Let him that 6 is [r] taught in the word [s] communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. [t] Be not deceived; [u] God is not 7 [v] mocked: for [pw] whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For [x] he 8 that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap [y] corruption; but [x] he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. And [z] let us not 9 [a] be weary in well doing: for [b] in due season we shall reap, [c] if we faint not.

10 [d] As we have therefore opportunity, [e] let us do good unto all men, [ee] especially unto them who are of [f] the household of faith.

11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you [g] with mine own hand.

12 [h] As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, they [i] constrain you to be circumcised; only [k] lest they should suffer persecution for the cross
13 of Christ. For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that 14 they may glory in your flesh. But [l] God forbid [m] that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, [l] by whom [n] the world [o] is crucified unto 15 me, and I unto the world. [p] For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but 16 [q] a new creature. And [r] as many as [s] walk according to this rule, [tu] peace be on them, and [u] mercy, and upon 17 [v] the [t] Israel of God. From henceforth let no man trouble me: for [w] I bear in my body the marks of the Lord 18 Jesus. Brethren, [x] the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

EPHESIANS.

Anno DOMINI 64.

I.

[a] PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ [b] by the will of God, to the saints which are at [c] Ephesus, and to [d] the faithful in Christ Jesus: [e] grace be to 2 you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

[f] Blessed be [g] the God and Father 3 of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings [h] in heavenly ‖ places in Christ: accord- 4 ing as [i] he hath [j] chosen us in him [k] before the foundation of the world, that we should be [l] holy and without blame before him in love: [m] having predesti- 5 nated us unto [n] the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, [o] according to the good pleasure of his will, to the praise of the glory of his grace, 6 wherein he hath [p] made us accepted in [q] the beloved: [r] in whom we have [s] re- 7 demption [t] through his blood, [u] the forgiveness of sins, according to [v] the riches of his grace; wherein [w] he hath 8 abounded toward us in all [x] wisdom and prudence; [y] having made known 9 unto us the mystery of his will, [o] according to his good pleasure which [z] he had purposed in himself: that in the 10 dispensation of [a] the fulness of times [b] he might gather together in one [c] all things in Christ, [c] both which are in [†] heaven, and which are on earth; even in him: in whom also [d] we have ob- 11 tained an inheritance, being predestinated [e] according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after [f] the counsel of his own will: that we should 12 be [g] to the praise of his glory, who 13 [h] first ‖ [i] trusted in Christ: in whom ye also trusted, [i] after that ye heard [k] the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also [l] after that ye believed, ye were [m] sealed with that holy 14 Spirit of promise, which is [n] the earnest [d] of our inheritance, until the [o] redemption of [p] the purchased possession, [g] unto the praise of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also, [q] after I [r] heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and 16 love unto all the saints, [st] cease not [u] to give thanks [v] for you, making men- 17 tion of you in my prayers; that [w] the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, [t] may give unto you the spirit of [x] wisdom and [y] revelation 18 ‖ in the knowledge of him: [z] the eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is [a] the hope of his calling, and what [b] the riches of the glory of his [c] inheritance 19 in the saints, and what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, [d] according to the working [†] of 20 his mighty power, which he wrought in Christ, [e] when he raised him from the dead, and [f] set him at his own right 21 hand [g] in the heavenly places, [h] far above all [ik] principality, and [k] power, and might, and dominion, and [l] every name that is named, not only in this world, 22 but also in that which is to come: and [m] hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be [n] the head over all 23 things to the church, [o] which is his body, [p] the fulness of him that [q] filleth [r] all in all. [a]And you [b]hath he quickened, [b]who were dead in trespasses and sins; where- 2 in [c]in time past [cc]ye walked according to the [d]course of [e]this world, according to [f]the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in [g]the children of disobedience: among whom 3 also we all had our conversation [c]in times past in [h]the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling [†]the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and [i]were [j]by nature [jj]the children of wrath, even as others. But 4

God, who is [k]rich in mercy, for [l]his great love wherewith he loved us, even 5 [abm]when we were dead in sins, hath [n]quickened us together with Christ, ([l]by grace ye are saved;) and hath 6 raised us up together, and made us [o]sit together [p]in heavenly places in Christ Jesus: that in the ages to come he 7 might shew the exceeding [k]riches of his grace in [q]his kindness towards us through Christ Jesus. For [r]by grace 8 are ye saved [s]through faith; and that not of yourselves: [t]it is the gift of God:
[u]not of works, [w]lest any man should 9 boast. For we are [x]his workmanship, 10 [y]created in Christ Jesus unto [z]good works, [a]which God hath before [‖]ordained [aa]that we should walk in them.

Wherefore remember, [b]that ye being 11 in [c]time passed Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called [d]the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands; that at that time ye 12 were without Christ, [e]being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and [f]strangers from [g]the covenants of promise, [h]having no hope, and without God in the world: but now in Christ Jesus [i]ye 13 who [c]sometimes were [j]far off are made nigh [k]by the blood of Christ. For [l]he 14 is our peace, [m]who hath made both one, and hath [n]broken down the middle wall of partition between us; [o]having 15 abolished [p]in his flesh [pp]the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in [oq]ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one [r]new man, so [l]making peace; and that he might [s]re- 16 concile both unto God in [ss]one body by the cross, [ot]having slain [p]the en- 17 mity [‖u]thereby: and came and [w]preached peace to you which were [j]afar off, and to [x]them that were nigh; 18 for [y]through him we both [z]have access 19 [a]by one Spirit unto the Father. Now therefore ye are no more [bc]strangers and [cd]foreigners, but [e]fellowcitizens with the saints, and [f]of the household 20 of God; and are [g]built upon the foundation of the [hi]apostles and [i]prophets, [k]Jesus Christ himself being [l]the chief 21 corner stone; in whom all the building [m]fitly framed together groweth unto 22 [n]a holy temple in the Lord: in whom [o]you also are builded together [p]for a habitation of God through the Spirit.

[h]which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy [m]apostles 6 promise in Christ by the gospel: [q]whereof I was made [r]a minister, according to the gift of [e]the grace of God given unto me [s]by the effectual working of 8 his power. Unto me, [t]who am less than the least of all saints, [e]is this grace given, that I should preach [ca]among the Gentiles the [u]unsearchable 9

IV.

I therefore, [a] the prisoner ‖ of the Lord, [b] beseech you that ye [c] walk worthy of the [d] vocation wherewith ye are 1 called, [ef] with all lowliness and [f] meekness, [fg] with longsuffering, [h] forbearing 2 one another in love; endeavouring to 3 keep the unity of the Spirit in [i] the bond of peace. There is [k] one body, 4 and [l] one Spirit, even as [m] ye are called in one [n] hope of your calling; [o] one 5
Lord, [p] one faith, one baptism, [q] one 6
God and Father of all, who is [r] above all, and [s] through all, and in you all.
But [t] unto every one of us [u] is given 7 grace [w] according to the measure of the gift of Christ. Wherefore he saith, 8 [x] When he ascended up on high, [y] he led ‖ captivity captive, and [z] gave gifts unto men. ([a] Now that he as- 9 cended, what is it but that he also descended first into [b] the lower parts 10 of the earth? He that descended is the same also that [c] ascended up [d] far above all heavens, [e] that he might ‖ [f] fill 11 all things.) And he gave some, [g] apostles; and some, [gh] prophets; and some, [i] evangelists; and some, [k] pastors and 12 [l] teachers; for the [m] perfecting of the saints for the work of the ministry, for [n] the edifying of [o] the body of Christ:
13 till we all come ‖ in the unity of the faith, and of [p] the knowledge of the Son of God, unto [q] a perfect man, unto the measure of the ‖ stature of [r] the 14 fulness of Christ: that we henceforth be no more [s] children, [t] tossed to and fro, and [u] carried about [t] with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and [w] cunning craftiness, whereby they [x] lie
15 in wait to deceive; but ‖ speaking [y] the truth in love, may [z] grow up into him in all things, [a] which is [b] the head, even
16 Christ: [b] from whom the whole body [z] fitly joined together and [b] compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that [c] ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, [d] in the vanity
18 of their mind, [e] having the understanding darkened, [f] being alienated from the life of God through [g] the ignorance that is in them, because of the ‖ [d] blindness
19 of their heart: who [gg] being past feeling [h] have given themselves over unto [i] lasciviousness, to work all [i] uncleanness 20 with greediness. But ye have not so 21 learned Christ; if so be that [j] ye have heard him, and have been taught by 22 him, as the truth is in Jesus: that ye [k] put off [l] concerning the former [m] conversation [n] the old man, [o] which is corrupt according to [oo] the deceitful lusts;
23 and [p] be renewed in the spirit of your 24 mind; and that ye put on [q] the new man, which [r] after God [s] is created in [t] righteousness and ‖ true [t] holiness.

25 Wherefore [k] putting away lying, [u] speak every man truth with his neighbour: for

[a]Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children; and [b]walk in love, [c]as Christ also hath loved us, and [d]hath given himself for us [e]an offering and a sacrifice to God for [f]a sweetsmelling savour. But [gh]fornication, and all [g]uncleanness, or [g]covetousness, let it not be once [i]named amongst you, as becometh saints; neither [k]filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, [l]which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks. For this ye know, that [m]no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man [n]who is an idolater, [o]hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God. [p]Let no man deceive you with vain words: for [q]because of these things cometh [r]the wrath of God upon [s]the children of ‖disobedience. Be not ye therefore [t]partakers with them. For [u]ye were [s]sometimes darkness, but [w]now are ye light in the Lord: [x]walk as [y]children of light: (for [z]the fruit of the Spirit is in all [a]goodness and righteousness and truth;) [b]proving what is [c]acceptable unto the Lord. And [d]have no fellowship with the [e]unfruitful [f]works of darkness, but rather [g]reprove them. For [h]it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret. But all things that are ‖reproved are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever [i]doth make manifest is light. Wherefore ‖he saith, [kl]Awake thou that sleepest, and [m]arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. See then that [n]ye walk [o]circumspectly, not as fools, but [n]as wise, [p]redeeming [q]the time, [r]because the days are evil. Wherefore [n]be ye not unwise, but understanding what [s]the will of the Lord is. And [t]be not drunk with wine, wherein is [u]excess; but [v]be filled with the Spirit; speaking to yourselves [w]in [x]psalms and [y]hymns and spiritual [yy]songs, singing and [z]making melody in your heart to the Lord; [a]giving thanks always for all things unto [b]God and the Father [c]in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ; [d]submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.

VI.

[a]Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. [b]Honour thy 2 father and mother; (which is the first commandment with promise;) [b]that 3 it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth. And, [c]ye fathers, provoke not 4 your children to wrath: [d]but [e]bring them up in the nurture and [f]admonition of the Lord.

[g]Servants, be obedient to them that are 5 your masters [gg]according to the flesh, [h]with fear and trembling, [gi]in singleness of your heart, [ii]as unto Christ; [g]not with 6 eyeservice, as [j]menpleasers; but as [k]the servants of Christ, doing [l]the will of God from the heart; [m]with good will doing 7 service, as to the Lord, and not to men: knowing that whatsoever good thing any 8 man doeth, [n]the same shall he receive of the Lord, [o]whether he be bond or free. And, [p]ye masters, do the same things 9 unto them, [ll][q]forbearing threatening: knowing that [lkr]your Master also is in heaven; [s]neither is there respect of persons with him.

Finally, my brethren, [t]be strong in 10
the Lord, and [t]in the power of his might. [u]Put on [v]the whole armour of 11 God, that ye may be able to stand against [w]the wiles of the devil. For [x]we 12 wrestle not against [t]flesh and blood, but against [y]principalities, against [y]powers, against [z]the rulers of the darkness [a]of this world, against [ll]spiritual wickedness 13 in [ll]high places. [b]Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in [c]the evil day, and [ll]having done all, [d]to stand. 14 Stand therefore, [e]having your loins girt about with truth, and [f]having on the 15 breastplate of righteousness; and [g]your feet shod with the preparation of [h]the 16 gospel of peace; above all, taking [i]the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the [j]fiery darts of 17 [k]the wicked. And take [f]the helmet of salvation, and [l]the sword of the Spirit, 18 which is [m]the word of God: [n]praying always with all prayer and supplication [o]in the Spirit, and [p]watching thereunto with all [q]perseverance and [r]supplication 19 for all saints; and [s]for me, that utterance may be given unto me, [t]that I may open my mouth [u]boldly, to make known 20 [v]the mystery of the gospel, for which I [w]am an ambassador [lx]in bonds: that [ll]therein I [u]may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

But [y]that ye also may know my af- 21 fairs, and how I do, [z]Tychicus, a beloved brother and [a]faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all 22 things: whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that [aa]he might comfort your hearts. [b]Peace be to the brethren, 23 and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. [c]Grace 24 be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ [ll]in [d]sincerity. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

PHILIPPIANS.

Anno DOMINI 64.

I. PAUL and [a] Timotheus, [aa] the servants of Jesus Christ, to all [b] the saints in Christ Jesus which are at [c] Philippi, with the [d] bishops and [e] deacons: [f] grace be 2 unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [g] I thank my God upon every ‖ remembrance of you, always in every prayer of 4 mine [h] for you all making request with 5 joy, [i] for your fellowship in the gospel 6 [j] from the first day until now; being confident of this very thing, that he which hath [k] begun [l] a good work in you ‖ will [m] perform it [n] until the day of Jesus 7 Christ: even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because ‖ I have you [o] in my heart; inasmuch as both [p] in my [q] bonds, and in [r] the defence and [s] confirmation of the gospel, [t] ye all are 8 ‖ partakers of my grace. For [u] God is my record, how greatly [w] I long after you 9 all in [x] the bowels of Jesus Christ. And this I pray, that [y] your love may abound yet more and more in [z] knowledge and 10 in all ‖ judgment; [a] that ye may ‖ approve things that ‖ are excellent; that ye may be [b] sincere and [c] without offence [d] till 11 the day of Christ; being filled with [e] the fruits of righteousness, [f] which are by Jesus Christ [g] unto the glory and praise
of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the 13 [h] furtherance of the gospel; so that [i] my bonds ‖ in Christ [k] are manifest in all 14 ‖ the palace, and ‖ in all other places; and many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by [i] my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without 15 fear. Some indeed preach Christ [l] even of envy and strife; and some also of 16 good will: the one preach Christ [m] of contention, not sincerely, supposing to 17 add affliction to [i] my bonds: but the other of love, [n] knowing that [o] I am set 18 for [p] the defence of the gospel. What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, 19 and will rejoice. For I know that this shall turn to my salvation [q] through your prayer, and the supply of [r] the Spirit of 20 Jesus Christ, according to my [s] earnest expectation and my hope, that [t] in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that [u] with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, 21 whether it be by life, or by death. For to me [w] to live is Christ, and to die is 22 gain. But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall 23 choose I wot not. For [x] I am in a strait betwixt two, [y] having a desire [z] to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far bet-24 ter: nevertheless to abide in the flesh is 25 more needful for you. And [a] having this confidence, I know that I shall [b] abide and continue with you all for your [c] fur-26 therance and joy of faith; that [d] your rejoicing may be more abundant in Jesus Christ for me by my coming to you again.

27 Only [e] let your conversation be [f] as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye [g] stand fast in one spirit, with [h] one putation, and took upon him the form of [s]a servant, and [t]was made in the likeness of men: and being found in [lu]fashion as 8 a man, [r]he humbled himself, and [w]became obedient unto death, even [x]the death of the cross. [y]Wherefore [z]God also hath 9 [a]highly exalted him, and given him [b]a name which is above every name: that at 10

the name of Jesus [c]every knee should bow, of [de]things in heaven, and [de]things in earth, and [df]things under the earth; and 11 [ff]that every tongue should confess that Jesus [g]Christ is [h]Lord, to the glory of God the Father. Wherefore, my beloved, [i]as 12 ye have always [k]obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, [l]work out your own salvation with [m]fear and trembling. For [n]it 13 is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his [o]good pleasure. Do 14 all things without [p]murmurings and [q]disputings: that ye may be [r]blameless and 15
[lh]harmless, [s]the sons of God [t]without rebuke, [u]in the midst of a [v]crooked and [w]perverse nation, among whom [lf]ye shine 16
[x]as lights in the world; holding forth [y]the word of life; that [z]I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that [a]I have not run in vain, neither [aa]laboured in vain. 17
Yea, and if I be [lb]offered upon the sacrifice and [c]service of your faith, [d]I joy, 18 and rejoice with you all. For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.

19 [lf]But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send [e]Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know 20 your state. For I have no man [lf]likeminded, who will [g]naturally care for 21 your state. For [h]all [i]seek their own, not 22 the things which are Jesus Christ's. But ye know [k]the proof of him, that, [l]as a son with the father, he hath served with me 23 in the gospel. Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see 24 how it will go with me. But [m]I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come 25 shortly. Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you [n]Epaphroditus, my brother, and [op]companion in labour, and [q]fellow-soldier, but your [p]messenger, and [r]he 26 that ministered to my wants. For he [s]longed after you all, and was [t]full of heaviness, because that ye had heard 27 that he had been sick. For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sor- 28 row upon sorrow. I sent him therefore [u]the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I 29 may be the less sorrowful. [w]Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and [lx]hold such [y]in reputation: 30 because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, [z]to supply your lack of service toward me.

III.

[a]Finally, my brethren, [b]rejoice in the Lord. [bb]To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you 2 it is safe. Beware of [c]dogs, beware of [d]evil workers, beware of [e]the concision. 3 For [f]we are the circumcision, [g]which worship God [h]in the spirit, and [i]rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh. Though [k]I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more: [l]circumcised the eighth day, [m]of the stock of Israel, [n]of the tribe of Benjamin, [mn]a Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, [o]a Pharisee; [p]concerning zeal, [q]persecuting the church; touching [r]the righteousness which is in the law, [s]blameless. But [t]what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ. Yea [u]doubtless, and I count all things but loss for [w]the excellency of [x]the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have [y]suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but [z]dung, that I may win Christ, and be found in him, not having [a]mine own righteousness, [a]which is of the law, but [b]that which is through [bb]the faith of Christ, [a]the righteousness which is of God by faith: that I may know him, and [c]the power of his resurrection, and [d]the fellowship of his sufferings, [e]being made conformable unto his death; if by any means I might [f]attain unto the resurrection of the dead. Not as though I had already [g]attained, either were already [h]perfect: but [i]I follow after, if that I may [k]apprehend [l]that for which also I am [k]apprehended of Christ Jesus. Brethren, I count not myself to have [k]apprehended: but this one thing I do, [m]forgetting those things which are behind, and [n]reaching forth unto those things which are before, I [in]press [o]toward the mark for [p]the prize of [q]the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Let us therefore, as many as be [r]perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing [s]ye be otherwise minded, [t]God shall reveal even this unto you. Nevertheless, whereto we have already [u]attained, [x]let us walk by the same [x]rule, [y]let us mind the same thing.

Brethren, [z]be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have [a]us for an ensample. (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are [b]the enemies of the cross of Christ: [c]whose end is destruction, [d]whose God is their belly, and [e]whose glory is in their shame, who [g]mind earthly things.) For our [h]conversation [i]is in heaven; [k]from whence also [l]we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: who shall [m]change [n]our vile body, that it may be [o]fashioned like unto his glorious body, [p]according to the working whereby he is able even [q]to subdue all things unto himself.

IV. Therefore, my brethren dearly beloved and [a]longed for, [bc]my joy and [cd]crown, so [dd]stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved. I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that [e]they be of the same mind in the Lord. And I intreat thee also, [f]true yokefellow, help those women which [g]laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my [h]fellowlabourers, whose names are in [i]the book of life.

[k]Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice. Let your [l]moderation be known unto all men. [m]The Lord is at hand. [n]Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by [o]prayer and [o]supplication [o]with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And [p]the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and [q]minds [p]through Christ Jesus. [r]Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are [s]honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are [t]pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are [u]of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. [v]Those things, which ye have both learned, and [w]received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and [x]the God of peace shall be with you.

But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last [y]your care of me [ll]hath flourished again; [z]wherein ye were also careful, but [a]ye lacked opportunity. Not that I speak in respect of [b]want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be [c]content. I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where and in all things I am instructed [d]both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need. I can do all things [e]through 13 Christ [f]which strengtheneth me. Not- 14 withstanding ye have well done, that [g]ye did communicate with my affliction. Now ye Philippians know also, that [h]in 15 the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from [i]Macedonia, [k]no church communicated with me as concerning [l]giving and receiving, but ye only. THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

COLOSSIANS.

Anno DOMINI 64.

I. [a] PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timotheus [aa] our brother, to the saints and faithful brethren [b] in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

[c] We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints, for [d] the hope which is [e] laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in [f] the word of the truth of the gospel; which is come unto you, [g] as it is in all the world; and [h] bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew [i] the grace of God in truth: as ye also learned of [k] Epaphras our dear [l] fellowservant, who is for you [l] a [m] faithful minister of Christ; who also declared unto us your [n] love [o] in the Spirit.

For this cause we also, [c] since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire [p] that ye might be filled with [q] the knowledge of his will [r] in all wisdom and spiritual [s] understanding; [t] that ye might walk worthy of the Lord [u] unto all pleasing, [hv] being fruitful in [w] every good work, and [x] increasing in the knowledge of God; [y] strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and [z] longsuffering [a] with joyfulness; [b] giving thanks unto the Father, which hath [c] made us meet to be [d] partakers of [d] the inheritance of the saints in light: who hath [e] delivered us from [f] the power of [g] darkness, and hath translated us [h] into the kingdom of [i] his [i] dear Son: [j] in whom we have redemption [k] through his blood, even [l] the forgiveness of sins: who is [m] the image of [n] the invisible God, [o] the [p] firstborn of every creature: for [q] by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be [qq] thrones, or [r] dominions, or [st] principalities, or [rs] powers: [q] all things were created [uv] by him, and [u] for him: and [ow] he is before all things, and [q] by him [x] all things [xx] consist. And [y] he is the head of the body, the church: [o] who is [z] the beginning, [za] the firstborn from the dead; that [‖] in [b] all things he might have the preeminence. For [c] it pleased the Father that [d] in him should all [e] fulness dwell; and, [‖f] having made peace [g] through the blood of his cross, [h] by him to reconcile [b] all things unto himself; by him, I say, [i] whether they be things in earth, or [j] things in heaven.

And you, that were [k] sometimes [l] alienated and [m] enemies [‖] in your mind [n] by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled [o] in the body of his flesh through death, [p] to present you holy and unblameable and [q] unreproveable in his sight: [r] if ye continue in the faith [s] grounded and [t] settled, and be not moved away from [u] the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and [w] which was preached [x] to every creature which is under heaven; [y] whereof I Paul am made a minister; [z] who now rejoice in my sufferings [a] for you, and fill up [b] that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh [c] for [d] his body's sake, which is the church: 25 [y] whereof I am made a minister, according to [e] the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, [‖] to fulfil the word of God; 26 even [f] the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from [g] generations, [fh] but now is made manifest to his saints: 27 [i] to whom God would make known what is [k] the riches of the glory of this [f] mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ [‖] in you, [l] the hope of glory: 28 whom we preach, [m] warning every man, and [m] teaching every man [mm] in all wisdom; [n] that we may present every man [o] perfect in Christ Jesus: 29 whereunto [p] I also labour, [q] striving [r] according to his working, which [s] worketh in me mightily.

II. For [a] I would that ye knew what great [b] conflict I have for you, and for them at [c] Laodicea, and for [d] as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; 2 that [e] their hearts might be comforted, [f] being knit together in love, and unto [g] all riches of [h] the full assurance of understanding, to [i] the acknowledgement of [ii] the mystery of [j] God and of the Father, and of Christ; 3 [‖] in whom are hid all the treasures of [k] wisdom and [l] knowledge. 4 And this I say, [m] lest any man should [n] beguile you [o] with enticing words. 5 For [p] though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your [q] order, and the [r] stedfastness of your faith in Christ. 6 [s] As ye have therefore [st] received Christ Jesus the Lord, so [s] walk ye in him: 7 [u] rooted and [w] built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein [x] with thanksgiving.

8 [y] Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after [z] the tradition of men, after the [‖] rudiments of the world, and not after Christ. 9 For in him [a] dwelleth all the 10 [b] fulness of the Godhead [c] bodily. And [d] ye are complete in him, [e] which is the head of all [f] principality and [f] power: 11 in whom also ye are circumcised with [g] the circumcision made without hands, [h] in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, by the circumcision of 12 Christ: [i] buried with him in baptism, wherein also [j] you are risen with him through [k] the faith of [l] the operation of God, [m] who hath raised him from 13 the dead. [n] And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all tres- 14 passes; [op] blotting out the handwriting of [q] ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and [r] took it out of the way, nailing it to his 15 cross; and [s] having spoiled [f] principalities and [f] powers, [s] he made a shew of them openly, [t] triumphing over them [u] in it.

16 Let no man therefore [w] judge you [x] in meat, or in drink, or [‖] in respect of [y] a holyday, or of [z] the new moon, 17 or of [a] the sabbath days: which are [b] a shadow of things to come; but [c] the 18 body is of Christ. [d] Let no man [‖] beguile you of your reward [†] in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, [e] intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly [f] puft up by 19 his fleshly mind, and not [g] holding [h] the head, [h] from which all the body by joints and [i] bands [ii] having nourishment ministered, and [b] knit together, [j] increas- 20 eth with [jj] the increase of God. Wherefore [k] if ye be dead with Christ from the [‖] rudiments of the world, [l] why, as though living in the world, are ye 21 [m] subject to ordinances, (21 [n] touch not; 22 [o] taste not; handle not; [p] which all are [q] to perish with the using;) after [r] the commandments and [r] doctrines of men? 23 [s] which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in [t] will worship, and [t] humility, and [‖] neglecting of the body, not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

III.

[a] If ye then be risen with Christ, seek [b] those things which are above, [c] where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your [‖] affection on [b] things above, not on things on the earth. For [d] ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God. When Christ, who is [e] our life, [f] shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him [g] in glory.

[h] Mortify therefore [i] your members which are upon the earth; [k] fornication, [k] uncleanness, [lm] inordinate affection, evil [m] concupiscence, and [k] covetousness, [n] which is idolatry: [o] for which things' sake the wrath of God cometh on [p] the children of [n] disobedience: in the which [q] ye also walked [r] sometime, when ye lived in them. But now you also [s] put off all these; [t] anger, [t] wrath, [t] malice, [t] blasphemy, [u] filthy communication out of your mouth. [w] Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off [sx] the old man with his deeds; and [y] have put on [z] the new man, [a] which is renewed [b] in knowledge after [c] the image of him that [d] created him: where there is neither [ef] Greek nor Jew, [g] circumcision nor uncircumcision, [h] barbarian, [i] Scythian, [f] bond nor free: but Christ is [k] all, and in all. [y] Put on therefore, as [l] the elect of God, holy and [m] beloved, [no] bowels of mercies, [o] kindness, [p] humbleness of mind, [p] meekness, [p] longsuffering; [p] forbearing one another, and [o] forgiving one another, if any man have a [‖] quarrel against any: [o] even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye. [q] And above all these things [r] put on [s] charity, which is the [t] bond of [u] perfectness. And let [w] the peace of God rule in your hearts, [x] to the which also ye are called [y] in one body; [z] and be ye thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly [ab] in all wisdom; [b] teaching and [b] admonishing one another [c] in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing [d] with grace in your hearts to the Lord. And [e] whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, [f] giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

[g] Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, [h] as it is fit in the Lord. [i] Husbands, love your wives, and [k] be not bitter against them. [l] Children, obey your parents [m] in all things: for this is [n] well pleasing unto the Lord. [o] Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be [p] discouraged. [q] Servants, obey [m] in all things your masters according to the flesh; [q] not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but [q] in singleness of heart, fearing God: and [e] whatsoever ye do, do it [r] heartily, as [s] to the Lord, and not unto men; [t] knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of [u] the inheritance: for [qs] ye serve the Lord Christ. But he that doeth wrong [w] shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and [x] there is no respect of persons. [a] Masters, give unto your servants that which is just and [b] equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

IV.

[cd] Continue [e] in prayer, and [f] watch in the same [g] with thanksgiving; with al [h] praying also for us, that God would [i] open unto us a door of utterance, to speak [k] the mystery of Christ, [l] for which I am also in bonds: that [m] I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak. [n] Walk [o] in wisdom toward [p] them that are without, [q] redeeming the time. Let your speech be alway [r] with grace, [s] seasoned with salt, that you may know [t] how ye ought to answer every man.

[u] All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and [w] a faithful minister and [w] fellowservant in the Lord: whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and [x] comfort your hearts; with [xx] Onesimus, a [y] faithful and beloved brother, [j] who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here. [z] Aristarchus [a] my fellowprisoner saluteth you, and [b] Marcus, [c] sister's son to [d] Barnabas, (touching whom ye received commandments: [e] if he come unto you, receive him;) and Jesus, which is called [f] Justus, [g] who are of the circumcision. These only are my [h] fellowworkers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me. [i] Epaphras, [j] who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always [ik] labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand [l] perfect

TO THE

THESSALONIANS.

Anno DOMINI 54.

I.

[a] PAUL, and [aa]Silvanus, and [b]Timotheus, unto the church of the [c]Thessalonians which is in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ: [d]Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 [e]We give thanks to God always for you all, making [f]mention of you in our prayers; 3 remembering [g]without ceasing [h]your work of [i]faith, and [k]labour of [i]love, and [l]patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of [m]God and our Father; 4 knowing, brethren [ln]beloved, [n]your election of God. 5 For our gospel came [o]not unto you in word only, but also [o]in power, and [o][p]in the Holy Ghost, and in [q]much assurance; as [r]ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake. 6 And [s]ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, [t]having received the word in much affliction, [uw]with joy of [w]the Holy Ghost: 7 so that ye were [x]ensamples to all that believe in [y]Macedonia and [y]Achaia. 8 For from you [z]sounded out the word of the Lord not only in [y]Macedonia and [y]Achaia, but also [a]in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing. 9 For they themselves shew of us what manner of [b]entering in we had unto you, and how [c]ye turned to God [d]from idols to serve [e]the living and [f]true God, 10 and [g]to wait for [h]his Son [i]from heaven, [k]whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, [l]which delivered us from [m]the wrath to come.

For yourselves, brethren, know our [a]entrance in unto you, that it was not 2 [a]in vain: but even after that we had suffered before, and were [b]shamefully entreated, as ye know, [c]at Philippi, [d]we were bold in our God [e]to speak unto you the gospel of God with much [f]contention. 3 For our [g]exhortation was not of [h]deceit, nor of [i]uncleanness, nor in 4 [k]guile: but as [l]we were allowed of God [m]to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as [n]pleasing men, but God, [o]which trieth our hearts. 5 For neither at any time [kn]used we flattering words, as ye know, nor [p]a cloke of [q]co- 6 vetousness; [r]God is witness: nor [s]of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when [t]we might have [ll]been [u]burdensome, as [w]the apostles of 7 Christ. But we were [x]gentle among you, even [y]as a nurse cherisheth her chil- 8 dren: so being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, [z]but also our own souls, because ye 9 were dear unto us. For ye remember, brethren, [zz]our labour and travail: for [a]labouring [aa]night and day, because we would not [b]be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel 10 of God. [c]Ye are witnesses, and [d]God also, [c]how [e]holily and [e]justly and [f]unblameably we behaved ourselves among 11 you that believe: as you know how we exhorted and [g]comforted and charged every one of you, [h]as a father doth his 12 children, [i]that ye would walk worthy of God, [j]who hath called you unto [k]his kingdom and glory. For this cause also 13 thank we God [l]without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God [m]which ye heard of us, ye received it [n]not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

For ye, brethren, [o]became followers of 14
[p]the churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for [q]ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, [r]even as they have of the Jews:
[s]who both killed the Lord Jesus, and 15 [t]their own prophets, and have [l]persecuted us; and [u]they please not God, and [w]are contrary to all men: [x]forbid- 16 ding us to speak to the Gentiles that they might be saved, [y]to fill up their sins alway: for [z]the wrath [a]is come upon them [b]to the uttermost.

But we, brethren, [c]being taken from 17 you [d]for a short time [e]in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly [f]to see your face with great desire. Wherefore we would have come 18 unto you, even I Paul, once and again;
but [g]Satan [h]hindered us. For what is 19 our hope, or [i]joy, or [i]crown of [lk]rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ [l]at his coming? For ye are our glory and joy. 20

Wherefore [a]when we could no longer [b]forbear, [c]we thought it good to be left at Athens alone; and sent [cd]Timotheus, 2 [cc]our brother, and minister of God, and our [de]fellowlabourer in the gospel of Christ, [f]to establish you, and to [g]comfort you concerning your faith: that no 3 man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that [h]we are appointed thereunto. For verily, when 4 we were with you, we told you before [h]that we should suffer tribulation; even as [i]it came to pass, and ye know. For 5 this cause, [a]when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means [k]the tempter [l]have tempted you, and [m]our labour be in vain.
But now [n]when Timotheus came from 6
you unto us, and brought us good tid-

3 For this is [h]the will of God, even your
[i]sanctification, [k]that ye should abstain 4 from fornication: that every one of you should know how [l]to possess [m]his ves-

6 that no man go beyond and [r]defraud that the Lord [s]is the avenger of all • such, as we also have forewarned you

7 and [t]testified. For God [u]hath not call-

But as touching [a]brotherly love [b]ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves [bb]are taught of God [c]to love one another. And indeed [d]ye do it towards all the brethren which are in all [e]Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye [f]increase more and more; and that ye [g]study [h]to be quiet, and [i]to do [k]your own business, and [l]to work with your own hands, as we commanded you; [m]that ye may walk [mn]honestly toward [o]them that are without, and that ye may have lack [‖]of no*thing*.

But [p]I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning [q]them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, [r]even as others [s]which have no hope. For [t]if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so [qu]them also which sleep in Jesus [w]will God bring with him. For this we say unto you [x]by the word of the Lord, that [y]we which are alive and remain unto [z]the coming of the Lord shall not [a]prevent [q]them which are asleep. For [b]the Lord himself shall descend [c]from heaven with a shout, with the voice of [d]the archangel, and with [e]the trump of God: and [f]the dead in Christ shall rise first: then [g]we which are alive and remain shall be [h]caught up together with them [i]in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so [k]shall we ever be with the Lord. V.

But of [a]the times and the seasons, brethren, [b]ye have no need that I write unto you. For yourselves know perfectly that [c]the day of the Lord so cometh [d]as a thief in the night. For when [e]they shall say, Peace and safety; then [f]sudden [g]destruction cometh upon them, as [h]travail upon a woman with child; and [i]they shall not escape. But ye, brethren, [j]are not in darkness, that [c]that day should overtake you [d]as a thief. Ye are all [k]the children of light, and the children of the day: [l]we are not of the night, nor of darkness. Therefore let us not [m]sleep, as do others; but let us [n]watch and [o]be sober. For they that [m]sleep sleep in the night; and [p]they that be drunken [q]are drunken [r]in the night. But let us, [k]who are of the day, [o]be sober, [s]putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation. For God hath not [t]appointed us [u]to wrath, but [w]to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, [x]who died for us, that, whether we [n]wake or [m]sleep, we should live together with him. Wherefore [‖]comfort yourselves together, and [z]edify one another, even as also ye do.

And we beseech you, brethren, [a]to know them which labour among you, and [b]are over you in the Lord, and [c]admonish you; and to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And [d]be at peace among yourselves. Now we [‖]exhort you, brethren, [c]warn them that are [‖]unruly, [e]comfort the feebleminded, [f]support the weak, [g]be patient toward all men. [h]See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever [i]follow that which is good, both [j]among yourselves, and to all men. [16 17 kl] Rejoice evermore. [km] Pray [n]without ceasing. [o]In every thing give thanks: for this is [p]the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. [q]Quench not the Spirit. Despise not [r]prophesyings. [s]Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. [t]Abstain from all appearance of evil. And [u]the very God of peace [w]sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole [x]spirit and [x]soul and body [y]be preserved [z]blameless [a]unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. [b]Faithful is [c]he that calleth you, who also will do it. [25 26] [d]Brethren, pray for us. [e]Greet all the brethren with a holy kiss. I [‖]charge you by the Lord that [f]this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren. [g]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

THESSALONIANS.

Anno DOMINI 54

I.

[a] PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: grace unto you, and 1 2 peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

[b] We are bound to [c] thank God always 3 for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your [c] faith groweth exceedingly, and the [c] charity of every one of you all towards each other aboundeth; [d] so that 4 we ourselves glory in you in [e] the churches of God for your [c] patience and [c] faith [f] in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure: which is [g] a manifest 5 token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be [h] counted worthy of the kingdom of God, [f] for which ye also suffer: [i] seeing it is a righteous thing with 6
God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you; and [j] to you who are 7 troubled [k] rest with us, when [l] the Lord Jesus [m] shall be revealed from heaven [n] with [t] his mighty angels, [o] in flaming 8 fire, [p] taking vengeance on them [q] that know not God, and [r] that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: [s] who 9 shall be punished with everlasting [t] destruction [u] from the presence of the Lord, and [w] from the glory of his power; [w] when he shall come [x] to be 10 glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our [xx] testimony among you [y] was believed) [z] in that day. Wherefore also we pray 11 always for you, that our God would [h] count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the [a] good pleasure of his [b] goodness, and [c] the work of faith with power: that the name of our Lord Jesus 12
Christ [d] may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Now we beseech you, brethren, [a] by 1 the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by [b] our gathering together unto 2 him, that ye be not soon shaken in mind, or [c] be troubled, neither [d] by spirit, nor [e] by word, nor [e] by letter as from us, as that [f] the day of Christ is at hand. 3 [g] Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, [h] except there come [i] a falling away first, and [j] that man of sin be revealed, [k] the son of perdition; 4 who opposeth and [j] exalteth himself above all [l] that is called God, or [m] that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself 5 that he is God. [n] Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told 6 you these things? And now ye know what [lo] withholdeth that he might be re- 7 vealed in his time. For [p] the mystery of [q] iniquity doth already work: only he who now [o] letteth will let, until he be 8 taken out of the way. And then shall that [jq] Wicked be revealed, [r] whom the Lord shall consume [s] with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with [t] the 9 brightness of [a] his coming: even him, whose coming is [u] after the working of [w] Satan [x] with all power and [y] signs and 10 lying [y] wonders, and with all deceivableness of [z] unrighteousness in [a] them that perish; because they received not [b] the love of [z] the truth, that they might be 11 saved. And for this cause [c] God shall send them strong delusion, that they 12 should believe [d] a lie: that they all might be damned who [e] believed not [z] the truth, but [f] had pleasure in [z] unrighteousness.

But [g]we are bound to give thanks al- 13 of the Lord, because God hath [i]from the beginning chosen you to salvation [k]through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth: whereunto [l]he called 14 you by our gospel, [m]to the obtaining of the [l]glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Therefore, brethren, [n]stand fast, and 15 hold [o]the traditions which ye have been taught, whether [p]by word, or by [p]our epistle. Now [q]our Lord Jesus Christ 16 himself, and [r]God, even our Father, [s]which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting [t]consolation and [u]good hope through grace, [v]comfort your hearts, 17 and [w]stablish you in every [x]good word and work.

[w] So 1 Thess. 3. 13. ch. 3. 3. See Rom. 16. 25. [x] See Acts 9. 36.

III.

[a]Finally, brethren, [b]pray for us, that the word of the Lord [c]may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you: and that [d]we may be deliver- 2
ed from [t]unreasonable and wicked men:
[e]for all men have not faith. But [f]the 3
Lord is faithful, who shall [g]stablish you, and [h]keep you from [i]evil. And [k]we 4 have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you. And 5 the Lord [l]direct your hearts into the love of God, and into [‖]the patient waiting for Christ.

Now we command you, brethren, [m]in 6
the name of our Lord Jesus Christ,

[k] See 2 Cor. 2. 3. [l] 1 Chr. 29. 18 (Gk.). So 1 Thess. 3. 11. [‖] Or, the patience of Christ. So 1 Thess. 1. 3. [m] 1 Cor. 5. 4.

[n]that ye [o]withdraw yourselves from every [p]brother that [q]walketh disorderly, and not after [r]the tradition which he receiv- 7 ed of us. For yourselves know how ye ought [s]to follow us: for [t]we behaved not 8 ourselves [q]disorderly among you; neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but [u]wrought with [uu]labour and travail [u]night and day, that we might 9 not be [u]chargeable to any of you: [v]not because we have not power, but to make ourselves [w]an ensample unto you [s]to fol- 10 low us. For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that [x]if any would not work, neither should he 11 eat. For we hear that there are some which [q]walk among you disorderly, [x]working not at all, but are [y]busy- 12 bodies. Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, [x]that with [z]quietness they work, 13 and eat their own bread. But ye, bre- 14 thren, [‖a]be not weary in well doing. And if any man obey not our word [‖]by [b]this epistle, note that man, and [c]have no company with him, that [d]he may be 15 ashamed. [e]Yet count him not as an enemy, but [f]admonish him as a brother.
16 Now [g]the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.

17 [h]The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every 18 epistle: so I write. [i]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.
Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO

TIMOTHY.

Anno DOMINI 65.

I.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ [a] by the commandment of [b] God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, [c] which is our hope; unto [d] Timothy, [e] my [f] own son in the faith: [g] Grace, [h] mercy, and [h] peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

3 [i] As I besought thee to abide still at [j] Ephesus, [k] when I went into [l] Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some that they [m] teach no other doctrine, neither 4 give heed to [n] fables and endless [o] genealogies, which minister [op] questions, rather than godly [q] edifying which is in faith: so do. Now [r] the end of the commandment is charity [s] out of a pure heart, and of [t] a good conscience, and of [u] faith [v] unfeigned: from which some 6 [i] having swerved [w] have turned aside unto [x] vain jangling; [xx] desiring to be [y] teachers 7 of the law; [z] understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they [a] affirm. But 8 we know that [b] the law is good, if a man use it lawfully; knowing this, that 9 [c] the law is not made for a righteous man, [d] but for the lawless and [d] disobedient, for [e] the ungodly and for [e] sinners, for [f] unholy and [g] profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers, for [h] whoremongers, for 10 [hi] them that defile themselves with mankind, for [k] menstealers, for [l] liars, for [m] perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to [n] sound doctrine; according to [o] the glorious 11 gospel of [p] the blessed God, [q] which was 12 committed to my trust. And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, [r] who hath enabled me, for that he counted me [s] faith- 13 ful, [t] putting me into the ministry; who was before [u] a blasphemer, and [w] a persecutor, and [x] injurious: but [y] I obtained mercy, because [z] I did it ignorantly in 14 unbelief. [a] And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant [b] with faith and 15 [b] love which is in Christ Jesus. [c] This is a faithful saying, and [d] worthy of all acceptation, that [e] Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; [f] of whom 16 I am chief. Howbeit for this cause [g] I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all longsuffering, for [h] a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life ever- 17 lasting. Now unto [i] the King eternal, [kl] immortal, [km] invisible, [n] the only wise God, be [ko] honour and [p] glory for ever 18 and ever. Amen. This charge [q] I commit unto thee, [r] son Timothy, according to the [s] prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest 19 [t] war a good warfare; [u] holding faith, and [v] a good conscience; which some having put away, concerning faith [w] have 20 made shipwrack: of whom is [x] Hymeneus and [y] Alexander; whom I have [z] delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to [a] blaspheme.

and [d]giving of thanks, be made for all men; [e]for kings, and for [f]all that are in [2] [‖]authority; that we may lead a [g]quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and [h]honesty. [3] [i]For this is good and acceptable in the sight of [k]God our Saviour; [4] [l]who will have all men to be saved, and [m]to come unto the knowledge of the truth. [5] For [n]there is one God, and one [o]mediator between God and men, [p]the man Christ Jesus; [6] [q]who gave himself a ransom for all, [‖]to be testified [r]in due time. [7] [s]Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and [t]an apostle, (I [u]speak the truth in Christ, and lie not;) a [v]teacher of the Gentiles in faith and [vv]verity. [8] I will therefore that men pray [w]every where, [x]lifting up [y]holy hands, without wrath and [z]doubting. [9] In like manner also, that [a]women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with [aa]shamefastness and [b]sobriety; not with [‖]broided hair, or gold, or [bb]pearls, or costly [c]array; [10] [d]but (which becometh women professing [e]godliness) with [f]good works. [11] Let the woman learn in [g]silence [h]with all subjection. [12] But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in [g]silence. [13] For [i]Adam was first formed, [k]then Eve. [14] And Adam was not deceived, but [l]the woman being deceived was in the transgression. [15] Notwithstanding she shall be saved [m]in childbearing, if they continue in faith and charity and holiness [b]with sobriety.

[5] in subjection with all [r]gravity; (for if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of [s]the [6] church of God?) Not [‖]a novice, lest being [t]lifted up with pride he fall into [7] [u]the condemnation of the devil. Moreover he must [v]have a good report of [w]them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and [x]the snare of the [8] devil. Likewise must [y]the deacons be [z]grave, not doubletongued, [a]not given to much wine, [a]not greedy of filthy lu- [9] cre; [b]holding the mystery of the faith [10] in [c]a pure conscience. And [cc]let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found [11] [d]blameless. Even so must their wives be [e]grave, not [f]slanderers, [g]sober, faithful [12] in all things. Let the deacons be [g]the husbands of one wife, [h]ruling their children and their own houses well. [13] For [i]they that have [‖]used the office of a deacon well [k]purchase to themselves a good degree, and great [l]boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

[14] These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly: [15] but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in [m]the house of God, which is [n]the church of [o]the living God, the [p]pillar and [‖]ground [16] of [pp]the truth. And without controversy great is [b]the mystery of [q]godliness: God was [t]manifest [r]in the flesh, [s]justified in the Spirit, [t]seen of angels, [u]preached [w]unto the Gentiles, [x]believed on in the world, [y]received up [z]into glory.

III.

[a] This is a true saying, If a man desire [b]the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work. [2] [c]A [d]bishop then must be [e]blameless, [f]the husband of one wife, [g]vigilant, [h]sober, [‖]of good behaviour, [i]given to hospitality, [k]apt to teach; [3] [‖]not given to wine, no striker, [m]not greedy of filthy lucre; but [n]patient, [o]not a brawler, [p]not covetous; [4] [q]one that ruleth well his own house, [q]having his children

Now [a]the Spirit [b]speaketh expressly, that [c]in the latter times some shall [d]depart from the faith, giving heed to [e]seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; [2] [f]speaking lies [g]in hypocrisy, [h]having their conscience seared with a hot iron; [3] [i]forbidding to marry, [j]and commanding [k]to abstain from meats, [l]which God hath created to be received [m]with thanksgiving of them which believe and [n] know the truth. For [o] every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received [m] with thanksgiving: for it is sanctified [o] by the word of God and [p] prayer. If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, [q] nourished up in the words of faith and of [qq] good doctrine, whereunto thou hast [r] attained. But [s] refuse profane and old wives' [t] fables, and [u] exercise thyself rather unto [v] godliness. For [w] bodily exercise profiteth [‖] little: [x] but [v] godliness is profitable unto all things, [y] having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. [z] This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation. For therefore [a] we both labour and suffer reproach, because we [b] trust in [c] the living God, who is [d] the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe. [e] These things command and teach.

[f] Let no man despise [g] thy youth; but [h] be thou [i] an example of the believers, in word, in [j] conversation, in [k] charity, in spirit, in [k] faith, in [l] purity. Till I come, give attendance to reading, to [m] exhortation, to [n] doctrine. [o] Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee [p] by prophecy, [q] with the laying on of the hands of [r] the presbytery. Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy [s] profiting may appear [‖] to all. [t] Take heed unto thyself, and unto the [n] doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this [u] thou shalt both save thyself, and [x] them that hear thee.

5 and acceptable before God. Now [d] she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, [h] trusteth in God, and [i] continueth in supplications and prayers [j] night and 6 day. But she that liveth [‖] in pleasure 7 [k] is dead while she liveth. And [l] these things give in charge, that they may 8 be [m] blameless. But if any provide not for [n] his own, and specially for [o] those of his own [‖] house, he hath [p] denied the faith, and is worse than [q] an infidel. 9 Let not a widow be [‖] taken into the number under threescore years old, [r] having been the wife of one man, 10 [s] well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have [t] lodged strangers, if she have [u] washed the saints' feet, if she have [v] relieved the afflicted, if she have [w] diligently followed every [x] good work. 11 But the younger widows [y] refuse: for when they have begun to [z] wax wanton 12 against Christ, [a] they will marry; having damnation, because they have [b] cast off 13 their first faith. And withal they learn to be idle, [c] wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but [d] tattlers also and [e] busybodies, speaking 14 things which they ought not. I will therefore [f] that the younger women marry, bear children, [g] guide the house, [h] give none [i] occasion to the adversary 15 [j] to speak reproachfully. For some are 16 already [j] turned aside after [k] Satan. If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them [l] relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may [l] relieve [m] them that are widows indeed.

17 Let [n] the elders [o] that rule well [p] be counted worthy of [q] double [r] honour, especially they who labour in the word 18 and [s] doctrine. For [t] the scripture saith, [u] Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, [w] The labourer is worthy of his reward. 19 Against [n] an elder receive not an accusation, but [‖x] before two or three wit- 20 nesses. Them that sin [y] rebuke [z] before all, [a] that others also may fear. 21 [bc] I charge thee [c] before God, and the

[a] Rebuke not [b] an elder, but intreat him as a father; and [bb] the younger men as brethren; the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all 2 [c] purity. Honour widows [d] that are wi- 3 dows indeed. But if any widow have 4 children or [e] nephews, let them learn first [f] to shew [‖] piety at home, and to requite their parents: [g] for that is good

Let as many [a] servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that [b] the name of God and [c] his [d] doctrine be not [e] blasphemed. And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are [f] brethren; but rather do them service, because they are ‖ faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. If any man [h] teach otherwise, and consent not to [i] wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine [k] which is according to godliness; he [l] is [l] proud, [m] knowing nothing, but ‖ doting about [n] questions and [nn] strifes of words, whereof cometh [o] envy, [o] strife, [p] railings, evil surmisings, ‖ [q] perverse disputings of [r] men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, [s] supposing that gain is godliness: [t] from such withdraw thyself. THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TIMOTHY.

Anno DOMINI 66.

I.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ [a] by the will of God, according to [b] the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus, [c] to Timothy, [d] my dearly beloved son: [c] Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

[c] I thank God, [f] whom I serve [g] from my forefathers with [h] pure conscience, that [i] without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers [k] night and day; [l] greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of [m] thy tears, that I may be filled with joy; when I call to [n] remembrance [o] the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and [p] thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also. Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou [q] stir up [r] the gift of God, [s] which is in thee [t] by the putting on of my hands. For God hath not given us [u] the spirit of fear; but [v] of power, and of love, and [w] of a sound mind. [x] Be not thou therefore ashamed of [y] the testimony of our Lord, nor of me [z] his prisoner: but [a] be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God; [b] who hath saved us, and [c] called us with [d] a holy calling, [e] not according to our works, but [f] according to his own purpose and [g] grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus [h] before the world began, but [i] is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, [k] who hath [l] abolished death, and hath brought life and [m] immortality to light through the gospel: whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles. [o] For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless [p] I am not ashamed: [q] for I know whom I have [‖] believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to keep [r] that which I have committed unto him against [s] that day. [t] Hold fast [u] the form of [v] sound words, [w] which thou hast heard of me, in [x] faith and [x] love which is in Christ Jesus. That good [r] thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost [y] which dwelleth in us. This thou knowest, that [z] all they which are in Asia [a] be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes. [b] The Lord give mercy unto [c] the house of Onesiphorus; for he oft [d] refreshed me, and [e] was not ashamed of [f] my chain: but, when he was in Rome, [g] he sought me out [h] very diligently, and found me. [b] The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in [i] that day: and in how many things he [k] ministered unto me at [l] Ephesus, thou knowest [m] very well.

self with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier. And [l] if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not [ll] crowned, except he strive lawfully. [m] The husbandman that laboureth must be first partaker of the fruits. Consider what I say; and [mm] the Lord give thee understanding in all things. Remember that Jesus Christ [n] of the seed of David [nn] was raised from the dead [o] according to my gospel: [p] wherein [h] I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, [q] even unto bonds; but [r] the word of God is not bound. Therefore I endure all things [s] for [t] the elects' sakes, that they may also obtain [u] the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with [v] eternal glory. [w] It is a faithful saying: For if [x] we be dead with him, we shall also live with him: [y] if we suffer, we shall also [z] reign with him: [a] if we deny him, he also will deny us: [b] if we believe not, yet [c] he abideth faithful: [d] he cannot deny himself.

Of these things [e] put them in remembrance, [f] charging them before the Lord that they [g] strive not about words [h] to no profit, but to the [i] subverting of the hearers. Study to shew thyself [j] approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. But [k] shun [l] profane and vain babblings: for they will [m] increase unto more ungodliness. And their word will eat as doth a [l] canker: of whom is [n] Hymeneus and Philetus; who concerning the truth [o] have erred, [p] saying that the resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some. Nevertheless [q] the foundation of God standeth [l] sure, [qq] having this seal, [r] The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ [s] depart from iniquity. But [t] in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and [u] of earth; and [v] some to honour, and some to dishonour. If [w] a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a [x] vessel unto honour, sanctified, and [x] meet for the master's use, and [y] prepared unto every [z] good work. [a] Flee also [b] youthful lusts: but [a] follow righteousness, [a] faith, [a] charity, [c] peace, with [d] them that call on the Lord [e] out of a pure heart. But foolish and unlearned [f] questions [g] avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes. And [h] the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be [i] gentle unto all men, [k] apt to teach, [ll] patient, [m] in meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; [n] if God peradventure will give them repentance [o] to the acknowledging of the truth; and that they may [l] recover themselves out [p] of the snare of the devil, who are [t] taken captive by him at his will.

tions I endured: but [n] out of them all the Lord [o] delivered me. Yea, and [p] all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. But evil men and seducers shall [q] wax worse and worse, deceiving, and [qq] being deceived. But [r] continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them; and that [s] from a child [t] thou hast known [u] the holy [v] scriptures, [w] which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. [x] All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and [y] is profitable for [y] doctrine, for [z] reproof, for [a] correction, for instruction in righteousness: that [b] the man of God may be perfect, [‖] throughly furnished [c] unto all [d] good works.

IV. [a] I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, [b] who shall judge the quick and the dead at [c] his appearing and his kingdom; preach the word; be instant [d] in season, [e] out of season; [f] reprove, [g] rebuke, [h] exhort with all [i] longsuffering and doctrine. For [j] the time will come when they will not [k] endure [l] sound doctrine; but [m] after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and [n] shall be turned unto [o] fables. But [p] watch thou in all things, [q] endure afflictions, do the work of [r] an evangelist, [‖] [s] make full proof of thy ministry. For I am now [t] ready to be offered, and the time of my [u] departure is at hand. [v] I have fought a good fight, I have [w] finished my course, I have kept the faith: [x] henceforth there [y] is laid up for me [z] a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, [zz] the righteous judge, shall give me at [a] that day: and not to me only, but unto all [aa] them also that love [b] his appearing.

[c] Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me: for [d] Demas hath forsaken me, [e] having loved [f] this present world, and is departed unto [g] Thessalonica; Crescens to [h] Galatia, [i] Titus unto Dalmatia. [k] Only [d] Luke is with me. Take [l] Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is [m] profitable to me for the ministry. And [n] Tychicus have I sent to [o] Ephesus. The cloke that I left at [p] Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments. [q] Alexander [r] the coppersmith did me much evil: [s] the Lord reward him according to his works: of whom [t] be thou ware also; for he hath greatly withstood [‖] our words. At my first [u] answer no man stood with me, [k] but all men forsook me: I pray God [v] that it may not be laid to their charge. Notwithstanding [w] the Lord stood with me, and [x] strengthened me; [y] that by me the preaching might be [z] fully known, and that [a] all the Gentiles might hear: and I [b] was delivered [c] out of the mouth of the lion. And [d] the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: [e] to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Salute [f] Prisca and [f] Aquila, and [g] the household of Onesiphorus. [h] Erastus abode at [i] Corinth: but [k] Trophimus have I left at [l] Miletum sick. [m] Do thy diligence to come before winter. Eubulus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren. [n] The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. [o] Grace be with you. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS.

Anno DOMINI 65.

I.

PAUL, [a] a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of [aa] God's elect, and [b] the acknowledging of the truth [c] which is after [d] godliness, ‖ in [e] hope of eternal 2 life, which God, [f] that cannot lie, [g] promised [h] before the world began; but 3 hath [i] in due times [k] manifested his word [l] through preaching, [m] which is committed unto me [n] according to the commandment of [o] God our Saviour; to [p] Titus, mine [q] own son after [r] the 4 common faith: [q] Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

[s] For this cause left I thee in [t] Crete, 5 that [u] thou shouldest set in order the things that are ‖ [v] wanting, and [w] ordain [x] elders in every city, as I had [y] appointed thee: [z] if any be [a] blameless, 6 the husband of one wife, [b] having faithful children not accused of [c] riot or [d] unruly. For [e] a bishop must be [a] blameless, as [f] the steward of God; not [g] self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre; but a lover of hospitality, [h] a 8 lover of ‖ good men, [i] sober, just, holy, temperate; [k] holding fast [l] the faithful 9 word ‖ [m] as he hath been taught, [n] that he may be able by [o] sound doctrine both to exhort and to [p] convince the gainsayers. For there are many [d] un- 10 ruly and [q] vain talkers and [r] deceivers, specially [s] they of the circumcision: whose mouths must be stopped, [t] who 11 subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, [u] for filthy lucre's sake. [v] One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The [w] Cretians are alway liars, evil beasts, [x] slow bel- 13 lies. This witness is true. Wherefore [y] rebuke them [z] sharply, that they [a] may 14 be sound in the faith; [b] not giving heed [c] to Jewish fables, and [cc] commandments of men, that turn from [d] the truth. 15 [e] Unto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and [f] unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their [g] mind and conscience is defiled. 16 They profess that they [h] know God; but [i] in works they [j] deny him, being abominable, and [k] disobedient, and [l] unto every good work ‖ reprobate.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON.

Anno DOMINI 64.

PAUL, [a] a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and [b] Timothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and [cd] fellowlabourer, and to our beloved Apphia, 2 and [e] Archippus our [c] fellowsoldier, and to [f] the church in thy house: 3 [g] Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 [h] I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers, 5 [i] hearing of thy [j] love and [j] faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints; 6 that the communication of thy faith may become effectual [k] by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus. 7 For [l] we have great joy and [m] consolation in thy love, because [n] the bowels of the saints [o] are refreshed by thee, brother. 8 Wherefore, [p] though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee [q] that which is convenient, 9 yet for love's sake I rather [r] beseech thee, being such a one as Paul [s] the aged, and now also [a] a prisoner of Jesus Christ. 10 I [r] beseech thee for [ss] my son [t] Onesimus, [u] whom I have begotten in my bonds: 11 which in time past was to thee [v] unprofitable, but now [w] profitable to thee and to me: 12 whom I have [x] sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is, [y] mine own bowels: 13 whom I would have [z] retained with me, that [a] in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in [b] the bonds 14 of the gospel: but without thy mind would I do nothing; that thy benefit should [cd] not be as it were of necessity, 15 [d] but willingly. [e] For perhaps he therefore departed [f] for a season, that thou 16 shouldest [g] receive him for ever; [h] not now as a servant, but above a servant, [i] a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, both [k] in 17 the flesh, and in the Lord? If thou count me therefore [l] a partner, receive 18 him as myself. If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that 19 on mine account; [m] I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: [n] albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self 20 besides. Yea, brother, let me [o] have joy of thee in the Lord: [p] refresh my 21 bowels in the Lord. [q] Having confidence in thy obedience I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do 22 more than I say. But withal prepare me also [r] a lodging: for [s] I trust that [t] through your prayers I shall be given 23 unto you. [tt] There salute thee [u] Epaphras, [v] my fellowprisoner in Christ Je- 24 sus; [w] Marcus, [x] Aristarchus, [y] Demas, 25 [y] Lucas, [z] my fellowlabourers. [zz] The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

HEBREWS.

Anno DOMINI, 64.

I. GOD, who at sundry times and [a] in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath [b] in these last days [c] spoken unto us by [d] his Son, whom he hath [e] appointed [f] heir of all things, [g] by whom also he made [h] the worlds; who being [i] the brightness [j] of his glory, and [k] the express image of his person, and [l] upholding all things by the word of his power, [m] when he had by himself purged our sins, [n] sat down [o] on the right hand of the Majesty on high; being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained [p] a more excellent name than they. For unto which of the angels said he at any time, [q] Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, [r] I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son? And [s] again, [t] when he bringeth in [u] the firstbegotten into [v] the world, he saith, [w] And let all the angels of God worship him. And [tx] of the angels he saith, [y] Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire. But unto [d] the Son he saith, [z] Thy throne, O God, is [a] for ever and ever: a sceptre of [†] righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom. Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, [b] hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows. And, [c] Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands: they shall perish; but thou remainest; and they all shall [e] wax old as doth a garment; and as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art [ee] the same, and thy years shall not fail. But to which of the angels said he at any time, [f] Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool? Are they not all [g] ministering spirits, [h] sent forth to minister for them who shall be [i] heirs of salvation?

II. Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should [†] let them slip. For if the word [a] spoken by angels was stedfast, and [b] every transgression and disobedience received a just [c] recompence of reward; [d] how shall we escape, if we neglect so great [e] salvation; which [f] at the first began to be spoken by [g] the Lord, and was [g] confirmed unto us [h] by them that heard him; God also bearing them witness, both with [gi] signs and [i] wonders, and with divers [kl] miracles, and [‖k] gifts of the Holy Ghost, [m] according to his own will?

For [n] unto the angels hath he not put in subjection [o] the world to come, whereof we speak: but [p] one in a certain place [q] testified, saying, [r] What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him? Thou madest him [‖] a little lower than the angels;

a little lower than the angels, [‖vw]for the suffering of death, [u]crowned with glory and honour; that he by the grace of God should [x]taste death [y]for every man. [z]For it became him, [a]for whom 10

Wherefore, [a]holy brethren, partakers of [b]the heavenly [c]calling, consider [d]the Apostle and [e]High Priest of our [f]pro- 1 fession, Christ Jesus; who was faithful 2 to him that [†]appointed him, as also [g]Moses was faithful in all his house. 3
For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as [h]he who hath [i]builded the house hath 4 more honour than the house. For every house is [i]builded by some man; but [j]he that [i]built all things is God. 5
And [g]Moses verily was [k]faithful in all his house, as [l]a servant, [m]for a testimony of those things which were to be 6 spoken after; but Christ as [n]a Son over his own house; [o]whose house are we, if we [p]hold fast [q]the confidence and [r]the rejoicing [s]of the hope 7 firm [t]unto the end. Wherefore, as [u]the Holy Ghost saith, [v]To day if ye 8 will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the 9 wilderness: when your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw 10 my works [w]forty years. Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do alway err in their heart; and they have not 11 known my ways. [x]So I sware in my wrath, [†]They shall not enter into my rest.

Take heed, brethren, lest there be 12 in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from [y]the living God. 13
But [z]exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened [a]through the deceitfulness 14 of sin. For we are made partakers of Christ, if we [b]hold the beginning of our [c]confidence [b]stedfast unto the end; 15 whilst it is said, [d]To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your 16 hearts, as in the provocation. For [e]some, when they had heard, did [f]provoke: howbeit [g]not all that came out 17 of Egypt by Moses. But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, [h]whose 18 [i]carcases fell in the wilderness? And [k]to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them 19 that [l]believed not? So we see that [m]they could not enter in because of [n]unbelief.

IV.

Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you [a] should seem [b] to come short of it. For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as [c] unto them: but [f] the word preached did not profit them, [‖d] not being mixed with faith in them that heard it. For we which have believed do enter into rest, as [e] he said, [f] As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished [g] from the foundation of the world. For [e] he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, [h] And God did rest the seventh day from all his works. And in this place again, [f] If they shall enter into my rest. Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and [c] they to whom [‖] it was first preached [i] entered not in because of unbelief, again he limiteth a certain day, saying [k] in David, [l] To day, after so long a time; as it is said, [l] To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts. For if [‖] Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day. There remaineth therefore a [‖] rest to the people of God. For [m] he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his. Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall [n] after the same [o] example of [‖p] unbelief. For [q] the word of God is [r] quick, and powerful, and [s] sharper than any [t] twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of [u] soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is [v] a discerner of the thoughts and [w] intents of the heart. [x] Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are [y] naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

Seeing then that we have a great [z] high priest, [a] that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, [b] let us hold fast our [c] profession. For [d] we have not [z] a high priest [e] which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was [f] in all points [g] tempted like as we are, yet [h] without sin. Let us therefore come [j] boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and [k] find grace to help in time of need. [a] For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men [b] in things pertaining to God, [a] that he may offer both [c] gifts and sacrifices [d] for sins: [e] who [‖] can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is [f] compassed with infirmity. And by reason hereof he ought, [g] as for the people, so also for himself, to offer [d] for sins. And [h] no man [i] taketh this honour unto himself, but [k] he that is called of God, [l] as was Aaron. So also Christ [m] glorified not himself to be made [n] a high priest; but he that said unto him, [o] Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee. As he saith also in another place, [p] Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec. Who in the days of his flesh, [q] when he had offered up [r] prayers and supplications [s] with strong crying and [t] tears unto him that was able [u] to save him from death, and [v] was heard [‖] in that he [w] feared; though he were [x] a Son, yet [y] learned he obedience by the things which he suffered; and [z] being made perfect, he became [a] the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him; called of God [b] a high priest after the order of Melchisedec.

Of whom [c] we have many things to say, and [d] hard to be uttered, seeing ye are [e] dull of hearing. For when [f] for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be [g] the first [h] principles of [i] the oracles of God; and [c] are become such as have need of [j] milk, and not of strong meat. For every one that useth [j] milk [t] is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is [k] a babe. But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason [‖] of use have their senses [l] exercised [m] to [n] discern both good and evil. Therefore [a] leaving [‖] the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto [c] perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance [d] from dead works, and of faith towards God, [e] of the doctrine of baptisms, and [f] of laying on of hands, and [g] of resurrection of the dead, and [gh] of [i] eternal judgment. And this will we do, [k] if God permit. For [l] it is [m] impossible for those who were once [n] enlightened, and have tasted of [o] the heavenly gift, and [p] were made partakers of [s] the Holy Ghost, and [q] have tasted [r] the good word of God, and [s] the powers of [t] the world to come, if they shall [tt] fall away, to renew them again [u] unto repentance; [v] seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and [w] put him to an open shame. For the earth [x] which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs [y] meet [z] for them [‖] by whom it is dressed, [x] receiveth blessing from God: but [a] that which beareth thorns and briers is [b] rejected, and is [bb] nigh unto [c] cursing; [cc] whose end is to be burned.

But, beloved, we are persuaded [d] better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak. [dd] For [e] God is not unrighteous [f] to forget your work and [fg] labour of love, which [h] ye have shewed toward his name, in that [i] ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. And we desire that every one of you do [h] shew the same [k] diligence to [l] the full assurance of [m] hope unto the end: that ye be not [n] slothful, but [nn] followers of them who through faith and patience inherit [op] the promises. For [o] when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, [q] he sware by himself, saying, [r] Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. And so, [p] after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise. For men verily swear by the greater: and [s] an oath for [t] confirmation is to them an end of all [u] strife. Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto [v] the heirs of [x] promise [w] the immutability of his counsel, [†] confirmed it by [x] an oath: that by [x] two [w] immutable things, in which it was [y] impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon [m] the hope [z] set before us: which hope we have as [a] an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and [b] which entereth into that within [c] the vail; whither [d] the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made [e] a high priest [f] for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

See ch. 4. 14. [e] See ch. 3. 1.

VII.

For this [a] Melchisedec, king of [b] Salem, priest of [c] the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him; [a] to whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all; first being by interpretation King of righteousness, and after that also King of [b] Salem, which is, King of [d] peace; without father, without mother, [†] without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but made like unto [e] the Son of God; abideth a priest [f] continually. Now consider how great this man was, [a] unto whom even [g] the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils. And verily [h] they that are of the sons of Levi who receive the office of the priesthood have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though [i] they come out of the loins of Abraham: but he whose [‖] descent is not counted from them [a] received tithes of Abraham, and [a] blessed [j] him that had the promises. And without all [k] contradiction the less is blessed of the better. And here men that die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, of whom [l] it is witnessed that [m] he liveth. And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham. For [i] he was yet in the loins of his father, [a] when Melchisedec met him. [n] If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people [o] received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise [p] after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron? For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law. For [q]he of whom these things are spoken pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar. For it is evident that [q r]our Lord [s]sprang out of [t]Juda; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood. And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest, who is made, not after the law of [t t]a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life. For [u]he testifieth, [v]Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec. For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before [n]for [w]the weakness and unprofitableness thereof. For [n x]the law made nothing perfect, ‖but the bringing in of [y]a better [z]hope did; by the which [a]we draw nigh unto God. And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest: (for those priests were made ‖without an oath; but this with an oath by him that said unto him, [v]The Lord sware and will not [b]repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec:) by so much was Jesus made [c]a surety of [d]a [y]better [e]testament. And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death: but this man, because he continueth [f]ever, hath ‖an unchangeable priesthood. Wherefore he is able also to save them ‖[g]to the uttermost [a h]that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth [i]to make intercession for them.

For such [j]a high priest became us, who is [k]holy, [l]harmless, undefiled, [m]separate from sinners, and made [n]higher than the heavens; who needeth not [nn]daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, [o]first for his own sins, and [o]then for the people's: for [p]this he did [q]once, when he offered up himself. For the law maketh men high priests [r]which have infirmity; but the word of [s]the oath, which was since the law, maketh [t]the Son, who is [t u]consecrated for evermore.

VIII. Now of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such [a]a high priest, [b]who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty [c]in the heavens; [d]a minister ‖of [e]the sanctuary, and of [f]the true tabernacle, which the Lord [g]pitched, and not man. [h]For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity that this man have [i]somewhat also to offer. For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that ‖there are priests that offer [h]gifts according to the law: who serve unto [j]the example and [k]shadow of heavenly things, as Moses [l]was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: for, [m]See, [n]saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount. But now hath he obtained a [o]more excellent [p]ministry, by how much also he is [q]the mediator of a [r]better ‖[s]covenant, which was [t]established upon [r]better promises.

For [u]if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second. For finding fault with them, [n]he saith, [v]Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new [s]covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Juda: not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I [w]took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord. For [x]this is [s]the covenant that I will [x x]make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will [t]put my laws into their mind, and write them ‖in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people: and they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest. For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, [y]and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more. In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is [z]ready to vanish away.

IX. Then verily the first covenant had also ‖[a]ordinances of [b]divine service, and a second time [z] without sin unto salvation.

For the law having [a] a shadow [b] of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never [c] with those sacrifices which they offered year by year [d] continually [c] make the comers thereunto [e] perfect. For then [f] would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins. But [f] in those sacrifices there is [g] a remembrance again made of sins [h] every year. For [i] it is not possible that [k] the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins. Wherefore [l] when he cometh into the world, he saith, [m] Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but [n] a body [l] hast thou prepared me: in [o] burnt offerings and [p] sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure. Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God. Above when he said, [q] Sacrifice and offering and [o] burnt offerings and [p] offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein: which are offered by the law; then said he, [r] Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second. By the which will [s] we are sanctified through the offering of [n] the body of Jesus Christ [t] once for all. And every priest standeth [u] daily [w] ministering and offering oftentimes [x] the same sacrifices, [i] which can never take away sins: but this man, [y] after he had offered one sacrifice for sins [d] for ever, [z] sat down on the right hand of God; [a] from henceforth expecting [b] till his enemies be made his footstool. For by one offering [c] he hath perfected [c] for ever [d] them that are sanctified. Whereof [e] the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before, [f] This is the covenant that I will [g] make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them; [g] and their sins and iniquities will I remember no more. Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 [h] Having therefore, brethren, [l] boldness to enter into [i] the holiest by the 20 blood of Jesus, by a new and living [k] way, which he hath [l] consecrated for us, through [l] the vail, that is to say,
21 his flesh; and having [m] a high priest
22 over [n] the house of God; [o] let us draw near with a true heart in [p] full assurance of faith, [q] having our hearts [r] sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies [s] washed [r] with pure water.
23 [t] Let us hold fast the [u] profession of our [v] hope without wavering; (for [w] he 24 is faithful that promised;) and let us consider one another [x] to provoke unto 25 love and to good works: [y] not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, [z] as the manner of some is; but [x] exhorting one another: and [a] so much the more, as ye see [b] the day approaching.

26 For [c] if we sin [d] wilfully [e] after that we have received [f] the knowledge of the truth, [g] there remaineth no more sacri-
27 fice for sins, but a certain fearful looking for of judgment and [h] fiery indignation, which shall devour the adver-
28 saries. [i] He that [j] despised Moses' law [k] died without mercy under two or three 29 witnesses: [l] of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, [m] who hath trodden under foot [n] the Son of God, and [o] hath counted [p] the blood of the [q] covenant, wherewith he was [r] sanctified, an [s] unholy thing, [t] and hath done despite unto the 30 Spirit of grace? For we know him that hath said, [u] Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, [v] The Lord 31 shall judge his people. It is [w] a fearful thing to fall into the hands of 32 [x] the living God. But [y] call to remembrance the former days, in which, [z] after ye were illuminated, [a] ye endured a 33 great [b] fight of afflictions; partly, whilst [c] ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, whilst [a] ye became [d] companions of them
34 that were so used. For ye [dd] had compassion of me [e] in my bonds, and [f] took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing [l] in yourselves that ye have [g] in heaven [h] a better and an enduring substance. Cast not away therefore 35 your [i] confidence, [k] which hath great [l] recompence of reward. For [m] ye have 36 need of patience, that, after ye have done [n] the will of God, [o] ye might [p] receive [o] the promise. For [q] yet a little 37 while, and [r] he that shall come will come, and will not tarry. Now 38 [s] the just shall live by faith: but if any man [t] draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him. But 39 we are not of [u] them who [t] draw back unto perdition; but of them that [w] believe [x] to the saving of the soul.

XI.

Now faith is the [l] substance of things hoped for, [a] the evidence of [b] things not seen. For [c] by it [d] the elders [e] obtained a good report. Through faith 2 3 we understand that [f] the worlds were [g] framed by [h] the word of God, so that things which are seen [i] were not made of things which do appear. By faith 4 [j] Abel offered unto God a more excellent [k] sacrifice than Cain, by which he [e] obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his [k] gifts: and by it he [l] being dead [l] yet [m] speaketh. By faith [n] Enoch was translated that he 5 should not [o] see death; [p] and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he [e] had this testimony, [n q] that he pleased God. But without faith it is impossible to 6 please him: for [r] he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is [s] a rewarder of them that [t] diligently seek him. By faith [u] Noah, [v] being warned of God of things not seen as yet, [l w] moved with fear, [x] prepared an ark [y] to the saving of his house; by the which [z] he condemned the world, and became heir of [a] the righteousness which is by faith. By faith [b] Abraham, 8 when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. By 9 faith he [c] sojourned in the land [d] of promise, as in a strange country, [e] dwelling in tabernacles [f] with Isaac and Jacob, [g] the heirs with him of the same 10 promise: for he looked for [h] a city [i] which hath foundations, [k] whose builder 11 and maker is God. Through faith also [l] Sara herself received strength to conceive seed, and [m] was delivered of a child when she was past age, [n] because she judged [o] him faithful [p] who had 12 promised. Therefore sprang there even of one, and him [q] as good as dead, so many [r s] as the stars of the sky in multitude, and [s] as the sand which is by 13 the sea shore innumerable. These all died [t] in faith, [t] not having received the promises, but [u] having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and [v] embraced them, and [w] confessed that they were [x] strangers and [y] pilgrims on 14 the earth. For they that say such things declare plainly that they seek a 15 country. And truly, if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had 16 opportunity to have returned. But now they desire [z] a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore [zz] God is not ashamed [a] to be called their God: for he hath [b] prepared for them [c] a city. 17 By faith [d] Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac: and he that had received [e] the promises offered up [f] his 18 only begotten son, [l] of whom it was said, [ff] That in Isaac shall thy seed 19 be called: accounting that God [g] was able to raise him up, even from the dead; from whence also he received 20 him in a [h] figure. By faith [i] Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to 21 come. By faith [k] Jacob, when he was a dying, [k] blessed both the sons of Joseph; and [l] worshipped, leaning upon 22 the top of [m] his staff. By faith [n] Joseph, when he died, [l] made mention of the departing of the children of Israel; and [o] gave commandment concerning 23 his bones. By faith [p] Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a [q] proper child; and they were not afraid 24 of [r] the king's commandment. By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called [s] the son of Pharaoh's daughter; [t] choosing rather to 25 suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin [u] for a season; esteeming [v] the reproach [‖] of 26 Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect unto [w] the recompence of the reward. By faith 27 [x] he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he [y] endured, [z] as seeing him who is [a] invisible. Through 28 faith [b] he [c] kept the passover, and [d] the sprinkling of blood, lest [e] he that destroyed [f] the firstborn should touch them.

By faith [g] they passed through the Red 29 sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do were drowned. By 30 faith [h] the walls of [i] Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days. By faith [j] the harlot Rahab pe- 31 rished not with them [‖] that [k] believed not, [l] when she had received the spies [m] with peace.

And what shall I more say? for the 32
time would fail me to tell of [n] Gedeon, and of [o] Barak, and of [p] Samson, and of [q] Jephthae; of [r] David also, and [s] t Samuel, and of [t] the prophets: who 33 through faith [u] subdued kingdoms, [v] wrought righteousness, [w] obtained promises, [x] stopped the mouths of lions, [y] quenched the violence of fire, [z] escaped 34
[a] the edge of the sword, [b] out of weakness [c] were made strong, [d] waxed valiant in fight, [d] turned to flight [e] the armies of [f] the aliens. [g] Women received their 35 dead raised to life again: and others [h] were tortured, [i] not accepting deliverance; [k] that they might obtain [l] a better resurrection: and others had trial of 36 cruel [m] mockings and [n] scourgings, yea, moreover of [o] bonds and imprisonment:
they were [p] stoned, they were [q] sawn 37 asunder, were tempted, [r] were slain with the sword: they wandered about [s] in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, [t] tormented; (u of whom 38 the world was not worthy:) [v] they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and [w] in [x] dens and [xx] caves of the earth. And 39 these all, [y] having obtained a good report through faith, [z] received not the 40 promise: God having [‖] provided some [l] better thing for us, [a] that they without us should not be [b] made perfect.

[a] So Rev. 6. 11. [b] See ch. 5. 9.

Wherefore seeing we also are com-passed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, [a] let us lay aside every weight, and [b] the sin which doth so easily beset us, and [c] let us run [d] with patience [e] the 2 race that is [f] set before us, looking unto Jesus the [‖] author and [g] finisher of our faith; [h] who for [i] the joy that was [f] set before him endured [k] the cross, despising [l] the shame, and [m] is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.
3 For [n] consider him that endured such [o] contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye [oo] be wearied and [p] faint in your minds.

4 Ye have not yet resisted [q] unto blood, 5 striving against sin. And ye have forgotten [r] the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, [s] My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor [p] faint when thou 6 art rebuked of him: for whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and [t] scourgeth every son whom he re-
7 ceiveth. If ye endure chastening, [u] God dealeth with you as with sons;
for what son is he whom the father 8 [v] chasteneth not? But if ye be without chastisement, [w] whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not 9 sons. Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we [x] gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto [y] the Father of spirits, and live?
10 For they verily for a few days chastened us [‖] after their own pleasure; but he
for our profit, [z] that we might be par-11 takers of his holiness. Now no chastening [a] for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth [b] the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are [c] ex-12 ercised thereby. Wherefore [d] e lift up [f] g the hands which hang down, and 13 [g] h the feeble knees; and [i] make the way; but [k] let it rather be healed.

[l] Follow peace with all men, and [m] holi- 14 ness, [n] without which no man shall see the Lord: looking diligently [o] lest any 15 man ‖ fail of [p] the grace of God; [q] lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;
lest there be any [r] fornicator, or [s] pro- 16 fane person, as Esau, [t] who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. For 17 ye know how that afterward, [u] when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no ‖ [v] place of repentance, though he [w] sought it carefully with tears.

For ye are not come unto [x] the 18 mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, and [y] the 19 sound of a trumpet, and [yy] the voice of words; which voice [z] they that heard intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more: (for they 20 could not endure that which was commanded, [a] And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart: and [b] so terrible was the sight, 21 that Moses said, I [c] exceedingly fear and quake;) but ye are come unto 22 [d] mount Sion, and unto [e] the city of [f] the living God, [g] the heavenly Jerusalem, and [h] to an [i] innumerable company of angels, to the general assembly, and 23 [j] church of [k] the firstborn, [l] which are ‖ written in heaven, and to [m] God the Judge of all, and to [n] the spirits of just men [o] made perfect, and to Jesus [p] the 24 mediator of the new ‖ [q] covenant, and to [r] the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh [s] better things than [t] that of Abel.
See that ye refuse not him that speak- 25 eth: for [u] if they escaped not [v] who refused him that [w] spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven: [x] whose voice then shook the 26 earth: but now he hath promised, saying, [y] Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.
And this word, Yet once more, signi- 27 fieth [z] the removing of those things that ‖ are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken 28 may remain. Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, ‖ let us have grace, whereby we may [a] serve God [b] acceptably with reverence and 29 [c] godly fear: for our [d] God is [e] a consuming fire.

XIII. Let [a] brotherly love continue. [b] Be 2 not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby [c] some have entertained angels
3 unawares. [d] Remember them that are in bonds, [e] as bound with them; and them which [f] suffer adversity, as being
4 yourselves also in the body. [g] Mar- riage is honourable in all, and [h] the bed undefiled: but [i] whoremongers and
5 [k] adulterers [l] God will judge. Let your conversation be [m] without covetousness; and [n] be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, [o] I will never
6 leave thee, nor forsake thee. So that we may boldly say, [p] The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear
7 what man shall do unto me. Re- member them which ‖ [q] have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: [r] whose faith follow, considering [s] the end of their [t] conver-
8 sation. Jesus Christ [u] the same [v] yes-
9 terday, and to day, and for ever. Be not [w] carried about with divers and strange [x] doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; [y] not with meats, [z] which have not profited them that have been occu-
10 pied therein. We have [a] an altar, where- of they have no right to eat which 11 serve the tabernacle. For [b] the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into [c] the sanctuary by the high priest [d] for sin, [b] are burnt without [e] the 12 camp. Wherefore Jesus also, that he might [f] sanctify the people with his own 13 blood, [g] suffered [h] without the gate. Let us [g] go forth therefore unto him without 14 [e] the camp, bearing [i] his reproach. For [j] here have we no continuing city, but 15 we seek [i] one to come. [k] By him there-

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF

JAMES.

Anno DOMINI about 60.

I. [a] JAMES, [b] a servant of God and [c] of the Lord Jesus Christ, to [d] the twelve tribes [e] which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, [f] count it all joy when ye fall into [g] divers temptations; 3 knowing this, that [h] the trying of your faith [i] worketh [k] patience. 4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be [l] perfect and entire, wanting nothing. 5 [m] If any of you lack wisdom, [n] let him ask [o] of God, that giveth to all men [p] liberally, and [q] upbraideth not; and [n] it shall be given him. 6 But [r] let him ask in faith, [s] nothing wavering: for he that wavereth is like [t] a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed. 7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord. 8 [u] A double minded man is [v] unstable in all his ways. 9 Let the brother of low degree [‖] rejoice [w] in that he is exalted: 10 but the rich, [x] in that he is made low: because [y] as the flower of the grass [z] he shall pass away. 11 For the sun is no sooner risen with [a] a burning heat, but [b] it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways. 12 [c] Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is [d] tried, he shall receive [e] the crown of life, [f] which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. 13 [g] Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with [‖] evil, neither tempteth he any man: 14 but every man is tempted, when he is drawn away [h] of his own lust, and [i] enticed. 15 Then [k] when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, [l] bringeth forth death. 16 [m] Do not err, my beloved brethren. 17 [n] Every good [o] gift and every [p] perfect gift is [q] from above, and cometh down from [r] the Father of lights, [s] with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of [t] turning. 18 [u] Of his own will [v] begat he us [v] with the word of truth, [x] that we should be a kind of [y] firstfruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be [z] swift to hear, [a] slow to speak, [b] slow to wrath: 20 for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. 21 Wherefore [c] lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of [cd] naughtiness, and receive [e] with meekness the [f] engrafted word, [g] which is able to save your souls. 22 But [h] be ye doers of the word, and [h] not hearers only, [i] deceiving your own selves. 23 For [k] if any be [h] a hearer of the word, and [h] not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in [l] a glass: 24 for he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was. 25 But whoso [m] looketh into the perfect [n] law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful [h] hearer, but [h] a doer of the work, this man shall be [o] blessed in his [‖] deed. 26 If any man among you [p] seem to be religious, and [q] bridleth not [r] his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's [s] religion is vain. 27 Pure [s] religion and undefiled before [t] God and the Father is this, To [u] visit [v] the [w] fatherless and [v] widows in their affliction, and [x] to keep himself [y] unspotted from the world.

II.

My brethren, have not [a]the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, [b]the Lord of glory, [c]with respect of persons. For if 2 there come unto your [t]assembly a man with a gold ring, in [d]goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment; and ye [e]have respect to 3 him that weareth the [d]gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here ‖in a good place; and [f]say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:
are ye not then [gi]partial in yourselves, 4
and are become judges of [hi]evil thoughts?
Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath 5 not God [kl]chosen the poor of this world [m]rich in faith, and [n]heirs of [o]the kingdom [p]which he hath promised to [q]them that love him? But ye have [r]despised 6 the poor. Do not rich men [s]oppress you, and [t]draw you [u]before the judgment seats? Do not they [v]blaspheme 7 that worthy name [w]by the which ye are called? If ye fulfil [x]the royal law according to [xx]the scripture, [y]Thou shalt 8 love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well: but [c]if ye have respect to per- 9 sons, ye commit sin, and are [z]convinced of the law as transgressors. For whoso- 10 ever shall keep the whole law, and yet [a]offend in one point, [b]he is [c]guilty of all.
For ‖he that said, [d]Do not commit 11 adultery, said also, [d]Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law. So speak ye, and so do, as 12 they that shall be judged by [e]the law of liberty. For [f]he shall have judgment 13 without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy; and [g]mercy ‖rejoiceth against judgment.

[h]What doth it profit, my brethren, 14 though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?
[j]If a brother or sister be [k]naked, and 15 destitute of daily food, and [l]one of you 16
say unto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed and filled; [m]notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; [h]what doth it profit?
Even so faith, if it hath not works, is 17 dead, being [t]alone. Yea, a man may 18 say, Thou hast faith, and I have works:
shew me thy faith ‖without thy works, and I will [n]shew thee [o]my faith by my 19 works. [p]Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: [q]the devils 20 also [r]believe, and tremble. But wilt thou know, O [s]vain man, that faith [t]with-21 out works is dead? Was not Abraham our father justified by works, [u]when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?
22 ‖Seest thou [v]how faith wrought with his works, and [w]by works was faith made 23 perfect? And [x]the scripture was fulfilled which saith, [y]Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was 24 called [z]the Friend of God. Ye see then how that [a]by works a man is 25 justified, and [a]not by faith only. Likewise also [b]was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had [c]received the messengers, and had sent 26 them out another way? For as the body [d]without the ‖spirit is dead, so faith [d]without works is dead also.

III.

My brethren, [a]be not many [b]masters, knowing that we shall receive the great-
2 er ‖condemnation. For [c]in many things we [d]offend all. [e]If any man [d]offend not in word, [f]the same is a [g]perfect man, and able also [h]to bridle the whole body.
3 Behold, [i]we put [h]bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we
4 turn about their whole body. Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.
5 Even so the tongue is a little member, and [k]boasteth great things. Behold, how great ‖a matter a little fire kindleth.
6 And [l]the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue amongst our members, that [m]it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the [t]course of nature;
7 and [n]it is set on fire of [o]hell. For every [t]kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of [t]man-
8 kind: but the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, [p]full of deadly poison.

[m]the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of [n]sabaoth. [o]Ye have lived in pleasure 5 on the earth, and [p]been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in [q]a day of slaughter. [r]Ye have condemned 6 and [s]killed [t]the just; and he doth not resist you.

a Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

[l] Be patient therefore, brethren, unto 7
[u] the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman [w] waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and [x] hath long patience for it, until he receive [y] the early and [yz] latter rain. Be ye also 8
[x] patient; [a] stablish your hearts: for [b] the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.
[i] Grudge not one against another, bre- 9 thren, lest ye be condemned: behold, [c] the judge standeth [d] before the door.
Take, my brethren, [e] the prophets, [f] who 10 have spoken in the name of the Lord, for [g] an example of suffering affliction, and of patience. Behold, [h] we count 11 them happy [i] which endure. Ye have heard of [j] the patience of Job, and have seen [k] the end of the Lord; that [l] the Lord is very pitiful, and [m] of tender mercy. But above all things, my bre- 12 thren, [n] swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your [o] yea be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation. Is any among you af- 13 flicted? let him pray. Is any merry? [p] let him sing psalms. Is any sick a- 14 mong you? let him call for [q] the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, [r] anointing him with oil in the 15
name of the Lord: and [s] the prayer of faith shall [t] save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and [u] if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven 16
him. [v] Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, [w] that ye may be healed. [x] The effectual [xy] fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth 17 much. Elias was a man [z] subject to like passions as we are, and [a] he prayed [i] earnestly that it might not rain: and [a] it rained not on the earth by the space 18 of [b] three years and six months. And [c] he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.
Brethren, if any of you do err from 19 20 the truth, and [d] one convert him; let him know, that [e] he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way [f] shall save [g] a soul from death, and [h] shall hide a multitude of sins.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF

PETER.

Anno DOMINI about 60.

I. PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to [a] the strangers [b] scattered throughout [c] Pontus, [d] Galatia, [e] Cappadocia, [c] Asia, and [e] Bithynia, [f] elect according 2 to [g] the foreknowledge of God the Father, [h] through sanctification of the Spirit, unto [i] obedience and [k] sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: [l] Grace unto you, and [m] peace, be multiplied.

[n] Blessed be [o] the God and Father of 3
our Lord Jesus Christ, which [p] according to his [f] abundant mercy [q] hath begotten us again unto [r] a lively hope [s] by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to [t] an inheritance [u] incor- 4
ruptible, and undefiled, and [w] that fadeth not away, [x] reserved [y] in heaven [z] for you, who are [z] kept by the power of 5
God [a] through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. Where- 6 in [b] ye greatly [c] rejoice, [d] though now [e] for a season, if need be, [c] ye are in heaviness through [f] manifold temptations: that [g] the trial of your faith, 7 being much more precious than [h] of gold that perisheth, [h] though it be tried [i] with fire, might be found unto [j] praise and [k] honour and [k] glory [l] at the appearing of Jesus Christ: [m] whom having not 8 seen, ye love; in whom, [n] though now ye see him not, yet believing, [o] ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory: [p] receiving [q] the end of your faith, 9 even the salvation of your souls. Of 10 which salvation [r] the prophets [s] have inquired and searched diligently, [t] who prophesied of the grace that should come 11 unto you: searching [u] what, or what manner of time [v] the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, [w] when it testified beforehand [x y] the sufferings of Christ, and [y z] the glory that should 12
follow. [a] Unto whom it was revealed, that [b] not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with [c] the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven; [d] which things the angels desire to [e] look into.

Wherefore [f] gird up the loins of your 13 mind, [g] be sober, and hope [f] to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you [h] at the revelation of Jesus Christ; 14 as [i] obedient children, [k] not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts 15 [l] in your ignorance: but [m] as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy 16 in all manner of [n] conversation; because it is written, [o] Be ye holy; for I am 17 holy. And if ye call on the Father, who [p] without respect of persons [q] judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your [r] sojourning here in 18 [s] fear: forasmuch as ye know that [t] ye were not redeemed [u] with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain [n] conversation [v] received by tradi- 19
tion from your fathers; but [w] with the precious blood of Christ, as of [x] a lamb [y] without blemish and without spot: 20 [z] who verily was foreordained [a] before the foundation of the world, but was manifest [b] in these last times for you, 21
[c] who by him do believe in God, [d] that

II.

Wherefore [a] laying aside all [b] malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all [c] evil speakings, [d] as new- 2
born babes, desire the [e] sincere [f] milk [g] of the word, that [h] ye may grow thereby: if so be ye have [i] tasted that the 3 Lord is [k] gracious. To whom coming, 4 as unto a living stone, [l] disallowed indeed of men, but [lm] chosen of God, and [l] precious, ye also, as lively stones, ‖ [mm] are 5 built up [n] a spiritual house, [o] a holy priesthood, [p] to offer up spiritual sacrifices, [q] acceptable to God [r] by Jesus Christ. Wherefore also it is contained in [s] the 6 scripture, [t] Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: [u] and [v] he that believeth on him shall not be confounded. Unto you therefore which believe ‖ he 7 is precious: but unto [w] them which be disobedient, [x] the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner, and [y] a stone of [z] stumbling, and a 8 rock of [z] offence, even to them which stumble at the word, [w] being disobedient: [a] whereunto also they [b] were appointed. But ye are [c] a chosen gene- 9 ration, [d] a royal priesthood, [e] a holy nation, ‖ [f] a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the ‖ [g] praises of [h] him who hath called you [i] out of darkness into his marvellous light: [k] which in time 10 past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.
Dearly beloved, ‖ I beseech you [m] as 11 [n] strangers and [o] pilgrims, [p] abstain from [q] fleshly lusts, [r] which war against the soul; [s] having your [t] conversation honest 12 among the Gentiles: that, ‖ [u] whereas they speak against you as [w] evildoers, they may [x] by your good works, which they shall [y] behold, [z] glorify God in the day of [a] visitation. [b] Submit yourselves to every 13 ordinance of man [c] for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as [bd] supreme;
or unto governors, as unto them that 14 are sent by him [e] for the punishment of evildoers, and [f] for the praise of them that do well. For so is [g] the will of God, 15 that [h] with well doing ye may [i] put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: [k] as free, and not [l] using your liberty for 16
a cloke of maliciousness, but as [l] the servants of God. ‖ [m] Honour all men. 17
Love [n] the brotherhood. [o] Fear God.
[op] Honour the king. [q] Servants, [r] be sub- 18 ject to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and [s] gentle, but also to the [t] froward. For this is ‖ [l] thank- 19 worthy, [u] if a man [v] for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully. For [w] what glory is it, if, when 20 ye be [x] buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, [w] when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is ‖ [l] acceptable with God. For 21 even [y] hereunto [z] were ye called: because [a] Christ also suffered ‖ [l] for us, [b] leaving us an [c] example, that ye should follow [d] his 22 steps: [e] who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:
[f] who, when he was reviled, reviled not 23 again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but ‖ [g] committed himself to him that judgeth righteously: [h]who his own self 24 bare our sins in his own body [‖]on [i]the tree, [k]that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: [l]by whose [m]stripes ye were healed.

For [n]ye were as sheep going a- 25 stray; but are now returned [o]unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

III.

[a]Likewise, [b]ye wives, be in subjection 1 to your own husbands; that, if any [c]obey not the word, [d]they also may without the word be [e]won by the [f]conversation of the wives; while they [g]be- 2 hold your chaste [f]conversation coupled with fear. Whose adorning let it not be 3 that outward adorning of [h]plaiting the hair, and of [h]wearing of gold, or of [h]putting on of apparel; but let it be [i]the hid- 4 den man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. For after 5 this manner in the old time the holy women also, who [k]trusted in God, adorned themselves, [b]being in subjection unto their own husbands: even as Sara 6 obeyed Abraham, [l]calling him lord:
whose [t]daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and [m]are not afraid with any [n]amazement. Likewise, [o]ye husbands, 7 [p]dwell with them according to [q]knowledge, giving [r]honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker [s]vessel, and as being [t]heirs together of the grace of life; [u]that your prayers be not hindered.

Finally, be ye [v]all of one mind, [w]hav- 8 ing compassion one of another, [‖]love as brethren, be [x]pitiful, be courteous: [y]not 9 rendering evil for evil, or [z]railing for railing: but contrariwise [a]blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, [b]that ye should inherit a blessing. For [c]he that 10 will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile: [d]let him eschew evil, 11
and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it. For the eyes of the 12 Lord are over the righteous, and [e]his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is [f]against them that do evil. And 13 [f]who is he that will harm you, [d]if ye be followers of that which is good? [g]But 14
and [h]if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, [i]happy are ye: and [j]be not afraid of their terror, neither [k]be troubled; 15 but [l]sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and [m]be ready always to give [n]an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with [o]meekness and [‖p]fear: [q]having [r]a good 16 conscience; [s]that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of [s]evildoers, they may be ashamed that [t]falsely accuse your good [u]conversation in Christ. For it is 17 better, if [v]the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.
For Christ also hath [w]once [x]suffered for 18 sins, [y]the just for the unjust, [z]that he might bring us to God, [a]being put to death [b]in the flesh, but [c]quickened [d]by the Spirit: by which also he went and 19 [e]preached unto the spirits [f]in prison;
which sometime were [g]disobedient, 20 [h]when once the [i]longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, [k]while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, [l]eight [m]souls [k]were saved by water.
The like [n]figure whereunto even [o]bap- 21 tism doth also now [p]save us (not the [q]putting away of the filth of the flesh, but [r]the answer of [s]a good conscience toward God,) [t]by the resurrection of Jesus Christ: who is gone into heaven, 22 and [u]is on the right hand of God; [v]angels and [wxy]authorities and [vwx]powers [z]being made subject unto him.

IV.

Forasmuch then as Christ hath suffer- 1
ed for us [a]in the flesh, [b]arm yourselves likewise with the same [c]mind: for [d]he that hath suffered in the flesh [e]hath ceased from sin; [f]that he no longer 2 should live [g]the rest of his time in the flesh to [h]the lusts of men, but to [i]the will of God. For the time past of our 3 life [j]may suffice us [fk]to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in [l]lasciviousness, [m]lusts, excess of wine, [n]revellings, banquetings, and [o]abominable [p]idolatries: wherein they [q]think it 4

strange that you run not with them to the same excess of [r]riot, [s]speaking evil of you: who shall [t]give account to him 5 that is ready [u]to judge the quick and the dead. For for this cause was the gos- 6 pel preached also [v]to them that are dead, that they might be judged [w]according to men in the flesh, but live [x]according to God in the spirit.

But [y]the end of all things is at 7 hand: [z]be ye therefore sober, and [a]watch [b]unto prayer. And above all 8 things [c]have [d]fervent charity among yourselves: [e]for [f]charity ‖shall cover the multitude of sins. [g]Use hos- 9 pitality one to another [h]without grudging. [i]As every man hath received the 10 j gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good [k]stewards of [i]the manifold grace of God. [i]If any man 11 speak, let him speak as [l]the oracles of God; if any man [m]minister, let him do it [n]as of the ability which God giveth: that [o]God in all things may be glorified [p]through Jesus Christ, [q]to whom be [r]praise and [rr]dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

Beloved, [s]think it not strange con- 12
cerning [t]the fiery trial [u]which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: but [v]rejoice, inasmuch 13 as [w]ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, [x]when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy. If ye be [y]reproached 14 [z]for the name of Christ, [y]a happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: [b]on their part [c]he is evil spoken of, but on your part [d]he is glorified. But [a]let none of you 15 suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as [b]an evildoer, or as [e]a busybody in other men's matters. Yet if any man 16 suffer as [f]a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but [g]let him glorify God [h]on this behalf. For the time is come that 17 [i]judgment must begin at [k]the house of God: and [l]if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that [m]obey not the gospel of God? And [n]if the 18 righteous scarcely be saved, where shall [o]the ungodly and [o]the sinner appear? Wherefore let them that 19 suffer according to [p]the will of God [q]commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful [r]Creator.

[a]The elders which are among you I V. exhort, who am [b]also an elder, and [c]a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also [d]a partaker of the glory that shall 2 be revealed: [e]feed the flock of God ‖which is among you, [f]taking the oversight thereof, [g]not by constraint, but willingly; [h]not for filthy lucre, but [i]of 3 a ready mind; neither as ‖[k]being lords over [l]God's heritage, but [e]being [m]en-4 samples to the flock. And when [n]the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall [o]receive [p]a crown of glory [q]that fadeth
5 not away. Likewise, [r]ye younger, submit yourselves unto [a]the elder. Yea, [s]all of you be subject one to another,
and be clothed with [ss]humility: for [t]God resisteth the proud, and giveth 6 grace to the humble. [u]Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in 7 due time: [v]casting all your care upon 8 him; for [w]he careth for you. [x]Be sober, [y]be vigilant; because your adversary [z]the devil, [a]as a roaring lion, [b]walketh about, seeking whom he may 9 devour: [c]whom resist [d]stedfast in the faith, knowing that [e]the same afflictions [f]are accomplished in your [g]brethren 10 that are in the world. But the God of all grace, [h]who hath called us into [i]his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered [k]a while, [l]make you perfect, [m]stablish, strengthen, [n]set-11 tle you. [o]To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 By [p]Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as [q]I suppose, I have written [r]briefly, exhorting, and [s]testifying that this is the true [t]grace of God [u]wherein 13 ye stand. The church that is at [v]Babylon, [w]elected together with you, saluteth you; and so doth [x]Marcus my 14 son. [y]Greet ye one another with a

that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL OF

PETER.

Anno DOMINI 66.

I.

1 SIMON Peter, [a] a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained [b] like precious faith with us [c] through the righteousness [†] of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:
2 [d] Grace and peace be multiplied unto you [e] through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord.

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and [f] godliness, [eg] through the knowledge of [h] him that hath called us [‖] to [i] glory and [h] virtue:
4 whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these you might be [k] partakers of the divine nature, [l] having escaped [m] the corruption that is in the world through lust:
5 and beside this, giving all diligence, [n] add to your faith virtue; and to virtue [o] knowledge; 6 and to knowledge [p] temperance; and to temperance [q] patience; and to patience [f] godliness;
7 and to [f] godliness [r] brotherly kindness; and [s] to brotherly kindness [t] charity.
8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be [†] barren nor [u] unfruitful in [e] the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.
9 But he that lacketh these things [v] is blind, and cannot see far off, and hath forgotten that he was [w] purged from his old sins.
10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence [x] to make your [y] calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, 11 [z] ye shall never fall: for so an entrance shall be [a] ministered unto you abundantly [b] into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent [c] to put you always in remembrance of these 13 things, [d] though ye know them, and be [e] stablished in the present truth.
14 Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in [f] this tabernacle, [g] to stir you up [cg] by putting you in remembrance;
15 [h] knowing that shortly I must [i] put off this [f] my tabernacle, even as [k] our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.
16 Moreover I will endeavour that you may be able after my [l] decease to have these things always in remembrance.
17 For we have not followed [m] cunningly devised [n] fables, when we made known unto you [o] the power and [p] coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but [q] were [r] eyewitnesses of his [s] majesty.
18 For he received from God the Father [t] honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the [u] excellent glory, [w] This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
19 And this voice which came from heaven [q] we heard, when we were with him in [x] the holy mount.
20 We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto [y] ye do well that ye take heed, as unto [z] a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and [a] the day star [b] arise in your hearts:
21 knowing this first, that [c] no prophecy of the scripture is of any private [d] interpretation.
For the [e] prophecy came not [‖] in old time by the will of man: but [f] holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

II.

[d] privily shall bring in damnable [e] heresies, even [f] denying [g] the Lord [h] that bought them, and [i] bring upon themselves swift destruction. And many shall 2 follow their [‖] pernicious ways; by reason of whom [j] the way of truth [k] shall be evil spoken of. And [l] through co- 3 vetousness shall they [m] with feigned words [n] make merchandise of you: [o] whose judgment now [p] of a long time lingereth not, and [i] their damnation [q] slumbereth not. For if God spared 4 not [r] the angels [s] that sinned, but [t] cast them down to hell, and delivered them into [u] chains of darkness, to be [rv] reserved unto judgment; and [w] spared not 5 the old world, but [x] saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, [y] bringing in [z] the flood upon [a] the world of the ungodly; and [b] turning the 6 cities of Sodom and Gomorrha into ashes condemned them with [c] an overthrow, [d] making them an [e] ensample unto those that after should [f] live ungodly; and [g] delivered [h] just Lot, vexed with 7 the [i] filthy [k] conversation of [l] the wicked: (for that [h] righteous man dwelling among 8 them, in seeing and hearing, [m] vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds;) [n] the Lord know- 9 eth how to deliver [o] the godly out of temptations, and [p] to reserve the unjust unto [q] the day of judgment to be punished: but chiefly them [r] that walk [s] after 10 the flesh in the lust of [t] uncleanness, and despise [‖] government. Presumptuous are they, [u] selfwilled, they are not afraid to [w] speak evil of dignities. Whereas [x] angels, which are greater 11 in power and might, bring not railing accusation [‖] against them before the Lord. But these, [y] as natural brute 12 beasts, [z] made to be taken and destroyed, [ya] speak evil of the things that they understand not; and [y] shall utterly perish in their own [b] corruption; and 13 shall receive [c] the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure [d] to riot in the day time. [e] Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings [f] while [g] they 14 feast with you; having eyes full of [†] adultery and [h] that cannot cease from sin; [i] beguiling [k] unstable souls: a heart they have [l] exercised with [m] covetous 15 practices; [n] cursed children: which have forsaken [o] the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of [p] Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved [c] the wages 16 of unrighteousness; but was rebuked for his iniquity: [q] the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the mad- 17 ness of the prophet. These are wells [rs] without water, [r] clouds that are carried with a tempest; [t] to whom the mist 18 of darkness is reserved for ever. For when [u] they speak great swelling words of vanity, they [i] allure through the lusts of the flesh, through [v] much wantonness, [w] those that were [‖x] clean escaped from 19 them who live in error. While they promise them [y] liberty, they themselves are [z] the servants of [b] corruption: for [z] of whom a man is overcome, of the 20 same is he brought in bondage. For if after they [w] have escaped the [a] pollutions of the world [b] through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again [c] entangled therein, and overcome, [d] the latter end is worse with them than the beginning. 21
For [e] it had been better for them not [f] to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, [g] to turn from [h] the holy commandment 22 delivered unto them. But it is happened unto them according to the true [i] proverb, [k] The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and, The sow that was washed to her [l] wallowing in the mire.

This second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which [a] I stir III.
up your [b] pure minds by way of re- 2 membrance: that [c] ye may be mindful of the words [d] which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us [c] the apostles of the 3
Lord and Saviour: knowing this first, that there shall come [e] in the last days scoffers, [f] walking after their own lusts, 4 asleep, all things continue as they were [j] from the beginning of the creation. For this they willingly are ignorant of, 5 that [k] by the word of God the heavens were [l] of old, and the earth [t][m] standing out of the water and in the water: whereby the world that then was, [n] being 6 overflowed with water, perished: but 7 [o] the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto [p] fire against [q] the day of judgment and [r] perdition of ungodly men. But, beloved, be not igno- 8 rant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. [s] The 9 Lord is not slack concerning his promise, [u] as some men count slackness; but [v] is longsuffering to us-ward, [w] not willing that any should perish, but [x] that all should come to repentance. But 10 [y] the day of the Lord will come as [z] a thief in the night; in the which [a] the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and [b] the elements shall melt with fervent heat, [c] the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burnt up. Seeing then that all these 11 things shall be dissolved, [d] what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy 12 [e] conversation and [f] godliness, [g] looking for and [l] hasting unto [h] the coming of [i] the day of God, wherein [c] the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and [b] the elements [c] shall melt with fervent 13 heat? Nevertheless we, according to his promise, [g] look for [k] new heavens and a new earth, [l] wherein dwelleth right- 14 eousness. [m] Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye [g] look for such things, be diligent [n] that ye may be found of him in peace, [o] without spot, and [p] blameless. 15 And account that [q] the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written 16 unto you; as also in all his epistles, [r] speaking in them of these things; in which are some things [s] hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and [t] unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own de- 17 struction. Ye therefore, beloved, [u] seeing ye know these things before, [v] beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of [w] the wicked, [x] fall from 18 your own stedfastness. [y] But grow in grace, and in the [z] knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. [a] To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

[a] THAT which was from the beginning, which [b] we have heard, which [b] we have seen with our eyes, which [c] we have looked upon, and [d] our hands have handled, of the Word [e] of life; (for [e] the life [f] was manifested, and [b] we have seen it, and [g] bear witness, and shew unto you [h] that eternal life, [i] which was with the Father, and [f] was manifested unto us;) that which [b] we have seen and [b] heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly [k] our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ. And these things write we unto you, [l] that your joy may be full. [m] This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that [n] God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. [o] If we say that we have fellowship with him, and [p] walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and [q] the blood of [r] Jesus Christ his Son [s] cleanseth us from all sin. [t] If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and [u] the truth is not in us. [v] If we confess our sins, he is [x] faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to [s] cleanse us from all unrighteousness. [y] If we say that we have not sinned, [z] we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

II.

My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, [a] we have an [b] advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: and [c] he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but [d] also for the sins of the whole world. And hereby we do know that we know him, if we [e] keep his commandments. [f] He that saith, [g] I know him, and [e] keepeth not his commandments, [h] is a liar, and [i] the truth is not in him. But whoso [j] keepeth his word, [k] in him verily is the love of God perfected: [l] hereby know we that we are in him. He that saith he [m] abideth in him [n] ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked. Brethren, [o] I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment [o] [p] which ye had from the beginning. [q] The old commandment is the word [p] which ye have heard from the beginning. Again, [r] a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true [rr] in him and in you: because the [s] darkness [t] is past, and [u] the true light now shineth. He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, [v] is in darkness even until now. [w] He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and [x] there is none [†] occasion of stumbling in him. But he that hateth his brother [v] is in darkness, and [y] walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that [v] darkness hath blinded his eyes.

I write unto you, little children, because [z] your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake. I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known [a] him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because you have overcome [b] the wicked one. I write unto you, [c] little children, because ye have known the Father. I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known [a] him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because [d] ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome [b]the wicked one. [e]Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. [f]If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, [g]the lust of the flesh, and [h]the lust of the eyes, and [i]the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And [k]the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth [l]the will of God abideth for ever. [c]Little children, [m]it is the last time: and as ye have heard that [n]antichrist shall come, even now are there [o]many antichrists; whereby we know [m]that it is the last time. [p]They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, [q]they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, [r]that they might be made manifest that they were not [s]all of us. But ye have [t]an unction from [u]the Holy One, and [v]ye know all things. I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because [x]ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth. Who is a liar but [y]he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is [n]antichrist, that [z]denieth the Father and the Son. [a]Whosoever [z]denieth the Son, the same [b]hath not the Father: [but] [c]he that acknowledgeth the Son [b]hath the Father also. Let that therefore abide in you, [d]which ye have heard from the beginning. If that [d]which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, [e]ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father. And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even [f]eternal life. These things have I written unto you concerning [g]them that seduce you. But [h]the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and [i]ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing [hj]teacheth you of all things, and [k]is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, [l]ye shall abide in [l]him. And now, little children, abide in him; that, [m]when he shall appear, [n]we may have confidence, and [o]not be ashamed [p]before him [q]at his coming. If ye know that [r]he is righteous, [l]ye know that [s]every one which doeth righteousness is born of him.

Behold, [a]what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that [b]we should be called [c]the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because [d]it knew him not. Beloved, [e]now are we [c]the sons of God, and [f]it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but [g]we know that, [h]when he shall appear, [i]we shall be like him; for [k]we shall [l]see him as he is. And every man [m]that hath this hope in him [n]purifieth himself, [o]even as he is pure. Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for [p]sin is the transgression of the law. And ye know that [qr]he was manifested [rs]to take away our sins; and [t]in him is no sin. Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth [u]hath not seen him, [v]neither known him. Little children, [w]let no man deceive you: [x]he that doeth righteousness is righteous, [o]even as he is righteous. [y]He that committeth sin is of the devil; for [z]the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, [a]that he might [b]destroy the works of the devil. [c]Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for [d]his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because [e]he is born of God. In this [f]the children of God are manifest, and [g]the children of the devil: [h]whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither [i]he that loveth not his brother. For [k]this is the [l]message [l]that ye heard from the beginning, [m]that we should love one another. Not as [n]Cain, who was of [o]that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? [p]Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous. Marvel not, my brethren, if [q]the world hate you. [r]We know that [s]we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death. [t]Whosoever hateth his brother is [u]a murderer: and ye know that [v]no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. [w x]Hereby perceive we the love of God, because [x]he laid down his life for us: and [y]we ought to lay down our lives for

Beloved, [a]believe not every spirit, but [b]try [c]the spirits whether they are of God:
because [d]many [e]false prophets are gone out into the world. Hereby know ye 2 the Spirit of God: [f]Every spirit that con-fesseth that Jesus Christ [g]is come in the flesh is of God: and every spirit 3 [h]that confesseth not that Jesus Christ
[g]is come in the flesh is not of God:
and this is that spirit of [i]antichrist, whereof you have heard that it should cause [l]greater is he that is in you, than

We are of God: [p]he that knoweth God 6 heareth us; [p]he that is not of God hear-eth not us. Hereby know we [q]the spirit of truth, and [qq]the spirit of error.

8 God. [s]He that loveth not, [t]knoweth 9 not God; for [u]God is love. [v]In this was manifested the love of God towards us, because that [w]God sent his only begotten Son into the world, [x]that we 10 might live through him. Herein is love, [y]not that we loved God, but [z]that he loved us, and sent his Son to be [a]the 11 propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, [b]we ought also to 12 love one another. [c]No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, [d]God dwelleth in us, and [e]his love is 13 perfected in us. [f]Hereby know we that [g]we [d]dwell in him, and he in us, [g]because he hath given us of his Spirit.
14 And [h]we have seen and [i]do testify that [j]the Father sent the Son to be [k]the 15 Saviour of the world. [l]Whosoever shall confess [m]that Jesus is the Son of God, [d]God dwelleth in him, and he in God.
16 And we have known and believed [n]the love that God hath to us. [o]God is love;
and he that dwelleth in love [d]dwelleth 17 in God, and God in him. [e]Herein is [t]our love made perfect, that [p]we may have boldness [q]in the day of judgment:
because [r]as he is, so are we in this 18 world. There is no fear in love; but [s]perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth [e]is 19 not made perfect in love. [t]We love 20 him, because he first loved us. [u]If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, [w]he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God [cx]whom he hath 21 not seen? And [y]this commandment have we from him, [z]That he who loveth God love his brother also.

Whosoever [a]believeth that [b]Jesus is the Christ is [c]born of God: and [d]every one that loveth him that begat loveth of God, when we love God, and [f]keep love of God, that we [f]keep his command-

he that came l by water and l blood, but by water and blood. And n it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth. For there are three that 7 bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one. And there are three that bear wit- 8 ness in earth, o the Spirit, and l the water, and l the blood: and these three agree in

one. p If we receive the witness of men, 9 q the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God r which he hath testified of his Son. He that believeth 10 on the Son of God s hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God t hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF

JOHN.

I.

[a] THE elder unto [b] the elect lady and her children, [c] whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have [d] known [e] the truth; [f] for the truth's sake, which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever. [gh] Grace [†] be with you, [g] mercy, and [gh] peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, [c] in truth and love.

I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children [i] walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father. And now I beseech thee, lady, [k] not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but [k] that which we had from the beginning, [k] that we love one another. And [l] this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That, [m] as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it. For [n] many deceivers are entered into the world, [o] who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. [o] This is [p] a deceiver and an [n] antichrist. [q] Look to yourselves, [r] that we lose not those things which we have [[rr]] wrought, but that [s] we receive a full reward. Whosoever [t] transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, [u] hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he [u] hath both the Father and the Son. If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, [v] receive him not into your house, [v] neither bid him God speed: for he that biddeth him God speed [w] is partaker of his evil deeds.

[x] Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with [y] paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak [†] face to face, [z] that [‖] our joy may be full. The children of thy [b] elect sister greet thee. Amen.

JOHN.

After Anno DOMINI 90.

[a] THE elder unto the wellbeloved [b] Gaius, [a] whom I love [‖] in the truth. Beloved, I [‖ c] wish above all 2 things that thou mayest [d] prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth. For I [e] rejoiced greatly, when the 3 brethren came and [f] testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou [e] walkest in the truth. I have no greater 4 joy than to hear that [f] my children [e] walk in truth. Beloved, thou doest 5 faithfully whatsoever thou doest to [g] the brethren, and to [h] strangers; which 6 have [f] borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou [i] bring forward on their journey [†] after a godly sort, [k] thou shalt do well: because that 7 for his name's sake they went forth, [l] taking nothing of the Gentiles. [m] We 8 therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellowhelpers to the truth.

I wrote unto the church: but Dio- 9 trephes, who loveth to have the pre-eminence among them, receiveth us 10 not. Wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, [n] prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.
11 Beloved, [o] follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. [p] He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil [q] hath not seen God.
12 Demetrius [r] hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, and we also bear record; [s] and ye know that our record is true.

14 will not with ink and pen write unto thee: but I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak [†] face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends [u] by name.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF

JUDE.

Anno DOMINI about 60.

1 [a] JUDE, [b] the servant of Jesus Christ, and [c] brother of [d] James, [e] to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and [f] preserved in Jesus Christ, and [g] called: [h] mercy unto you, and [i] peace, 2 and love, be multiplied.

3 Beloved, when I gave all [k] diligence to write unto you of the [l] common [m] salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that [n] ye should earnestly contend for [o] the faith which was once delivered unto the saints. 4 For [p] there are certain men [pp] crept in unawares, [q] who were [r] before of old ordained to this [s] condemnation, ungodly men, [t] turning [u] the grace of our God into [v] lasciviousness, and [w] denying the only [p] Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ. 5 I will therefore [x] put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that [y] the Lord, having saved [p] the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward [z] destroyed [a] them that believed not. 6 And [b] the angels which kept not their [ll] first estate, but left their own habitation, [b] he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto [c] the judgment of [d] the great day. 7 Even as [e] Sodom and Gomorrha, and [f] the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going [g] after [t] strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering [h] the vengeance of [i] eternal fire. 8 Likewise also these filthy dreamers [g] defile the flesh, [gk] despise dominion, and [g] speak evil of dignities. 9 Yet [l] Michael [m] the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed [n] about the body of Moses, [o] durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, [p] The Lord rebuke 10 thee. But [q] these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, [q] as brute beasts, [r] in those things [q] they corrupt themselves. 11 Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way of [s] Cain, and [t] ran greedily after the error of [u] Balaam for reward, and [v] perished in the [w] gainsaying of Core.

12 These are spots in your feasts of charity [x] when they feast with you, [y] feeding themselves without fear: [z] clouds they are without water, [a] carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, [b] without fruit, twice dead, [c] plucked up 13 by the roots; [d] raging waves of the sea, [d] foaming out their own [e] shame; wandering stars, [f] to whom is reserved the 14 blackness of darkness for ever. And Enoch also, [g] the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, [h] the Lord cometh [i] with ten thousands 15 of his saints, [k] to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have [l] ungodly committed, and of all their [m] hard speeches which [n] ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16 These are [o] murmurers, complainers, [p] walking after their own lusts; and their mouth [q] speaketh great swelling words, [r] having men's persons [s] in admi- 17 ration [t] because of advantage. But, beloved, [u] remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of 18 our Lord Jesus Christ; how that they told you [v] there should be mockers in the last time, [v] who should walk after 19 their own ungodly lusts. These be they

THE REVELATION

OF

S. JOHN THE DIVINE.

Anno DOMINI 96.

I.

THE [a] Revelation of Jesus Christ, [b] which God gave unto him, [c] to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and [d] he sent and signified it [c] by his angel unto [e] his servant [f] John: who bare record 2 of [g] the word of God, and of [gh] the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of [i] all things that he saw. 3 [jk] Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and [k] keep those things which are written therein: [l] for [c] the time is at hand.

4 [f] JOHN to [m] the seven churches which are in Asia: [n] Grace be unto you, and [n] peace, from him [op] which is, [o] and [q] which was, [o] and which is to come; and from [r] the seven spirits which are before his throne; 5 and from Jesus Christ, who is [s] the faithful [t] witness, and [u] the first begotten of the dead, and [v] the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto [w] him that loved us, and [x] washed us from our sins in his own blood, 6 and [y] hath made us kings and priests unto [z] God and his Father; [a] to him be glory and [b] dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

7 Behold, [c] he cometh [de] with clouds; and [d] every eye shall see him, and [f] they also which pierced him: and [d] all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen. 8 [g] I am Alpha and Omega, [gh] the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, [i] which is, and which was, and which is to come, [j] the Almighty.

9 I [k] John, who also am your brother, and [l] companion in tribulation, and [m] in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, [n] was in the isle that is called Patmos, for [o] the word of God, and for 10 [o] the testimony of Jesus Christ. [p] I was in the spirit on [q] the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, [r] as of a 11 trumpet, saying, [g] I am Alpha and Omega, [s] the first and the last: and, What thou seest, [ss] write in a book, and send it unto [t] the seven churches which are in Asia; unto [u] Ephesus, and unto [v] Smyrna, and unto [w] Pergamos, and unto [x] Thyatira, and unto [y] Sardis, and unto [z] Philadelphia, and unto [a] Lao- 12 dicea. And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, 13 I saw [b] seven golden candlesticks; and [c] in the midst of [b] the seven candlesticks [d] one like unto the Son of man, [e] clothed with [f] a garment down to the foot, and [eg] girt about the paps with a golden 14 girdle. His head and [h] his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and 15 [i] his eyes were as a flame of fire; [k] and his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and [l] his voice as 16 the sound of many waters. And he had [m] in his right hand seven stars: and [n] out of his mouth went [o] a sharp [p] twoedged sword: and [q] his countenance was as the sun shineth [r] in his 17 strength. And [s] when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And [t] he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me,

II.

Unto [a] the angel of the church of [b] Ephesus write; These things saith [c] he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh [d] in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks; [e] I know thy 2 works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not [f] bear them which are evil: and [g] thou hast tried them [h] which say they are [i] apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:
and hast [fj] borne, and hast patience, 3
and for my name's sake hast laboured, and [k] hast not fainted. Nevertheless I 4 have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left [l] thy first love. Remem- 5 ber therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else [m] I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove [n] thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. But this thou hast, that thou 6 hatest the deeds of [o] the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. [p] He that hath an 7 ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; [q] To him that overcometh will I give to eat of [r] the tree of life, which is in the midst of [s] the paradise of God.

And unto [a] the angel of the church 8
in [t] Smyrna write; These things saith [u] the first and the last, [v] which was dead, and is alive; [e] I know thy works, 9 and tribulation, and [w] poverty, (but thou art [w] rich) and I know the blasphemy of [xy] them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are [y] the synagogue of [z] Satan. Fear none of those things which 10 thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and [a] ye shall have [b] tribulation [c] ten days: [d] be thou [e] faithful unto death, and I will give thee [f] a crown of life. [g] He that hath an ear, 11
let him hear what the Spirit saith unto
the churches; [g] He that overcometh [h] shall not be hurt of [i] the second death.
And to [j] the angel of the church in 12
[k] Pergamos write; These things saith [l] he which hath the sharp sword with two edges; [m] I know thy works, and 13 where thou dwellest, even where [n] Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not [o] denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my [e] faithful [p] martyr, who was slain among you, where [n] Satan dwelleth.
But I have a few things against thee, 14 because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of [q] Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, [r] to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and [s] to commit fornication. So hast thou also them 15 that hold the doctrine of [t] the Nicolai-tans, which thing I hate. Repent; or 16 else I will come unto thee quickly, and [u] will fight against them with [l] the sword of my mouth. [g] He that hath an ear, 17
let him hear what the Spirit saith unto
the churches; [g] To him that overcometh will I give to eat of [v] the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone [w] a new name written, [x] which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

And unto [j] the angel of the church 18
in [y] Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, [z] who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and [a] his feet are like fine brass; [m] I know thy works, 19 and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first. [b] Not- 20 withstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman [c] Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to [de] commit fornication, and [d] to eat things sacrificed unto idols.
And [f] I gave her space to repent of her 21 fornication; and she repented not. Be- 22 hold, I will [g] cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds. And I will kill 23 her children with death; and all the thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and [l] repent. If therefore thou shalt not [h] watch, I will [m] come on thee [n] as a thief, and [n] thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. Thou 4

IV. After this I looked, and behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was [a] as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, [b] Come up hither, and [c] I will shew thee things which must be hereafter. And immediately [d] I was in the spirit: and behold, [ef] a throne was set [f] in heaven, and one sat on the throne. And he that sat was to look upon like a [g] jasper and a [h] sardine stone: and there was [i] a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an [j] emerald. And [k] round about the throne were [l] four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw [lm] four and twenty elders sitting, [n] clothed in white raiment; and they had on their heads [o] crowns of gold. And out of the throne proceeded [p] lightnings and thunderings and voices: and there were seven [q] lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are [r] the seven spirits of God. And before the throne there was [s] a sea of glass like unto [ss] crystal: and [t] in the midst of the throne, and [k] round about the throne, were [t] four beasts [u] full of eyes before and [v] behind. And [w] the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle. And the four beasts had each of them [x] six wings about him; and they were [u] full of eyes within: and [†] they rest not [y] day and night, saying, [z] Holy, holy, holy, Lord God [a] Almighty, [b] which was, and is, and is to come. And when those beasts give [c] glory and [ch] honour and [d] thanks to him that sat on the throne, [e] who liveth for ever and ever, [f] the four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship [e] him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast [f] their crowns before the throne, saying, [g] Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive [c] glory and [ch] honour and power: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 for [i] thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

V. And I saw in the right hand of [a] him that sat on the throne [b] a book written within and [c] on the backside, [d] sealed with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof? And no man [e] in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon. And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon. And [f] one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, [g] the Lion [h] of the tribe of Juda, [i] the root of David, [k] hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose [l] the seven seals thereof. And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne and of [m] the four beasts, and in [m] the midst of the elders, stood [no] a Lamb as it had been [o] slain, having seven horns and [p] seven eyes, which are [q] the seven spirits of God sent forth into all the earth. And he came and took the book out of the right hand of [a] him that sat upon the throne. And when he had taken the book, [r] the four beasts and [r] four and twenty elders fell down before [n] the Lamb, having every one of them [s] harps, and [t] golden vials full of [‖] odours, [u] which are the prayers of saints. And they sung [v] a new [w] song, saying, [x] Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for [o] thou wast slain, and [xx] hast redeemed us to God [y] by thy blood out of [z] every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation; and [a] hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels [b] round about the throne and [c] the beasts and the elders: and the number of them was [d] ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands; saying with a loud voice, [e] Worthy is [f] the Lamb that was slain to receive [gi] power, and riches, and [g] wisdom, and [gi] strength, and [gh] honour, and [ghj] glory, and [gk] blessing. on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, [g k] Blessing, and [h] honour, and [h] glory, and [m] power, be unto [n] him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever. And [o] the four beasts said, [o p] Amen. And [q] the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped [r] him that liveth for ever and ever.

VI.

And [a] I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, [aa] as it were the noise of thunder, [b] one of the four beasts saying, Come and see. And I saw, and behold [c d] a white horse: [d] and he that sat on him [e] had a bow; and [f] a crown was given unto him: and he went forth [g] conquering, and to conquer.

And when he had opened the second seal, I heard [h] the second beast say, Come and see. And there went out another [i] horse that was red: and [j] power was given to him that sat thereon [k] to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

And when he had opened the third seal, I heard [h] the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo [l] a black horse; and he that sat on him had [m] a pair of balances in his hand. And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, [‖ n] A measure of wheat for [o] a penny, and three measures of barley for [o] a penny; and see thou [oo] hurt not the oil and the wine.

And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of [h] the fourth beast say, Come and see. And I looked, and behold [p] a pale horse: and his name that sat on him was [q] Death, and [q] Hell followed with him. And power was given [‖] unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill [r s] with sword, and [n r s] with hunger, and [r s] with death, and [r t] with the beasts of the earth.

And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw [u] under [v] the altar [w x] the souls of them that were slain [y] for the word of God, and [y y] for the testimony which they held: and they cried with a loud voice, saying, [x] How long, [z] O Lord, [a] holy and true, dost thou not [b] judge and [c] avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth? And [d] white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, [f] that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, [g] should be fulfilled.

And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo, [h] there was a great earthquake; and [i] the sun became black as sackcloth of [k] hair, and [il] the moon became as blood; and [i m] the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even [n] as a fig tree casteth her [‖] untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind. And [o] the heaven departed [p] as a scrole when it is rolled together; and every [q r] mountain and [r] island were moved out of their places. And the kings of the earth, and [s t] the great men, and the rich men, and the [s u] chief captains, and [v] the mighty men, and [w] every bondman, and [w] every free man, [x] hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains; [y] and said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of [z] him that sitteth on the throne, and from [a] the wrath of the Lamb: for [b] the great day of his wrath is come; and [c] who shall be able [d] to stand?

VII.

And after these things I saw [a] four angels standing on [a] the four corners of the earth, holding [b] the four winds of the earth, [f] that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree. And I saw another angel ascending from [c] the east, having [d] the seal of [e] the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, saying, [f] Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have [d] sealed the servants of our God [g] in their foreheads. And [h] I heard [i] the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed [k] an hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand.

Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand.

After this I beheld, and lo, [m] a great multitude, which no man could number, [n] of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with [o] white robes, and [p] palms in their hands; and cried with a loud voice, saying, [q] Salvation to our God [r] which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb. And all the angels stood [s] round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, saying, [t] Amen: [u] Blessing, and [u] glory, and [u] wisdom, and [v] thanksgiving, and [u] honour, and [u] power, and [u] might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen. And one of the elders [w] answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in [o] white robes? and whence came they? And I said unto him, [x] Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of [y] great tribulation, and have [z] washed their robes, and [o] made them white [a] in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him [b] day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne [c] shall dwell among them. [d] They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; [d e] neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne [f] shall feed them, and [g] shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and [h] God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

VIII.

And [a] when he had opened [b] the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 And I saw [c] the seven angels [d] which stood before God; and to them were 3 given seven [e] trumpets. And another angel came and stood at the altar, having [f] a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should [‖] offer it with [g] the prayers of all saints upon [h] the golden altar which 4 was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, which came [g] with the prayers of the saints, [i] ascended up be- 5 fore God out of the angel's hand. And the angel took [f] the censer, and [k] filled it with fire of [h] the altar, and cast it [‖] into the earth: and there were [l] voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and 6 [m] an earthquake. And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, and there followed [n o] hail and [n] fire mingled with blood, and they were cast [p] upon the earth: and [p p] the third part of [q r] trees was burnt up, and all [q] green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were [s] a great mountain burning with fire was cast [j t] into the sea: and the third part of [t] the sea [u] became 9 blood; and the third part of [t] the creatures which were in the sea, [t] and had life, died; and the third part of [v] the ships were destroyed.

10 And [w] the third angel sounded, and [x] there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were [y] a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the [z] rivers, 11 and upon the fountains of waters; and the name of the star is called [a] Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, [b] because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of [c] the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened and the day shone not for a third part of 13 it, and the night likewise. reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound.

IX.

And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw [a] a star [b] fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given [c] the key of [d] the bottomless pit. And he opened [d] the bottomless pit; and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of [e] a great furnace; and [f] the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit. And there came out of the smoke [g] locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as [h] the scorpions of the earth have power. And it was commanded them [i] that they should not hurt [k] the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not [l] the seal of God in their foreheads. And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented [m] five months: and their torment was as the torment of [h] a scorpion, when he striketh a man. And in those days [n] shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them. And [o] the shapes of [g] the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; and on their heads were as it were [p] crowns like gold, and their faces were as the faces [q] of men. And they had hair as the hair of women, and [r] their teeth were as the teeth of lions. And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was [s] as the sound of chariots of many horses running [t] to battle. And they had tails like unto [h] scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: and their power was to hurt men [m] five months. And they had [u] a king over them, which is [a] the angel of [d] the bottomless pit, whose name [v] in the Hebrew tongue is [w] Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name [‖x] Apollyon. [y] One woe is past; and behold, there come two woes more hereafter.

And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from [z] the four horns of [a] the golden altar which is before God, saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose [b] the four angels which are bound in [c] the great river Euphrates. And [b] the four angels were loosed, which were prepared ‖ for [d] an hour, and [e f] a day, and [g] a month, and [f] a year, for to slay [ff] the third part of men. And [h] the number of the army [i] of the horsemen were [h] two hundred thousand thousand: [k] and I heard the number of them. And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and [l] of jacinth, and brimstone: and [m] the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths issued [n] fire and smoke and brimstone. By these three was the third part of men killed, [n] by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths. For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt. And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues yet [nn] repented not of [o] the works of their hands, that they should not worship [p] devils, and [q] idols [rs] of gold, and [rs] silver, and [s] brass, and [s] stone, and [s] of wood: [rs] which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk: neither repented they of their [t] murders, nor of their [tu] sorceries, nor of their [tv] fornication, nor of their thefts.

And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, [a] clothed with a cloud: and [b] a rainbow was upon his head, and [c] his face was as it were the sun, and [d] his feet as [e] pillars of fire: and [f] he had in his hand a little book open: and [g] he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth, and cried with a loud voice, as when [h] a lion [i] roareth: and when he had cried, seven [j] thunders uttered their voices. And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and [k] I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, [l] Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and [ll] write them not. And the angel which I saw [g] stand upon the sea and upon the earth [m] lifted up his hand to heaven, and [m] sware by [n] him that liveth for ever and ever, [o] who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, [p] that there should be time no longer: but [q] in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, [qq] the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

And [e]they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and [f]shall send gifts one to another; because [g]these two prophets [h]tormented [e]them that dwelt on the 11 earth. crown of [d] twelve stars: and [e] she being with child cried, [f] travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered. And there appeared another [l] wonder in heaven; and behold a great [g] red [h] dragon, [i] having seven heads and [ij] ten horns, and seven [k] crowns upon his heads. And his tail [l] drew [m] the third part of the stars of heaven, and [n] did cast them to the earth: and [h] the dragon stood before [o] the woman which was ready to be delivered, [p] for to devour her child as soon as it was born. And she brought forth a man child, who was to [q] rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was [r] caught up unto God, and to his throne. And [o] the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there [s] a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

And there was war in heaven: [t] Michael and his angels fought against [h] the dragon; and the dragon fought and [u] his angels, and prevailed not; [v] neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great [h] dragon [w] was cast out, [x] that old [y] serpent, called the devil, and [z] Satan, [ya] which deceiveth [b] the whole world: [c] he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him. And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come [d] salvation, and [dd] strength, and [e] the kingdom of our God, and the power of [e] his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, [f] which accused them before our God [g] day and night. And [h] they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by [i] the word of their testimony; and [k] they loved not their lives unto the death. Therefore [l] rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that [m] dwell in them. [n] Woe to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea! for [o] the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, [p] because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

And when the dragon saw that he was cast [q] unto the earth, he persecuted [r] the woman which brought forth the man child. And to the woman were given [s] two wings of a great eagle, [t] that she might fly [u] into the wilderness, [t] into her place, where she is nourished [v] for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. And the serpent cast out of his mouth water [w] as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood. And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth. And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went [x] to make war with the remnant of her seed, [y] which keep the commandments of God, and [z] have [i] the testimony of Jesus Christ.

And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw [a] a beast rise up [a] out of the sea, [b] having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten [b] crowns, and upon his heads the [l] name of blasphemy. And the beast which I saw was [c] like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of [d] a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of [e] a lion: and [f] the dragon gave him his power, and [g] his seat, and great [h] authority. And I saw one of his heads as it were [f] wounded to death; and [i] his deadly wound was healed: and [k] all the world wondered [l] after the beast. And they worshipped the dragon which gave [h] power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, [m] Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him? And there was given unto him [n] a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and [h] power was given unto him [ll] to [o] continue [p] forty and two months. And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and [q] them that dwell in heaven. And it was given unto him [r] to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and [h] power was given him over [s] all kindreds, and tongues, and nations. And all [t] that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, [k] whose names are not written in [u] the book of life of [v] the Lamb slain [w] from the foundation of the world. [x] If any man have an ear, let him hear. [y] He that [z] leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: [a] he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. [b] Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

And I looked, and lo, [a] a Lamb stood on [b] the mount Sion, and with him [c] an hundred forty and four thousand, [d] having his Father's name written in their foreheads. And I heard a voice from heaven, [e] as the voice of many waters, and [f] as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers [g] harping with their harps: and they sung as it were [h] a new song before the throne, and before [g] the four beasts, and the elders: and [i] no man could learn that song but [c] the hundred and forty and four thousand, [h] which were redeemed from the earth. These are they which [j] were not defiled with women; for [k] they are virgins. These are they [jl] which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These [t h] were redeemed from among men, being [m] the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb.

And [n] in their mouth was found no guile: for they are [o] without fault before the throne of God.

And I saw another [p] angel fly in the midst of heaven, having [q] the everlasting gospel to preach unto [r] them that dwell on the earth, and to [s] every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people, saying with a loud voice, [t] Fear God, and [u] give glory to him; for [v] the hour [w] of his judgment is come: and [x] worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters. And there followed another angel, saying, [yz] Babylon is fallen, is fallen, [a] that great city, because [b] she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man [c] worship the beast and his image, and receive [c] his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, the same [d] shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is [e] poured out [f] without mixture into [d] the cup of his indignation; and [g] he shall be tormented with [gh] fire and [gh] brimstone in the presence of [i] the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: and [k] the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and [l] they have no rest day nor night, [c] who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth [c] the mark of his name. [m] Here is the patience of the saints: here are [n] they that keep the commandments of God, and [o] the faith of Jesus. And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, [p] Write, [q] Blessed are the dead [r] which die in the Lord [ls] from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, [t] that they may rest from their labours; and [u] their works do follow them.

And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and [v] upon the cloud one sat [w] like unto the Son of man, [x] having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle. And another angel came [y] out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in [z] thy sickle, and reap: for [a] the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest of the earth is [l] ripe. And [b] he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

And another angel came [c]out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. And another angel came out from [d]the altar, [e]which had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; [f]for her grapes are fully ripe. And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great [g]winepress of the wrath of God. And [g h]the winepress was trodden [i]without [k]the city, and blood came out of the winepress, even [l]unto [m]the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred [n]furlongs.

XV.

And I saw [a]another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, [b]seven angels having the seven last plagues; [c]for in them is filled up the wrath of God. And I saw as it were [d]a sea of glass [e]mingled with fire: and them that had gotten the victory over [f]the beast, and over [f]his image, and over [g]his mark, and over [h]the number of his name, stand on [d]the sea of glass, [i]having the harps of God. And they sing [k]the song of Moses [l]the servant of God, and [m]the song of the Lamb, saying, [n]Great and marvellous are thy works, [o]Lord God Almighty; [p q]just and [q]true are thy ways, thou King of [‖]saints. [r s]Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art [p t]holy: for [u]all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy [v]judgments are made manifest.

And after that I looked, and behold, [w]the temple of [x]the tabernacle of the testimony [y]in heaven was opened: and [b]the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, [z]clothed in [zz]pure and white linen, and [a]having their breasts girded with golden girdles. And one of [b]the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven [d]golden vials full of the wrath of God, [e]who liveth for ever and ever. And [f]the temple was filled with smoke [g]from the glory of God, and [g]from his power; and [h]no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

And I heard a great voice out of the temple saying [a]to the seven angels, Go your ways, and [b]pour out the vials [c]of the wrath of God upon the earth.

And the first went, and poured out his vial [d]upon the earth; and there fell a noisome and [e]grievous [e f]sore upon the men [g]which had the mark of the beast, and upon them [h]which worshipped his image.

And the second angel poured out his vial [i]upon the sea; and [i]it became as the blood of a dead man: and [k]every living soul died in the sea.

And the third angel poured out his vial [l]upon the rivers and fountains of waters; and [m]they became blood. And I heard the angel of the waters say, [n]Thou art righteous, O Lord, [o]which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus. For [p]they have shed the blood of [q]saints and prophets, and [r]thou hast given them blood to drink; for [s]they are worthy. And [t]I heard another out of [u]the altar say, Even so, [v]Lord God [w]Almighty, [x]true and [n]righteous are thy judgments.

And the fourth angel poured out his vial [y]upon the sun; and [z]power was given unto him [a]to scorch men with fire. And men were [‖b]scorched with great heat, and [c]blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and [d]they repented not [e]to give him glory.

And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon [f]the seat of the beast; and [g]his kingdom was full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, and [c]blasphemed [h]the God of heaven because of their pains and [i]their sores, and [d]repented not of their deeds.

And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon [j]the great river Euphrates; and [k]the water thereof was dried up, that [l]the way of the kings of the east might be prepared. And I saw three [m]unclean spirits like [n]frogs come out of the mouth of [o]the dragon, and out of the mouth of [p]the beast, and out of the mouth of [q s]the false prophet. For they are [r]the spirits of devils, [s t]working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of [u]the whole world, [v]to gather them to the battle of [w]that great day of God [x]Almighty. Behold,

And there came [a] one of [aa] the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, [a] Come hither; [b] I will shew unto thee the judgment of [c] the great whore [d] that sitteth upon many waters: [e] with whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and [f] the inhabiters of the earth [g] have been [h] made drunk with the wine of her fornication. So he carried me away [i] in the spirit [k] into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a [l] scarlet coloured beast, full of [m] names of blasphemy, [m n] having seven heads and [m o] ten horns. And the woman was [p] arrayed in [q] purple and [l] scarlet colour, and [t] decked [r] with gold and [r] precious stone and [s] pearls, [t] having a golden cup in her hand [g] full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication: and upon her forehead was a name written, [u] MYSTERY, [g] BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF [t] HARLOTS AND [v] ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. saw [w] the woman [h] drunken [x] with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of [y] the martyrs [z] of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration. And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee [u] the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath [n] the seven heads and [o] ten horns. The beast that thou sawest [a] was, and is not; and [b] shall ascend out of [c] the bottomless pit, and [d] go into perdition: and [e] they that dwell on the earth [f] shall wonder, [g] whose names were not written in the book of life [g] from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is. And [h] here is the mind which hath wisdom. [i] The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth. And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space. And [a] the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and [d] goeth into perdition. And [i k] the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings [l] one hour with the beast. These [m] have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast. These [n] shall make war with the Lamb, and [o] the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is [p q] Lord of lords, and [p r] King of kings: and [r r] they that are with him are [s t] called, and [s u] chosen, and [v] faithful. And he saith unto me, [w] The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are [x] peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues. And [y] the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, [z] these shall hate the whore, and [a] shall make her desolate and [b] naked, and [b b] shall eat her flesh, and [c] burn her with fire. For God hath [d] put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and [m] to agree, and [e] give their kingdom unto the beast, [f] until the words of God shall be fulfilled. d Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen,
And is become e the habitation of devils,
And the hold of f every foul spirit,
And a cage of g every unclean and hateful bird.
For h all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication,
And i the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her,
And k the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the l abundance of her l delicacies.
And I heard another voice from heaven, saying,
m Come out of her, my people,
That ye be not partakers of her sins,
And that ye receive not of her plagues.
n For her sins have reached unto heaven,
And o God hath remembered her iniquities.
p Reward her even as she rewarded you,
And double unto her double according to her works:
q In the cup which she hath filled fill to her double.
r How much she hath glorified herself, and l lived deliciously,
So much torment and sorrow give her:
For s she saith in her heart, t I sit a queen,
And t am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.
u Therefore shall her plagues come v in one day,
Death, and mourning, and famine;
And w she shall be utterly burnt with fire:
For x strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.
And iy the kings of the earth, i who have committed fornication and l lived deliciously with her, yz Shall bewail her, and lament for her,
a When they shall see the smoke of her burning,

Saying, b Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city!
For c in one hour is thy judgment come.

And ointments, and i frankincense,
And wine, and oil,
And k fine flour, and wheat,
And beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots,
And lm slaves, and n souls of men.
14 And the fruits that thy soul lusted after are departed from thee,
And all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee,
And thou shalt find them no more at all.
15 e The merchants of these things, o which were made rich by her,
Shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, Weeping and wailing, and saying,
b Alas, alas, that great city,
p That was clothed in g fine linen, and f purple, and f scarlet,
And decked f with gold, and precious stones, and f pearls:
17 For c in one hour so great riches q is come to nought.

And every r shipmaster, and all the company in ships,
And sailers, and as many as trade by sea,
Stood afar off, and cried
a When they saw the smoke of her burning, saying,
s What city is like unto this great city?
And t they cast dust on their heads,
And cried, u weeping and wailing, saying,
b Alas, alas, that great city,
o Wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness:
For c in one hour q is she made desolate.

For [g] thy merchants were [h] the great men of the earth;

And after these things [a] I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, [b] Alleluia; [c] Salvation, and [d] glory, and [d] honour, and [e] power, unto the Lord our God: 2 for [f] true and righteous are his judgments: for [g] he hath judged [h] the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and [g i] hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand. 3 And again they said, [b] Alleluia. And [k] her smoke rose up for ever and ever. 4 And [l] the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, [m] Amen; [b] Alleluia. 5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, [n] Praise our God, all [o] ye his servants, and [p] ye that fear him, [p q] both small and great. 6 And I heard as it were [r] the voice of a great multitude, and [s] as the voice of many waters, and [t] as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, [b] Alleluia: for [u] the Lord God [v] Omnipotent reigneth. 7 Let us be glad and rejoice, and [w] give honour to him: for [x] the marriage of the Lamb is come, and [y] his wife hath made herself ready. 8 And [z] to her was granted that she should be [a] arrayed in [b] fine linen, [c] clean and [‖] white: for [d] the fine linen is [e] the righteousness of saints.

9 And he saith unto me, [f] Write, [g] Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, [h] These are the true 10 sayings of God. And [i] I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, [j] See thou do it not: I am [k] thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that [l] have the testimony of Jesus: [m] worship God: for [n] the testimony of Jesus is [o] the spirit of prophecy.

11 And I saw [p] heaven opened, and behold [q] a white horse; and [q] he that sat upon him was called [r s] Faithful and [r t] True, and [u] in righteousness he doth 12 judge and make war. [v] His eyes were as a flame of fire, and [w] on his head were many [x] crowns; and he had [y] a name written, [z] that no man knew, but 13 he himself. And he was clothed with [a] a vesture dipt in blood: and his name is called [b] The Word of God. 14 And the armies which were in heaven followed him [c] upon white horses, clothed 15 in [d] fine linen, [d] white and clean. And [e] out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and [f] he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and [a g] he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and [h] wrath of [i] Almighty God. 16 And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh [k] a name written, [l] KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to [m] all the fowls [n] that fly in the midst of heaven, [o] Come and gather yourselves together [p] unto the supper of 18 [q] the great God; [r] that ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of [s] captains, and [r] the flesh of mighty men, and [r] the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both [s] free and bond, both [t] small 19 and great. And I saw an angel come down from heaven, [a] having the key of [b] the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand. And he laid hold on [c] the dragon, [d] that old serpent, which is [e] the devil, and [f] Satan, and [g] bound him a 2 thousand years, and cast him into [b] the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and [h] set a seal upon him, that [d i] he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

And I saw [k] thrones, and [l] they sat 4 upon them, and [m] judgment was given unto them: and I saw [n] the souls of [o] them that were beheaded for [p] the witness of Jesus, and for [p] the word of God, and [q] which had not worshipped the beast, neither [r] his image, neither [s] had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and [t] reigned with Christ [u] a thousand years. But the rest of the dead 5 [v] lived not again until [u] the thousand years were finished. This is [w] the first resurrection. [x] Blessed and holy is he 6 that hath part in the first resurrection: on such [y] the second death hath no power, but they shall be [z] priests of God and of Christ, and [t] shall reign with him [u] a thousand years.

And when [u] the thousand years are 7 expired, [f] Satan shall be loosed [a] out of his prison, and shall go out [b] to deceive 8 the nations which are in [c] the four quarters of the earth, [d] Gog and Magog, [e] to gather them together to [f] battle: [g] the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. And [h] they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed [i] the camp of the saints about, overcometh [x]shall inherit [l][y]all things; and [z]I will be his God, and he shall be [a]my son. But [b]the fearful, and [i]unbelieving, and [c]the abominable, and [de]murderers, and [df]whoremongers, and [dg]sorcerers, and [d]idolaters, and [dh]all liars, shall have their [i]part in [j]the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is [k]the second death.

And there came unto me [l]one of [m]the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, [l]Come hither, I will shew thee [n]the bride, the Lamb's wife. And [o]he carried me away [o]in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, [n]the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God, [p]having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like [q]a jasper stone, [r]clear as crystal; and had a wall great and high, and [s]had twelve [t]gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written *there*on, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: [su]on the east three [t]gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates. And the wall of [v]the city had twelve [w]foundations, and [x]in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. And he that talked with me had a golden [y]reed to measure the city, and the [t]gates thereof, and the wall thereof. And the city lieth four-square, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with [y]the reed, twelve thousand [z]furlongs. [a]The length and [a]the breadth and [a]the height of it are [b]equal. And he measured [c]the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to [d]the measure of a man, [e]that is, of the angel. And the building of the wall of it was of [f]jasper: and the city was [j]pure gold, [g]like unto clear glass. And [h]the foundations of the wall of the city were [i]garnished with all manner of [j]precious stones. The first foundation was [f]jasper; the second, [hjk]sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an [jl]emerald; the fifth, [m]sardonyx; the sixth, [l]sardius; the seventh, [n]chrysolite; the eighth, [jo]beryl; the ninth, a [p]topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a [q]jacinth; the twelfth, an [r]amethyst. And the twelve gates were twelve [s]pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: and [t]the street of the city was [j]pure gold, [g]as it were transparent glass. And [u]I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God [v]Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it. And [w]the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for [wx]the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. And [y]the nations of [z]them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and [a]the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it. And [b]the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for [c]there shall be no night there. And [a]they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it. And [d]there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever [c]worketh abomination, or maketh [e]a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's [f]book of life. And he shewed me [a]a pure river of water of life, [b]clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. In the midst of [c]the street of it, and [d]of either side of the river, was there [e]the tree of life, which bare [f]twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and [d]the leaves of the tree were [g]for the healing of the nations. And [h]there shall be no more curse: but [i]the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him: and [k]they shall see his face; and [l]his name shall be in their foreheads. And [m]there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for [n]the Lord God giveth them light: and [o]they shall reign for ever and ever.

And he said unto me, [p]These sayings are faithful and true: and the Lord God of the [pp]holy prophets [q]sent his angel [q]to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done. [r]Behold, I come quickly: [s]blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.
